

SOUTHERN RAILWAY AND ITS SHOPMEN REACH AGREEMENT

Telegrams Go Out From Union Heads, Sending Men to Jobs.

RIGHTS OF SENIORITY REMAIN UNIMPAIRED

Road Officials Direct Superintendents Give Workers Former Places.

SEABOARD SHOPS AGAIN BUSY

Plants Throughout Great Transportation System Resume With Full Forces.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Officials of the Southern Railway and representatives of the union shop crafts of that system late today signed the Warfield-Willard-Jewell agreement.

The strike among the workers of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, which is controlled by the Southern, also was settled on the same basis. The workers of the two roads, and those employed on all other lines controlled by the Southern who went on strike, are to return immediately to work with seniority rights unimpaired.

Orders Out for Resumption.

Orders were telegraphed by the shop leaders tonight to the divisional chairmen of the various labor unions throughout the South to instruct their men to return to work at once. Similar orders were sent out by the Southern's officials to their superintendents to put all of the former workmen back at their old jobs as soon as they applied. The conference had been in session three hours when William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, as spokesman for the union chiefs, announced that a settlement had been reached. Henry W. Miller, vice president of the Southern line, in charge of operations, exhibited a copy of the agreement bearing signature of the union leaders and representatives of the Southern, remarking that he expected most of the striking workers to be back at work within a week.

The return of the shop leaders to sign last Saturday led to doubt in some quarters as to the outcome of today's meeting. It was understood that the decision in favor of settlement was influenced largely by President Johnston, who was said to have urged an amicable agreement in the interest of industrial peace. E. E. Norris, St. Louis, vice-president and general manager of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, acted as spokesman for that system in the negotiations.

FEW CLASSES REPORTED AN UNUSUAL RESUME WORK

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Few out-of-breaks were reported today as several more railroads put into effect the shop craft peace plan. The number of men employed on other roads increased and it is now estimated that shop forces are about 85 per cent of normal. Officials of both the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and the Northwestern announced that the striking shopmen returned to work by the thousands during the day and without any signs of the violence noted Saturday, when the returning workers demanded that all nonunion employes be dismissed. J. E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island Railroad, said that no further

It is understood, however, that on or after June 1, 1923, either party may give the usual thirty days' notice of a desire to make any change.

CLAIMS DRY OFFICERS ARE SOCIAL OUTCASTS

(By United News.) BOSTON, Sept. 18.—The prohibition enforcement agent is almost a social outcast and is forced to lead a lonely, thankless existence, because his neighbors shun him, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, declared at a meeting of the league here Monday. Prohibition agents, he said, have few friends. He urged the members of the Anti-Saloon League to be neighborly toward the agents and their families.

FORMER KAISER WILL MARRY IN NOVEMBER

(By United News.) BERLIN, Sept. 18.—According to the opposition of his sons and the German Royalists here, former Kaiser Wilhelm will marry a pretty widow of royal blood in November. Widely Known Navy Flyer Killed in Fall

(By Associated Press.) DETROIT, MICH., Sept. 18.—Ludwig A. "Tank" Fechteler, one of the most widely known aviators of the United States Navy, was instantly killed at Selfridge Field near Mount Clemens, this afternoon when he took a steep dive while he was flying stalled 150 feet in the air, went into a tail spin and fell on the flying field. Lieutenant Fechteler was to have piloted one of the navy favorites in the Pulitzer air race, to be held here October 14. The aviator came here a week ago to conduct trial flights in preparation for the race, and was taking the air for the first time since his arrival from the U. S. S. Langley, where he was in charge of the ship's planes. The score or more of army and navy aviators who were watching his ascent expressed the belief he gained altitude too suddenly, causing his motor to stall. Fechteler was a native of San Rafael, Cal., and was graduated from Annapolis in 1917. He was 25 years old.

That position on November 1, 1912, he was appointed assistant postmaster under Postmaster Edgar Allan, Jr.

Thornton's Term Expires. The day Mr. Southward reported for his new duties, Mr. Allan was taken ill and was sent to Rochester, Minn., where he was incapacitated for a year. During all of that time he was acting as postmaster, or practically jumping from upper to lower position.

THROWS OUT THIRD FEDERAL EVIDENCE

Judge in Rail Injunction Hearing Rules Out 283 Affidavits.

TO RESWEAR EXHIBITS

Defense Sustained in Denying Statements Were for Court Use.

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—More than one-third of the government's evidence in its injunction suit against the striking railway shop crafts was ruled out today when Judge James H. Wilkerson upheld the contention of the defense that 283 affidavits recounting violence at the hands of supposed strikers failed to show the persons making them knew they were to be used in court.

At one swoop attorneys for B. M. Jewell and John Scott, strike leaders, thus disposed of a large part of the slightly less than 700 affidavits on which the government based its claim of an unlawful conspiracy to destroy interstate commerce.

Rule Out Strike Bulletins. Among the affidavits which the court announced he would not consider were those of the Chicago Bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, to which Mr. Rooney had attached copies of strike bulletins issued from the headquarters of the railway employees department, American Federation of Labor.

The defense's objections to the 283 exhibits were based on the ground that as the affidavits did not show the persons making them knew they were to be used in court it was evident they did not know they were subject to the laws governing perjury when they swore to the allegations.

FARM HAND ADMITS KILLING EMPLOYER

Asserts Wife of Dead Man Urged Him to Put Husband Out of the Way. (By Associated Press.) BURLINGTON, IOWA, Sept. 18.—George Leroy Speer, of Indianapolis, Ind., held for complicity in the killing of John V. Shurtz, Des Moines County farmer, has made a full confession, the sheriff's office said today. Shurtz was killed with a sawed-off shotgun as the farmer slept in his bed at home, about ten miles from Burlington, last Tuesday night. Mrs. Shurtz, who, with her 14-year-old son, slept in a bed adjoining the one occupied by Shurtz, and who is under arrest, but has readily admitted any knowledge of the crime, was taken into Speer's presence today, but displayed no emotion. Speer declared that she urged him for six weeks to "put Shurtz out of the way," according to the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Shurtz is about twice the age of Speer, who had worked as a farm hand on the Shurtz farm. Speer, the authorities said, told them that he killed her husband in compassion for her, because Shurtz was cruel to her.

HARDING WILL USE VIGOROUS TERMS IN VETO MESSAGE

Congress' Failure to Finance Compensation Act to Be Emphasized.

SENATE IS EXPECTED TO SUSTAIN PRESIDENT

Friends of Bonus Lack One Vote for Overriding Executive.

WHITE HOUSE TO ACT TODAY

Both Virginia Senators Among Those Expected to Oppose Passage.

(By Clayton Whitehill, United News Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—President Harding, having conveyed to the American Legion his displeasure with the present soldier bonus bill, may be expected to veto it promptly. And a poll of the Senate disclosed just enough votes to sustain the veto.

Administration leaders, after conferring with the President at the White House, predict that he will send a "vigorous" veto message to Congress, possibly Tuesday.

Antibonus Senators now feel certain of gathering enough votes to sustain the veto since Senator Curtis, Republican floor leader, has received a telegram from Senator Weller, just arrived in Los Angeles, from a former Japanese, asking that he be paired as sustaining a veto. The latest addition to the thirty-four votes, to sustain, leaving sixty-two votes to override the veto—or one less vote than the necessary two-thirds majority.

Estimate Based on Bonus Bill Vote. This calculation presupposes attendance of the full complement of ninety-six Senators. It is based on the roll call of August 31, when the bonus passed the Senate, together with an analysis of pairs. Thus the following Republicans and Democrats, totaling thirty-four may be counted on to sustain the veto: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Calder, Mayers, Owen, Shields, Swanson, Underwood and Williams, and possibly Watson of Georgia.

House to Override Veto. The House is expected to override the veto, but if the Senate sustains the veto, that action would prevent the bill from becoming law.

While the unofficial poll is based on ideal conditions, nevertheless, antibonus Senators feel that a proportionate number will be absent from either side, or that those absent will be paired. A two-thirds majority of those Senators of Congressmen present and voting is sufficient to sustain or override a veto. Although the precise content of the President's veto message has not been divulged to Senate leaders, nevertheless, it is expected to point out that, while the present cost of the bonus to the government would not be so great, the eventual drain on the nation's finances would be enormous. Furthermore, it would likely point out that the measure adopted by House and Senate contains no revenue-raising provisions.

Gives Views to Legionnaires. Harding is understood to have expressed these sentiments to the American Legion today, when a delegation of legionnaires headed by Commander Hanford B. MacNider, waited upon the President at the White House urging him to act favorably on the measure.

If benefit to the veterans concerned is provided now, MacNider told Harding, "no great pension system except for the disabled will be necessary during the coming years to meet the handicap. Immediate adjustment will save the nation billions of dollars and restore the faith of those sorely tried by what they feel to be national ingratitude and injustice."

HEAR GUNSHOTS AND CRIES NIGHT OF DOUBLE KILLING

Witnesses Near Scene of Jersey Murder Awakened by Screams.

DON'T BELIEVE BODIES WERE MOVED TO SPOT

Attention of Investigators Directed to Furnished, Untended "Mystery House."

RECTOR BURIED IN BROOKLYN

Brother of Clergyman's Widow Warned of Impending Trouble, Friend Declines.

(By Associated Press.) NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Sept. 18.—Unsuccessful search among many clues and conflicting details was made today by the detective staffs of two counties, the local police and seven State police to establish definitely the scene of the shooting to death last Thursday night of the Rev. Edward Hall, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of St. John, the Evangelist, and Mrs. James Mills, wife of the rector, and a choir leader in the church.

The bodies of the two, bearing bullet wounds, were found side by side Saturday in an old orchard in Somerset County. Authorities of Somerset have expressed the belief that the two had been shot elsewhere and the bodies brought to the orchard and laid out under the apple tree in an effort to draw closer the veil of mystery which is over the double shooting.

Killing Occurred in Field. The discovery today, however, of four witnesses, residing in the vicinity of the field, who reported hearing screams and gunshots on Thursday night, has strengthened the belief that the two shootings occurred in the rustic setting, where the bodies were found.

Henry McCabe, a bridge tender, told the police that on Thursday night shortly before midnight he was awakened by screams. He said he called to his wife and she came together, until the screams grew fainter and fainter. The next morning they asked Mrs. Henry Waters, a neighbor, if she had heard the screams. Mrs. Waters said she had not, but had been awakened by reports of four gunshots. Otto Kaufman, a butcher's boy, also told the police he had heard gunshots. He said the first had been separated from the last three by a considerable interval. Mrs. Mills was shot once between the eyes. The rector's body bore four bullet wounds.

Investigate "Mystery House." With this new testimony fixing to a certain extent the scene of the crime, attention was drawn to a vacant house which stands on the Phillips farm, a tract of land adjoining the orchard. This house has been known for some time as "the mystery house" and is now being investigated, fully furnished and yet unoccupied.

All efforts to trace through real estate agents those renting the house are said to have failed. A superficial examination, said to reveal that the house may have been recently occupied, though no one has been known to have made an appointment to see it. (Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)

RECOMMEND MOVE FAILS

Efforts of the Democrats to get the bill back into conference to limit the authority of the President in the matter of proclaiming American valuations failed, Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, president pro tempore of the Senate, today announced that the conference had exceeded their authority in broadening the powers of the President so as to permit of American valuation on other than coal tar products.

Senator Cummins' ruling, but the bill was sustained on a vote of 43 to 21. The Democrats, Broussard, Hitchcock and Randall, voted to sustain the bill, while one Republican, La Follette, voted against the ruling. Consider Embargo Continuation. While the Senate was arguing the tariff bill, the House Ways and Means Committee began consideration of a resolution for continuation for ninety days of the dye embargo licensing system act, which would be repealed by the tariff bill. Final decision went over until tomorrow. The resolution was introduced by Representative Tison, Republican, Connecticut, and a similar one has been presented in the Senate by Senator Wadsworth, New York.

ENTOMBED MINERS DIED FIVE HOURS AFTER FIRE 47 BODIES ARE FOUND

Victims of Catastrophe Made Noble Struggle for Lives.

HAD BUILT BULKHEADS

Stuffed Their Clothing Into Cracks to Keep Out Poisonous Fumes.

(By Associated Press.) JACKSON, Sept. 18.—All forty-seven of the miners entombed in the Argonaut mine August 27, are dead, it was announced officially shortly before 9 o'clock tonight. A note found on one of the bodies indicated that all the men had died within five hours of the beginning of the fire, August 27, officials said. All the miners were found behind the second of two bulkheads they had built in a cross cut 4,350 feet down in the mine. Byron O. Pickard, chief of the Federal Bureau of Mines for this district, was the first man to go behind the bulkhead and discovered the bodies.

Pickard, on an earlier exploration behind the bulkhead had counted forty-two bodies and expressed the belief that there were others there. Dying Miner Leaves Note. The note found reads as follows: "I A. M., gas bad."

The same note bore a scrawled figure "4," apparently indicating the same man had attempted to leave word for those who might come after of the condition of the mine at that hour.

Mine officials declared that the condition of the cross cut behind the bulkhead was such that life could not have been sustained there by the entombed men for more than five hours. The bodies were filed one on top of another and decomposition had progressed so far that identification was impossible.

TAKE FINAL ACTION TODAY ON TARIFF

Senate Will Adopt Conference Report Late This Afternoon.

SIMMONS OVERRULED

Chair Declines to Entertain Point of Order Conference Exceeded Authority.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Final legislative action on the administration tariff bill at 4 P. M. tomorrow was agreed upon late today by the Senate. At that hour the vote will be upon adoption of the conference report with no doubt of favorable action.

After the Senate vote the measure will be made ready for President Harding and will become a law on the day following his approval of it. Will Continue Approval. In the four hours' debate that is to precede the final vote, Democratic opponents plan to continue their final fight on the bill. The measure was opened today by Senator Simmons, North Carolina, minority leader in the tariff fight. Speaking for more than three hours, he assailed the bill as one that would increase living costs by billions of dollars a year and would result in the formation of hundreds and thousands of trusts and combinations in restraint of trade.

The attack on the measure was not confined today to the Democratic side. Senator Cameron, Republican, New Mexico, denouncing the action of the Senate conferees in yielding to the House managers on the Senate proposal to impose a tariff of 7 cents a pound on long staple cotton. He indicated that he would vote against the conference report.

Recommittal Move Fails. Efforts of the Democrats to get the bill back into conference to limit the authority of the President in the matter of proclaiming American valuations failed, Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, president pro tempore of the Senate, today announced that the conference had exceeded their authority in broadening the powers of the President so as to permit of American valuation on other than coal tar products.

Lloyd George Thanks Dominions for Replies

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Sept. 18.—Prime Minister Lloyd George at the close of the Cabinet meeting this evening sent a message of thanks to the Prime Ministers of Australia and New Zealand for their prompt responses to the call for cooperation in the present Turkish situation. It was stated tonight.

The message said: "Your prompt response to our inquiry to resist any threat against the freedom of the straits and the sanctity of the Gallipoli Peninsula has been received with enthusiasm. The empire cannot consent to sacrifice the results of the gallant struggle and final victory which its arms won in the eastern theater of the war."

IMPEACHMENT PUT OFF BY HOUSE BODY

Judiciary Committee Postpones Report on Keller Resolution Until December.

TO STRENGTHEN CASE

Untermeyer Will Aid in Seeking Congressional Indictment of Daugherty.

(By United News.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Despite the postponement until December by the House Judiciary Committee, of the hearings on the impeachment resolution against Attorney-General Daugherty, Representative Keller, Minnesota, author of the resolution, intends to build up his case in the interim.

Meanwhile, the action of Chairman Volstead and the Republican members of his committee—who outvoted the Democrats on strict party lines, 8 to 3—has inspired the following resolutions:

Untermeyer in Charge. Samuel Untermeyer, prominent New York attorney, who has agreed to represent Keller in the impeachment proceedings, will continue to prepare evidence during the ensuing three months.

President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in protesting the "brazen effrontery" of the House committee, has arranged with counsel and witnesses, some of whom have either reached Washington or are on their way from long distances.

Keller, in denouncing the action of the committee, has pointed out that the Daugherty rail strike injunction is but one of the seven major charges being brought against Daugherty.

Will Charge Laxity. Chairman Volstead has explained the postponement until the December session of Congress on the ground that Daugherty will be in Chicago all week and could not adequately defend himself, should a favorable report on the impeachment resolution be made.

Those persons of organizations interested in the impeachment following the committee's action, Monday, have pointed out that on Saturday that body was insistent on the immediate presentation of evidence. In two days they contend, the committee has reversed its decision upon the announcement that Untermeyer would represent Keller. Furthermore, the party vote on the postponement would indicate that the hearing was put off until the December session because then the November elections will be over.

Untermeyer is expected to produce evidence of laxity on the part of the Justice Department in the prosecution of illegal acts by certain trusts which were brought to light by Untermeyer in his conduct of the Lockwood investigation in New York.

War Office Prepares for Any Emergency at Dardanelles.

LLOYD GEORGE SEEKS ALLIES' CO-OPERATION

London Makes Effort to Align Europe Against Turk Ambitions.

CURZON VISITS FRENCH CAPITAL

Foreign Affairs Secretary to Convince Politely French Interests With Europe.

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Sept. 18.—The declaration that Great Britain does not intend to engage in any new war, obtained from an authoritative source today, coupled with other statements that the series of Cabinet meetings and ministerial conferences in the last few days has been partly in preparation for possible attacks on and partly as a political preparation for the contemplated general conference for the settlement of the Turkish question.

While it is not seriously expected in military quarters that Mustafa Kemal, the Turkish Nationalist, will make an attempt either to capture Constantinople, or cross the straits, the British wish to be ready in case of emergency and not sacrifice the meager contingent of troops long stationed in Constantinople.

No Reversal of Policy. The many statements issued with the permission of No. 10 Downing Street after each conference are interpreted as emphasizing the intention of the Cabinet to carry out the policy which it has faithfully adhered to for more than three years regarding Turkey and the political situation there. Much criticism at home and abroad that policy, which is coupled with the Greek defeats, will still be vigorously followed.

The first task of Premier Lloyd George is to win the French to his point of view. Great Britain is laying her cards on the table, and it is not her intention, it is declared, to attempt to make a new Gibraltar of Gallipolis; he merely wishes not to give the Turks another opportunity in case of a general war to waste so many European lives by Turkish control of the straits.

French Side With Turks. The Cabinet is thoroughly convinced that French public opinion is with the Turks, but Lord Curzon, British Secretary of Foreign Affairs, who is expected to visit Paris, will point out to Premier Clemenceau that the issues that Turkey are at stake, and the whole peace of the Balkans, future relations of Russia and the entire Near East are involved, that if Great Britain can risk disturbing her Mohamedan connections, by forcing Russia's attitude in the Balkans, she can afford to yield and cooperate with the British in a Turkish peace.

Lord Curzon can do this more convincingly by a talk over the table than by a formal response. He explained one official: that is why he is going to Paris.

Would Present United Front. With France convinced, it is believed the Balkan States will fall into line; then an undivided front can be presented to the Turks and any solution regarding the straits be imposed. With respect to Soviet Russia's attitude of sympathy with the Turks, it is believed that they can overcome. From facts lately presented at London, it is known the Soviet's attitude is partly due to allied control of her travelers and freight exercises in the past year at Constantinople, where Soviet officials have been arrested and detained and their shipments made to pay demurrage charges. These annoyances will cease, it is argued, when a Turkish peace is arranged.

On the other hand, it is believed the Turks will realize that Soviet Russia is supporting them as a matter of temporary convenience; when the war is over, they will be fully paid for either in cash or food.

Recalls Gladstone Policy. British Cabinet, it is said to be the old Gladstone dictum that the Turks should get out of Europe "bag and baggage." (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2.)

DENIES SHOPMEN'S STRIKE IS BROKEN

(By United News.) CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Answering the claim of Eastern railroad executives that the shopmen's strike is broken, Bert M. Jewell, president of the Federated Shop Crafts, said that "more men are joining the strike each day."

The men entering the shops only stay a few days, he said, and quit. "There is almost a complete work-line-up in railroad shops over three weeks ago," he said. "The strike breakers quit and new men are hired, and the chain is an endless one."
