The Messrs. Bechtol Strike It Rich

Salt Lake Talent Comes Into Possession of Valuable Gold-Bearing Territory.

Far up in Alaska, for whose gold-bearing gulches the Messrs. Bechtol—"Johnny" and son—abandoned a home of comfort in this city nearly seven years ago, have finally struck it rich, and, with every assurance that visions of wealth are about to fructify, they are now raising dirt from their diggings. Reference was made by The Tribune several weeks ago to the fact that "Bechtol, Jr." had followed a sent into the Tanana region, that Territory, and that to elicit it Bechtol pere had forwarded to him the few dollars required. The representative of the White Pass line of boats operating between Dawson and the new camp of gold has just returned from the Tanana country, and, telling of the achievements up there, says:

"Young Bechtol, the son of 'Bish,' has made a lucky strike. He struck the camp on the first trip of the Koyukuk, working his way up as a pantry boy. He had been in the camp but a short time when he took a trip up the creeks. On 5 above Cleary he came across a claim that was supposed to be a blank and had no difficulty in securing a thirty-day option with the privilege of putting down a hole, the work to go upon the representation.

"He went to work, and before he got to bedrock he was in fine pay. Without letting any one know of his luck, he covered up the hole, came back to town, made a raise from his father, who was then in Dawson, and got another man interested, who came in for a third, and secured the entire claim for $12,000. They have a boiler on the ground now and will take out the purchase price in thirty days. 'Old John' is with the boy and beams on every one who drops in.

"One thing that impressed the representative of the White Pass line of Tanana, he added, was the striking resemblance of the country there to topographical conditions at Dawson and in the Klondike region generally. In the success with which the Messrs. Bechtol are exploiting it a large circle of friends here will rejoice.

SAW A GOLD MINE.

Eastern Crowd Operating Property and Plant Out of Washington.

Snyder Hague, newspaper man and miner, has returned to town after shaking the hand of the President and others who have made their way to the Nation's capital and is again applying himself to local interests. Mr. Hague, who presents the appearance of one who has been banqueting on intellectual diet, was accompanied by his daughter, and with her visited many relatives with whom he revealed amid the scenes of boyhood.

The most interesting thing in the line of mining he had an opportunity of studying, said he yesterday, was in Maryland, eighteen miles south of the dome at Washington. There he found the Maryland Gold Mining company staking on a fissure about eight feet between walls and from mill of the stratum. Some of the rock, consisting of a white quartz is very rich with dashes of free gold appearing, the quartz, after the specimens have been ingested over, going to the plant in a wheelbarrow. The management not yet being provided with methods for its economic transportation, however, gold bars are being produced at a profit, apparently, within the proposition is a most interesting one. While Mr. Hague experienced no difficulty in raising assistance that will enable him to proceed with the exploitation of a most likely underground in his state, he declined to discuss it at this time. Miss Hague remained with relatives in New York.

BACK FROM GOLDFIELD.

Another Salt Laker Testifies to the Boom in Nevada's Camp.

John Trenchard, formerly engaged in business in this city, is back from Goldfield. His impressions of the camp of gold are identical with those of the many who have preceded him. He recognizes the foundation there for a most productive and most populous diggings. Already the area in which is revealed the presence of mineral, if not of rich ore, is greater than that at Victor, Colo., of which camp he was at one time an inhabitant. The record of strikes, too, compares favorably with that at Victor, at a corresponding period of development, and while a greater tonnage of ore is not being forwarded it is because the facilities for transporting it are so limited. Again the wash-out on the railroads and a lack of equipment has been a source of extreme vexation.

At present the camp is getting ready to fathom the ledges to greater depths. Prominent in these preparations are the Schwab interests. They are providing themselves with a huge compressor with which to operate a big battery of drills and propose to do their work in a manner up to date. This work must do much to demonstrate the longevity of the camp, over which so much of Nevada and not a little of the world without has gone mad. On the ground the visitor is permitted to see any kind of rock for which he may yearn. It is productive of some of the richest on earth.

Discussing the commercial features of the diggings over there, Mr. Trenchard says that while many of the earlier opportunities have been embraced by talent from Tonopah, there are openings for men of resources left. He may avail himself of one of these. In the event he does the camp may register another valuable acquisition.

STRUCK FREE MILLING ORE.

Ledge Three Feet Wide and Assays About $53 to the Ton.

Special to The Tribune.
CALIENTE, Nev., Sept. 5.—George Freer and John T. Burroughs, owners of the Golden Eagle group of free gold claims near Moapa, report having struck and cross-cut a fine body of free milling ore in white limestone quartz on their Bald Eagle claim at a depth of 100 feet in a 140-foot tunnel, driven to the ledge. The formation is granite and porphyry and the ledge is three feet wide and assays $53.29 per ton.

Julio Berger and J. W. Folsom, owners of the Esmeralda group of fourteen gold-copper claims north of Moapa, passed through camp today with E. B. Shearer, a mining expert from New York, who has come to examine the claims by Lewis and Montano Gold and Copper Mining company of Butte. His report will be favorable and Berger says he will purchase the claims for $200,000 and will be paid them by Lewis within the next sixty days.

George Bolduck, a salt mine expert from Syracuse, N. Y., passed through camp today in company with W. T. Fisher to look at the latter's big group of salt deposits on the upper Colorado river, with a view to purchase.

Doc Myers and Jerome K. Blake bought in several boxes of samples of sand from the vicinity of the Virgin river.

A first class assayer can find a paying business location in the scores of locators all along the line are now compelled to send their ore to Salt Lake for assay.

William Barnett, who sold his Sheo Fly group of free gold claims on the Virgin river to the Utah Lumber and Coal company in July, has again struck a rich gold lead about eighteen miles south of Moapa, assaying from $32 to $112.40 per ton. He says he found the ore at the top of a four-foot ledge at the top of an almost inaccessible mountain and owing to the difficulty of getting the ore, he has decided to track it down the mountain one mile to a gulch and then build four miles of road to reach his claims by wagon, but believes the strike rich enough to warrant taking out shipping ore. He goes to Salt Lake.

Mike Dugan and Frank Pierson, locators and owners of the Black Hawk group of mining claims on the Virgin river have given Wilson & Turner, mining men of Salt Lake, a lease on their group of claims. These claims, the Birdseye, Black Hawk and Spring claims, were located in March and are a four-foot ledge with a two-foot vein of silver ore, with a two-foot vein of silver ore, and run a 250-foot tunnel, with about sixty tons of ore. Above the tunnel is from twenty to 119 feet of stopping ground.

George Butts passed through camp today en route to his claims south of Los Vegas, with a supply of grub and mining material. He has a sixty-foot shaft on a five-foot body of copper going 22 per cent.

Lewis Morris and Will Langton, owners of the Silver King gold-silver group, passed through camp today en route to Salt Lake with ore for smelting taken from their claims. They say they have a four-foot ledge going 7.19 in gold and 17 ounces silver, and will run along the ledge from the head of the tunnel, which is 200 feet to attain a depth of 200 feet where they will upraise to the surface and drift for stopping ground.

Frank Palmer, owner of the Grand View group of gold claims, three miles east of Caliente, writes from New York that he has been successful in getting capitalists interested and they will incorporate a company for the development of his claims.

W. J. Fenner, who went to Salt Lake on August 17 with samples of copper taken from the Tribby group southeast of Goode Springs, returned today with assays showing values of 12.18 and 26 per cent copper and $3 in gold. The ore was taken from a four-foot ledge on their Jupiter claim.

James Hewitt, of the firm of Hewitt & Burns of Kansas City, went west today with Dick Hewitt, his son, who is the third owner of the Rich Missouri group of free gold claims, owned by Hewitt, Lane and Snyder, on which a 200-foot tunnel has been run on a two and one-half foot body of 47.07 ore. Mr. Hewitt will inspect the work done on the group and take samples of the ore to Salt Lake for assay. If their values are up to assays already obtained will supply sufficient money to develop the claims.

Lambert and Flynn of Cripple Creek have located two rich copper claims north of Moapa and from the appearance of samples shown today have opened up a fine body of gray copper running in values close to $120 per ton. They have 230 feet of tunnel work completed and three shafts sunk on ore twenty-five, forty and seventy-five feet. The foundation is granite.

George Judson reports a lucky strike at the head of a 200-foot tunnel run on his Dixie free gold claim south of Moapa. He reports that his battery for test ore is showing considerable free gold.

SHARE FOR SHARE.
A Boston correspondent discussing that market says: "The much talked of copper boom seems to be at hand, and trading in this class of securities has been on an abnormally large scale. In fact, business in the Boston Stock Exchange is the largest in over a year's time, and up to the present time there is no likelihood of a cessation in these movements. The trading this week has been led by Utah Consolidated, and Isle Royale, although the whole mining share list has been active and strong. Isle Royale has moved up almost 25 to $27.50, while Utah, with over double the share capital, has gone up over $4 to $4.25; the latter subsequently went back to $4 on profit-taking.

The story is again current that Utah will be taken over by Amalgamated share for share.

A correspondent of the Wall Street Journal, New York, says under a Boston date-line: "The Boston market for Utah stock is intrinsically worth two shares of Amalgamated for one share of Utah whatever may be the present quotations.

The Salt Lake speculators are all unfavorable to the report that Utah Con. is to be made a unit with Amalgamated's assets. The mines of the company are today under a management in which the confidence of every investor is safely reposed and, without a desire whatever to effect an Amalgamation, it will require some argument to convince them that consolidation would promote their welfare.

Manager Farnsworth On the Bullion-Beck

A Chapter of Strikes by Lessees on the Mines—Gathering Evidence for Another Scrap.

The regeneration of old Bullion-Beck of Tintic and the manner in which its resources are responding to the diligent endeavors of an army of lessees, as well as those of the company, has advanced to a point, said Manager Farnsworth, who has just returned from camp, that he is justified in looking forward to a period when it shall be once more a source of dividends. The exposure of ore, indeed, are visible to the eye, and the company, in the worthy distinction of a bona fide strike. On the 600-foot level, 1000 feet north of the shaft and in hitherto unexplored territory, notwithstanding the gentleness of the proposition, Baker & Sullivan, lessees, are working on a full blast of the drift, with nothing yet to indicate other than permanence, the ores running well up in silver with some lead. They are now cutting across the vein with no sign of either wall when Manager Farnsworth left. Another lessee on the 300-foot level, whose name he did not recall, has opened up a fine body of galena and from it is raising ore containing 45 per cent lead with from 30 to 42 ounces silver. Of this ore the Phillips lease are the best, and on the same level is the lease operated by Macpherson, 500 feet north of the shaft. There he has over seven feet of galena of very fair grade, while on the 300-foot level in the Brandt lease is between seven and eight feet of galena which affords tonnage very rapidly and which should market on controls showing as much as 45 per cent lead with from 30 to 40 ounces silver per ton.

Within the block of ground embraced in the Phillips lease are two channels of ore with a thin stratum of limestone between them. While there was a "pinch" below the 1200-foot level in this, the channels of high-grade silver ore are reopening and Mr. Phillips appears to be in possession of a strike to go under the channels, said Manager Farnsworth, the company is now drifting on the 1400-foot level.

Preliminary to another scrap with its old adversary, the Eureka Hill, the management of Beck is planning a lease on the 600-foot level, from which the former is accused of extracting a considerable tonnage of ore of fine quality. For this, said Mr. Farnsworth, his company will at an early day present the Eureka Hill with a claim that, under the statute, entitles him to trouble damages.

Never has Bullion-Beck, said Mr. Farnsworth, shown so great a volume of wealth since he assumed the management of it.

SURRENDERED THE OPTION.
Bond on Campbell Estate Lead Mines Now in New Hands.

Relinquished by them, the option long held by Gus Holmes of this city on Campbell group of lead mines at Good Springs, on the line of the San Pedro, has passed into the hands of a new crowd, as have the exhaustive reports on it obtained by the former. Discussing it yesterday, on the eve of his departure for New York, Mr. Holmes said that the experts retained by him and others in this city, were uniformly of the opinion that the value of the silver, but his syndicate, by which $25,000 was to have been expended in further development, had been unable at the eleven hour to procure terms to which it believed itself entitled.

Commenting on the new disclosure it places them among the most valuable in the country and that with the changes now being made in the mill a steady and profitable output can be expected for many years. With others, Mr. Holmes has a representative in the diggings at Goldfield, Nev., and from that source he is expecting good reports hourly.

RICH MILLING ORE.
High-Grade Rock in Big Giant Group at Idaho City.

A correspondent of the Mining World, writing from Boise, Idaho, says: "Eleven miles northeast of the Idaho City road is the Big Giant group, developed by tunnels and drifts about 450 feet. At a depth of 200 feet on the vein a true fissure in granite from three to six feet wide, carrying a rich ore, portions being very rich, oxidized portions carrying high values, and free milling, 60 to 80 per cent, and some of the ore is impregnated with sulphides, and will assay from $4 to $10 per ton.

The Friday has good ore, the best coming from a west drift of 200 feet, running from 60 to 80 average, and there is eighteen inches. The electric company is making preparations to build a tunnel, which will be used for mill for concentrating, being of seventy-five tons capacity. The tunnel will give 400 feet of rock to the surface, it is proposed to ship concentrates to the smelter at McKay.

MR. HOLDEN'S RETURN.
Brought With Him Light Attack of Fever From Atlantic's Shores.

Although physically unable to step into his digging boots, Bert Holden, managing director of the United States Mining company, is back among his forces, and with the condition of a very much pleased. While his physician has admonished him that rest during the next few hours will be required to restore him to a normal that he has hitherto defied the odds, nothing he could say with reference to local interests could emphasize their resources to an extent greater than was the emphasis of the recent dividend of 50 cents a share, or $200,000, although that is but a feeble premonition, perhaps, of what awaits the shareholder from sources of wealth that appear well-nigh exhausted. Mr. Holden's friends hope to see him in active service again at an early hour.

Utah Saved the Record.
Reviewing the dividend record for August, the Engineering and Mining Journal of New York says: "The initial payment of $10,000, or 20 cents per share, by the United States Mining company of Utah, offset the regular dividends that have been suspended temporarily by the Central Oil company of West Virginia, and others. It is gratifying to see old-time dividend-payers re-enter the list, and this month the Mammoth and Uncle Sam of Utah, after three years' absence, have declared $20,000 and $500 respectively.

Saw the Wealth of Grand Central

Hon. W. S. McCormick Tells of Some of His Observations Underground at the Mines.

Local interests in the Grand Central of Tintic, somewhat apprehensive, perhaps, since the passing of the August dividend, may seek their couches to-night with the assurance of Hon. W. S. McCormick that the physical condition of the property compares favorably with, if it does not exceed that of any period since its exploitation was begun. It is not putting out so great a volume of wealth, said he, after a deliberate inspection of the ore bodies, for this is impossible with a triple-compartment shaft going down at the rate of five feet daily and the machinery required to raise the waste, but it is marketing fifty tons a day and will continue to do so until connection with the channels at greater depth is effected, when it will return to the normal. Below the 1000-foot level two winzes, respectively 25 and 50 feet, have been sunk in ore, and Mr. McCormick was assured that in the bottom of these nothing has been encountered that does not show as much as 100 ounces silver, with 50 gold per ton. From the bottom of the lower winze the management has drifted 50 feet in this ore, with the conditions throughout very strong. Certainly the body is a good one, while the quality should meet the requirements of the most exacting. On the 700-foot level Mr. McCormick reports the condition as most impressive one. The ore bodies are large and of good quality, while 100 feet below everything is "looking well."

In the Eagle & Blue Bell, which was visited by him, along with Manager MacVehle and Messrs. F. L. Kimberly and Willard F. Snyder of the Bingham Con., Mr. McCormick reports the condition quite satisfactory. The management, with James Creighton underground, is pushing its campaign of development, and the outlook there is one of considerable promise.

The feeling throughout camp is one of improvement, while the daily output from all sources cannot but impress the visitor.

BOND ON CAMPBELL ESTATE LEAD MINES NOW IN NEW HANDS.

TO SAIL WEDNESDAY.
Leaves London With Mining Interests Here Awaiting Him.

Samuel Newhouse, founder of what is rapidly crystallizing into one of the most productive of Utah's camps of copper, is scheduled to sail from London, with Utah as his destination, the reception which awaits him here to be shared by Mrs. Newhouse. To his arrival many are looking forward quite eagerly. It is expected now that it has been demonstrated that the basin along the banks of Jordan river can be made to afford ample water—that he will authorize his engineers to proceed without delay with the construction of the proposed plant with which to handle the Boston Con.'s milling ore.

Meanwhile the branch between Frisco and Newhouse has been opened to traffic by the San Pedro Railway company, and material to the plants with which the Newhouse mines are being equipped are piling up in the yards in a manner that foretells their completion within the period that has been prescribed. Indeed, a spectacle bristling with animation and assurance that the day of his reimbursement is to be hastened awaits his coming.

TOM LYNCH'S LUCK.
The Silver and Lead Mines at Reveille Among the Very Largest

A correspondent of Ores and Metals, Denver, writing that publication from Nevada says it is very plain that Thomas J. Lynch of Salt Lake, M. L. Macdonald of Butte and their associates have a phenomenal silver-lead bonanza in the Last Chance mines at Reveille, which were bought from Herman Reischke several months ago. It will be remembered that ninety days or so ago a mammoth cave was found in the property by sinking a shaft some forty feet deep. That happened just after Mr. Lynch had interested Mr. Donald and others in the proposition, and since that time the bonanza character of the proposition has become apparent. The Southwestern Nevada Mining company was organized to operate the ground and the word from camp now is that stock in the company is unobtainable, though $3 a share has been bid for it.

The cave mentioned has been explored for a distance of 200 feet and to an average depth 40 feet below the surface. It has been found that enormous masses of ore worth all the way from $50 to $100 per ton have broken away from the hanging wall side of the vein and been deposited along the foot wall side of the

THE METAL MARKET.

Silver Continues Dull With Lead Marked Up by the American.

In its review of the metal market the Engineering and Mining Journal says: "The silver market has continued dull in the balance of the week, the Indian Government or demand from Indian buyers. The copper market has ruled quiet but firm throughout the week without any special feature, and nothing of interest has transpired. The quotations are unchanged at 12 1/2¢ for lake, 12 1/2¢ for electrolytic in ingots, cakes and wire bars, 12 1/2¢ for cathodes, 12 1/2¢ for casting copper.

The future of the week has been an advance in the prices quoted by the American Smelting and Refining company of a ton for lead. Some took place Monday there has been a good consumption demand. The closing quotations are given at 44 1/2¢ New York, 44 1/2¢ St. Louis.

Mining Notes.
The Daily West directors having observed with others the day of labor, will announce the company's dividend today.

President William Bayly of the Copper Belt railway is scheduled to arrive from California to inspect the line next week.

Engineering and Mining Journal: American Smelting and Refining securities were particularly strong, though the sales have not been large. A record price of 107 1/2¢ for the preferred stock was made on August 17, and this week 107 was reached, with a prospect of going higher. Common shares are also in good form, selling at $6. Advance in the price of lead of speculation as regards the proposed lead manufacturers' merger are two reasons for this strength.

W. H. Wilson of the Eagle & Blue Bell's board of directors is expected from the East in a few days.

Ernest Bamberger, assistant general manager of the Daily West, has returned after visiting the St. Louis exposition.

The annual meeting of shareholders of the Montana-Tonopah will take place in this city September 11. A most interesting exhibit by Manager Knox is relied on by local interests.

A circular letter issued from the Hartford, Conn. offices of the Majestic Mining company tells of the liquidation of 60 per cent of the Western indebtedness, and informs the shareholders that the $2,000,000 bonds will be ready for subscribers in a few days.

Tenro shareholders will meet in annual session next week.

W. J. Crick, superintendent of the Yampah mines at Bingham was among the visitors from that camp yesterday.

Tonopah ore are again moving in this direction, according to messages from camp at Newhouse.

President Schlaacks of the Rio Grande railway was among the visitors at the smelter offices during the day.

Alex Colbath, superintendent of the Altitude-Guincy, came down from camp yesterday and reports a number of undertakings about ready to fructify.

Yesterday's calls on the mining exchange were suspended, with business to be resumed this morning.

Tom Jacobson, president and general manager of the Columbus Con., has returned from California, whither he was accompanied by Mrs. Jacobson.

Morris M. Johnson has gone to the mine at Newhouse.

A. F. Bettles, manager of the Newhouse interests, has returned from the East, accompanied by Mrs. Bettles.

Thus overwork, worry, grief, La-Grippe, fevers and all sicknesses, tobacco, alcohol and other stimulants decrease the vitality of the heart and rob you of just so much of your life.

The best remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. This restores to the nerves of the heart the vital strength of which they have been robbed, thus strengthening this vital organ.

By taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure before the heart is permanently affected, possible dangerous disease is warded off. Even after the disease is upon you, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure will yet be nearly sure to effect a permanent cure.

When eminent physicians have been unable to relieve heart trouble, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has restored the patient to perfect health.

"I was taken with a very severe pain in and around my heart, accompanied by irregular heart action. I tried two doctors and received no permanent relief. I then commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which soon cured me. I have since passed examination for old line life insurance, and was recommended for all I wanted. I have had no return of the symptoms."
