DEMOCRATIC WOMEN DO GOOD CAMPAIGN WORK

Helping New Voters for November Election—To Straighten Out Registration Tangle. The correct method of marking the two ballots that will be in the election of November 2, the long presidential ballot and the short one for the amendments to the Constitution, was the subject of talk by Mrs. James Ware Durham at the meeting of the Democratic Women's organization of the city, held in the Jefferson Hotel yesterday evening.

Mrs. Edith Tunis LaSalle presided at the meeting, held in the Jefferson Hotel. Mrs. J. P. Newton, of Seattle, Wash., told of the experience of women voters in that city. She was complimented with a rising vote of thanks at the conclusion of her talk.

Mrs. Durham yesterday morning pointed out the confusion in the confusion growing out of the misunderstanding of many women who registered and who unwittingly gave the registrar wrong precincts. She also pointed out the confusion in the confusion growing out of the misunderstanding of many women who registered and who unwittingly gave the registrar wrong precincts.

Mr. Dillard yesterday applied for a permit to building Inspector Butler to build a one-story brick store building on the east side of Fifth Street, between the street and the railroad tracks. The store will be occupied by one of the chain of stores conducted by the PIGGY WINKLY Company.

Permits were issued as follows: To Otto Bierch, repairs to store building at 11 North Morris Street; Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, repairs to bank building at 107 East Main Street; J. W. Getzer, to build garage at 1127 West Albano, to cost $350.

ing in the audience. Mr. Swanson discussed the main issues of the present presidential campaign and urged the Democrats of the county to come to the polls in full force on the second of November. He also expressed the hope that the women would use the ballot to advantage, now that they had been given the privilege.

Mr. Flood was introduced by O. L. Evans and made a stirring speech, in which he explained the general issues of the campaign from a Democratic standpoint, and urged all the patriots to rally to their standard when election day comes. Both speakers stated that the prospects for the outcome of the campaign had never been brighter.

Following Mr. Flood, J. H. C. Grady spoke at length. Mr. Grady was introduced by John Riley Coleman, of Nelson County, who spoke for about thirty minutes after Mr. Grady had concluded his speech.
