

GOTHAM GLADLY RECEIVES ROYALTY

Anglo-American Fleet Presents Brave Appearance in Harbor.

PRINCE LOUIS IS GIVEN EVERY HONOR IN NEW YORK

Talks Frankly of His Visit and Expresses Admiration for President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—At noon today British warships in the Hudson river, in union with double that number of American men-of-war, fired a National salute of twenty-one guns in honor of King Edward, who celebrated today his sixty-fourth birthday. Bedecked from stem to stern with gaily fluttering flags of many colors, the column of ships stretched for four miles up the Hudson river, from Forty-second to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, by far the largest and most formidable Anglo-American naval force ever assembled in a home or foreign port. The weather was perfect. As the last gun of the salute thundered forth across the water came the strains of "God Save the King" from the flagships of the respective squadrons, the melody being taken up by a thousand voices on shore.

British Squadron Appears.

The British squadron passed in through the Narrows at 7.30, the flagship Drake at the head of the column. As the squadron passed Governors Island the flagship thundered forth a National salute of twenty-one guns, which was answered in kind. Without diminishing speed the cruisers swung around into the Hudson river. The sight of them set the whistles of every craft in the harbor shrieking in welcome.

Prince on the Bridge.

Throughout this splendid welcome Rear-Admiral Prince Louis stood on the after bridge of the Drake, pleased and impressed. As they came past Quarantine station each ship had lowered her small storm color and hoisted in its stead the large ensign, which dipped again and again in answer to the salutes of passing craft. Stretching down the Hudson, awaiting the coming of the British squadron in full dress, were the twelve men-of-war of Rear-Admiral Evans's fleet.

Special Mark of Courtesy.

Although the official salutes between the squadrons first occurred off Annapolis, as a special mark of courtesy Admiral Evans's flagship greeted the royal standard with a National salute of twenty-one guns. This kindly delighted Prince Louis, who later thanked Admiral Evans when the latter, accompanied by Rear-Admirals Drake and Brownson, repaired aboard the Drake at 9.20 o'clock to celebrate the admiral's birthday on the birthday of his sovereign.

President's Yacht There.

Thirteen guns hailed Admiral Evans as he went over the side of the Drake. Before the smoke of the salutes had cleared away the President's yacht, Maydower, in command of Capt. Cameron McR Winslow, steamed past and anchored near the Kentucky, off the Jersey shore.

Possesses Charm of King.

"During the three days I was in Washington I had each day a chance to meet the President, and that is an honor I prize most highly. The President is so many-sided and such a command of knowledge that to talk to him is illuminating and instructive. He possesses the magnetic charm of our King."

Proud of His Flag.

"I am anxious to impress upon you, first of all, that I am here as Admiral in command of this squadron. My name and my personality is of secondary importance. I am more proud of the uniform I wear and the flag I serve than anything else that came to New York thirty-three years ago, when a midshipman, while my ship was at Annapolis, I came here then entirely for amusement, and I got it."

Received by Grant.

The Prince's party next went to Governors Island, headquarters of the Army of the East, to be received by Gen. Grant. The Eighth Infantry was drawn up at the boat landing on the island in two long lines, between which Prince Louis walked.

Guest at Dinner.

The Prince tonight was the guest at the annual dinner of the Association of British Societies. The health of the President and the King was drunk amid great enthusiasm.

NOTHING MONEY HANDS STRANGE USES

Neatly Turned Trick of Richmond Man to Secure Business of Saints.

One of the most neatly turned tricks in recent history for securing the business of the saints has been created by Otto J. Monson, a merchant of Richmond, Utah. Mr. Monson frankly confesses that he needs more business and he makes the prediction safe at any time of the year that the saints need more money. He therefore proceeds to put these tender sentiments into print. This business of printing, it will not be given to the title, has had printed huge handbills bearing the picture of the Tabernacle under process of construction at Richmond.

Frank Statements of Circular.

On one side of the picture in bold type appears the announcement: "The Tabernacle must have a little more money," and on the opposite side of the picture: "We must have a little more business." Then follows this announcement: "In view of the two above statements we are going to give to every dollar traded at our store from Saturday, October 14, to October 31, in aid of finishing the Tabernacle building. It will not be given as a donation from us, but from the people. By trading with us you get every dollar a bare living margin and at the same time aid this worthy cause, and so forth."

Student of Mormon Nature.

No one knows just how the trade worked, but Mr. Monson will go down into history as a keen student of Mormon human nature. He wisely refrained from making a more liberal proposition, perhaps knowing that the magic ten cents of every dollar would strike such a familiar chord in the Mormon understanding that the brethren would look upon the proposition as a revelation, which is the prophet's synonym for revelation. The call should have been responded to by the brethren, for here was a fitting scheme, the fund to issue from their pocket with some chance of it finding the way back to them. This is such an unusual occurrence with anything money that the effect must have been most beneficial to the acknowledged business needs of the merchant.

Is a Public Benefactor.

The people of Richmond should look upon Mr. Monson as a public benefactor, yet if the church should establish a business in Richmond for the purpose of handling the line carried by Monson, the authorities of the church would expect and demand that their store be patronized instead. So the prophet who gets hundreds of thousands of tithing money a year, and yet permits the people to look elsewhere for the money with which their houses of worship are to be erected, is a public benefactor, and whatever he wrongly snovowing under with the church boycott such persons as the Richmond merchants have been tithing money that Joseph does not do, even if he has a selfish motive behind the act.

HORRIFYING ATROCITIES

Survivor Gives Sickening Details of Chinese Massacres.

HONGKONG, Nov. 9.—Dr. Machie, the American missionary, who escaped the massacre at Lenchow, confirming the horrible details of the atrocities committed on the Chinese American women. When the Chinese massacred the mob seized Miss Chestnut and Mrs. Machie and exposed them to public view in the Chinese temple.

Flung Child in River.

Amy Machie, the doctor's ten-year-old child, was carried off and flung alive into the river. The rioters stripped Miss Chestnut naked and flung her into the river. While the two were struggling in the water three Chinamen appeared, one with tridents. Miss Chestnut's body and Amy Machie's head were perched.

Braided Them With Stones.

Mrs. Machie appealed to the rioters, but the mob stoned her brains out, stripped the body and flung it into the river. The mob then captured Mr. and Mrs. Peale, stripped them naked, exposed them for fifteen minutes, clubbed Mr. Peale to death in his wife's presence and subsequently killed Mrs. Peale in the same brutal fashion.

STOP! WOMEN,

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with woman's diseases covers a great many years. You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result.

First letter.
"Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month with my periods. The pains are excruciating and I can hardly stand them. My doctor says I have ovarian and womb trouble, and I must go through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 39th and E. Capitol Sts., Benning P. O., Washington, D.C.
Second letter.
"Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very happy to send you my testimonial, that others may know their value and what you have done for me."

"As you know, I wrote you that my doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I then wrote you, telling you my ailments. I followed your advice and am entirely well. I can walk miles without an ache or pain, and I owe my life to you and to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wish every suffering woman would read this testimonial and realize the value of writing to you and your remedy."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 39th and E. Capitol Sts., Benning P. O., Washington, D.C.
When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women whose testimony is so unquestionable, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

MONEY DISAPPEARS FROM LOCKED SAFE

Well-Known Man in Trouble for Attempting to Accommodate a Friend.

W. C. Jensen, for several years a trusted employee at the McCoy livery stables, and for some time cashier of that institution, was called upon Thursday afternoon to explain the disappearance of $600 which had been left in his care the night before by Al Kendall, and which Jensen, in the presence of Kendall, had placed in the livery stable safe.

Money Disappears.

The money, which, by the way, was not the property of Mr. Kendall, represented several election bets made by his friend, that had been left with him as stakeholder. Being unable to see the parties to whom it belonged, and not wishing to keep it in his pocket over night, Mr. Kendall, according to his statement, asked Mr. Jensen to keep it for him until morning. When morning came the safe was found to be locked, but the $600 and other valuables were missing. A small box, into which the amount had been placed, was later found in the rear of the stable, but this discovery brought added to the mystery of the whole affair.

Believes Jensen Innocent.

Mr. Kendall stated Thursday evening, while Jensen's bondsmen were arranging for the latter's release, that he had known Jensen for a number of years, and could not make up his mind that he was guilty. He felt, however, that as he would have to stand responsible for the money to him, Jensen should replace the amount of money taken from the safe.

Only Two Knew Combination.

As far as can be learned, only two men knew the combination of the safe—Mr. McCoy and Mr. Jensen. The former is away and therefore could not have gone to the safe in any event. Jensen declares he locked the safe, but after reaching home decided to make sure and so telephoned to the night cashier to try the combination. The latter answered that it was locked. As no attempt was made to

NEW KIND OF STRIKE

Employees Draw Pay and Can't Be Removed.

VIENNA, Nov. 9.—The passive resistance strike, movement became effective at the railroad station here today. Already the traffic delays are serious. The Government is preparing for possible disorders. Troops are being got in readiness for active service, and further reinforcements are being sent to Prague, where a general strike is threatened, in support of the demand for universal suffrage.

Employees Draw Pay and Can't Be Removed.

At a late hour Thursday night Mr. Kendall offered to settle the whole affair by paying $500 of the amount provided Jensen would pay the other $200, but this Jensen refused to do, saying that he was entirely innocent of any wrong, and that he would not pay a cent of the amount which would be admitted that he was guilty. Judge Diehl fixed the bonds at $200, the complaint charging embezzlement and that he was guilty of the same.

Jensen's Friends Stand Firm.

The friends of Jensen declare that he is innocent and say he will eventually be proven innocent, even though the circumstances might be sufficient to warrant his arrest. His reputation has always been of the best, and those who are intimately acquainted with him scout the idea that he took $600 or any other amount.

"GREATER SALT LAKE CITY" TALKS

Real Estate Operators Are Engrossed in Discussing Future of the City.

ALL SATISFIED WITH RESULT OF ELECTION

Confident That the Victory of American Party Will Attract Many Investors.

"Greater Salt Lake City" are the four words that have been indelibly written on the wall. Real estate operators can think or talk of nothing other than the future of this city, so elated are they over the success of the American party in placing Salt Lake beyond the control of the Mormon church.

Will Be Mecca of Men of Wealth.

Practically all the members of the Salt Lake Real Estate association are a unit in the opinion that as soon as the capitalists of the country looking for fields of profitable investment appreciate to the point that the importance of the victory of the Americans in the local municipal election, Salt Lake will be the mecca of these men of wealth. It is explained that the minds of the capitalists will be opened until last Tuesday by outside people as nothing more than a city composed entirely of Mormons, and that the commands of the church authorities took precedence over the laws of the land.

Conditions Have Changed.

Prior to the election, local business men were loath to permit their names to be used in connection with their published views as to the future of Salt Lake, with an American party victory. They feared the church would use its alleged power by instructing its followers to boycott those who were in opposition to its will. Conditions have greatly changed within the last few days. Business men, no matter with what line they may be identified, do not fear this power since the victory of the American party, and evince no reluctance in having their names appear in print along with their views as to the destiny of Salt Lake. The following are the views as to the effect of the American party victory of local real estate operators who were interviewed Thursday:

Mr. Hubbard Pleased.

Mr. Hubbard, of the Hubbard Investment company: "We are well pleased with the result of the election and believe that the people of the city and State. Now is the time for all of us to get together and work together in harmony to bring about the best results. I am entitled to be the most progressive and prosperous city in the West. There is no reason why we should not be. We have drawn up no other city with anything like the number of big enterprises under way as has Salt Lake. The people do not seem to be thinking as they should. It is with us now to do our part, and every one will be well satisfied. Pull for Salt Lake!"

Mr. W. Houston Is Positive.

J. W. Houston, of the Houston Real Estate investment company: "The American party victory, though not as complete as we would like to have it, has put thousands of dollars into the pockets of the real estate owners and operators of Salt Lake. We feel that the city will progress so fast, on account of this victory, that it will not be long before it will be a comparison of it with Seattle, San Francisco and other Western cities which have met with great success."

R. L. Pritchard Confident.

R. L. Pritchard, of the Wilson-Sherman company: "The result of the election puts an entirely different face on the local conditions to outsiders, and its effect will be seen as soon as the bearing of the American party victory upon the situation here can be realized. We have shown a number of houses or other buildings in building. It is a certainty that people will now be attracted to Salt Lake as great numbers of people are flocking to this city. There is no question but what the success of the American party will bring to Salt Lake men of capital."

N. Edward Liljenberg's Views.

N. Edward Liljenberg, of the firm of Perkins & Liljenberg, architects, does not think the victory of the American party will have a good influence upon local business generally, and will give to outsiders a greater confidence in the future of Salt Lake City as a field of investment. His business is steadily increasing, and he prospects for great activity were never better."
