

SOCIETY.

Seldom has local society looked forward to the holiday season with greater anticipation, as the programme of entertainment seems unlimited. The real celebration of Christmas is deferred until tomorrow, and a week from tomorrow the New Year will be celebrated. Tomorrow Mrs. A. H. S. Bird and Miss McCormick will receive their friends at the McCormick home from 5 to 7, and as the men are to be included in the guests, it will be a reunion similar to those which formerly made the Yuletide so delightful for fashionable folk. A similar event will be given on Monday, January 2, when Mrs. Marshall and Miss Kirkpatrick have invited many to meet Mrs. Ackland-Hood and Mrs. Winston, who are here for the holidays. They were formerly the Misses Kirkpatrick, and among the belles during the time of their residence, so it will be a great pleasure for their friends to greet them once more in such a merry and informal manner. Then the Misses Ruth and Mose Kirkpatrick will give a domino dance at the Knutsford this week to which the younger portion of society is looking forward with expectation of a rare treat. The most novel and what will no doubt prove the most elaborate event of the season will be the ball masque to be given on the evening of January 2 in the post hall, Fort Douglas, by Capt. and Mrs. Sturgis, Capt. and Mrs. Jamerson and Capt. and Mrs. Woodward. The cotillon will be danced at 11 o'clock. Naturally, as this is such a radical departure from the usual round of entertainments, the recipients of invitations have been on the out-vote all week, and while many have been discussing the all-absorbing question of "what to wear," others are saying nothing, but are diligently sewing upon dainty skirts to form part of the costume for an Elizabethan maid, a Mary Queen of Scots, Red Riding Hood, Princess Louise of Prussia, Josephine, Mexican dancer, Carmen, Martha Washington, Colonial dame, Janice Meredith, Babbie, Juliet, Ophelia and the like. Then the men, too, otherwise too busy to go on for such things, have been quietly making a sneak upon the others, and a visit to the Salt Lake customer's reveals the fact that engaged for that date are the suits for Louis IX, to Louis XV, to say nothing of Mephisto, Faust, Hamlet, Spanish cavalier and a whole lot of others. It can be officially stated that the men will have some striking costumes, but of course, the secret of each one's identity will be faithfully kept until unmasking time. If the spirit of the evening is one-half as enthusiastically carried out as are the preliminary arrangements, the ball masque will be the memorable event of the year.

The past week has been far from slow, with the very merry dancing party given by Miss Giddens and the marriage reception following the ceremony uniting Miss Read and Mr. Hager. This event was at the hospitable home of Gov. and Mrs. Wells, who are ideal host and hostess, and naturally all who were present passed a thoroughly delightful evening.

The social world seemed to be shopping yesterday and little attention was given to entertaining. Many Christmas tree parties were given last night and today, and this evening family dinners will be the rule all over the city. The celebration of the day planned for tomorrow will mean many more delightful informal events. From then on the week will be filled with entertainment.

Sophomore High Jinks.
The sophomore class of the East Side high school gave its first party on Friday night at the school building, the biological laboratory being used as a reception room and the football headquarters as a place for refreshments. The decorations throughout consisted of the Christmas holly, the school colors, orange and brown, and the stars and stripes.

There was an enjoyable informal affair in the reception room where the class indulged in a spelling match, guessing games and music, one of the most fetching things being the "Billy Boy" song by an octette of sophomore boys in costume. In fact, all the members of the class wore special costumes on the occasion, it being a costume party of the old-fashioned order. Other good numbers were: Piano solo by Ada Ferguson, and a comic burlesque solo by Morse Moon, who, as captain of the football team, was an honored guest.

Then the crowd repaired to the banquet hall, where about seventy-five partook of the refreshments and listened to the "high jinks" that followed. Here Charles Chaffin presided as toastmaster, and responses were as follows: "Our Boys," Hattie Waples, "Our Girls," Joe Johnson, "The Cadets," Dorothy Partridge, "The Teachers," Benere Grant, "The Football Team," Edith Walker.

The chaperones were Mrs. Fisher Harris, Mrs. Boxrud, Mrs. Walton, Miss "Hibbs" and Miss Murphy. At about 11:30 the class dispersed, wishing a merry Christmas and happy New Year to each other and to the teachers.

For Mrs. Hubbard.
Miss Hartley and Miss Florence Hartley entertained informally at luncheon on Tuesday for Mrs. Hubbard of Trinidad. The guests were Mrs. F. S. Bascom, Madam Bascom, Mrs. Aaron Keyser, Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. Rob Walker, Mrs. Wither Jones. The decorations throughout were Christmas holly with red carnations.

Mrs. Bamberger to Entertain.
Mrs. J. E. Bamberger will entertain at luncheon next Thursday in honor of Mrs. Ernest Bamberger, the guests to comprise a few of the young matrons and girls, friends of the guest of honor.

The Christensen soiree for next Wednesday evening will be in the nature of an informal leap year party. The ladies are expected to have a very enjoyable evening. This will be the last leap year party for the next four years.

A very pretty home wedding took place yesterday noon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Israel, 150 East Sixth South street, when Miss Maud Forlock became the bride of Paul Ehler of the commissary department, U. S. A., at Fort Douglas. The bridesmaid was Miss May Liddle of San Jose, Cal., and the best man, Quartermaster Sergt. W. P. A. Simpkins of Fort Douglas. Rev. P. A. Simpkins officiated in the presence of a gathering of relatives and intimate friends. The home was most beautifully decorated with Christmas greens and a wondrous wedding luncheon and amid merriment the health of bride and groom was given with a will. The bride looked very pretty in a dress of grey voile over lace silk trimmed with chiffon and lace. It was made on train and she carried white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Ehler will be at home after January 1 at Fort Douglas, where they will welcome all their many friends.

The marriage of Miss Myrtle Ruby Hartwell to George S. Gray of Springfield, Mo., will take place this morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Byron E. Hartwell. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. B. M. Hogen.

The marriage of Miss Clara Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill, to R. W. Kidder, will take place on January 4 at the home of the bride in Juneh Utah.

CITY SCHOOL NOTES.
The annual Red and Black day was observed by the West Side high school last Friday afternoon. Assembly room 1 was tastefully decorated with flags, banners and bunting in red and black and an enthusiastic audience was present. The opening number was an overture, "Red and Black," by the High School orchestra, composed of Elmer Woolf, Warner Thompson, Dan Lackmann, David Rogawsky and Sylvan Simon. This was the first appearance of this organization. The other numbers of the program were rendered in the following order: "Red

OFFICIALS GET NICE PRESENTS

Santa Claus at Joint Building.

Retiring County Clerk Presented With Cut Glass Water Set.

Deputy Recorder May, Health Commissioner Wilcox and Mr. Crown Also Kindly Remembered.

Christmas good will was strongly in evidence at the city and county building yesterday. Several officers received hearty tributes to their popularity among their deputies and clerks. Deputy Clerk County Clerk James was served with a little surprise party when he went down to his office. He found on his table a handsome cut-glass set, consisting of a carafe and six glasses, a box of cigars, a bottle of wine and a fine umbrella. He had no sooner stepped in than he was followed into his inner office by his entire force of the office. Deputy Clerk Harry F. Evans then made a short presentation speech.

Mr. Evans's Speech.
"The close relationship which has existed between us during your two terms of office," said, "has afforded many of us ample opportunity to pass upon your merits as an officer and a gentleman. We are desirous that you should know that we are not unmindful of the many rare qualities of your heart and mind which you have unconsciously revealed to us on many occasions. Your genial disposition and the kindly interest taken in our welfare, your true loyalty to the public interest, your readiness to excuse or condone their shortcomings, that total absence of affected superiority which is absent to invariably mar good fellowship, these are some of the characteristics which have endeared you to us. And now on the eve of the holiday season, we wish to express to you our warm regards for your personally. May these gifts serve to bring to you some of the Christmas festivity, and in the days to come, may they ever recall sweet memories of the official association while serving the people as County Clerk."
Mr. James replied in a few words expressing his thanks for the gifts. He also expressed his appreciation of the spirit which prompted the giving.

Ring for May.
Deputy Recorder John L. May was also made happy by a gift from the employees in the County Recorder's office. They presented him with a gold ring, handsomely engraved. Joseph H. MacKulth made the presentation speech. Health Commissioner C. Wilcox was presented with a handsome silk and silver mounted umbrella by the employees of the Health department. The gift was presented to him at his residence late last night.
Sol Crown, who has had the cigar stand in the city and county building for many years, was given $15.50 in cash, which had been contributed by the different employees in the building. He was presented with a new box of cigars to stock up with.

Policemen Smoked Up.
Every attaché of the police department from the chief down to the cop, police report was the recipient of a box of cigars yesterday, a Christmas present from Whittaker & Dallas, the smoke manufacturers.

WEATHER RECORD

Local forecast for today—Cloudy, with local snow.

and Black Day," by Fred Hale, recitation, "The Woman from Nantucket," by Mayne, presentation of the flag to the school by Royal Martineau, president of the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A., recitation by Francis Critchlow, representing the school; orchestra number, "Cypress," presentation of football picture by Capt. Warner Thompson; acceptance speech by Julian Bamberger of the Junior class; songs, "Auld Lang Syne," "Aunt Nellie," by Irene Kelly; Gertrude Kelly, Edna Evans and Jennie Mitchell, "Alumni," by Kate Groo, a former graduate; Ben Harris, Eric Haveron and Ed E. Brown, representing the students. At the conclusion of the exercises Principal Eaton, who conducted the affair, in the school in the song, "The Red and Black."

"How Can the Public Schools Best Further the Christmas spirit?" was the theme of the principals' regular meeting last Wednesday afternoon. The opinion prevailed that no formal action should be taken, but that, as occasions arise and opportunities present themselves, the love of all living creatures should be taught. At the next meeting the merits and demerits of the department system now in vogue will be considered. Principals Hallock, Keeler, Cross and Nelson will lead the discussion.

Supervisor Wetzel has left for Chicago, to be present at meetings of the presidents of the different departments of the National Educational association. His post will be filled by the head of the musical division demands his presence.

Miss Elsie Butts has been installed an instructor at the Franklin.

Busy hands in all the buildings have contributed liberally to a local charitable institution to make the Christmas happy to the unfortunate. At the Lafayette hospital contribution was gathered by the pupils and then dispensed to the poor.

A very liberal registration among city teachers has been made for the lectures at the coming Utah State Teachers' association.

Through the generosity of Simon Bamberger of the city schools were given free entrance to the salon of the local artists, who have an elaborate exhibit on State street. Teachers have accepted their pupils, but since sufficient time has not been given certain buildings to take advantage of this courtesy, the holders of tickets will be used by such schools to see the fine collection.

HELD BY SAILOR.
French Bark Can't Clear From Portland Without Him.
PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 24.—Emigration Inspector Barbour refuses to grant his certificate to the French bark Jules Gomme and enable her to clear from this port, owing to the fact that a sailor named Morrisseau, who deserted the vessel and is likely to become a public charge, cannot be found.
Upon being notified a week ago by the inspector that the man was not entitled to land the captain of the Gomme swore out a warrant for his arrest. The officers have been unable to locate him. When the vessel finished loading her captain applied to the inspector for his release and was refused.

WRONG IDEA

Don't get the wrong idea into your head that starvation is good for Dyspepsia. It's not. Those who have not studied the subject very deeply, or with trained scientific minds, might think so. But facts prove otherwise. All specialists in stomach and digestive disorders know, that it is best for dyspepsia to be well fed. Why, dyspepsia is really a starvation disease. Your food doesn't feed you. By starvation, you may give your bowels and kidneys less to do, but that does not cure your digestive trouble—simply makes you weaker and sicker; less likely to be permanently cured than ever. No, the only right way to permanently cure yourself of any form of dyspepsia or indigestive trouble, is to eat heartily of all the food that you find best agrees with you, and help your digestion to work with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a safe, certain, scientific, reliable method of treatment, which will never fail to cure the most obstinate cases if persevered in. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have a gentle, tonic, refreshing effect on the secretory glands of the entire digestive tract. They gently force the flow of fresh digestive juices. They contain, themselves, many of the chemical constituents of these juices, thus when dissolved they help to dissolve the food around them in stomach or bowels. Therefore, quickly and completely, all symptoms of indigestion, and cough the glands to take a proper pleasure in doing their proper work. They coax you back to health. No other medical treatment of any sort nor any food system of "Culture" or "Pure" will give you the solid permanent cure, that will Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Write for a free Book of Symptoms. F.
