

IMPRESSIONS OF VISITORS

Records at Information Bureau.

Characters Are Shown by the Written Comments.

There Are People Who Advertise, People Who Give Their Relations, and Others.

The Bureau of Information on the temple grounds has a source of amusement as well as instruction in its registering books. Beginning with the name of the president of the church on the opening day, and ending with yesterday's last tourist, there are hundreds of names, representing almost every spot on the face of the globe. In one day were represented thirty-six States, and seven foreign countries.

Some Will Not Sign.

After the visitors have been given every attention within the power of the Bureau officials, the only request made is that they leave their names. Surprising as it may seem, it is nevertheless true that some tourists have been guilty of the discourtesy of refusing to do this. This is not the result of fatigue, but, from expressions used in refusal, is the result of prejudice.

To glance at these books is almost to be convinced that handwriting reveals character. Here is an unconscious record of weakness or strength, of eccentricity or precision, of confidence or dependence, and a hundred other characteristics which would take a column to describe. And what the person reveals in his autograph, is always confirmed in the "remark" he chooses to make.

Some Free Advertising.

Here for instance is the man who sees some things part of the time, but himself sees all the time. He is the man who describes the landscape with advertisements on rocks and natural scenery, and wonders "who the fellow with the whiskers is" when he sees the portrait of Longfellow. After his name are such remarks as "Breeder of Jersey cattle," "Grower of fine fruits," etc.

Others who state their business are contractors, actors, musicians, professors, drummers, real estate men, and one scenic artist. He is a resident of Jacksonville, Fla., writes himself, "President of the only colored street railway in the world."

State Their Religion.

One of the most amusing type of remarks is the kind which seems to indicate that the writer has fears that the inscription of his name may, in some mysterious way, lead to his identification with the Mormon church. To avoid this mistake, one young lady, or at least unmarried lady, hastens to add, "I am a Gentile." Another announces, "Not a Mormon." "Baptist" is after the name of one man, and a representative piece from Ohio and Indiana write proudly, "I am a Methodist."

Some Quote Scripture.

Is it with regret or surprise that the gentlemen from Kentucky announce "Sober" after their names? And is it justifiable to be suspicious when a gentleman from New York writes, "Feeling good"? Some are led in California has read the Bible. There can be no doubt about it, for here with the flourish indicating a sense of responsibility, is the opinion of a Californian, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." When it is intended to be complimentary for self-congratulation, or in commendation of some pioneer is not stated. But caps the climax, because it is Bute, by the admonition, "Be ye holy."

Expressions of appreciation are everywhere written. No doubt something of the kind was intended when one man wrote, "The Mormons are a very hospitable people." Other expressions are, "Come and see us," "Let the elders come to our house," "We have been royally treated," etc.

This Man Wrote "Mud."

Utah should have arranged good weather the day the man from Boston struck town. Down on the records shall stand irrefutably his impression of this State, "Stormy, rainy, and muddy." Ohio must have been the same day. His remark is even more laconic, but one is filled with pity for the condition of trousers, shoes and mind which must have led to that one word, "Mud!"

Prof. McClellan receives personal notice from a man from San Francisco says, "Young musician very interesting." A great number of well-known Utah people are mentioned on the records in such remarks as "Remember me to —." One name which attracts attention is that of Temple Brier, so named because her birthday happened to fall upon the day of the dedication of the Salt Lake Mormon Temple. She is now a Utah girl, but her parents were at the time of her birth living in another State.

"The Knights Templars are now crowding into the building occupied by the Bureau. As a rule they are the fly, but it may be interesting to review the record of impressions left by them on the registration books."

A SAN FRANCISCO PHYSICIAN

Uses Herpicide Successfully in Treating Syphilis of the Beard.

He says: "I recently treated a case of syphilis (similar to 'The Barber's') of the lower lip, with Newbro's Herpicide. There was an extensive loss of beard with inflammation extending well down on the chin. The result of the application of Herpicide was most gratifying. The loss of beard ceased and a new growth of hair is now taking place over the once infamed area."

(Signed) Melville E. O'Neill, M. D., "San Francisco, Cal."

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and permits the hair to grow abundantly. Sold by leading druggists. Send for a stamp for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Alleged Forger Under Arrest

Catching Him Was Like Taking Candy From the Baby.

Arthur E. Smith, alias A. H. Hamilton, was arrested last night by Chief of Police Lynch and Capt. Burbridge on information by telegraph that he is wanted at Brownsville, Pa., for the forgery of a check for over $3000.

Smith denies that he is the man wanted, as a matter of course, but the only doubt existing in the minds of the local officers on that point is created by the circumstance that the capture of the man was almost too easy.

The telegram received from the officers at Brownsville not only gave a very good personal description of the man arrested, but it stated that while his true name was Smith he would probably register at a hotel in this city under the name of A. H. Hamilton and that he would probably be traveling on an excursion ticket to San Francisco. The baggage he was carrying was also faithfully described. Chief Lynch and Capt. Burbridge naturally suspected that a criminal who had one alias in Pennsylvania might use another in Utah and that he might have exchanged baggage with some one before arriving here. They were not a little surprised, therefore, to find on the register of the Hotel last night the entry, "A. H. Hamilton, Philadelphia," and to find that the man answering to the name carried every feature of identification mentioned in the telegram.

Then the alleged fugitive from justice was questioned at the police station and he admitted that he had been in Brownsville, Pa., but claimed that it was eight years ago. When the chief asked him if he knew a man named Smith he replied that the chief meant the man who had been arrested at Brownsville, Pa., and that he knew such a man, but stoutly denying that he was that individual, Smith says that he has been a street fakir all his life and that he has never had a home. He could not give the officers the name of a single relative or friend with whom they could communicate to establish his identity as A. H. Hamilton. He will be held awaiting further instructions from the Pennsylvania authorities.

Records at Information Bureau.

Characters Are Shown by the Written Comments.

The Bureau of Information on the temple grounds has a source of amusement as well as instruction in its registering books. Beginning with the name of the president of the church on the opening day, and ending with yesterday's last tourist, there are hundreds of names, representing almost every spot on the face of the globe. In one day were represented thirty-six States, and seven foreign countries.

Some Will Not Sign.

After the visitors have been given every attention within the power of the Bureau officials, the only request made is that they leave their names. Surprising as it may seem, it is nevertheless true that some tourists have been guilty of the discourtesy of refusing to do this. This is not the result of fatigue, but, from expressions used in refusal, is the result of prejudice.

To glance at these books is almost to be convinced that handwriting reveals character. Here is an unconscious record of weakness or strength, of eccentricity or precision, of confidence or dependence, and a hundred other characteristics which would take a column to describe. And what the person reveals in his autograph, is always confirmed in the "remark" he chooses to make.

Some Free Advertising.

Here for instance is the man who sees some things part of the time, but himself sees all the time. He is the man who describes the landscape with advertisements on rocks and natural scenery, and wonders "who the fellow with the whiskers is" when he sees the portrait of Longfellow. After his name are such remarks as "Breeder of Jersey cattle," "Grower of fine fruits," etc.

Others who state their business are contractors, actors, musicians, professors, drummers, real estate men, and one scenic artist. He is a resident of Jacksonville, Fla., writes himself, "President of the only colored street railway in the world."

State Their Religion.

One of the most amusing type of remarks is the kind which seems to indicate that the writer has fears that the inscription of his name may, in some mysterious way, lead to his identification with the Mormon church. To avoid this mistake, one young lady, or at least unmarried lady, hastens to add, "I am a Gentile." Another announces, "Not a Mormon." "Baptist" is after the name of one man, and a representative piece from Ohio and Indiana write proudly, "I am a Methodist."

Some Quote Scripture.

Is it with regret or surprise that the gentlemen from Kentucky announce "Sober" after their names? And is it justifiable to be suspicious when a gentleman from New York writes, "Feeling good"? Some are led in California has read the Bible. There can be no doubt about it, for here with the flourish indicating a sense of responsibility, is the opinion of a Californian, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." When it is intended to be complimentary for self-congratulation, or in commendation of some pioneer is not stated. But caps the climax, because it is Bute, by the admonition, "Be ye holy."

Expressions of appreciation are everywhere written. No doubt something of the kind was intended when one man wrote, "The Mormons are a very hospitable people." Other expressions are, "Come and see us," "Let the elders come to our house," "We have been royally treated," etc.

This Man Wrote "Mud."

Utah should have arranged good weather the day the man from Boston struck town. Down on the records shall stand irrefutably his impression of this State, "Stormy, rainy, and muddy." Ohio must have been the same day. His remark is even more laconic, but one is filled with pity for the condition of trousers, shoes and mind which must have led to that one word, "Mud!"

Prof. McClellan receives personal notice from a man from San Francisco says, "Young musician very interesting." A great number of well-known Utah people are mentioned on the records in such remarks as "Remember me to —." One name which attracts attention is that of Temple Brier, so named because her birthday happened to fall upon the day of the dedication of the Salt Lake Mormon Temple. She is now a Utah girl, but her parents were at the time of her birth living in another State.

"The Knights Templars are now crowding into the building occupied by the Bureau. As a rule they are the fly, but it may be interesting to review the record of impressions left by them on the registration books."

A SAN FRANCISCO PHYSICIAN

Uses Herpicide Successfully in Treating Syphilis of the Beard.

He says: "I recently treated a case of syphilis (similar to 'The Barber's') of the lower lip, with Newbro's Herpicide. There was an extensive loss of beard with inflammation extending well down on the chin. The result of the application of Herpicide was most gratifying. The loss of beard ceased and a new growth of hair is now taking place over the once infamed area."

(Signed) Melville E. O'Neill, M. D., "San Francisco, Cal."

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and permits the hair to grow abundantly. Sold by leading druggists. Send for a stamp for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

IS ZIGICH AT THE HOSPITAL?

Description Fits Injured Laborer.

Lying Injured at the Holy Cross hospital in this city is a man believed to be Marko Zigich, the murderer of Bill Farro, who was stabbed to death at Murray on the night of August 12. The patient was brought in from Caliente three days ago and so closely does he answer the description of Zigich that the officers have little doubt but that he is the murderer. Although the man maintains his innocence of the crime and disclaims having been at Murray at any time, his actions would indicate that he is the culprit.

Attias Got the Word.

The credit for the apprehension of the murderer is due to Dr. P. C. D. Attias of this city. Yesterday morning he received word from a friend at Caliente to the effect that the man who had been seen there a few days ago and who answered the description of Zigich had been reported to the hospital here. Upon receipt of the information Dr. Attias went immediately to the hospital and telephoned to Andrew Pappas, the partner of the murdered man, at Murray. Pappas came at once to the city and in company with the doctor went out to the hospital. Approaching the bed where the man supposed to be Zigich was lying Dr. Attias said, "Hello, Marko!"

Started by a Name.

At the sound of the name the patient lay back and gave a perceptible start, and although he denied that he was Mike Zigich, his actions were very suspicious. He was injured by a cave of rock in a mine at Caliente for the past four or five months. Previous to that he said that he had been in Ogden for about one month. He was injured by a cave of rock in a mine at Caliente for the past four or five months. Previous to that he said that he had been in Ogden for about one month. He was injured by a cave of rock in a mine at Caliente for the past four or five months. Previous to that he said that he had been in Ogden for about one month.

No Doubt as to Vermilion Case

New Clues All Point to Murder—Dr. Attias Is Himself Again.

There is no longer any doubt as to whether the death of Wilford Vermilion, the west side druggist, was homicidal. New clues are discovered every day showing that it was a case of murder. Vermlion was held up in the store and, upon putting up a fight, he was shot down. Dr. P. C. D. Attias, the close friend of the murdered druggist, who has maintained from the start and in the face of the police, who inclined to the suicide theory, that it was a case of murder, has private detectives working on the case, and he has every reason to believe that the murderer will have been apprehended before the end of the week.

Dr. Attias has almost completely recovered from the attack of intestinal trouble with which he was afflicted soon after the murder, and is bending every energy to run down the assassin of his friend. He says there is no evidence whatever in support of the suicide theory, and that with the aid of Coroner Clark, the District Attorney and other officers, he hopes to solve the case and avenge the death of his friend.

LUNCH WAGONS MUST MOVE.

Mayor Morris Signs the Resolution Presented by Davis.

Councilmen and others living in apartment houses on East First and Second South streets, in the business districts of the city, will have no more reason to complain of the odor arising from the lunch wagons that have been accustomed to hold forth at nights on these streets. The resolution of A. J. Davis adopted by the Council on Monday night, which provides that lunch wagons cannot stand on any of the streets except upper State street, has been approved by Mayor Morris yesterday. The Mayor, however, approved the resolution with the condition that the wagons may be permitted to stand on Commercial street, as well as on State street, between First and Second South streets.

The only other matter of importance signed by the Mayor was the ordinance of Councilman Black, providing that vehicles and horses be required to take the right side of the street in the direction they may be traveling.

PERSONAL MENTION.

M. Akimoto, K. Sada, G. Mineyama and R. Tera. Four San Francisco Japanese, are at the Wilson.

Reinhold Noack of Dresden is a Wilson guest.

Harrison Dingman, a leading Knight Templar of Washington, D. C., is a guest at the Knautford.

F. W. Carlisle of Washington, D. C. is in the city, accompanied by his wife, and they are stopping at the Knautford apartment house on East South Temple. Mr. Carlisle is interested in the Sevier mine and will make his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. W. Whiteley returned from California yesterday.

Apostle and Mrs. George A. Smith left last evening for St. Louis to visit the fair.

Attorney-General Bredon spent yesterday at Sevidal on legal business.

H. W. Griffin has just returned from a ten days' visit to Denver and Kansas City.

R. K. Hardy has returned from a ten days' visit to the St. Louis exposition. He declares that it is a good thing to go to the fair—if you enjoy the experience of being held up. Sixty-five cents for a ticket into apartments at the Knautford in an overcrowded room is some of the examples of prevailing prices in St. Louis which Mr. Hardy cites in the way of encouragement for those who imagine that the sun is not shining anywhere but there.

State Treasurer's Report.

State Treasurer Dixon had his report for the month of August with State Auditor Tinney yesterday. The report shows the following items:

Balance on hand August 1...$127,826.51
Receipts for August...72,252.11

Total receipts...$215,118.62
Disbursements for August...$1,456.53

Balance on hand September 1...$126,362.09

This balance is distributed among the various funds as follows:

General fund...$ 1,256.19
State district school fund...7,139.44
Trust fund...474.41
Suspense account...8.51
Sheep inspection fund...1,729.69
Redemption fund...5,716.39
State school lands...25,485.88
University lands...4,643.79
Agricultural College lands...$642.52
Public buildings lands...$148.51
Reservoir lands...58,475.74
Insane Asylum...447.50
School of Mines...572.51
Deaf and Dumb...989.96
Normal school...2,626.22
Reform school...146.85
Lumber for blind...411.62
Miners' hospital...6,292.69

Total...$133,661.69

Memorandum: $12,283.61 of district school securities, drawing 5 per cent interest, are on hand, being an investment of the redemption fund.

THE PALACE BOWLING ALLEYS

Will open at noon Saturday, September 3, 1904.

A Fine Place.

One of the finest and most modern stores in Salt Lake City is the new location of the BREDON OFFICE SUPPLY CO. They show all the latest labor-saving office systems and an office man will profit by paying them a visit.

EXCURSION RATES

Via Oregon Short Line.

St. Louis and return...$42.50
Chicago and return...47.50
Chicago and return via St. Louis...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

BIG FOUR

Excursion to Ogden Canyon.

Sunday, Sept. 4th, via Oregon Short Line. Round trip to Ogden only $1.00. Special leaves Salt Lake 10:00 a. m.; returning leaves Ogden at 8:00 p. m. Trout and chicken dinner at the Hermitage in the canyon.

AUTUMN EXCURSION

To Northern Utah and Idaho Points, Saturday, Sept. 10th, via O. S. L. Low rates and very liberal limits will prevail.

RIOT AT THE TABERNACLE

Tourists Tear Down the Doors.

Riot and destruction by a mob of tourists brought the free organ recital given at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an untimely end. Seven minutes before the programme was finished the north door to the gallery was burst from its hinges and several hundred tourists poured from the building. The music-lovers who had been reveling in the majestic strains of the "Tannhauser" overture strained their ears to catch the music, but the tramping of feet drowned all other sounds.

Organist Gave Up.

Prof. McClellan finished the first two parts of the overture and gave up in despair, leaving the three best parts unplayed.

Before the doors were locked at the beginning of the recital, the guests were told that they should be seated in the main in their seats until the close. They were also informed that the train to Salt Lake would be held for their special convenience. With the doors locked, the guests who were seated in the gallery, between First and Second South streets, found the doors locked and no one on guard, they forced the doors from their hinges and broke up the concert.

Policeman Will Keep Order.

The daily recitals will be given throughout the week, but a big policeman will be present to see that ill-mannered tourists respect the property, if not the wishes, of their entertainers.

Programme Interrupted by the Noise of the Guests.

Big Policeman Will Preserve Order During the Rest of the Week.

Riot and destruction by a mob of tourists brought the free organ recital given at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an untimely end. Seven minutes before the programme was finished the north door to the gallery was burst from its hinges and several hundred tourists poured from the building. The music-lovers who had been reveling in the majestic strains of the "Tannhauser" overture strained their ears to catch the music, but the tramping of feet drowned all other sounds.

Organist Gave Up.

Prof. McClellan finished the first two parts of the overture and gave up in despair, leaving the three best parts unplayed.

Before the doors were locked at the beginning of the recital, the guests were told that they should be seated in the main in their seats until the close. They were also informed that the train to Salt Lake would be held for their special convenience. With the doors locked, the guests who were seated in the gallery, between First and Second South streets, found the doors locked and no one on guard, they forced the doors from their hinges and broke up the concert.

Policeman Will Keep Order.

The daily recitals will be given throughout the week, but a big policeman will be present to see that ill-mannered tourists respect the property, if not the wishes, of their entertainers.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return...$42.50
To Chicago and return...47.50
To St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

St. Louis and return via Chicago...47.50

Through Pullman sleepers via Union Pacific and Washburn lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit 10 days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop-overs allowed.

RIOT AT THE TABERNACLE

Tourists Tear Down the Doors.

Riot and destruction by a mob of tourists brought the free organ recital given at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an untimely end. Seven minutes before the programme was finished the north door to the gallery was burst from its hinges and several hundred tourists poured from the building. The music-lovers who had been reveling in the majestic strains of the "Tannhauser" overture strained their ears to catch the music, but the tramping of feet drowned all other sounds.

Organist Gave Up.

Prof. McClellan finished the first two parts of the overture and gave up in despair, leaving the three best parts unplayed.

Before the doors were locked at the beginning of the recital, the guests were told that they should be seated in the main in their seats until the close. They were also informed that the train to Salt Lake would be held for their special convenience. With the doors locked, the guests who were seated in the gallery, between First and Second South streets, found the doors locked and no one on guard, they forced the doors from their hinges and broke up the concert.

Policeman Will Keep Order.

The daily recitals will be given throughout the week, but a big policeman will be present to see that ill-mannered tourists respect the property, if not the wishes, of their entertainers.

RIOT AT THE TABERNACLE

Tourists Tear Down the Doors.

Riot and destruction by a mob of tourists brought the free organ recital given at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an untimely end. Seven minutes before the programme was finished the north door to the gallery was burst from its hinges and several hundred tourists poured from the building. The music-lovers who had been reveling in the majestic strains of the "Tannhauser" overture strained their ears to catch the music, but the tramping of feet drowned all other sounds.

Organist Gave Up.

Prof. McClellan finished the first two parts of the overture and gave up in despair, leaving the three best parts unplayed.

Before the doors were locked at the beginning of the recital, the guests were told that they should be seated in the main in their seats until the close. They were also informed that the train to Salt Lake would be held for their special convenience. With the doors locked, the guests who were seated in the gallery, between First and Second South streets, found the doors locked and no one on guard, they forced the doors from their hinges and broke up the concert.

Policeman Will Keep Order.

The daily recitals will be given throughout the week, but a big policeman will be present to see that ill-mannered tourists respect the property, if not the wishes, of their entertainers.

RIOT AT THE TABERNACLE

Tourists Tear Down the Doors.

Riot and destruction by a mob of tourists brought the free organ recital given at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an untimely end. Seven minutes before the programme was finished the north door to the gallery was burst from its hinges and several hundred tourists poured from the building. The music-lovers who had been reveling in the majestic strains of the "Tannhauser" overture strained their ears to catch the music, but the tramping of feet drowned all other sounds.

Organist Gave Up.

Prof. McClellan finished the first two parts of the overture and gave up in despair, leaving the three best parts unplayed.

Before the doors were locked at the beginning of the recital, the guests were told that they should be seated in the main in their seats until the close. They were also informed that the train to Salt Lake would be held for their special convenience. With the doors locked, the guests who were seated in the gallery, between First and Second South streets, found the doors locked and no one on guard, they forced the doors from their hinges and broke up the concert.

Policeman Will Keep Order.

The daily recitals will be given throughout the week, but a big policeman will be present to see that ill-mannered tourists respect the property, if not the wishes, of their entertainers.

RIOT AT THE TABERNACLE

Tourists Tear Down the Doors.

Riot and destruction by a mob of tourists brought the free organ recital given at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an untimely end. Seven minutes before the programme was finished the north door to the gallery was burst from its hinges and several hundred tourists poured from the building. The music-lovers who had been reveling in the majestic strains of the "Tannhauser" overture strained their ears to catch the music, but the tramping of feet drowned all other sounds.

Organist Gave Up.

Prof. McClellan finished the first two parts of the overture and gave up in despair, leaving the three best parts unplayed.

Before the doors were locked at the beginning of the recital, the guests were told that they should be seated in the main in their seats until the close. They were also informed that the train to Salt Lake would be held for their special convenience. With the doors locked, the guests who were seated in the gallery, between First and Second South streets, found the doors locked and no one on guard, they forced the doors from their hinges and broke up the concert.

Policeman Will Keep Order.

The daily recitals will be given throughout the week, but a big policeman will be present to see that ill-mannered tourists respect the property, if not the wishes, of their entertainers.

RIOT AT THE TABERNACLE

Tourists Tear Down the Doors.

Riot and destruction by a mob of tourists brought the free organ recital given at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an untimely end. Seven minutes before the programme was finished the north door to the gallery was burst from its hinges and several hundred tourists poured from the building. The music-lovers who had been reveling in the majestic strains of the "Tannhauser" overture strained their ears to catch the music, but the tramping of feet drowned all other sounds.

Organist Gave Up.

Prof. McClellan finished the first two parts of the overture and gave up in despair, leaving the three best parts unplayed.

Before the doors were locked at the beginning of the recital, the guests were told that they should be seated in the main in their seats until the close. They were also informed that the train to Salt Lake would be held for their special convenience