

WHITE HOUSE COAL FUND $2,700 BELOW THE MARK

Item to Cover Shortage Is Asked For in 1921 Deficiency Bill.

(By United News.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Wilson's looking for the White House windows upon having been told that the coal fund is $2,700 below the mark.

One of the reasons is this: The Office of Public Buildings and Grounds, which takes care of the White House, under estimated the amount of coal the White House would use during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921.

John Seaman, clerk of the Appropriations Committee, coming across this item, mused: "Well, that's something that sometimes happens in the best regulated families."

Asked how the White House coal bill overran the budget, the clerk explained that all estimates for coal are made more than a year in advance.

"And," he said, "it was rather difficult in 1920 to tell just how much coal would be used."

However, the President will not freeze. There are any number of coal dealers in the city who would willingly trust the White House with $2,700 worth of coal.

Rebuted, that this meeting unanimously addresses the movement now instituted by the Tobacco Association, in cooperation with the Farmers' Association, to curtail the crop of tobacco, and to that end will do all in their power, through tobacco dealers, warehousemen and merchants, to prevent more than half a crop being planted as compared with last year.

As it has been clearly shown that there is now a large surplus of bright tobacco on hand, especially common grades, and that half a crop will mean better tobacco and the farmers will receive more money therefor than they would from a full crop.

Those present at this meeting pledge themselves to use every proper means to carry out the purpose of these resolutions, and that copies be sent to every bank, warehouse and supply merchant in the bright-tobacco district.

Bankers Sign Resolution. Besides the members of the association, the following bankers present at the meeting, signed the resolutions:

W. A. Hunt, Citizens Bank and Trust Company, Henderson, N. C.; W. M. Addison, Planters National Bank, Richmond; J. M. Miller, First National Bank, Richmond; Julian H. Hill, National State and City Bank, Richmond; John T. Wilson, Bank of Commerce and Trusts, Richmond; Walter Holladay, American National Bank, Richmond; H. W. Jackson, Virginia Trust Company, Richmond; C. B. Carlsdale, Union Bank, Richmond; J. D. Tucker, First National Bank, South Boston; E. A. Blackford, Planters and Merchants Bank, South Boston; J. T. Goode, Peoples Bank and Trust Company, Chase City; William Hunt, Citizens Bank, South Hill; F. Fagan, First National Bank, Rocky Mount, N. C.; E. L. Sutor, National Bank of Rocky Mount, Rocky Mount, N. C.; J. O. Cobb, First National Bank, Durham, N. C.; James L. Little, National Bank of Greenville, Greenville, N. C.; J. D. Blythe, Farmers and Merchants Bank, Williamsboro, N. C.; W. E. Allen, Greensboro Loan and Trust Company, Greensboro, N. C.; J. I. Pritchett, First National Bank, Danville; J. H. Rison, Commercial Bank, Danville; H. O. Kern, American National Bank, Danville.

LIQUOR CANNOT BE SHIPPED THROUGH U. S., SAYS NEBEKER (Continued from First Page.) as well as prohibiting transshipments. Violation of the law, officials said, would render such liquor subject to seizure. However, it was suggested that the practice of sealing up while in port the liquor aboard foreign ships intended for the use of the crew might be extended to a cargo of liquor on a vessel merely putting in at an American port on a voyage between foreign ports.

Shipments of liquor to this country consigned to the diplomatic representatives of foreign nations, nevertheless, officials asserted, would not be interfered with by the customs officers. That question, they declared, has been definitely settled by the application of the provision of the law which penalizes interference with diplomatic representatives.

Will Shut Off Illegal Supply. Closing the United States to liquor transshipments prohibition officials said, would solve another enforcement problem by shutting off a source of illegal supply. Shipments of liquor from Canada to Mexico by rail or to American ports for ocean transport, they explained, have given trouble to prohibition authorities. Consignments from Canada, they added, have failed to reach the ports, or trace has been lost of shipments to Mexico.

Shipping Board officials expressed considerable interest in the effect of WOMEN MEN ADMIRE. Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but most of all the happy, healthy contented woman, as beauty fades and the figure will change. Women who are troubled with backache, headaches, those dreadful dragging sensations, and nervous irritability, cannot hope to be popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible. The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it is a natural restorative for such conditions, and dispels effectually all those distressing symptoms.—Adv.

BRINDLE SENT TO JAIL ON EXTORTION CHARGE

Sentenced to Serve Not Less Than Five nor More Than Ten Years.

(By United Press.) NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Robert P. Brindell, "Boss" of the Building Trades Council, today was sentenced to not less than five years nor more than ten years at hard labor in Sing Sing by Judge McVoy in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court here.

Brindell was convicted of extortion in connection with building activities in New York City. Although the meeting at Westminster Hall was purely a party caucus, the Premier gave out the official text of his words. He reiterated with emphasis his belief that the dangers are not yet past, and declared that "significant events are in the making."

"New nations are rising up, as though it were resurrection morning," he said, "and the new light is dazing them. They are like men drunk with liberty. Such is the condition of the world today."

Concerning Ireland, the Premier challenged Henry Asquith, leader of the opposition, to say whether he would give Ireland an independent army and navy.

"If that is so," he declared, "the country ought to know it."

UNWISE TO STOP BUILDING OF SHIPS. SAY NAVY EXPERTS (Continued from First Page.) and physical strength behind it? "No, sir. Your moral strength. The possibility of your withdrawing your present interests, your helpful activities, would bring other nations into line."

Sir Philip said, the key to the whole situation is Russia.

"Russia has the greatest manpower and the largest standing army in Europe at this time. There can be no general disarmament until Russia has been brought into line with the rest of the civilized world. Russia should be invited to any disarmament conference. If we could get rid of her military menace it would have a profound effect on the world. I think also that Germany should be called in."

Answering a question, Gibbs said, the conference invitation should come from America, since Europeans feel that America is disinterested in the matter of national quarrels and has no desire for territory or to impose on any other country.

114 Eggs A Day Now Instead of 25 A Day This Means About $120 Extra Income Per Month for Mrs. Ropp.

"I have 200 hens, including late pullets not old enough to lay, and had been getting only 20 eggs a day. Then I tried Don Sung and am now getting 107 to 114 eggs a day."—Mrs. Essie R. Ropp, R. R. 2, Littleton, Ind.

"This increase of 7 dozen a day in the middle of winter, at 60c a dozen, makes $120 extra income per month. Don Sung for her 200 hens cost about $2.50. It pays for itself in a day. Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for yourself. You won't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded."

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed. It improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or direct from the factory, by mail, prepaid. Burrell-Duggar Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.—Adv.

Irish navy. They won't get it, and if they don't get it, we are told, they will kill our policemen, our soldiers—not in open fighting, but hiding in homes, walking as respectable tenant farmers or swaggering along the road until they find rifles, passing perhaps the very policemen they are about to murder as though they were innocent men.

"Are we to allow that sort of thing to be done without protecting the people we are sending there? (Cries of "No!") There is no issue between us and our political opponents on home rule. We have come one better than the Gladstonian home rule.

"There is an issue about setting up an independent country by our very gates—by the places where submarines used to lurk and sink our ships and endanger our commerce and the life of the nation. There is an issue as to whether the policemen and soldiers, who are there upholding the honor of our flag, are to be shot down by men who lurk in houses. I know of no other issue."

BRITISH PUBLIC STIRRED BY LLOYD GEORGE SPEECH BY PERCY SARRL. United News Staff Correspondent. LONDON, Feb. 8.—Whatever its purpose, Lloyd George's sensational speech to the Welsh Liberals at Westminster Hall Tuesday, when he expressed a dread fear as to the future of Europe, has impressed the British public as an astounding disclosure of a grave international situation.

The feeling is tempered, particularly among the Premier's political enemies, by the belief that the canny Welsh leader may be indulging in a characteristically astute bit of political tub thumping in view of the approaching general elections.

The gravity of his utterances, however, and the studied way in which the speech was composed and delivered, lead the big majority to believe that the Premier is absolutely sincere when he voices a tremendous fear of future danger.

The Premier gave no hint as to the direction from which the danger was to come. But he has left the public with a sense of impending disaster, and without a single clue as to its causes.

"I am engaged in a terrible task," said Lloyd George, "and one far more important than that of defending myself."

"Who says the danger is past? I wish to God that everybody could say that, because it fills me with dread. If somebody with authority, whose word were acceptable, could say to me, 'Yes, the dangers are over,' I would be so glad that I would resign my resignation as Premier tomorrow."

The worst possibility, but one that is uppermost in English minds, is that the Germans will renege against the terms of the treaty of Versailles and refuse to fulfill its terms. But even this explanation of the Premier's fear is not regarded as a complete reason for his depression. Lloyd George's speech was, of course, one of generalities. He specified no particular crisis with which he was concerned.

The address, delivered in the Premier's most powerful form, was a strong appeal for national unity. The Premier swayed his audience with his customary eloquence. And so deeply sincere did he appear that whoever heard him refused to believe that here, was mere platform oratory, no more serene, no more beating of the political drum.

Lloyd George's words were obviously carefully weighed. They had, doubtless, been approved before by the Cabinet.

Although the meeting at Westminster Hall was purely a party caucus, the Premier gave out the official text of his words. He reiterated with emphasis his belief that the dangers are not yet past, and declared that "significant events are in the making."

"New nations are rising up, as though it were resurrection morning," he said, "and the new light is dazing them. They are like men drunk with liberty. Such is the condition of the world today."

Concerning Ireland, the Premier challenged Henry Asquith, leader of the opposition, to say whether he would give Ireland an independent army and navy.

"If that is so," he declared, "the country ought to know it."

GEORGIA ASSURES INDIANA GOVERNOR OF NO VIOLENCE

Asserts That if Mace Giddens, Alleged Negro Murderer, Is Extradited, He Will Be Safe.

SYLVANETTE, GA., Feb. 8.—At a mass meeting of citizens of Sylvanette and Worth county held last night, a resolution was unanimously adopted, addressed to Governor McCray of Indiana, condemning mob violence and disregard of law and assuring the governor that if the negro, Mace Giddens, held in that state for the killing of a deputy sheriff in Worth county, is returned to Georgia he will be given every protection and a speedy, fair and impartial trial.

W. A. Guthrie, a citizen of Indiana, who was sent by Governor McCray to Georgia, to investigate conditions in the Worth county, before making a decision as to extradition of the negro, was present at the mass meeting and was handed a copy of the resolutions to take back with him.

At a hearing before the Indiana governor, last week, when Governor McCray, accompanied by an attorney, went to that state with the negro, he was told by the governor that he would hold his decision until he could send a committee to Georgia, to investigate conditions. The negro's attorney, employed in Indiana, asserted their client would be in danger of lynch law if returned to this state.

The governor further stated that if he could not deliver him to the Georgia authorities, the negro is being held in jail at Crown Point, Ind.

Will Wait for Report. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 8.—Governor McCray today he would take no action regarding the extradition of Mace Giddens, a negro fugitive wanted at Sylvanette, Ga., for murder, until W. A. Guthrie makes a report of his investigation in Georgia. No word has yet been received from Mr. Guthrie, the governor said.

WILL READJUST AFFAIRS OF GOODYEAR COMPANY. Plans Have Been Under Consideration for Several Weeks—Arrangement That Agreement Is Reached.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Plans for readjustment of the financial affairs of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, include issuance of prior preferred stock, sinking fund debentures and mortgages totaling $85,000, counsel for the company announced here today.

The plan, which has been under consideration for several weeks, will be carried out under the supervision of a bank creditors' committee. An indication that an agreement had been reached was given yesterday in various financial quarters.
