

ORIGINAL PARTY GIVEN BY MRS. BARTON A. GRUNDY

One of Season's Prettiest Affairs at White Sulphur in Compliment to George W. Stevens.

THANKSGIVING DECORATIONS

Governor-Elect and Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, of New York, Among Prominent Guests at the New Greenbrier—Fall Season Is Gay.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] W. VA., December 6.—The most original and attractive party of the Thanksgiving holiday season was the dinner given at her cottage in Virginia Row by Mrs. Barton A. Grundy, in compliment to George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. The room was banked with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums, and the table was set with a profusion of flowers. The favors, place cards, confections, ices and salads were in the shape of turkeys. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, of Richmond, were among those at the dinner.

Mrs. Grundy and Miss Miriam Grundy, who has become one of the most accomplished equestrians here and a golf player above the average, were the first of the summer cottagers to arrive and the last to depart. The Governor-elect and Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, of New York, among the Thanksgiving holiday season at the New Greenbrier, expect to return for their Christmas holidays. There will be a big New Year's Eve celebration at the New Greenbrier. Mr. Whitman had an interesting time during the week. He and Mrs. Whitman played golf and tennis and was most strenuous. This time he took a real rest, dividing his time between the baths at the kurhaus and visits to near-by points of interest. He and Mrs. Whitman went one morning, accompanied by Madame da Gama, wife of the Brazilian ambassador, to see the old stone church at Lewisburg, the oldest edifice of western Virginia, built by the Alleghenians, and then they dropped in at the county courthouse, where a law suit concerning the estate of one of the old county families was being tried. Some one in the courtroom recognized the Governor-elect, and the judge who was trying the case invited the district attorney of New York to sit on the bench. At the courthouse visit, the party proceeded to Embury Farm, where they had an old Virginia midday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitman were given a number of dinners and luncheons during their visit, and left on the Bankers' Special with a party including Madame da Gama, who, with the midday dinner, spent six weeks here taking the "Kur." Some of those at the New Greenbrier included Mr. and Mrs. William C. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Miss Grace Vanderbilt, Master Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. William Barbour, Fritz Krupp, Barbour, Robert Barbour, William Warren, Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Handy, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schiff, Dr. H. H. Handy, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown Potter, Henry Spies, Kip, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ashton Rollins, Dr. H. H. Handy, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Bryan, George W. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Jeffords, who were spending their honeymoon here. Mrs. Jeffords was Miss Sarah Dobson Plake, of Philadelphia, and the most attractive brides who has been here this autumn.
