

ment and laws which you are about to create. As we have developed our institutions to serve the needs of our national character and life, so we assume that you will develop your institutions to serve the needs of Russian character and life.

"As we look across the sea we distinguish no party, no class. We see great Russia as a whole, as one mighty, striving, aspiring democracy. We know the self-control, essential kindness, strong common sense, courage and noble idealism of the Russian character.

"We have faith in you all. We pray for a blessing upon you all. We believe you will solve your problems; that you will maintain your liberty, and that our two great nations will march side by side in the triumphant progress of democracy until the old order everywhere has passed away and the world is free.

ARMED MILITARY AUTOCRACY THREATENS BOTH NATIONS

"One fearful danger threatens the liberty of both nations. The armed forces of a military autocracy are at the gates of Russia and the allies. The triumph of German arms will mean the death of Liberty in Russia. No enemy is at the gates of America, but the triumph of German arms means the death of Liberty in the world; that we who love Liberty and would keep it must fight for it, and fight for it now, when the free democracies of the world may be strong in union, and not delay until they may be beaten down separately in succession.

"So, America sends another message to Russia—that we are going to fight, and have already begun to fight, for your freedom equally with our own, and we ask you to fight for our freedom equally with yours. We would make your cause ours and our cause yours, and with a common purpose and mutual helpfulness of a firm alliance make sure of victory over our common foe.

"You will recognize your own sentiments and purposes in the words of President Wilson to the American Congress, when on the second of April last he advised a declaration of war against Germany. He said:

"We are accepting this challenge of hostile purpose because we know that in such a government [the German government], following such methods, we can never have a friend, and that in the presence of its organized power, always lying in wait to accomplish we know not what purpose, there can be no assured security for the democratic governments of the world. We are now about to accept the gage of battle with this natural foe to liberty, and shall, if necessary, fight the whole force of the nation to check and nullify its pretensions and its power."

WORLD MUST BE MADE SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY

"The world must be made safe for democracy. Its peace must be planted upon the tested foundations of political liberty. We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no dominion. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we shall freely make. We are but one of the champions of the rights of mankind. We shall be made as secure as the faith and the freedom of nations can make them."

"And you will see the feeling toward Russia was not America's alone. It was the great war in another clause of the same address. President Wilson further declared:

"I have not every American feel that the world must be made safe for democracy. It is the peace of the world by the world, and the world by the world. The world must be made safe for democracy. Its peace must be planted upon the tested foundations of political liberty. We have no selfish ends to serve. We desire no conquest, no dominion. We seek no indemnities for ourselves, no material compensation for the sacrifices we shall freely make. We are but one of the champions of the rights of mankind. We shall be made as secure as the faith and the freedom of nations can make them."

"The autocracy that crowned the summit of her political structure, long as it had stood and terrible as was the reality of its power, was not in fact Russian in origin, character or purpose, and now it has been shaken off and the great generous Russian people have been added, in all their naive majesty and might to the forces that are fighting for freedom in the world, for justice and for peace. Here is a fit partner for a League of Honor."

"That partnership of honor in the great struggle for human freedom the oldest of the great democracies now seeks in fraternal union with the youngest. Practical and specific methods and the possibilities of our allies' co-operation, the members of the mission would be glad to discuss with the members of the government of Russia."

STILL TABULATING SALES OF LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

tion was taken in order that the campaign could be kept open in that city until the last moment. While Governor Seay has been advised over the telephone of the approximate subscriptions, the lists will not be sent to Richmond until tomorrow. Local clerks will then have to check and tabulate the returns before the final figures for the Fifth District can be compiled.

BONDS DISTRIBUTED IN HANDS OF LARGE NUMBER
One of the most gratifying features in connection with the subscriptions in Richmond was the number of purchasers of the bonds, especially among people of moderate means, for it will teach thrift to them during the fifty weeks that they are paying for the bonds. "These small subscribers will be doubly blessed," said Colonel Thomas M. McAdams, "through the ownership of their first government bond, and also in the practical lesson in thrift occasioned by the necessity for weekly savings."

"This is the greatest victory the people of Richmond have ever achieved because its success is not attributable to any one class of citizens, but is due to the co-operation of all, and especially to those thousands of wage-earners who made real personal sacrifices in order to participate in this great movement of financing the fight of the United States for liberty and freedom."

June U-Boat Sinkings May Beat Those of May

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, June 16.—There has been no diminution in the submarine activity, said Captain Charles Barrett, parliamentary secretary to the Food Control Department, speaking at Cheltenham to-night, and the ships selected for attack were those of heavy tonnage.
It was not unlikely, he added, that the June sinkings might be heavier than those of May. There must be an increased production of food and decreased consumption and, above all, careful conservation.

Richmond, W. Meade Addison, vice-president and cashier of the First National Bank, said:

"It is my opinion that no doubt existed in the minds of those who closely followed the situation as to the successful outcome of the flotation of the two-billion-dollar Liberty loan bonds, but the large oversubscription, which reports now indicate, and which seems assured, will be immensely gratifying even to those who, well qualified to do so, predicted great things in connection with the issue. The success must be attributed to the tremendous publicity which the matter received; the educational campaign conducted through the pulpit, the press and the banks, and indeed every other agency which could possibly be brought into operation. When the public awakened first to the needs of the country and then to the purposes to be served by the proceeds from the sale of the Liberty bonds and finally to the desirability of the investment, nothing could restrain the people from signing up."
Richmond's record will always stand out prominently. It is a high tribute to the ability and determination of the forces which were at work here. I never saw a more patriotic response from every one to do his or her part, nor have I ever observed a better co-operation. The result is, of course, that everybody is happy except those who could not subscribe."

CONSTANTINE QUILTS GREECE

Government and Commissioner Representing Allies Taking Steps to Avoid Disorder.

(By Associated Press.)
ATHENS, June 16 (via London).—Former King Constantine, who abdicated the Greek throne last Tuesday, now has left Greek territory.
Both the government and the high commissioner representing the allies are taking every measure to avoid disorder. The authorities at Piraeus have posted notices in the street summoning all those who possess arms to deliver them to the authorities by tomorrow. More allied troops were landed at Piraeus today.
The food situation is improving. A steamer is discharging a cargo of 4,000 tons of wheat at Piraeus. Other wheat cargoes are expected to arrive within twenty-four hours.

UNIDENTIFIED STRANGER FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

PETERSBURG, VA., June 16.—The police were notified late today that the body of a man was lying at the extreme end of the electric railway on Walnut Hill. Officers were at once sent over and they found the body of a white man. Investigation proved that he was alive, and a physician was summoned. He was taken to the hospital, and a search revealed a bottle of bichloride of mercury tablets with four tablets missing. He also had two letters, one addressed to W. P. Lindner, care of A. Hoan & Co., box 177, Richmond, the other addressed to Harvey Wilson, 205 Governor Street, Richmond. Heroic efforts were made to revive the man but he remains in a semi-conscious condition. He is powerfully built, apparently about thirty years of age and well dressed. Communication was had with the Richmond Police Department, but up to midnight nothing definite had been learned.

ALLIED DIPLOMATS HONORED

Degree of Doctor of Laws Conferred on Ambassadors and Ministers by Princeton University.

(By Associated Press.)
PRINCETON, N. J., June 16.—America has counted the cost in entering the war, and is ready to pay the price, no matter how great the sacrifice, to secure world triumph of democracy over absolutism and the crushing of Prussian despotism, Secretary of State Lansing said today at the one hundred and seventieth commencement of Princeton University, at which 286 men were graduated. Mr. Lansing was one of those upon whom the honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred, including ambassadors and ministers of the allied countries at war with Germany. Herbert C. Hoover and others, as a part of a patriotic demonstration on the steps of historic Nassau Hall, M. Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States, who also received a degree, who acted as spokesman for the allied diplomats, in acknowledging the honor, said the French people had been revived by the action of America.
"We have faith in omens," he said, "and we remember that America has never lost a war."

MEXICO TO STAY NEUTRAL

Foreign Office Declares Nation's Attitude Has Already Been Outlined by Carranza.

(By Associated Press.)

USE WIRELESS TELEPHONE

Navy Experiments Prove Practical Value as New Means of Communication.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 16.—Experiments with wireless telephony have proved its practical value to such an extent that it will be used by the navy in its war operations along with wireless telegraphy. A statement issued to-night by the public information committee says that engineers and scientists working with officials of the navy in developing the wireless telephone have made "important progress," but does not go into details. The National Research Council and the Naval Consulting Board have devoted much attention to the subject, working on telephone communication with airplanes, new wireless methods and apparatus for detecting the presence of submarines.

PERSHING'S NEPHEW ENLISTS

Leads Seventy Other Students From University of Chicago to Recruiting Office.

CHICAGO, June 16.—"I am ready, captain, to fight for the flag in France," a keen-eyed young man, twenty-two years of age, standing erect, like a trained soldier, to-day stood at attention at a recruiting station and was sworn in as a private.
The young man was Frank E. Pershing, nephew of Brigadier-General John J. Pershing.
Young Pershing is a student at the University of Chicago, and he led seventy other students from the university to the recruiting office. All became privates.

Pershing Plunges into Hard Work Begins Preparing for Arrival and Disposition of American Forces.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, June 16.—After three days as the guest of France, in which extraordinary honors were bestowed upon him, Major-General Pershing today plunged into the work of making preparations for the arrival and disposition of the American military forces which he is to command. Early this morning he walked from his hotel, carrying an armful of documents, to the new American army headquarters in the Rue de Constantine, near the Hotel des Invalides. He sat for the first time at the plain table in the barely furnished office, and took up the great volume of business which has been accumulating before and since his arrival.
General Pershing found in his mail numerous requests from Americans serving in armies of the allies to be transferred to the American army in France. Many American civilians in France have made application to enlist or for commissions. The general is guided strictly by the War Department's decision not to request the transfer of Americans from the Foreign Legion or from the English or Canadian armies, except for work in the American army as instructors or in other specialized capacities. Consequently, most of the Americans now serving with other armies will remain with them.

General Pershing motored to the French general headquarters and took lunch with General Petain, the French commander-in-chief, whom he had not met before.
Yesterday General Pershing laid a wreath on the grave of the Marquis de Lafayette.

of $1,200,000,000 as approximately correct, and allowing for shrinkages of $50,000,000 there and in other districts from the totals of all estimates, it appeared that the total would reach $2,900,000,000.

No estimates, official or unofficial, were forthcoming at the Treasury Department.

Indications were that the final returns would not be available before Monday. Even then there probably will be only an approximate idea as to the total number of subscribers.

What is regarded as one of the most remarkable showings came from the Navy Department. The department and the ships took an estimated total of $3,000,000. Tabulations at noon, with the work still progressing, showed a total of $2,839,900. More than 15,000 sailors, clerks and officers subscribed.

Officials were surprised most of all at the large number of men and women of small means who bought $50 and $100 bonds. These subscriptions came from all communities, cities, towns and country districts, and were a tremendous factor in the last-minute increase of the loan.

The government's printing and engraving plant is working day and night to turn out the bonds, and their distribution to subscribers will begin very soon.

Secretary McAdoo in a message of thanks to all agencies which helped to solicit subscriptions, asked that these organizations be maintained, in preparation for a second national loan campaign in the fall.

Just a Word About Berry Values

You may have noticed that we have talked emphatically about Berry Values all season long—in fact, we have been discussing the subject on and off for nearly forty years. This is because Values at Berry's are not occasional but perennial; not exceptions, but the rule; not confined to periodical "sales," but incident to our daily business; not a seasonal dish, but our regular fare; not an accident of merchandising, but a habit which we contracted shortly after the Civil War and have never since outgrown!

Always, the regular prices of Berry Clothes represent the finest values that money can buy.
