

City and Neighborhood

The ladies of St. Mark's cathedral will hold a rummage sale in the basement of the church Sunday afternoon.

The amount of yesterday's bank clearings was $207,851, as against $202,042 for the corresponding day of last year.

The State Board of Examiners met in regular monthly session yesterday and passed upon a large number of claims against the State.

Street Supervisor S. M. T. Seddon has taken charge of his office, and states that there will be no change in the department at the present time.

The third annual report of the State bureau of statistics has just been issued by Commissioner Charles De Moley. It includes over sixty pages of tabulated statements.

Ralph Woolley, who returned from Los Angeles last Friday evening suffering from appendicitis, has been operated upon by Dr. Benedict at the Holy Cross hospital and is now recovering.

Plans for a handsome double house to be built by Mrs. M. S. Cannon on North State street, near the Lafayette school, are being drawn by Architect J. C. Woods. The building will be thoroughly modern and will cost in the neighborhood of $700.

Another Raymond-Whitcomb excursion party of 109 persons will pass eastward over the Rio Grande Wednesday morning. The returning tourist business from the coast is very heavy now, the railroad being obliged to send extra coaches on every eastbound train.

Hep Gee Nam, the Chinaman who was ordered deported for unlawfully entering the United States at Pocatello, has been taken to the coast yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal J. J. Fyke in the steamer "Columbia" which leaves San Francisco on March 23rd.

J. M. Christensen & Co. and Kahn Bros., creditors of John R. Norris, late proprietor of Ford's hotel, have filed a petition in the federal court in Salt Lake City to have the hotel declared a bankrupt. The Christensen claim is for $800 and that of Kahn Bros. is for $225.

Fish Commissioner John Sharp will today take 10,000 trout fry to Cache county distribution. He will distribute the same next week he will distribute the same number in the waters of Wasatch county. He will also turn loose a bunch of quail in the vicinity of Deweyville.

Chinese Inspector A. W. Payne leaves today for his new post at Pocatello, N. D. The change is a promotion for Mr. Payne, who has done excellent work here since the opening of the Salt Lake office. He is to be succeeded by W. H. Webber.

N. D. Cook, a merchant of this city, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday. His liabilities he estimates at $267, assets at $152.25, including an insurance policy of $100. His failure is attributed to general depression in his business and the failure of parties to whose notes he had put his name.

The city health officer has found a remarkable case of smallpox at No. 332 South Ninth East. The patient is F. W. Olin. The physician reports that the fact that he had been vaccinated as recently as two years ago and had the scars of his arm from the vaccination, which he had vaccinated a great number of people, has never before come on a case where the patient had been vaccinated so recently before catching the disease.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pixton, wife of the late Robert Pixton, and a resident of Taylorville, died Sunday night at her home in Taylorville, after a brief illness of pneumonia, aged 85 years. She was born in Chesterfield, England, and came to Utah with the Mormons in 1848. She was the mother of ten children, six of whom survive her; had sixty-three grandchildren, forty-six great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wood will be sorry to learn that they have been bereaved of their only son, who died in San Francisco. Mr. Wood leaves the banking-house of Wells, Fargo & Co. to enter the army and join the 10th company there. Mrs. Wood is known here as a church singer, and in the future will sing in the church and concert work. Those who know of her vocal ability are confident of her success in her chosen field.

The report of Superintendent D. H. Christensen of the public schools for the month ending March 1st shows a total enrollment in the twenty-six schools of the city of 12,336 pupils. The number of teachers is 412, and the average of 41 pupils to the teacher. During the month there were 124 cases of tardiness and 12 cases of truancy. The per cent of attendance was 93.5 and the per cent of punctuality 99.5. There were 15 cases of corporal punishment.

The lake continues to rise regularly at the rate of half a foot per month, and the present indications are that it will be well over half a foot higher than last year. The snowmelt that visited Salt Lake on Sunday morning has done some damage to some every likelihood of Utah getting some weather this week; at any rate, Salt Lake fared better than any of the other districts in the West. Only 42 inches fell in most places; but this section of Utah got nearly 40 inches.

Patrick Marne, the young Italian whose alleged maltreatment at the State mental hospital attracted much attention last year, died yesterday at the Holy Cross hospital from a complication of diseases. He was another of E. H. Marne and his wife's several young children who died for several years a student at the Franklin school. Prof. Hallock, the principal of this school in 1897, and who died in 1898. He did most excellent work until his illness began to cloud his bright mind and when at the height of his powers he entered the high school, but discontinued upon the advice of his physician. The young man was 24 years of age.

KNUTSFORD HOTEL. The one place for comfort and elegance. Fireproof; telephones in every room; modern in every way.

D. J. Sharp Coal Co. Office, 73 South Main street. Telephone 719 and 420. Rock Springs and Cumberland lump, nut and slack.

PERSONAL MENTION. Hon. Orange Seely of Emery county is a visitor to the city.

T. A. Varden, superintendent of the C. & N. Copper company at Bingham, left for Miami, O., last night, to confer with President H. G. Catrow.

McGurrin & Co. in Their New Building. McGurrin & Co., investment bankers, moved to their new offices yesterday in the Security Trust Building, and though the workmen are still engaged in putting the finishing touches to walls and fixtures the old firm is ready to do new business at any time after 10 o'clock this morning.

Eat Royal bread. It is pure and wholesome. Sold everywhere.

DR. CHARLES F. WILCOX THE NEW HEALTH COMMISSIONER

SUCCESSOR TO DR. C. M. STEWART TAKES CHARGE OF HIS OFFICE AND GIVES A BRIEF OUTLINE OF HIS POLICY—IS A FIRM BELIEVER IN VACCINATION.

Dr. Charles F. Wilcox, the new city health officer who succeeds Dr. C. M. Stewart, has taken charge of the department. The Board of Health will now be composed of Mayor Morris, Dr. Wilcox, George D. Alder and Fred Lyon. Dr. Wilcox has been many years in practice in this city, and is quite well known to the medical profession, having a large practice. He belongs to the county and State medical associations. He is a graduate of the University Medical College of New York, having taken his degree in 1890. In the course of his practice he has vaccinated over 1400 persons, of which not one has ever taken smallpox. On being questioned as to his policy in his new office Dr. Wilcox says that he intends trying to effect a connection of all houses situated near the sewer main, in order that as many as possible shall have proper drainage. "It is also my intention to have the

Dr. Charles F. Wilcox.

THIRD MASS MEETING OF PROTESTERS HELD

The third meeting of the protesters at Bamberger hall, held last night was again largely attended, but nothing of importance was developed. The original committee of five, which was entrusted with the plan of organization, reported that the following additional members of the committee had been selected: H. G. McMillan, J. A. Street, E. W. Wilson, E. B. Critchlow, H. J. Dinning, William Nelson, H. W. Brown, F. E. McGurkin, H. P. Henderson, C. W. Whitely, N. D. Corser, P. J. Donahue, W. F. Simpkins, T. W. Pinkerton, Henry La Motte, J. E. Morrison, George A. Whitaker, Charles Baldwin, S. McNeill and H. E. Mylon. The original committee, composed of E. P. R. Thompson, George Westwood, P. L. William, P. J. Daly and A. R. Derge, was enlarged by the foregoing twenty, and the meeting instructed that it proceed to effect a permanent organization, and it was empowered to fill any possible vacancy in its membership. The committee heretofore appointed and instructed to circulate the protest reported that but a few of the thirty copies of the protest had been returned, but that those returned by the secretary contained each from fifty to two hundred signatures. It was impossible to secure either of the theaters for a mass meeting before April 19th, and the committee was given further time to report a suitable hall for the general meeting. Judge Stone announced that the protesters had decided definitely on effecting an organization that would have for its purpose opposition to sectarian control of the public schools and which would labor to establish an American policy for Salt Lake City at least. This sentiment was vigorously cheered. Citizens who had not before attended the meetings asked that the protest be read and on the conclusion of the reading there was a demonstration. Adjournment was had subject to a call of the chairman.

HOW BOYS LEARN TO BE REAL HOLDUPS

According to a confession secured yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Carlson, the hold-up of Miss Edna Ellison on Saturday night was the result of a deep-laid conspiracy between Ray Wright, aged 21, and Arthur Rocco, aged 22. Both boys have been ambitious to shine as knights of the road, and about a week ago they determined to enter upon that profession. "Rocco any started on any men, was Wright's advice to Rocco, "on the way back to where Rocco was waiting for him. Wright claimed to the officer that Rocco had been chasing and frightening women in the southern part of the city. Both boys will be arraigned today on the charge of highway robbery. Rocco is barely responsible mentally and may be sent to Provo instead of to the penitentiary.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

SALT Lake City really loses a good man in the retirement of Health Commissioner Stewart. The Doctor is one of the best-informed men in the city on the subject of sanitation and the system of municipal health laws, and it is especially unfortunate that he will have very little trouble now to do pretty much as he pleases. Mayor Morris is believed to have outlined a plan to amputate a few more Republican employees from the City's rolls this a few weeks. And it is presumed that Jackson will be able to get a department in which he had rendered such valuable service. But the question of pie is considered by the Morris party more important than the efficiency of the administration of the Health department.

The able Democrats, locally, do not think it necessary to run this year. Doubtless they do not think they need the exercise. The weaker will have the entire field to themselves.

Mayor Morris is believed to have outlined a plan to amputate a few more Republican employees from the City's rolls this a few weeks. And it is presumed that Jackson will be able to get a department in which he had rendered such valuable service. But the question of pie is considered by the Morris party more important than the efficiency of the administration of the Health department.

Chairman Frank Cannon has attempted to allay the feeling against Hearst in Utah and to discredit the reports of the opposition to his pet candidate, by announcing that it is the intention of the leading Democrats to send to St. Louis an un instructed delegation. Mr. Cannon will develop into a joker if he loses on at this rate. He perhaps does not remember that National Committeeman Tarpey was here for a week or more, a short time ago, planning to secure a Hearst delegation. He may not know that at least half of the more active Democrats of Salt Lake City are engaged in the interests of the young man. Possibly he is not aware that Secretary Hearst of the work on the Republican ticket up for the "all money" candidate, but "most every one else does. And the suggestion is that it is the wish of the delegates to go un instructed can not be taken seriously, if there is anything in the signs of the times.

Discussing this feature, a Hearst supporter says: "I do not say that the convention will instruct the delegates, but I do know that no friend of Mr. Hearst will permit a man to go to St. Louis and to be privately pledged himself to vote for Mr. Hearst, first, last and all the time."

"Will you elect none but Hearst delegates?" I shouldn't make any rash claims. I shouldn't talk about the matter at all, in fact, but I believe that Hearst will be nominated, and believing so, I do not think that Utah Democrats would be so foolish as to send a delegation to the convention that would be understood as being against the winner."

Republican State Chairman Anderson will not be a candidate for re-election as County Commissioner. He is believed to be in the position that he will be nominated for Secretary of State. There will be several candidates for the nomination. It is said, and the Chairman will be vigorously opposed.

Local Republicans have been much interested in the press comment on the decision of the Supreme court in the Northern Securities Merger case, and it is believed here, as elsewhere, that the Republican party, and especially the present administration, has won a great point in public favor through this decision. In connection with this discussion and comment the following Frank admission from the New York World will be read with interest:

The anti-trust law was framed by a Republican, was passed by a Republican

House and a Republican Senate, was signed by a Republican President. 2. The law remained a dead letter on the statute books during the entire second term of Grover Cleveland, a Democratic President. Through those four years of Democratic administration all appeals and all efforts of the World to have the law enforced were met with sneers, jeers and open contempt from a Democratic Attorney-General, Richard Olney, who pretended that the law was unnecessary and absolutely impracticable in every respect, and the World for twelve years constantly insisted was due to five Judges, every one of whom is a Republican. 3. The dissenting minority of the court instructed the Democratic Judge of that tribunal, to wit: Chief Justice Fuller of Illinois, Mr. Justice White of Louisiana and Mr. Justice Brandeis of New York, all voted against the constitutionality of the law. All these distinguished Democrats not only voted against the constitutionality of the law, but denounced it as a danger to the Republic. 4. Under these circumstances it does not seem probable that the Democrats can make any appeal to the people to support the anti-trust issue and charging the Republican party with the crime of being against the law. It is as well to record some plain truths, however unpleasant as surprising.

Parley P. Christensen declares that he is not an avowed candidate for the Republican State committee. He is a member of the county convention for the nomination for County Attorney.

Chairman James H. Anderson of the Republican State committee has been notified that D. H. Cannon, George P. Lund, and Mr. John H. Hoff have been chosen as delegates from Washington county to the State convention.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

MR. ALDER TALKS SAMPETE POLITICS

Senator Alder from Sampete is in the city on business. Questioned as to conditions in that county he says: "Sampete is a great agricultural community. The farmers have all been at work planting the spring crops. The snowmelt of Sunday was most welcome and encouraging, as we have had but very little moisture this winter. Business has been very quiet and will probably come up in a few days. The grower returns from the country with his flocks, when, as usual, additional labor is furnished to hundreds of young men throughout the county in the way of shearing. Just now in a political way the wool industries circulate and business of all kinds revives.

The Smoot investigation at Washington this time was the theme of every thought. Just now in a political way the wool industries circulate and business of all kinds revives.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

George J. Gould, upon his return to New York from his 3,200-mile trip of inspection of the Gould railroad system, made a statement to the press in which he expressed confidence in the continuance of prosperity in the West. He referred particularly to the great Southwestern, praising the physical condition of the country and laying stress on the fact that the banks and financial institutions of the West are in a sound condition.

BIG RAILROAD MEN HOLD CONFERENCE

Leaders in the Harriman System Confer in Salt Lake, but Are Mute as to What Transpired.

An important meeting of Harriman railroad officials was held yesterday in the office of General Manager of the Union Pacific, W. H. Bancroft, in this city. Besides Mr. Bancroft there were present at the conference General Manager Julius Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific, H. C. Markham, general manager of the Southern Pacific lines in Texas; Erastus Young, general auditor of the Harriman system, and E. A. Calvin, assistant general manager of the Short Line. President Mohler of the Oregon Railway & Navigation company, who was to have been here, was detained by a death in his family.

At the close of the conference, which lasted nearly all day, the visiting officials left in their private cars for the East, all claiming that there was nothing in connection with their meeting which would be of interest to the public. It is believed that the principal object of the conference was to arrange for the somewhat closer relations of the operating departments of the Harriman lines, which is contemplated as a result of the promotion of General Manager Kruttschnitt to the position of director of transportation of the Harriman lines, with headquarters in Chicago. The new title has been created for Mr. Kruttschnitt, and he will be in rank with Traffic Director J. C. Stobbs in the management of all lines operated by the Harriman system. Mr. Stobbs' successor will be H. C. Markham, who is at present vice-president of the Harriman lines in Texas and California, and who is also vice-president of the Texas Central and the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio railroads. It is expected that the change will take place in a few days.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

The effect of Mr. Kruttschnitt's promotion will be to unite the operating departments of the Harriman lines under a single head, as the traffic and accounting departments have heretofore been managed by the division of the Harriman lines, respectively. Under the new arrangement Mr. Bancroft of the Harriman lines will be in charge of the operating departments, instead of the different departments being kept distinct and separate, as has been done heretofore.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

by the Senate committee at Washington have already been mailed to United States Marshal Heywood, but that the names will not be given out in advance lest some of the more important names get into their hands to become very ill.

A shortage of more than four hundred dollars of heat has already, in causing not a little uneasiness in the circles of those who keep tabs on the temperature. It is claimed that in Utah the thermometer has registered lower on an average than for many years, and we are now wondering what the deficit is to be made up in the summer months.

If the Council will grant the prayer of Judge Diehl and will refile and refile his quarters, we promise to induce our police court poet to present the families of some of the members, and the family of the others, an obituary poem.

When the local street railway company adopts the needless car wheel fewer persons will take to nervous and strong drink.

He's an unlucky boy, according to Senator Dooliver, who is started in the world with a hundred dollars or so. The Senator says that such a boy, in truth, never starts.

The man that was set back forty years as a result of being bumped unusually hard, is reported to have been overburdened with inquiries as to the exact time he was injured, and as to whether the blow was such as to inflict great suffering. It is assumed that a few would like to have some one use a club on them, providing the desired effect can be had.

The movement for good sidewalks seems to have an interested ally in the weatherman. That personage does not intend that the objectors shall have occasion to say that the dry season is on and pavements are needless.

When all of the good people will become alive to the fact that the city is provided with a system of "bell-cholera" that is frequented by boys, the repeated warnings of those who have witnessed the evil tendency may be heeded and a proper remedy prescribed.

The liquor dealer who will permit youths to congregate in his place should not be permitted to procure a renewal of his license. And the saloonist who sells to boys should be put out of business and kept out.

The officers brought John Smith into court. And claimed he had no visible means of support. "I've looked for a job," said Smith, with a sob. "But, I'll admit, ain't exactly forty."