

U. S. TRUST LAWS CLARIFIED BY ACTS RECENTLY PASSED

Federal Trade Commission and Clayton Measure Have Aided.

NOT ALWAYS EASY TO RECOGNIZE VIOLATIONS

Sherman Statute in Force 25 Years Before Interpreted by Supreme Court.

RULINGS ARE SUMMARIZED

Outline Shows Many Practices That Were Abated Without Prosecution.

BY J. FREDERICK ESSARY, Staff Correspondent of The Times-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Since the creation of the Federal Trade Commission and the enactment of the Clayton antitrust law, the Federal government has been proceeding slowly but unflinchingly in the direction of a higher standard of business practices which will guide the buyer and the seller of commodities along lawful paths in their transactions.

In the past it was not always easy for the man of business to know when he was within the law or a violator of the law. The Sherman act was a broad and general measure, seemingly all-inclusive, and yet so indeterminate in its meaning that it remained on the statute books for more than twenty-five years before it was definitely interpreted by the Supreme Court.

Subsequent enactments, however, have cleared the atmosphere to a marked extent and the rulings of the Federal Trade Commission, under these enactments give the business man a well-defined idea of what constitutes unfair or corrupt practices in trade; what he may do, in other words, without fear of prosecution, and what he may not do without running grave risks.

The commission has just summarized its rulings upon these questions, showing what practices it has condemned as unlawful, practices which have been stopped in some industries without prosecution, but only after court decrees, in others. The following is an outline of this summary:

Outline of Summary.

Misbranding of fabrics and other commodities, respecting the materials or ingredients of which they are composed, their quality, origin, or source.

Adulteration of commodities, misrepresenting them as pure or selling under such names and circumstances that the purchaser would be misled into believing them to be pure.

Bribery of buyers or other employees of customers and prospective customers to secure new customers or induce continuation of patronage and the bonuses by manufacturers to salesmen of jobbers and retailers to procure their special services in selling their goods, or making unduly large contributions of money to associations of customers.

Procuring the business of trade secrets of competitors by espionage, by bribing their employees or by similar means, and procuring breach of competitors' contracts for the sale of products by misrepresentation or by other means.

Inducing employees of competitors to violate their contracts or enticing away employees of competitors in such numbers or under such circumstances as to hamper or embarrass them in business.

Making false or disparaging statements respecting competitors' products, their business, financial credit, etc.; the use of false or misleading advertisements, and the making of false claims to patents or misrepresenting the scope of patents.

Making vague and indefinite threats of patent infringement suits against the trade generally, the threats being couched in such general language as not to convey a clear idea of the rights alleged to be infringed, but nevertheless causing uneasiness and fear in the trade.

Suit Intimidating Trade. Widespread threats to the trade of suits for patent infringement arising from the sale of alleged infringing products of competitors, such threats not being made in good faith, but for the purpose of intimidating the trade.

Intimidating for the purpose of accomplishing enforced dealing by falsely charging disloyalty to the government, or tampering with and misadjusting the machines sold by competitors for the purpose of discrediting them.

Trade boycotts or combinations of traders to prevent certain wholesale or retail dealers from procuring goods.

Passing off of products or business of one manufacturer for those of another by imitation of the product, dress of goods or by simulation of

FAMILY OF FIVE WIPED OUT BY SOUTH CAROLINA SLAYER; THREE GENERATIONS VICTIMS

Mother, Daughter, Son and Two Adopted Grandchildren Found Dead and Dying With Bullet Wounds in Heads by Relative Returning From Ride.

(By Associated Press.) PAMPICO, S. C., Jan. 16.—Discovery today of the bodies of two other members of the Bigham family revealed that the entire family of five, living about four miles from Pampico, was killed some time Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. L. Bigham, 69 years of age, was shot through the head, and her body was found in the yard of the Bigham home near a well. Her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Black, 35 years of age, was found lying in a pool of blood in her room on the second floor of the home with a bullet hole in her forehead. Mrs. Black's adopted son, 9 years of age, was found near the back of the house, his forehead having been pierced by a bullet at close range.

The body of the other member of the family, L. S. Bigham, 40 years of age, son of Mrs. L. Bigham, was found today about 11 o'clock in the woods about half-mile from the house, lying in an obscure spot, surrounded by bushes, with a wound in his right temple. His hand was holding a revolver, in which there were two bullets.

An inquest is being held, but the report of the jury has not been received. The family had long been prominent in this section of the State, the father having been a member of both branches of the South Carolina General Assembly, and at one time was elected to the Congress. L. D. Bigham, brother of the dead man, and his family, consisting of his wife and two children, had recently moved to South Carolina from Georgia or Alabama, and were occupying rooms in the home. They were out driving, and no one seems to have witnessed the shooting. E. D. Bigham, returning about 3 o'clock this afternoon, was the first on the scene.

FORDNEY BILL WILL GO BEFORE SENATE TODAY

Presentation of Tariff Measure Believed Signal for Long and Determined Fight.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Presentation of the Fordney emergency tariff bill to the Senate tomorrow by the Finance Committee will formally launch what promises to be a long and determined fight. Hours of discussion and an avalanche of amendments await the measure and the outcome is admitted to be in doubt.

While the Senate is preparing for consideration of the emergency measure, expected to begin late in the week, the House Ways and Means Committee will continue its hearings on permanent tariff revision.

Other important affairs awaiting action by the Senate are motions to reconsider passage of the Poincaré anti-trust bill and the resolution to stop retaining until the arms is reduced to 150,000 men. The latter resolution is expected to go to the House despite Senate opposition.

Debate on the bill for Federal regulation of the most industry will be resumed by the Senate Tuesday, when Senator Sherman, Republican, Illinois plans a long attack upon the measure. The bill is to be voted upon finally January 24.

Hearings on the Johnson immigration bill are to be closed by the Senate Immigration Committee Tuesday. Commissioner-General of Immigration Caminetti, who arrived home yesterday after a study of immigration questions in Europe, will be the last witness heard, the committee then making its executive session to decide whether the Johnson bill or a substitute shall be pressed or the whole question of emergency legislation dropped.

The Calder bill for regulation of the coal industry is to be taken up Tuesday by the Senate Manufacturers Committee, with brief hearings and early action planned.

Repeal of war-time laws is to be pressed tomorrow by the Senate Judiciary Committee, which plans to report out the House repeal resolution with an amendment continuing the food and fuel control law.

Final action Wednesday or Thursday on the Borah resolution to initiate negotiations for reducing naval powers for reducing naval building programs is contemplated by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. A favorable report is forecast.

Appropriation bills and the congressional reappointment bill are the principal measures before the House this week. Leaders are predicting that the House will reject the committee proposal for increase in its membership.

Voliva Says Satan Will Float Drinkers in Wine (By Associated Press.) ZION, ILL., Jan. 16.—Residents of Zion were given new light on the terrors of the infernal regions yesterday, when discoverer William Glenn Voliva issued advance sheets on a "handbook and guide to hell," based on what he termed helligrams he said he recently had received.

"Every sinner is going to be punished with an overdose of his own sin," Voliva declared. "A tobacco smoker will be locked up in a den full of tobacco smoke. A cheater will be immersed in his neck in a vat of tobacco juice. A drinker will pass his term of purification in a natarium filled with beer, wine and whiskey."

Miner Was Being Held in Connection With Killing of Member of Company. (By Associated Press.) BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Jan. 16.—Ten members of Company M, Alabama National Guard, were ordered arrested and brought to the Jefferson County jail tonight by Judge Horace Wilkinson, special solicitor, who is conducting an investigation into the lynching of William Baird, a miner, at Jasper, Thursday morning.

Company M was ordered to its home barracks at Tusculoosa from Townley, Tenn., because of the lynching, immediately after Baird was taken from the Walker County jail by masked men and shot to death. Baird was held in connection with the killing of Private James Morris, of Company M, on the night of December 23.

Two noncommissioned officers were among those placed under arrest. The entire personnel of Company M will be taken to Jasper under guard to appear at the coroner's hearing tomorrow, it was stated.

LOWDEN MAY GET BIG POST FROM HARDING

President-Elect Anxious to Have Former Illinois Governor in Government Service.

(By Associated Press.) MARION, OHIO, Jan. 16.—Although President-Elect Harding will hold only a few more conferences before he leaves Marion for his Southern vacation trip, his callers will include some of the leading figures in his party.

He began the week today with a long consultation with Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, generally regarded as a prospective Cabinet member, and tomorrow will see Will Hays, the Republican national chairman, and former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who was one of the three big candidates for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention.

Mr. Hays is also expected to receive appointment to the Cabinet, and Mr. Lowden's name has been associated in gossip here with several high positions under the coming administration.

The President-elect is known to be anxious that the former Governor enter the government service in some capacity, and he has been mentioned most frequently as a likely choice for one of the more important ambassadorships.

The exact date for Mr. Harding's departure for his vacation in Florida has not been divulged here, but it is known that he will leave within the next few days. His headquarters declined tonight to affirm or deny the announcement made in Miami, Fla., that he would start South next Thursday. It is understood, however, that he will not go immediately to Miami, but that his houseboat trip will begin at a point further north.

Mr. Harding, who had planned to leave Marion in advance of the President-elect and to spend some time in Washington and New York shopping, has decided to postpone her departure until next week. She will go first to Washington, where she will remain for several days, and then, after her visit to New York, will join the vacation party in Florida. She probably will not reach there, however, until the two weeks' houseboat trip is over.

PRELIMINARY'S YACHT IS READY FOR HARDING (By Associated Press.) ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., Jan. 16.—The yacht Victoria, on which President-Elect Harding will be the guest of Senator Thomas S. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, on a cruise in tropical waters is lying in the harbor here awaiting the arrival of the Harding party. The yacht was brought through the inland waterway from Charleston, S. C., by Captain Thomas Dahlberg, who is in command.

ARREST OF MILITIA FOLLOWS LYNGING OF ALABAMA MAN (By Associated Press.) OPELIKA, ALA., Jan. 16.—Detention of six large illicit distilleries, the arrest of three men, two of them white, and the burning of the automobile of Sheriff W. A. Betts by unknown parties, while he was engaged in leading the raiding party, occurred today in the far-eastern corner of Lee County.

The plants were all located within a radius of three miles, in the wild and most inaccessible part of the Chattahoochee River. A large quantity of beer, and several gallons of liquor were seized in the raid.

It was while the sheriff was reconnoitering the ground where the distilleries were said to be located, that his car was found to be flames, a strong odor of kerosene oil pointing to the fact that incendiaries started the blaze.

A reward of $250 for the arrest of those responsible for the act was at once posted by the officer.

BRIAND ANNOUNCES HE HAS COMPLETED CABINET OF FRANCE

Takes for Himself Posts of Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs.

SOME DISAPPOINTED IN LEAVING OUT POINCARÉ

Loucheur, Long Finance Head, in Charge of Liberated Regions Portfolio.

(By HUDSON HAWLEY, United News Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Aristide Briand has succeeded in forming a new Cabinet, and a government which shall continue responsible to the policies of President Millerand is apparently assured.

Millerand forced through his program of maintaining a government that would follow him in his plan of continuing to work with the allies in so far as the subject of German reparations is concerned in spite of great pressure demanding that former President Poincaré be named Premier and administrator of his policy of practical force against Germany. Millerand stands for moderation, Poincaré for pressing the collection of indemnity from Germany, and the adoption of stringent measures to guarantee its early payment.

Hint of a change in financial policy is seen in the Briand Cabinet in that L. Loucheur, who has long been Minister of Finance, and has advocated every possible means of replenishing the French treasury, except by increasing taxes, is believed of that portfolio, and given that of liberated regions.

Announcement that Briand had succeeded in forming his Cabinet was made Sunday afternoon, and it was generally agreed that the success of Briand in organizing the new government meant that the Millerand policies would be continued.

The newspapers, commenting upon the appointment of Briand, and the formation of his Cabinet are generally favorable to the designation of the former Premier to his old post. The Cabinet, as announced, follows: Aristide Briand, Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Bonnevay, Minister of Justice, Pierre Marraud, Minister of Interior, Gabriel Guistman, Minister of Marine, Paul Doumer, Minister of Finance, Victor Berard, Minister of Public Instruction, Edmond Leveau du Prey, Minister of Agriculture, Lucien Dor, Minister of Commerce, Gabriel Veyrier, Minister of Labor, Andre Maginot, Minister of Pensions, Yves Le Troquer, Minister of Public Works, Louis Loucheur, Minister of Liberated Regions.

MYSTERY SHROUDING PRICE MURDER Baffles Police Authorities Probing Death of Mutilated Mississippi Attorney Work in Dark. (By Associated Press.)

MERIDIAN, MISS., Jan. 16.—At the end of three days of tireless investigation, the authorities are as much in the dark as ever as to the identity of the two men who Friday morning entered the home of Moody Price, prominent attorney, and backed him to death with an ax.

Two men who were taken from a freight train at York, Ala., and brought to Meridian have been released. Officers declare that at no time since the murder have they been in possession of a single clue. A number of negroes living in the vicinity of the Price home have been questioned without result.

RUMOR OF HUGHES AS PREMIER CAUSE OF WIDE ARGUMENT

Question Arises Whether He Would Clash With Senate on Policies.

SEPARATE PEACE WITH GERMANY ALSO DEBATED

His Preference of International Arrangement Is Also Sought in Discussion.

(By ROBERT J. BENDER, United News Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—There are three questions which have constituted the main subjects for discussion among political and business leaders since the word was passed out by Republican lieutenants that President-Elect Harding had decided to name Charles Evans Hughes Secretary of State in the new Cabinet. The reported appointment has given rise to wide conjecture.

First, as to whether Hughes, a dominant-minded man, constructive, quite uncompromising, and for the most part nonpolitical, could not clash seriously with the Senate over the question of a foreign policy.

Second, whether Hughes, as Secretary of State would favor immediate peace with Germany and the conclusion of some new international arrangement with the world powers later.

Third, just what sort of international arrangement would Hughes favor as Premier in the Harding Cabinet.

Hughes, himself, is not talking on the subject. It is doubtful that he will talk unless, or until he makes some statement in regard to the question of whether he is or is not to be Secretary of State.

But his office was good enough to place at my disposal the former Justice's important speeches made at intervals during the late campaign, and in which the three questions which have so stirred political leaders and business interests, concerned as never before in our forthcoming foreign policy would seem to be rather definitely answered.

"Separate Peace Blaze Way." As to a possible clash between Hughes and the Senate, which possibility was construed as having been met by Senator Penrose's recent declaration that it didn't make any difference who was named Secretary of State, "the Senate will blaze the way in the foreign affairs," Hughes, in a speech before the Republican State (Continued on Second Page.)

THREE PRISONERS SHOT IN ATTEMPTED PRISON DELIVERY IN MISSOURI Officials Threat Plans of 22 Inmates of Kansas City Institution. (By Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, MO., Jan. 16.—Three inmates of the municipal farm were shot early today, when twenty-two of the men attempted to escape from a dormitory on the third floor. Two of the men, John Rothrock, of End, Okla., and Alvin Cannon, of Oklahoma City, Okla., are in a hospital as the result of their injuries.

The men said the plans for an escape had been completed two days ago. The bars on a window were sawed and the men had climbed out on a roof preparatory to sliding down on sheets tied together, when discovered by the guards.

One of Rothrock's injuries was the result of a jump to the ground, which was fifty feet below the roof. He was shot in the back and arms with buckshot. Cannon suffered dangerous injuries in the abdomen and leg, according to a statement from the hospital.

DETECTIVES CLOSE WEEK OF FRUITLESS SEARCHING FOR SLAYERS OF MINSON

Declare They Are as Far From Tangible Evidence Now as They Were When Mutilated Body of the Aged Night Watchman Was Found.

No solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of John A. Minson, the aged night watchman, who was slain in his shanty at the sand wharf, below the Tredegar Works, a week ago last Saturday, has been made by the police, although they declare every effort is being made by them to track down the murderers. It was stated at Police Headquarters last night that not further arrests had been made in the case, and that nothing new had developed in regard to the mystery. The detectives who have been working on the case had made no reports of any consequence and declared they were as far from having any tangible evidence in the case as they were a week ago.

Many new clues were revealed during the past week. Although a thorough investigation of the case had been made by the police, evidence sufficient to warrant the arrest of any individuals has not been obtained. Information has been sought from every source by the detectives in their efforts to solve the mystery. Friends, relatives and acquaintances of the dead man have been visited in order that the habits of Mr. Minson might be known and to ascertain whether or not they had any reason to suspect any one of having committed the crime.

No one has yet been suspected of the crime, police say. A number of men from the vicinity of Oregon Hill have been taken to headquarters and questioned in regard to the murder, but there was no evidence against them sufficient to warrant their arrest. Search is still being made for the man who boarded a Petersburg car a week ago Sunday morning wearing a bloodstained coat. So far this man has not turned up nor have the detectives been able to locate him. The two negro convicts who escaped from Capitol Square some time ago and whose prison records would warrant their committing such a crime, have not yet been captured.

Police refuse to talk much. They simply state, when questioned in regard to the murder, that they are doing everything possible to apprehend the perpetrators of the crime. They also said, when asked whether or not any new clues had been revealed, that they had not.

Trying to Find Unoccupied Land, Allowing Her Room for Future Expansion.

PRIMORSK IS SUGGESTED

Concurrence of Three Countries Necessary if Scheme Is to Go Through—Will Give Enormous Yield of Coal and Iron.

(By LOWELL McLEETE, United News Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A way out of the Far Eastern jam, with its direct bearing on relations between Japan and the United States, is now being quietly discussed in diplomatic circles in Washington. It has engaged the interest not only of State Department officials, but of men of affairs in the United States.

Briefly, its principal object is providing for Japan land to accommodate its overflowing population and a source of coal and iron supplies. It would abate the Japanese question in California, its proponents believe, and it is not impossible that consideration of the proposal may have had some bearing on the disposition of Japan to concede to its insistence of its present right, so far as this country is concerned.

Three Countries Must Concur. Concurrence of three countries in the scheme would be necessary, the countries being China, Russia and Japan.

The first step in the proposal calls for the purchase by Japan from Russia of that part of Primorsk lying directly north of Vladivostok along the coast. With the money thus obtained Russia would be enabled to build a new railroad outlet to the sea, through Mongolia. China would be required to grant a Russian base in the neighborhood of Taku, on the Gulf of Chihli.

Arguments advanced in favor of the scheme are these: First, Japan would get a territory almost equal in area to her own main island, and it would be next to Korea, the closest territory of any size to Japan, only a narrow strip of water separating it from the upper end of Japan. This country is now (Continued on Second Page.)

FIREMAN KILLED IN WRECK OF BIG 4 PASSENGER TRAIN Engine Plunges Down Thirty-Foot Embankment and Turns Turtle. (By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Jan. 16.—Fireman J. J. Hollister was killed and Engineer Harry Lynch, both of Cleveland, seriously injured when the engine of Big Four passenger train No. 11, westbound from New York to St. Louis, left the tracks at Linnade, near here early today, plunged down a thirty-foot embankment and turned completely over, pinning the fireman underneath.

Passengers were piled up in the cars, but escaped injury. The engine tender struck in the side of the embankment and prevented a combination baggage car and a coach and a Pullman from rolling into the ditch.

The wreck was caused by an east-bound freight train engine jumping the track and sideswiping the passenger train engine.

R. C. TABB BARELY ESCAPES DEATH AT HANDS OF BANDITS

Bullets Rip Through Clothes While He Grapples With Negroes.

BOLD ATTEMPT IS MADE ON DENNY STREET, FULTON

James Saunders Held Up Saturday Night by Masked White Men.

HALTED ON WEST FRANKLIN

Thugs Waylay Youth in Heart of Richmond's Fashionable Residential Section.

Two daring holdups were staged in Richmond during the last three days, it became known last night. The first, which took place Friday evening in Fulton, was the bolder of the two. Robert C. Tabb, 2204 Floyd Avenue, had a miraculous escape from death, when two negro bandits accosted him in daylight on Denny Street, between Gilliam and Marshall Streets, ordered him to throw up his hands, and when he refused, fired four shots at him, two of which ripped through his clothing. The robbers were frightened off before they could get his money. In the other attack James Saunders, a youth, who lives at 410 North Lombardy Street, was held up at the points of pistols by two masked white men Saturday night about 10:30 o'clock. He told the police that he was walking along West Franklin Street, in the 1200 block, when the holdup took place. Eight dollars was taken from him, he said.

While the police are confronted with the task of running down the bandits in the two holdup cases, the mystery surrounding the murder of John A. Minson, night watchman at the sand wharf, below the Tredegar Works, Saturday night, January 8, is as deep as it was when the mutilated body of the aged man was found the morning after the crime.

Two Men Drew Revolvers. Mr. Tabb, who is a collector for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, said that he was in Fulton last Friday making collections for the firm. He said that he was in a store located at the corner of Gilliam and Denny Streets and had just received some money. The girl in the store gave him a $10 bill, which he changed. When he came out he started down Denny Street, saw two negroes, a short distance away, cross to the side of the street. He was on the sidewalk when they came to them, one negro stepped ahead of him and the other followed along behind. The one who was ahead suddenly turned and said, "I want to see you." Mr. Tabb asked him what he wanted. The negro replied that he wanted his money and while saying this he showed a pistol in his hand. The other negro, who had been in the rear, came up and joined in. He also had a drawn revolver.

Mr. Tabb acted as though he was going to throw up his hands, but, instead of doing so, suddenly pushed the negro aside. Angered by this, the negro pulled the trigger and the bullet ripping through his raincoat and clothing. Before the bandit could get ready again to aim and fire Mr. Tabb closed in on him and pushed him. The highwayman fired, and this shot went through his clothing also, on a line about even with his heart. By this time he was shouting for help and persons began to pour out of their houses. The negroes were frightened off and as they ran down the street turned and fired two more shots at Mr. Tabb.

When talking about the attempted robbery last night, Mr. Tabb said that two policemen had passed him about fifteen minutes before the holdup took place. He said that his cries for help did not bring any response. After the attack he went to a nearby store and called up the First Police Station. He said about twenty minutes later a policeman arrived.

Robbed in West Franklin. James Saunders was the victim of the robbery which took place Saturday night. According to the police, the young man was walking along West Franklin Street about 10:30, when two masked white men, armed with pistols, stepped out and demanded that he hand over his money. The youth, who is about 17 years of age, was stricken with terror, and the bandits took all of his money, which, he claims, amounted to $8. After the holdup he went to the Second Police Station, where he reported the robbery. He stated that the two men were dressed in dark (Continued on Second Page.)

Senators' Widow Will Run to Succeed Him (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Anna Key Worley, widow of Hon. J. P. Worley, who died last night, Senator J. Parks Worley, filed her candidacy for the State Senate Saturday in the Second Senatorial District, which includes the upper East Tennessee counties of Hawkins and Sullivan.

Mrs. Worley, who is 65 years of age, is making the race on the Democratic ticket. The special election has been called for January 25 to fill the vacancy made by the death of Senator Worley.
