

READY TO PAY PENALTY OF HIS CRIME.

With Newspaper Men, Expresses Remorse for Murder of Father-in-Law.

EFFORT TO SAVE HIMSELF

Perfectly at Ease, He Says, Without Dread of What Lies Ahead—Rallies From Recent Rec.

YORK, April 5.—Dr. Arthur W. Wattle, in a talk with newspaper men at Bellevue Hospital expressed remorse for the death of his father-in-law, John E. Deek, of Rapid, whose murder he has admitted, and declared that he was "to pay the price."

He also said that he had no accomplices in the crime and that he would not want in any way to evade the penalty of his crime.

Asked regarding his own ideas of the penalty he said: "I suppose I will get the same. There has been no thought of anything else in my mind."

When the whole thing revolves around me, he said, "I don't want to be a martyr. I don't wish to justify myself in any way. I can't justify myself. There is no mitigation for me. I am perfectly at ease. I have no dread of what lies ahead. I shall go to my cell in the new world where it may be, and I expect to stay there."

He said that he had no remorse for the death of his father-in-law, but that he was sorry that he had caused the death of a man who was so well known in the city.

Wattle's statement was made to newspaper men after he had made a desire to see them.

HOLLAND IS DETERMINED TO MAINTAIN NEUTRALITY

Recent Suspension of Furloughs of Army Officers and Men Is Precautionary Measure.

POSSIBILITY OF DANGER

Order Decided Upon Because of Certain Information Reaching Government, Which It Is Not Opposed to Make Public.

THE HAGUE, April 5 (via London, April 5).—At the opening of the second chamber of the Dutch Parliament today after a preliminary secret session in committee, the president of the chamber read a brief statement declaring that the recent suspension of furloughs of army officers and men was a precautionary measure, as Holland is firmly resolved to maintain her neutrality, and there is a possibility of incurring increased danger, owing to the course of the war.

OFFICERS OF RIGGS BANK ASK FOR AN EARLY TRIAL

Comptroller Williams Issues Statement Bearing on Connection of His Office With Case.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Officers of the Riggs National Bank, indicted for perjury in connection with their suit against Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams, alleging conspiracy to wreck the institution, today petitioned a local court for an early trial and a bill of particulars on which the indictment was based.

IRITATION AGAINST ALL BELLEGERENTS

LONDON, April 4 (delayed).—Holland bared its teeth to the belligerents on both sides so unexpectedly that the Dutch public was as much astonished as the remainder of the world," said a prominent neutral, just returned from Amsterdam, to the Associated Press today. This person stated that not only was the Dutch army mobilized, but actual maneuvers were held, as if to repel forces landing from the North Sea in the neighborhood of Flushing.

DEATHS IN VIRGINIA

Funeral of Major Hunter. WINCHESTER, VA., April 5.—Many men prominent in public life in Virginia and adjoining States attended the funeral here yesterday of Major Robert W. Hunter, the widely-known Confederate veteran, lawyer, and journalist, whose death occurred late Sunday night at his winter residence in Washington. The services, which were very simple, were held in Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, of which he was for many years a communicant, and the officiating clergymen were Rev. Nelson Page, D. D., of Washington, the Virginia diocesan missionary, and an intimate friend of the family, and Bishop-Coadjutor Beverly Danbridge Tucker, of the Southern Diocese of Virginia. Burial was in the family lot in Mount Hebron Cemetery at the side of the grave of his wife, the late Mrs. Margaret Stuart Hunter. The pallbearers were W. Nelson Page, Robert Y. Conrad, Harry R. Knapp, D. B. Conrad, Dr. P. W. Boyd, Dr. Robert McC. Glass, Harry K. Russell and John M. Steek. Relatives and friends who came to attend the funeral, included Rev. Randolph H. McKim, D. D., Conway Robinson, Leigh Robinson, Major J. C. Hennebill, Charles Light, William Campbell, Lawrence Washington, Milton Elliott, Charles Hume and William

On point No. 1, the taste—that is strictly up to you. Most men like the taste of Fatimas so well that they outsell any other cigarette costing over 5 cents.

But tastes differ and Fatimas may or may not taste as good to you as to all these thousands of other men.

You can't tell about that, of course, until you try Fatimas. That's the only way to prove how SENSIBLE they are. Try out a package today and prove it yourself.

On the second and third points Fatimas ring the bell every time.

As a matter of fact, there are several sensible cigarettes on the market today. Fatimas aren't the only ones. You can figure for yourself what a sensible cigarette is:

First—it must please your taste. Second—it must be cool and comfortable to the throat and tongue.

Third—it must leave you feeling good and snappy even after you have smoked more than usual; no heavy or "heady" feeling—no grouch at yourself for having smoked too much.

Two Tests for ANY CIGARETTE. The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. But there are other qualities that you should look for in the cigarette that you are going to stick to for your steady smoke. Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose more wisely between different kinds of cigarettes. The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light cigarettes, which draw in a cloud of smoke—a small, ordinary puff is not sufficient to make this test. Hold it in your mouth for a few seconds. Let it "do" around against your tongue and throat. Now blow out the smoke. If the cigarette contains a high grade of mild tobacco leaves, combined in just the right proportion, it will always feel cool, and smooth both to your throat and to your tongue. On the other hand, if the proportions are not right and if the cigarette contains inferior grades of tobacco or hidden strands of rank, city leaf, you will feel a slipping sting at the tip of your tongue or that "sandpaper" tickle in your throat. Test number two—How do you feel after smoking all day? If the tobaccos in the cigarette include a correct proportion of mild grades—and if all the various grades have been properly mellowed by age—and if they have been so blended as to bring out the best qualities in each of the different types of tobaccos, you will be able to smoke practically whomever you wish through the day without feeling any effect from it. But with another cigarette in which the blend is less skillful, even though the tobacco is of the highest grade, you will find along towards the end of the day that you are likely to have that feeling of a "sting" or "tickle" in your throat.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning. We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate, in order to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach. The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach, is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast, and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make any one who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble, rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.
