Course of Prices Again Turn Upward

Support Was in Evidence From Outset, but There Was Considerable Selling to Realize.

NEW YORK, July 8.-The forces in the rarket making for higher prices made a stand today against the reaction that deploped yesterday and turned the course of prices upward again. Support was in eridence from the outset and although considerable selling to realize had to be absorbed in the early dealings, carrying fices backwards several times these offeriags diminished and opened the way was decidedly dull and the movement of price indecisive either way. Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, July S.—Supported by renewed reports of damage by floods in the Southwest, the wheat market opened strong with extremely bullish sentiment pervading the pit. Shorts were active bidders for both July and September deliveries and initial quotations were at a sharp advance, July being up 1491c, to 114614c at 201c to 313c, and September 14966 to 16114c at 301c to 313c, and September 14966 to 16114c at 80c to 353c. Additional rains have fallen over a territory extending from North Dakota to Texas. Accounts from the flooded districts in Kansas and Missouri were alarming, and news from abroad was bullish. During the first part of the session the market advanced notwithstanding considerable liquidation, the July option reaching 214c. Later, however, sentiment among pit traders began to change. On reports of improved weather conditions in Kansas selling became general and during the last hour prices broke to below yesterday's final figures. The low point on July was reached at 834c, and on September 835c. The close was weak with July at 835c. September closed 4604c lower at 84c. Corn opened firm, but weakness soon developed. September closed of 1204c at 944c. Oats followed other grains. September at 944c.

Oats followed other grains. September closed %c lower at 22/2c.
Provisions were easy on larger receipts of hogs and higher prices at the yards. At the close September pork was down 12/2c, lard was of 24/20/0c, and ribs were down 547/4c.

BRADSTREETS VIEW OF BUSINESS WORLD

NEW YORK, July 8.-Bradstreets tomorrow will say. "Trade and industry flecting vacation in first, summer shutdowns and generally quiet distributive denand. Chief interest, of course, centers in the crop situation, and the irregular staples are traceable to uncertainty generated by reports of excessive moisture in the winter wheat belt and too cool weather for corn. Reports from cotton and onts, however, are favorable. Rallway earnings confirm earlier reports of good

June reports in the probable increase of 35 cents in gross earnings. "Wool continues the strongest of the textiles. Shifting from the old to the new clip, accompanied by an advance of from it to 3c per pound, and considerable buying by manufacturers here and at the West. Primary receipts are strong and two-thirds of the Montana clip is reported already sold. The lumber trade is rather quiet as a whole. "Business failures in the United States for the week ending July 7 number 179 against 204 last week, 154 in the like week in 1993, 195 in 1992, 199 in 1991, and 211 in 1990. Mid-Summer Quiet Prevails in Trade

Past Week, According to Dun, Has Witnessed Much Idle Machinery in Manufactories.

NEW YORK, July 8.-Dun's Review of Trade tomorrow will say. "Midsummer quiet prevails in mercantile trades, and the past week has witnessed much idle machinery at manufacturing plants, yet the tenor of reports from leading cities indicates increasing confidence in the fu-ture. The combination of reduced output ture. The combination of reduced output and good weather for seasonable merchandise has improved the situation by contracting stocks of goods in the hands of jobbers and retailers. Collections at the end of the fiscal year were also a little better than anticipated. Transporting lines are more active, as shown by the increase of 4.2 per cent in railway earnings compared with June, 1963.

"Quotations of iron and steel products average slightly lower, although the markets are almost nominal." Woolen mills are confronted with a rising market for raw material, ranchmen at the West holding the new clip for better terms and the domestic market was sustained by the London auction sales. "In hides, domestic grades of July salting are slightly firmer, owing to the better quality, and the tone is well maintained except for branded hides, of which receipts are now large. Conditions remain unchanged in the market for foreign dry hides.

"Failures this week numbered 296 in the United States, 194 last year, and 12 in Canada, against 24 a year ago."
