Glass Is Satisfied With Reserve Act

Will Be Reluctant to Make Any Changes Not Vitrally Necessary.

WASHINGTON, November 27.—Representative Glass, of Virginia, chairman of the House Banking Committee, said today that if his committee recommended any changes in the Federal reserve banking system at the coming session of Congress, it would be only after very careful consideration.

"The Federal reserve act is working out well," said Representative Glass, "and I believe the House Banking and Currency Committee will take the position that this is no time to make radical changes in the law. The committee, of course, will carefully consider any recommendations that the Federal Reserve Board may make, but will be reluctant to make any changes that are not shown to be vitally necessary."

PREPAREDNESS PROGRAM STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION

National Security League Committees Hold, However, That Administration Doesn't Go Far Enough.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT CHICAGO

Went Military Training for All Men Between Ages of Eighteen and Twenty-One and Restoration of Navy to Second in Power.

CHICAGO, November 27.—The preparedness program of President Wilson was endorsed as a step in the right direction in committee reports on the army, the navy and the militia read before a conference of the National Security League here today. On each aspect of the problem, however, the committee findings were that the administration had not indicated a desire to go far enough to make the country safe from attack.

The proposed army increase, it was pointed out, should be broadened to provide for extensive and continuous education of officers and for collection of large reserve stocks of supplies of all kinds.

The navy plan was criticized as extending over too long a period for completion, and as making no provision for adequate personnel on ships built, building and in process.

The project for a "continental army" was endorsed merely as a "first step," and a suggestion was made that all men between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one should be enrolled and have military education.

Delegates were present from more than half a hundred cities when the conference opened, the representatives of branches of the league, including Governors, former Governors, several city executives, educators, business men and editors. Among those attending are Governor Walsh, of Massachusetts; Luke R. Wright, of Tennessee, former Secretary of War; former Senator Lafayette Young, of Des Moines; Governor Dunne, of Illinois, and Henry A. Wise Wood, president of the Aero Club.

The report of the navy committee began with a strongly worded wish that the league go on record as believing "that the American navy should at once be restored to the position of second naval power, which it held but a few years ago." The committee said this work should be undertaken "immediately." The report added:

NO ADEQUATE INCREASE IN PERSONNEL PROVIDED. "The league believes that an essential weakness in the proposed increase of the naval establishment, as reported in the press, lies in the failure to provide for an adequate increase in the personnel."

Figures were then quoted tending to show that the navy is short between 20,000 and 30,000 men of the number required to man the ships already built or building.

"To correct a popular misapprehension, it must be made clear that this shortage of men is not due to difficulty in recruiting," said the report. "The sole trouble lies in the fact that Congress has limited the number of men to 21,500."

It was added that the proposed reduction of the number of hands of several Navy fleet units, and the report, "is quite and that there was also a shortage of at least 2,000 officers. The proposed increase of 250 midshipmen was criticized adversely on the ground that the present training program alone required 472 additional officers.

The committee endorsed the building program "so far as it follows the recommendations of the general board," but said since no Congress can build succeeding Congresses laid down contemplated should all be laid down at once.

LATEST FRENCH LOAN PROVES MOST POPULAR

First Day's Subscriptions Bring Out Greater Number of Investors Than Had Been Anticipated.

PARIS, November 25.—The first day's subscriptions to "the great loan of victory," as the new French loan has been characterized, brought out a greater number of investors today than had been anticipated. The lines began forming at 9 o'clock at the special loan windows in all post-offices, at the banks and at the headquarters of the loan at the Pavillon de Flore in the extreme southern wing of the Louvre.

At the post-offices the subscribers crowded the corridors so that it was almost impossible to buy postage stamps. At the Credit Lyonnais and other banks, the windows set apart for the receipt of applications had to be doubled, while at the Bank of France the crowd was so big that the police were obliged to use extra precautions.

Women in mourning, servants in white aprons, workmen in blouses, young boys and girls bringing their savings touched elbows with capitalists waiting to subscribe millions.

The first portion of the special-loan films in the moving-picture theaters was greeted with cries of "Vive la France." Everywhere in France public meetings were held and resolutions adopted calling for generous subscriptions.

General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French forces to-day, issued the following general order to the army: "On November 25, France issues a great loan to provide funds for expenditure on the national defense. All the appeals she has made since the beginning of the war have had ready response. This because every one knows the riches of France; because every one had confidence in her destiny and a favorable termination of the struggle.

"All those who subscribe fulfill the duty of a good Frenchman. They also will find their advantage in it. Who ever pays in 87.25 francs will receive an obligation bearing 5 francs interest annually, an investment in French bonds at 5 7/8-100 per cent.

"You have, doubtless, heard your parents recall the terrible hours of 1870. After that war there was loan for the liberation of her territory. This time, thanks to your efforts, it will be as the Minister of Finance has said: 'The loan of victory.' Think about all that. Write about it to your relatives and the friends that you left behind at your birth place. Tell them that to subscribe to the loan is to serve France; that it is to fight for her with you; that it is to give you the most effective aid possible at the present time, and that it is to assure your future and that of your children."
