NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Young, of Caesar Young, was a witness in the criminal branch of the Supreme court, where Nan Patterson is on before Justice Vernon M. Davis, and with Young's murder.

Though she was on the stand only long enough to identify a letter to which she was a witness, Mrs. Young's presence there developed one of the most intense situations of the trial. The wife of the dead man took the Miss Patterson became deathly pale and watched intently every movement of the witness during her brief examination.

Czar Will Grant Extensive Reforms

More Freedom for Press and Consultation Body to Represent the People.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 14.—There is no longer any doubt that the Government intends to commit itself to very extensive reforms as the result of the liberal agitation begun when Prince Sviatopolk-Mirski made his advent as Minister of the Interior.

The Zemstvo demands for a direct body to make the laws of the nation will not be granted, but some medium in the form of a representative consultative body, which can convey the wishes of the people direct to the sovereign, now seems the probable outcome.

The plan for a consultative body, first proposed by the late Prince Vasichoff twenty years ago, is now being considered by the Emperor. The Emperor's demand for a land parliament, from the basis of the scheme at present under consideration, Prince Vasichoff contended that the interests of the population of Russia was totally unprepared to exercise political rights, thus precluding the possibility of a zemstvo, or a land council, composed of Zemstvo representatives, endowed with a consultative voice in the Government.

While nothing has been absolutely decided, Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirski is said to favor the plan. In fact it is his desire that Prince Vasichoff's son shall succeed him in the event that complete failure of his health compels him to retire.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The Times today prints a special article in which it is pointed out that there has been a pardonable delay in rearming the artillery. RENEWAL OF RIOTING Hungarian Statesmen Calm Again.

Outbreak of Opposition Is Condemned by the People.

Peace Produced by Compromise and Withdrawal of Offending
Personage.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 14.—The lower house of the Hungarian Parliament opened today in perfect calm. The royal rescript convoking the Diet was listened to attentively and the house thereafter adjourned, without the least attempt on the part of the opposition to renew the rioting of yesterday.

The orderliness of the proceedings was attributed to the absence of President Perszel and his parliamentary bodyguard, who yesterday were driven from the house. Had these been present, undoubtedly there would have been repetitions of yesterday's scenes.

The Opposition under the leadership of Count Apponyi and Francis Kosuth, took possession of the house as early as 6:30 in consequence of the rumor that the Government proposed a sitting at 7 a. m. The Deputies took up a strong position on the president's platform prepared to repel any attempt of the guards to dispossess them.

The members of the opposition parties had published a manifesto to the nation in justification of their action in removing the gen d'armes from the chamber and destroying the President's chair. "From which the crime of November 11 against the constitution was committed," and declaring they will do their duty in the way best known to save the country and the constitution.

It is evident that the opposition parties feel the weakness of their cause and their failure to enlist any great public opinion. The scene in the Chamber on Tuesday is being almost universally condemned.

It is said that Count Andrássy acted as mediator with the executive and secured the compromise that enabled today's sitting of the Chamber to be held. The President, it is said, should absent himself from the House on a plea of illness and that gen d'armes should not be admitted. Another influence that induced the compromise was the fact that the criminal law provides a long sentence at hard labor to any one preventing by force the sitting of Parliament, and that the judges might take that view of the obstructionist conduct.

Probably there was a view to averting such a development, and the executive of the united opposition sent a letter to the officials of Parliament asking to be informed as to the cost of repairs to the furniture, and expressing a wish to repair the damage.

MIRACLES POSSIBLE TODAY. Priest Recounts Occasions When He Has Performed Wonders.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Continuing his avowal that all things are possible with God today as they were in the past, even to the healing of the sick and the raising of the dead, Father Ignatius of Llanthony, London correspondent, to recount various occasions upon which he claims to have performed miracles.

One miracle, he is quoted as saying, occurred in 1862, when a young girl who had been dead two hours, arose at the command of the priest. The second was that of a workman crushed to death by a falling stone while the abbey was being constructed at Llanthony. This man is asserted to have walked home unaided, after having been crushed to a pulp.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Dec. 14.—Under Sheriff S. W. McNabb of this county returned this afternoon from San Francisco, having in charge Sidney Jarvis and Arthur Swinell, who are held on charges of robbing the express company on the Santa Fe westbound train on the night of December 4 and murdering Express Messenger Charles Fargo messenger Swindell at the Burlington track near San Francisco.

Mackey, an English millionaire horse owner, whose hobby is polo ponies. The two men were employed at Chicago to come west with the horses and were both on the train at the time of the robbery. Jarvis was arrested on the night before the train left Chicago.

Popular Singer Suddenly Called

Musical World Loses One of Its Brightest Lights in Heber
S. Goddard.

News of the death of Heber S. Goddard, the well-known baritone, which occurred shortly after 12 o'clock last night, at the home of his aged mother, will come as a shock to hundreds of friends and admirers in this city. The immediate cause of death was acute pneumonia, Mr. Goddard having been attacked with the disease early yesterday morning, after suffering from a severe attack of influenza for several weeks past. His last public appearance was on the night of December 5, when he left a sick bed to sing at the Symphony concert at the Salt Lake theatre.

Forty Years Old.

Heber Sutton Goddard was 40 years of age. He was the son of George Goddard, a prominent man here in the old days. Goddard, during the seven years that he was of the Mormon Sunday-schools. The singer, after taking some preliminary lessons in singing here, went to New York to study. There he was a long time, and he was very successful. He had a long home in this city, touring at intervals in the surrounding States. Shortly after his return from New York, he organized the Salt Lake Chorus, which was composed of H. S. Goddard as baritone, Lizzie Thomas Edward, soprano, Viola and with the Denver Vocal society, tenor, Willard Walbe, violinist, and N. S. Krouse, pianist. This company toured all through the West. They visited the most prominent cities in California, Idaho, Colorado and Utah, and had much success. In fact the money that he made in the West was used to pay his way toward paying his expenses when he went to Europe to study.

Called to Chicago.

Mr. Goddard was also connected prominently with the Salt Lake Opera company, and with the Denver Vocal society. He was living at home, he was called to Chicago to sing for the Castle Square Opera company. He also sang in Henry's London Symphony orchestra, and he had taken permanent engagement with either of those companies, but he had other plans.

Two years ago he went to Europe. He went to Berlin, where he was for a year under Prof. Lehmann. After that he went to London, where he met with promising success. He was really the only artist from Utah who ever made good in London. Had he chosen to remain in Europe he could in time have reached the top of the musical ladder. He sang with marked success with the London Symphony orchestra, and he had had permanent engagement with either of those companies, but he had other plans.

Had Planned a Tour.

He had made many plans for the near future. He had planned to tour the West in the West during the spring. They were booked to appear in Boise in January, and with the Denver Vocal society. "Of course, it is a great blow to me," said Prof. J. J. McClellan last night when called upon to comment on the death of Mr. Goddard. "He was a great artist, and I can safely say that he was one of the finest men I have ever known. He was a great artist, and I can safely say that he was one of the finest men I have ever known. He was a great artist, and I can safely say that he was one of the finest men I have ever known."

How Three Brave Firemen Were Swallowed Up in the Ocean of Flames.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 14.—Three firemen lost their lives, several persons were injured and property valued at $700,000 was destroyed by a fire which, starting last night, was brought under control only this morning.

Jacob Miller, a member of the insurance patrol, staggering under a heavy load of boxes, was blown from the top of the Pack Photograph Supply company, tumbled into the elevator shaft and fell to the basement. Every effort was made to rescue him, but in the rising flood of water and the roaring furnace of flames his body could not be saved.

John Fellows, a member of the fire department, was caught on the fifth floor of the Buntell building with three of his comrades. It was a fatal error of running to the elevator shaft and sliding down the cable in the belief that the lower part of the building had not yet begun to burn. He slid onto a cauldron of flame and was seen no more.

H. J. Buckley, another member of the fire department, was caught by a falling wall and killed.

When the Buntell building burst into flames, the fire department was called. The fire department, however, succeeded in making miraculous exits from the fire escapes, but Fellows made the fatal error of running to the elevator shaft and sliding down the cable in the belief that the lower part of the building had not yet begun to burn. He slid onto a cauldron of flame and was seen no more.

SOLEMNIZED BY THE MORMON PRESIDENT TESTIFIED AS TO POLYGAMY

Mrs. Ellis Tells of One Instance.

Joseph Smith Married Her Husband to Miss
Hamlin.

Other Witnesses Give Information
About Obligations of Endowment House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—Testimony relating to the alleged polygamous marriage of the late Apostle Abram Cannon and Lillian Hamlin and additional testimony concerning the obligations taken by persons who passed through the Mormon endowment house was offered today in the investigation of the protests against Senator Reed Smoot before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Proceedings in Detail.

Mrs. Fred Ellis Tells of Her Husband's Plural Marriages.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—When the Smoot investigation was continued today George Reynolds, a high officer of the Mormon church, was called to correct his testimony and then Mrs. Fred Ellis of Salt Lake City was sworn.

She is the daughter of Angus M. Cannon and married her cousin, Abram Cannon, when she was 19 years of age.

She testified that she was Abram Cannon's first plural wife and that her husband married Lillian Hamlin on June 18, 1896. He was at that time one of the twelve apostles.

Mr. Cannon, according to the witness, then had three wives and he told her he intended to marry Lillian Hamlin. He told her that Lillian had been engaged to his brother, David, who had died, and she therefore wanted to marry Abram Cannon, when she was 19 years of age.

Earthquake Shocks Loosen Bridge Pier

If Crack in Concrete Extends Below
Mud Line, Cost to Rebuild
Will Be Great.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—The recent series of earthquakes experienced in this city have caused a big crack in the pier of the Santa Fe bridge now being constructed at the foot of Third street. The damage was discovered today and scrutinized by the City Engineer. He found a fissure in the concrete which extended below the water line of the channel, which the bridge is to span. It was three inches wide and six feet long.

If the crack extends below the mud line it will be necessary to rebuild at great cost. A telegram was sent to the chief engineer of the railroad company on the coast and a consultation between him, the City Engineer and the bridge engineer will be held. It was expected that the structure would be completed early next spring, but the damage sustained may necessitate an indefinite postponement of the building operations.

JIM DOLLARD SENTENCED.

Entered Plea of Guilty and Promptly
Given Twenty-Five Years.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.

LANDER, Wyo., Dec. 14.—Last evening during selection of the jury in the James Lander murder case, and after the examination of sixty-five jurors, the attorneys for the defendant submitted a proposition that the jurors withdraw their plea of not guilty to the crime of murder in the first degree, and enter a plea of murder in the second degree. The proposition was accepted by the prosecution, whereupon Judge Craig immediately sentenced the defendant to be detained twenty-five years in the State penitentiary. The action caused a sensation. It was thought to be impossible to get a jury to convict Lander on a charge of murder to a life sentence, as Dollard's health is fast failing. The speedy termination of the case probably saved the county $200, and is generally satisfactory, as Dollard was considered temporarily insane from disease and drunkenness when the crime was committed. Dollard killed Frank Bryant in a saloon quarrel on August 12, 1899.

By A. F. Philips. Special to The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—"Abram Cannon married Lillian Hamlin at some date between June 12 and July 2, 1896. I opposed this marriage. I have said frequently that Joseph F. Smith married them." Thus spoke Mrs. Fred Ellis, who was the first plural wife of the apostle, on the witness stand before the Smoot investigation committee this morning.

This is the first direct testimony of the marriage, which is said to have occurred on the high seas off the California coast in 1896.

Mrs. Ellis's testimony is regarded as important in its force against Senator Smoot. Her answers to questions were given clearly and positively. When she referred to the death of her husband at her home, after his marriage to Lillian Hamlin, she broke down and sobbed for quite a while. Her testimony was the first sensation of today.

WALLIS WAS A TARTAR.

When Mrs. Ellis had concluded, James H. Wallis was recalled for cross-examination. The counsel for Senator Smoot discovered they had caught a tartar, for their examination panned out differently from what they had expected. Mr. Wallis asked to have his evidence regarding the oath which he had taken in the endowment house corrected so as to make the one pertaining to "The Law of Vengeance" read "this Nation," instead of "the nations of the earth."

When August Lundstrom of Salt Lake took the stand, he was questioned regarding the proceedings on ceremonies in the endowment house, which he said he had taken eight times, each time with thirty to forty others. He repeated the oath, and when he cited the one, "The Law of Vengeance" and in an impressive way repeated it thus, "We, and each of us, do solemnly covenant and agree that we will pray and never cease to pray, Almighty God to avenge the blood of the prophets upon this Nation, and that we will teach the same unto our children and our children's children until the third and fourth generation," his testimony created a great sensation, for it corroborated Mr. Wallis in his correction relative to the oath this morning, which it is claimed make those who take the obligation traitors to the flag.

NICHOLSON MAY TAKE STAND.

John Nicholson, recorder of the Temple, who has been reported ill since his arrival here, will probably take the stand tomorrow.

One thing concerning the inquiry which causes much comment is the full attendance daily of the Mormon colony here. At the committee-rooms people know that Smoot should be there, but why his private secretary, Carl Badger, John Peterson, private secretary to Congressman French of Idaho, and Mr. Cannon, private secretary to Congressman Howell, are in attendance at each sitting is something the average Washingtonian can't comprehend. These men are presumed to be in the employ of the Government and why they desert their rooms is not thoroughly understood. Tomorrow Charles C. Jackson, chairman of the Democratic State committee of Idaho, and William Balderston, editor of the Boise Statesman, are expected to testify.

Apostles Penrose and John Henry Smith are expected Friday, as is also United States Marshal Heywood.

L. Clarke Davis Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—L. Clarke Davis, editor-in-chief of the Public Ledger of this city, died at his home here today of heart disease, aged 70 years. He is survived by a widow, Rebecca Harding Davis, the author, a daughter and two sons, one of the latter being Richard Harding Davis.

FORCIBLY SEIZED BALLOTS.

Judge Discharges Jurors for Attempting to Nullify Election.

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 14.—The Silver Bow county jury, called last spring to investigate various county officials, today forcibly seized upon the ballots of the last county election, despite the protests of County Clerk Weston, the custodian.
