ASSURES WATER AT SPANISH FORK

Secretary of Interior Approves Plans for Strawberry Valley Project.

ONLY REMAINS FOR LAND OWNERS TO GET IN LINE With Sufficient Land Signed Up Actual Construction Will Be Begun.

Special to The Tribune. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16.—The Secretary of the Interior has approved the preliminary plans of engineers of the reclamation service for the Strawberry valley irrigation project, in northeastern Utah, and as soon as the water users, through the Water Users' association, formed for the purpose, make proper adjustment of water rights and guarantee return of the reclamation fund, construction will be promptly undertaken.

Utah Investigations. Investigations by the reclamation service have been in progress in the State of Utah for over two years. These have extended to reconnaissance of several localities, and possibilities of reclamation therefrom and more detailed studies have been made to Utah lake, and possibilities of its development, but these failed to develop a feasible project.

No Difficulties Encountered. In the valley of the Strawberry river, one of the tributaries of the Duchesne river, it is found that water can be stored and taken to Spanish Fork by tunnel. The capacity of the reservoir will be approximately 10,000 acre-feet, and the tunnel will be about 1,900 feet in length. Borings have been made along the line of the tunnel site and no unusual difficulties have been discovered which might threaten success of the project.

Lands to Be Covered. Lands which can be covered by a combination of stored water from Strawberry valley and the natural flow of Spanish Fork river consist of about 50,000 acres. Approximately one-half of this area is already irrigated, but receives an insufficient supply of water.

Cost Not Figured Out. The lands to be benefited are all in private ownership. Owing to uncertainty of estimates of the tunnel, it is at present impossible to state with any degree of accuracy the cost of the project.

SHORT OF FUNDS, YOUNG MAN HANGS HIMSELF

Son of Wealthy Southerner Couldn't Wait for His Allowance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The body of the suicide who ended his life by hanging last night at Mamaroneck, near this city, was positively identified today as that of a young man who had represented himself to be William A. King, the son of a wealthy cotton mill owner of Augusta, Ga. The identification was made by Mrs. George E. Jardine, at whose house young King stopped for shelter last Monday during the height of a severe storm. The identification was confirmed by Mrs. Jardine's son.

Spent Money on Women. Young King had told Jardine that he was penniless, having spent all of the allowance from his father. He had been warned by the latter that if he overruled his income he would have to shift for himself until the next installment was due. King said he had met a number of women while stopping in New York, and had squandered his money on them.

Reported to Be Kely. It was at first reported the suicide was Paul Kelly, motorman of the elevated railroad train which was wrecked recently with a loss of twelve lives.

CITIZENS HUN FOR FIGHT ON WELLS

Pass Their Resolutions Last Night Over Objections of City Officials.

VOTERS SPEAK TO THE POINT ABOUT WATER

Now Up to Council to Utilize Well Water or Ignore People.

In the battle between the citizens and city officials, the latter have gone down in defeat, and it is now up to the City Council and Mayor to heed the voice of the representative voter and citizen or disregard it. With applause and with only a few dissenting votes, the meeting of citizens last night at the Commercial club passed a series of resolutions requesting the City Council to proceed at once and make the proper preparations for utilizing the well water that is flowing to waste from the wells at Liberty park.

Large Crowd Present. Fully 500 representative citizens were seated in the Commercial club rooms last night when S. C. Ewing called them to order. Thomas Weir was chosen as chairman, and W. I. Snider was selected as secretary of the meeting. Mr. Snider proceeded at once to the reading of the call that had been issued to the citizens by the committee, and the meeting was declared open for the purposes before it. The following resolutions were presented by S. C. Ewing:

What the Resolutions Say. Whereas, the water conditions which have been suffered in this city for some weeks past and which do now prevail, are by reason of the scarcity of the pipe water, a disgrace and distress to the people and also a menace to the health and good name of this city; and whereas, the meeting of the citizens at hand a sufficient quantity and in excellence of quality to meet the immediate needs of all, therefore be it resolved:

Resolved, That we call upon the municipal authorities to apply this relief at hand and economically available for the purpose of adding to the general supply of water that can be at once on hand and can also be had by sinking additional wells in the city.

Resolved, That we urge upon the city authorities the utilizing of the artesian wells as a good and available source of water, and demand that this supply be put to immediate use in the pipe system of this city, or in such part of it as is found most accessible and practicable.

Resolved, That we commend the action of the city authorities in their efforts to add to the pipe supply from the Emigration canyon source and call upon them to persevere in that course.

Resolved, That we commend also the work just begun to make the ditch water available for the springing of the pipe water, to the streets of the city that lie under the canal is full.

The reading of the resolutions were followed by applause, which at many points of the discussion which followed plainly showed that the citizens were in the majority and that their efforts were meeting with popular approval.

Mr. Ewing Explains. Mr. Ewing explained in a short talk on the resolutions, that the water of the wells in the Emigration canyon has been used for over fifteen years. These were places in the vicinity of the wells where cattle had made the use of the surface water out of the question, but that the water to be used would come from a sufficient depth to assure purity. Mr. Ewing quoted from a statement made to him by Mr. Doremus, to the effect that these wells would produce 3,000,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours, but in Mr. Doremus' opinion that was not a large enough supply to both with.

Great Danger in Winter. Mr. Ewing regretted that the people in the city should not have sufficient water for the ordinary household purposes, when such an excellent and pure water supply was going to waste from these wells. He stated further that the great danger of a water famine was in the coming winter, and said that should the water be helpless in case of fire.

Artesian Wells Uncertain. W. H. Tremaine mentioned that artesian wells were uncertain, but they may show up well at the start, but time will usually find them reduced in the flow. He was afraid that the Council would begin to establish what he termed small plants instead of centering their efforts on one large and proper project. He was in favor of deepening Emigration canyon, from which point the water could be run to the city by gravity.

Letter From Col. Holmes. A communication was received from Col. Holmes, which advocated most strongly the utilizing of these wells. The Colonel regretted that the use or non-use of the water from Liberty park was to assume a political aspect, and insisted that the city should afford the only, immediate and best solution to the present water situation.

Bacon for Emigration Canyon. Mr. Bacon of the City Engineer's office, in a long argument advocated patience and the utilizing of the Emigration canyon scheme. Instead of trusting to the well supply, which he stated, would be both expensive and unsatisfactory. He thought that with the improved mechanical appliances now possible of use, Emigration canyon could be prepared to deliver 2,000,000 gallons of water in twenty-four hours at a cost of $25,000.

Mr. Doremus Objects. Mr. Doremus urged that the resolutions be not passed. He stated that the ordinary mining company and engineers in charge of their works, and who were looked to on such matters. So the city had a City Engineer, and he should be given the benefit of the doubt as a matter of fact, that he would be allowed to prove his ability to do so.

Councilman Fernstrom, who had been
