

UTAH GREEKS MAY ORGANIZE Federation Will Take Them in.

More Than One Thousand Employed by Smelters and Railroads.

Satisfied With Hours and Wages, but Do Not Want to Pay for the Privilege of Working.

There are indications that the friction which has existed for the past two years between the Americans and Greeks employed at the smelters and mines will be settled in a manner satisfactory to both nationalities.

The Greeks are said to be in a mood to identify themselves with the Western Federation of Miners, and the Federation, realizing that the Greeks are here to stay, will receive them as members.

The question was discussed at the recent meeting of the State Federation of Labor in Ogden, and there is reason to believe, has engaged the attention of the miners' convention in session here this week.

Wages Are Satisfactory. The foreign laborers seem satisfied with the wages paid by the smelters and the hours of labor, but there is much complaint over the manner in which employment must be obtained.

At least $5 must be paid cash down. If the laborer, after five months, does not pay the remaining $10 or $15 he is discharged at once.

President Charters' Opinion. A. W. Charters, president of the State Miners' union, who has looked into the Greek labor question very closely, says: "I have been told repeatedly by the Greeks that they were forced to pay exorbitant fees to their agents to get a chance to work."

Railroad Laborers Complain. The Greeks on the railroads make similar complaints. As their pay is less from $1.50 to $1.75 per day—they are less than the American workers.

What the Man Got. Here is a table showing what the man got out of his wages:

Another Greek says he paid $10.30 for three jobs, all in less than six months. The first job, he says, lasted three months at $1.75 per day.

Some of the railroad laborers complain that they have had to pay for transportation which was issued by the railroads free.

Says Greeks Are Contented. Louis Skliris, a Greek who supplies much labor to the smelters and railroads, asserts that the complaints of the men grossly exaggerate the facts.

When I find a man who is trying to stir up trouble I tell him to discharge him. I protect my countrymen against agitators. The companies formerly hired their Greeks direct, but there

The story of this assault was told in Tuesday morning's Tribune. Accompanied by a colored maid, Mrs. Douglas, who had been in the rooming-house for some time, was seen to enter the rooming-house at about 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

When the wife was tried apart from her husband, she was found guilty of assault on a bench warrant. That was on Tuesday morning early. Later in the day she signed a complaint and process was issued against Mrs. Douglas. SIGHT SAVED BY THE X-RAY J. W. Gurney Should Be Thankful.

Can Bless Surgical Magnets and Modern Invention.

Lehi Man Through Aid of Roentgen Rays Saves Both of His Optics.

No one has better reason than J. W. Gurney to be thankful for the invention of modern surgical appliances.

Had the accident which befell him at Lehi a few days ago happened three years earlier he would have been condemned to loss of one and probably both eyes.

Science, however, called to its aid the magnet and the X-ray and these wonderful developments of modern skill preserved the use of both optics.

Gurney was working as a blacksmith at the Lehi sugar factory when a triangular splinter flew from a steel chisel and lodged in his left eye, penetrating to the cornea.

Realizing the seriousness of the case, Gurney took the first train to Salt Lake City and went to an eye specialist for treatment.

Danger of Infection. Dr. Fred Stauffer, the physician to whom he applied, made an incision under the steel splinter and then used a small Johnson magnet to draw out the steel.

There was a gush of water with the incision and the splinter disappeared. Diligent search failed to reveal it, and the doctor feared that it had slipped down into the vitreous humor, where it would have been likely to produce infection and cause the loss of the eye.

It was a matter in which no chances could be taken, and there is where the X-ray machine came into use.

Dr. Stauffer wired to Chicago for a large Habb magnet with a lifting power of 150 pounds. This was developed against 40 pounds per inch for the Johnson, and while the magnet was on the way, subject Gurney was developed under Dr. H. N. Mayo's new induction X-ray generator, the most powerful machine of its kind in Salt Lake.

Splinter Was Gone. The rays were turned on the side of the patient's head and a sensitized plate was put on the other side.

After a short exposure the plate was sent to a photographer. Yesterday morning a beautiful shadowgraph was developed. It showed every bone and every muscle in the side of the face, and proved conclusively that the eye contained no metallic substance.

With the assurance that the steel had been removed, the doctor had only to apply suitable medication to the eye. No further surgery was needed. The Habb magnet, received by Dr. Stauffer yesterday, will be of no use to Gurney but may come in handy at some future time.

PLUNGED CITY INTO DARKNESS Conference-Fair Stalls Makes Trouble.

Electric Lights Went Up.

Fair Grounds, Theaters, Streets, Business-Houses and Residences Black as Ink.

Almost on schedule time was the inevitable conference-State fair stalls.

Local weather bureau to the effect there should be only fair weather.

"Local showers" was the weather man heralded the regular annual disturbance, bent, as he have been, upon letting himself easy with his constituency.

Fireworks Troublesome. But the constituency was not so easy. There would have been serious objection to the showers of the weather man sufficiently adequate as to have left out the works.

The inconvenience and caused the damage. The Utah Light & Rail company, as usual, sustained the damage, and thousands of their patrons suffered inconvenience.

Ogden Circuit Disabled. The first shock came about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, as an accompaniment of one of the weather man's showers.

A bolt of lightning, with a high tension wire in the vicinity, struck and disabled the Ogden circuit for a time. This was not seen but the Utah Light & Rail company's revenue at once apprehensive, there might be something worse.

Its steam reserve power hooked onto the fair grounds line street railway.

The wisdom of this course became apparent when, at about 8:30 in the evening, the transformer at the Ogden plant was knocked out completely.

Every light in this city was snuffed like a candle, the power which had pelted the greater portion of the fair service going off at the same time.

Everything Was Dark. The fair grounds, the theaters, streets, the business houses and the houses were all plunged into utter darkness. At the fair grounds the makers made even more merry of the peculiar situation.

Wonders and catcalls from mischievous youths succeeded the cries of "darkness" and "darkness" as the scenes, and there was not a little embarrassment noted in certain quarters when at the end of some fifteen minutes the lights came on again.

The fair grounds cars were out of place only from five to ten minutes. The lines on the eastern side of the city were tied up for three-quarters of an hour and most of the lights were out for nearly the same length of time.

Reserve Lines Used. The Bear River station, as well as the Ogden station, from which the lines were all taken power, was disabled by the lightning bolt, but Cottonwood and Provo reserve lines were drawn upon for the extra power needed and things were in running order again as soon as the darkness of citizens were plodding in the inkiness to or from their homes, in cases several miles in the suburbs while the few cars that were run on very uncertain time were put to suffocation.
