Bodies Recovered from Clallam Wreck.

LIFEBOAT PICKED UP

Patrolling Coast Searching for Bodies.

Thus Far Recovered Had on Preservers, One Being Found in the Lifeboat.

Jan. 10.—The tug Albion, on way from Victoria to Vancouver this morning, picked up lifeboat No. 1 of the Clallam. It contained the body of a woman and another was found but a short distance away. They were identified as those of Miss Louise, the daughter of W. J. Harris, the mining millionaire, and Mrs. Sullins of Seattle. Miss Harris on her way to visit Mrs. H. C. Belmont at Crofton, near Victoria, B. C.

LIFE PRESERVER ON

boat is evidently the second found from the ship, as it was in this that Miss Harris and Mrs. Sullins were to have embarked. The bodies of Miss Harris and Mrs. Sullins were recovered around them. Miss Harris was identified by a ring marked with initials, L. H. Miss Harris was of unusual beauty.

SEARCH FOR BODIES

Provincial police have chartered to patrol the coast for two days in search of bodies. Another body was found on the shore near Beacon this morning. This afternoon it was identified as that of Miss Ethel Diprose, in the Fanny Padlock, hospital boat. She was on her way to Victoria to visit her sister, Mrs. J. W. Diprose.

NO GROUND FOR HOPE

Doubt but That Passengers and Crew in Boats Perished.

Townsend, Wash., Jan. 10.—No further news has been received here from the Clallam passenger steamer. There is little or no ground for hope that any of the passengers or crew will be alive. All day yesterday and into the night the storm kept up furiously, and the search for wreckage was one of difficulty.

RECOVERED BODIES

Further bodies have been recovered. The five brought here yesterday were identified, the fourth proving to be that of C. F. Johnson, a relative of Chief Justice of the Provincial court. This body was identified by means of a letter addressed to Judge Hunter, dated in Portland, and signed "Agnes."

THE SHOE STRING FOB

latest social craze is the shoe-string fob. Since it invaded New York it has caused the sale of about 100,000,000. And still the demand exceeds the supply. The fobs do some ready-made—you make them by braiding together two shoe-strings which ought to be of sharply contrasting colors.

THE SHOE STRING FOB

But because of that craze is so rampant that some retail shoe stores in Harlem, Brooklyn and Jersey open expressly to supply it. Manufacturers are daily sending to the market large quantities of red, green, white, blue and orange strings of silk or other material which could not be sold by the most aggressive salesman except for the export of the shoe-string fob.

HARD TO PLEASE.

Spaniards Object to Selection of Former Archbishop of Valencia, and Make Demonstration.

Rome, Jan. 10.—Vatican authorities are greatly displeased because of the Spanish demonstrations against Monsignor Nozalida, former archbishop of Valencia. It is said at the Vatican that the appointment was intended to gratify the Spanish people, as Archbishop Nozalida was one of Spain's own prelates who was struck most severely by the Spanish-American war, and who through that war lost the prominent position which he held in the Philippines.

The Vatican now finds that the appointment has caused general dissatisfaction, and while some persons look upon it as displeasing to Americans, it has undoubtedly failed to please the Spaniards.

CAN TURN NEGROES WHITE.

X-Ray Drives Color From Skin, and Blacks May Take Treatment.

To change the hue of a negro—to make a white man out of a black one—has always been reckoned among the world's impossibilities, but a recent discovery at the University of Pennsylvania shows that the transformation is perfectly feasible and that the blackest skin can be made white through the agency of the wonderful X-ray.

The discovery was made incidentally while negroes were being treated with the rays for cancer and lupus, and although no attempt has been made to try the effect of the light upon the skin of a healthy negro, yet there is no reason to doubt that the rays could be employed for the sole purpose of whitening the skin, and that before long some one will be bleached to any desired shade.

Dr. H. K. Panozzo, the radiographer of the University hospital, noticed that after negroes had been treated for some time with the rays the skin became gradually whiter, and that after a long time the surface became perfectly white in every place that the light touched. The condition is apparently permanent, for some of the negroes have not been treated for many months, yet the skin remains as white as after the last treatment.

A typical case is detailed. The negro, and a very black one he is, has been treated for lupus for nearly a year, and it can be seen that part of his nose and part of the forehead are quite white. These parts are the only ones that have been subjected to the X-ray, the remainder of the face having been always covered with foil during treatment. The white colored skin is exactly like that of an ordinary white man and presents a perfectly healthy appearance. It is natural skin, but the former coloring has disappeared, because the rays have destroyed the pigment which caused it.

The same condition is met with now and then in negroes who, though perfectly healthy otherwise, have had the coloring cells die out when white patches appear. The X-ray is a most powerful agent of the destruction, and under its influence the pigment is totally destroyed and there is no power to reproduce it, giving the skin a permanent whiteness.

There is no reason to believe but that a healthy negro could be whitened by having the coloring matter bleached from his skin, and the only question is whether or not the patient would be able to stand the treatment applied so extensively. The X-ray will not only destroy the pigment, but if applied with enough force, it will entirely kill the tissues, and this sort of a burn is the worst known to medicine. But with a mild application extending over a long space of time the burns could be avoided. In cases treated at the university hospital there were no burns whatever, and the patients are perfectly healthy. It seems possible to give the treatment without impairing the health of the subject.

Dr. Panozzo, while admitting the fact that the skin is made white by the rays, did not care to discuss the dermatological side of the discovery. He said: "I have found in the case of a negro that the skin is made white under the rays, and the change seems to be permanent, for the pigment is destroyed. There is no reason why a healthy negro should not be made white as well as an affected one, but such an experiment would be decidedly out of the professional line, and I must leave the test to some quack doctor. It would be rather a foolish experiment, and one of some danger, but I suppose that it would be done if any one cared to try it. In my case the X-ray has been applied rather gently and not very often, and the change in the color of the skin has been gradual. The possibilities, if the discovery be not fraught with danger, are amazing to contemplate. Face specialists would be sure to take up the subject and so develop it that the operation could be performed with perfect safety. The application would not at all be confined to negroes, but the face 'bleach' that is now used on many women with more or less harmful results might be done away with and the rays of the Roentgen light employed to banish the objectionable yellow or dusky complexion.

The next step will be for some one to find a way that kinky hair can be made straight, and then it will be simply a matter of dollars and cents. Many negroes desire to become a 'real' white person.—Philadelphia Record.

ON THE MENU.

"What have you in the larder?" asked the cannibal king of his chief.

"Not so much today, your elevatedness," explained the chief. "Nothing except a printer and an actor."

"Oh, well, fix them up some way."

The chef bowed several times and rubbed his hands together.

"When are you waiting for?" asked the cannibal king.

"Would your serenely altitudinous excellency deign to suggest some method of preparing the two persons—some new dish, for instance, that would be pleasant to your royal palate?"

"Don't go to any bother. Just put the printer in the pot and the actor in the soup."

And the court jester stepped up and resigned.—Exchange.

NOTE TO GEN. REYES

Secretary Hay Forwards One to Colombian Envoy.

FOLLOWS LINES FORMER ONE

Is in Response to His Protest Regarding Action U. S.

Diplomat's Second Note Differed in Some Important Respects From First One to State Department.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Secretary Hay yesterday sent another communication to Rafael Reyes, the Colombian envoy, in response to his protest against the action of the United States regarding affairs on the Isthmus of Panama.

While State department officials decline to make any specific statement as to its nature, it is understood that in a general way it follows the lines laid down in the reply to Gen. Reyes' first note which practically declines to re-open the Panama question.

Gen. Reyes' second note differed in some important respects from that first sent by him to the State department. The first contained a general statement of the grievances, important and minor, which Colombia asserts she has suffered as a result of the interpretation placed by the United States on the treaty of 1846.

This note also, while not specifically making a protest, by its very nature involved the presentation of one later on.

The second communication, to which an answer was returned yesterday, dealt with considerable detail on certain specific points regarded as highly important and meriting special consideration and presented an emphatic formal protest against the action of the United States in Panama matters.

Secretary Hay's answer, it is said follows the lines of the recent message of President Roosevelt to Congress on the Panama question, justifying the steps taken by the United States on the subject. The Secretary's reply does not discuss with Gen. Reyes one matter which he urges in his second note, namely the transmission to the Senate of the correspondence which has passed between himself and the State department. It is known that the officials of the State department resented the suggestion of the former, as highly improper and for this reason its answer does not discuss this request. The matter of sending the correspondence to the Senate has not yet been determined on by the President.

The sending of the note to Gen. Reyes yesterday prevented his contemplated trip to Baltimore for treatment by a specialist for which he had made arrangements the day before.

Gen. Reyes' last note also contained some reference to the submission of disputed points to arbitration, but State department officials say there is nothing in the present situation for the United States to accept any reference to that court was intended.

Gen. Reyes is ready to leave the city at any time for Colombia, where his personal and political interests require his attention. It was said tonight that he will leave this country within the next ten days, but no information was obtainable from Gen. Reyes on that subject tonight, as he declined to see newspaper reporters on the plea that he was very busy.

From the standpoint of the State department there is no reason why he should hasten his departure as he might very well remain and render considerable service to his country. The suggestion was made tonight that possibly he might remain and make an effort to open diplomatic negotiations with Panama through its representative here for the adjustment of such questions as the assumption by Panama of a portion of the exterior debt.

Some suggestion also has been made, although not officially, of a reunion of the two Governments under the name of the Republic of Colombia, Panama to have an autonomous government with absolute authority to deal with all questions relating to the control of canal matters.

Beautiful Girl Takes Her Own Life.

SENT BULLET THROUGH HEAD

Tragedy Occurs in Home of Her Parents in Bulia.

Had Been Taken From a Ballroom by the Sheriff at Request of Her People.

TRAGEDY OCCURRED

Butte, Mont., Jan. 10.—Agnes Holland, a beautiful sixteen-year-old girl, blew her brains out last night, after being taken from a ballroom by one of the Sheriff's officers and being threatened with a term in the House of the Good Shepherd, a reformatory at Helena. The girl is said to have been of a wayward disposition and beyond the control of her parents, who have twice placed their daughter in the reformatory, and each time she managed to escape from the sisters.

Information reached the parents' ears that the girl was drinking with men, and an officer was dispatched to the ballroom to get her. When they reached home the girl asked to be allowed to go to her room for a moment.

She could be heard groping about in the dark, and then the sound of a pistol shot was heard. Agnes had secured her brother's revolver and placed the muzzle of the weapon to her ear and pulled the trigger, killing herself instantly.

Liked It on the Table.

The minister of a little Scotch village was at the bedside of a Scotchman named Donald, preparing him by pious exhortations for the great journey.

"Have you anything on your mind, Donald?" he asked. "Is there any question you would like to ask me?" And the minister bent down to listen to the dying man's reply.

"No, minister, I'm na' afeard. I wad like to ken the whether there'll be any whiskey in Heaven."

Upon his spiritual counselor remonstrating with him on such a thought at such a moment, he hastened to add with a knowing look: "Oh, it's no that I mind, minister; I only thought I'd like to see it on the table."—Exchange.
