

LIQUOR ISSUE IS UNSETTLED

Discussion Ended Where It Began.

Council Will Make Personal Inspection of Asphalt Mine.

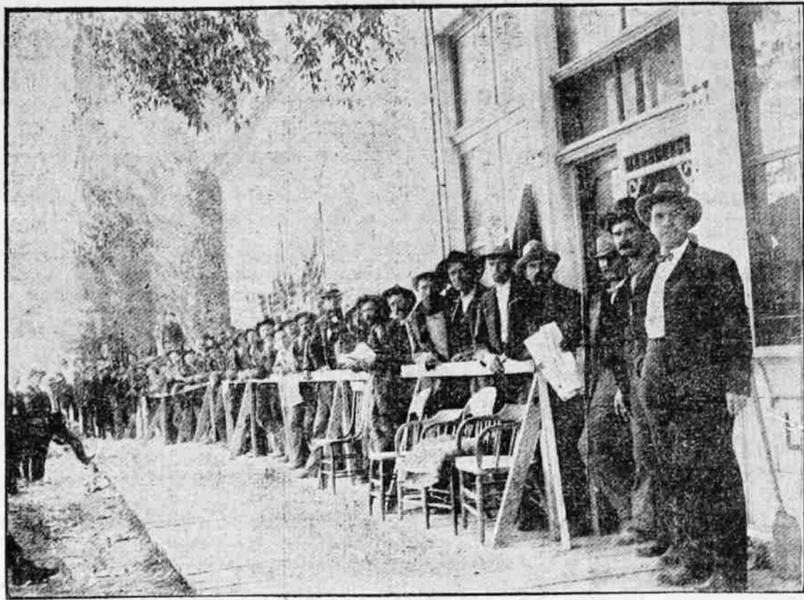

Proposition to Sell to the City All Surplus Water Rights of the Cottonwoods.

liquor! liquor! liquor! and not a word was merely talk on the same question by the Councilmen who in special session last night. The motion of intoxicants to morality and of purity in Salt Lake City was poured upon from every possible angle. Three different ordinances were considered, and after a long session, they were no solution than at any time during the previous two months, and it was decided to lay the whole matter over until next Monday night. They were on unfinished business in the Recorder ran onto the liquor measure in his pouch. Immediately the measure had been read for the third time Fernstrom introduced a substitute. After this new ordinance had been discussed at length and a vote was about to be taken upon its merits, Hobday jumped up with a substitute for the substitute. It was the trouble began. There were a number of saloonmen present to witness the performance.

Mr. Hobday's Substitute.
Fernstrom proposed in his measure to prohibit the selling of liquor in restaurants, and Mr. Hobday's substitute provided that restaurants be permitted to sell wine and only in pint bottles to be served meals. Both Councilmen had backers, while a majority of the members were not in favor of either. These argued that neither measure would get at the bottom of the question, and they advocated the way with the private boxes or "booby-holes" in restaurants and saloons as the only remedy for the evil. Motion to defer for one week, made by Wells, was defeated by a vote of 5, and the question was in order Hobday's substitute. After all the questions, Fernstrom continued to speak against the Hobday substitute.

The three men outside the railing are spectators. The first man inside the railing—the man with the map in his hands—is S. M. Nixon, who made the first filing. The photo was taken just before the door was opened, at 9 a. m.

After making a plucky fight he was forced to beat a Kuropatkin retreat. It looked as though Hobday's measure would go through if put to the vote, and when A. J. Davis moved the previous question Fernstrom went over with the others in favor of deferring, and the matter was laid over until next week.

Will Look at Asphalt.

The petition of Milo Clark, making a proposition to sell to the city the Hobson asphalt mines at Thistle, Utah county, for $6000, was read, and the Councilmen will go to Thistle Monday to look into the merits of the matter. Fernstrom moved that $500 be appropriated for the purpose of investigating the mines and ascertaining the quantity and quality of the asphalt. It was said that the asphalt had been used in this city and that it was of the very best quality, whereupon Black moved that the amount to be appropriated be made $100. A. J. Davis objected to making any appropriation at all, saying that the examinations should be made by the parties offering to sell the mines. The amendment of Black, however, carried and it was decided that the Councilmen themselves should go to Thistle and look into the mines. The party will leave the Rio Grande depot Monday morning at 8 o'clock and return the evening of that day.

Another offer to sell asphalt deposits was received from John Beck representing the Utah Asphalt and Varnish company. He stated that the deposits were in Uintah county and that the claims would be crossed by the Moffat road building to this city from Denver. Relative to the quantity of the asphalt he stated that it would take a trainload a day for 100 years to reduce it all. His communication was referred to the special asphalt committee.

Have Water to Sell.

The special water committee of the Council will inquire into the merits of a proposition from J. M. Thomas and H. B. Cole to sell to the city all the surplus water rights of Big and Little Cottonwood creeks. It was represented by the petitioners that they have seven lakes in Little Cottonwood, covering an area of fifty-nine acres, and three reservoir sites, covering a total of sixty acres; and nine lakes in Big Cottonwood, covering eighty-nine acres, and one reservoir site, covering twenty-three acres. It was further set out that all of these lakes could be dammed and converted into storage reservoirs and that enough water could be stored to supply the city of Salt Lake with all of the water the residents could use. The price asked for the rights to water, lakes, reservoirs, lands and for enough power to light the city was placed at $35,000. The special water committee was instructed to report to the Council on the matter at the meeting two weeks from Monday night.

Hines Calls for Meters.

A communication from Superintendent of Water-Works Frank L. Hines, urging that the water system of the city be metered, was referred to the Committee on Water-Works. Mr. Hines stated that, owing to the great waste of water by the residents in the outlying districts, the city should meter its water service, and he asked that he be given authority to purchase 6000 meters and have them installed at once.

The matter of constructing a new bridge across the Jordan river at Eighth South street, was referred to the Streets committee. Residents on the west side of the river say that the present bridge is unsafe and that it should be replaced by a reinforced cement structure. The City Engineer recommends that either a steel or a cement bridge be constructed, and the Board of Public Works suggests that the bridge be made twenty-four feet wide, instead of fifteen feet wide, as previously advertised.

Brigham Street Paving.

No plan having yet been decided upon for the paving of East South Temple street by the residents on that thoroughfare, the Board of Public Works was instructed to not open the bids that have been submitted on the work until September 15. The Council will endeavor to take some action upon the matter in the meantime.

To the Streets committee was referred the communication of the Board of Public Works stating that it would be necessary to levy a supplemental assessment for gravel walks before the contract for this work could be awarded to the lowest bidder, Fred G. Palmer. Mr. Palmer's bid was 26 cents per linear foot, while the assessment levied for the improvement was only 15 cents per foot.

A petition from the Ladies' Literary club asking that the sidewalk tax in front of its premises be abated, on the ground that the club is a charitable organization, was denied.

City Plumbing Inspector W. J. Leaker was granted permission to detain his assistant for sixty days more.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a remedy such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

A beautiful Georgia lady, Vice-President of the East End Palmetto Club, of Savannah, and prominent socially there, relates the following experience: "You certainly have produced the finest medicine for suffering women that is to be had in the country. I want to recommend it especially to my dear seven-year-old daughter when my darling boy was born. I felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and it seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law bought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (after I had tried several of the other remedies which are so much advertised, and found no relief). I had little faith in the medicine at the time and was so weak and sick that I felt discouraged, but within a week after I had commenced taking your 'Prescription' I was like a different woman. New life and vitality seemed to come with each succeeding day, until, in a few weeks, I was in fine health, and a happy, hearty woman. My boy is now two years old, and, thanks to your splendid medicine, I am enjoying perfect health. If at any time I feel tired or in need of a tonic, a few doses of your 'Favorite Prescription' recuperate me at once. My address is No. 511 Jones Street, East Savannah, Ga.

His Knowledge Is His Capital

Convict Frank C. Andrews is Making Another Fortune in Wall Street.

Although still a convict, Frank Chester Andrews, the Detroit Napoleon of Finance, known in Utah through his mining investments, is now operating in Wall Street and is said by a New York paper to have repaid $200,000 of his $1,500,000 default.

Mr. Andrews' Utah interests were chiefly in the opals, of which he was a large stockholder, and the Tiwoukies, on which he held a lease and bond.

Mr. Andrews is but 33 years old today, and within his comparatively short life has enjoyed a comet-like career. Going to Detroit thirteen years ago, at the age of 20, fresh from the farm where he was born, he secured a clerkship in a real estate office.

Within a year he had got an option upon suburban real estate, which he plotted and sold out within two weeks, and had a bank account and a partnership in his employe's business. Before he was 28 years old Mr. Andrews had built and sold four railroads, including the Detroit, Rochester, Romo and Lake Union railroad, the Grand Rapids, Holland and Lake Michigan Rapid railway and the North Detroit Electric railway. These roads he sold to a syndicate of financiers for a total of $1,000,000.

His profits here he invested in the City Savings bank of Detroit, of which he became vice-president, and the Preston National bank, of which he became a director.

He owned stock in the Pack National bank of New York, the Mercantile Trust company of New York, the First National and Commercial National banks of Detroit, and organized and was director in half a dozen savings banks and trust companies.

He bought the Detroit Journal and became Police Commissioner of Detroit. Then came the disastrous failure of the City Savings bank of Detroit, followed by Mr. Andrews' arrest and conviction. From a mansion and the highest official and social position Andrews entered a felon's cell, sentenced to fifteen years in the Michigan State prison at Jackson.

Andrews said to a New York reporter: "Publication of the fact of my conviction will not injure me, although I regret that it must all come out. These I do business with know all about my career. I technically over-look the accounts in my bank, and preferred to suffer rather than drag down the real persons responsible for the affair. The same day I was convicted the supreme court intervened and admitted me to bail, which I could not furnish at the time.

"Finally the Governor granted me a conditional pardon. I was allowed to go on a modified ticket-of-leave, so that I might rehabilitate my fortunes. Already I have repaid one-fifth the sum others lost through me and within a year more I expect to have paid all. I am in the railroad bond business. My knowledge is my capital."

Auer Pleasantly Remembered.

A pleasant incident of the season's close at Saltair was the presentation to Charles Auer, the bar concessionaire, by his employees of a beautiful gold-handled umbrella suitably inscribed. In making the presentation the donors praised Mr. Auer for his generous and kindly treatment throughout the season. On Saturday evening Mr. Auer was remembered by the Saltair orchestra, which presented him with a handsomely carved jar.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

Cashier of a Kansas Bank Gone, Likewise Funds.

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 7.—W. R. Pierce, cashier of the First National bank at Mount Hope, is said to be short in his accounts about $7000. He left a week ago to attend the World's fair and the shortage was discovered by an examination of his books. The directors met today and made good the loss to the bank. Pierce's friends say he will return. A run on the bank has been stopped.

THE DESIGNER

"A Magazine of Real Use to Woman"

October Number—Out To-Day!

I THINK this issue of The Designer is the best we have ever published—best in interest, best in helpfulness (by which I mean practical utility), widest in scope and most fascinating in the Fashions it shows.

From cover to cover it is full of timeliness and taste.

The special articles and the fiction features are as notable as the departments.

The illustrations are better than ever, and altogether I think that the October Designer is the best ten cents' worth that your newsdealer can supply you with this month.

VERGILIUS

A NEW NOVEL
By IRVING BACHELLER
Author of "Eben Holden."

This book will be a revelation to the thousands of readers of "Eben Holden." Mr. Bachelier has made a great departure from his former stories of rural life, going back to scenes in Rome and Judea in the Augustan age. The story is of thrilling, dramatic interest, and culminates in a depiction of the Nativity—a wonderful climax, full of reverence and power.
