Presbyterian Assembly Has a Warm Debate, But Reaches No Conclusion.

"SMELLS OF PRIESTCRAFT," DECLARES ONE MINISTER

Dr. Van Dyke Says Members Should Be Thankful, Anyway.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 22.—The much-talked about debate upon the adoption of the book of forms and services recommended by a special committee of the Presbyterian general assembly materialized late this afternoon, debate continuing for two hours. No conclusion was reached and further discussion is to be made at a special order at a later session.

Members Are Stirred.

Not in many years has an assembly been so stirred as it was today over this issue. Rev. Dr. Robert Johnstone of Montreal waved a copy of the book in the air as he spoke, and declared that "it smells of priestcraft." The request was made by the moderator that all applause be discontinued, but when Dr. Johnstone, stretching himself to his full six feet four inches, waving his hand frantically, declared that the book smelled of priestcraft, applause came out in a tremendous roar.

Dr. Van Dyke Heard.

Dr. Van Dyke, chairman of the committee, opened with a witty allusion to the psalm of David, "For what we are about to receive make us truly thankful."

"There seems to me," he said, "to be some want it put out and strangled under foot, others want it adopted. Your committee stands where two seas meet."

McCaughey Leads Opposition.

Dr. William F. McCaughey of Cincinnati was the principal speaker for the opposition. He declared that the question was the most important that will come before the assembly. He based his assertions principally upon the ground that the authorization by the general assembly everywhere that the assembly wished its adoption, although it was not mandatory. He said that such an authorization might prevent the union with the Cumberland church.

Would Discuss Committee.

Mr. McCaughey offered a resolution excusing the committee from further work and thanking it, and declaring it inexpedient to make any recommendation on the matter, and in case of adoption of the book of common worship are hereafter issued they shall omit any statement of authorization by the general assembly. This resolution was referred to the clerk, Rev. Dr. Edward S. Young of Pittsburg, and Dr. Jessup of the Presbytery of New York spoke for the book and Dr. Johnson and Rev. M. Galloway of Oregon against it.

Talk of Mission Work.

Today's sessions of the general assembly were devoted largely to home missions and in adopting the report of the home missions board the assembly voted that $1,000,000 be set aside for the work next year, an increase of $100,000 over the present year. A vote of indorsement to the Platt bill in the United States Senate for the suppression of polygamy.

Applause Is Generous.

Clerk Roberts of the Presbyterian general assembly reported the popular home mission platform meeting with the announcement of the dissolution of the injunction proceedings against the union with the Cumberland Presbyterians. The news was received with tremendous applause.

DENOUNCES MACHINE

Texas Senator Arraigns Republican Party for Its Acts.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The so-called Republican "machine" in the House of Representatives today at the hands of Mr. Randall of Texas, who said that the "machine" had done absolutely nothing except to make hypocritical pretense as to some things and to unblushingly advocate the stand on doctrine in other things.

Charges Desertion.

"The completeness with which the Republican party has deserted the people's interests is apparent in the report of the committee on the question before the Congress," said Mr. Randall. He said the attitude of the Republican party toward the territories is another proof that it is unworthy to rule.

States Should Unite.

"The sisterhood of States," he said, "should make common cause in rebuking the cruel and outrageous crime committed by the Republican party. Impelled by fear, the machine may set aside one State, but the people will understand their nature and should not stay the hand of retribution."

Deceiving the Voters.

"These machine leaders have been and are deceiving the great mass of voters who put them in power. The rank and file of the Republican party have been deceived and deceived they would examine the record of their representatives the avenging hand of an outraged constituency would strike down the stand on doctrine and have a new deal as well as a square one."

MORE MONEY NEEDED

Agricultural Appropriation Bill Carries a Substantial Increase.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The agricultural appropriation bill was reported to the Senate today. It carries $7,715,000, an increase of $23,560 over the amount carried by the bill as it passed the House. Items of increase are $1,500 for the bureau of animal industry, $1,500 for the bureau of plant industry and $1,560 for experimental station, $10,000 additional for public roads, and $10,000 additional to exterminate the spruce moth.

Will Have Free Seeds.

"A decided majority of the committee expressed themselves informally as opposed to the distribution of common seeds, as authorized by the law of 1897, but it seems inadvisable at this session to recommend a change, believing that such could not now secure the desired result. At the next session a liberal appropriation for the distribution of rare and valuable seeds may take the place of the present very objectionable system."

ELKS TO GIVE AN OUTING AT SALT LAKE

Antlered Herd Will Entertain Friends at the Resort on June 14.

With the usual certainty that there will be something doing every minute of the day, the people of Salt Lake will turn out in a bunch and join the antlered herd of Elks for an outing at Salt Lake Thursday, June 14. What the programs will include will not be given out for some time yet, but it is a safe proposition that the timid Elks will have the wild man, the tame man, the married man and the single man, with their wives and sweethearts, all at Salt Lake Beach on the day mentioned. See if you can guess the weight of Sausenita, the plumpest, sweetest little blonde you ever danced with. Try and recognize the wild man; he may be a friend of yours, and don't forget the enticed orchestra will furnish music for the swiftest bunch of dancers ever exhibited on the largest and smoothest dancing floor in the world.

Purpose of Excursion.

To enlighten you, however, the purpose of this excursion to Salt Lake is to raise money to pay for a band, a real band, a brass band, one with real uniforms, horns, brass drums, to make a grand display at the grand reunion of the Elks of the United States, to be held in Denver in July. Every nickel you spend at Salt Lake helps. Every big display on an occasion like the Denver Elks reunion helps advertise Salt Lake and Utah. The Elks are great people to advertise the State, and they are always doing things, whether it is for the benefit of the unfortunate or to brace up and advertise the State.

You Are Invited.

You are invited to make yourselves guests of the Elks on this, the greatest occasion of the season, at one of the most popular resorts of the West, and remember, you need not go to any other day, and you will be one of the band of merry-makers, properly taken care of and shown a real good time.

Rate Bill Conference

House Cannot Pick Flaws in Lone Special Session.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House tomorrow will be given an opportunity to vote for reduction from the Committee on Rules to send the railroad rate bill to conference. The resolution was introduced just before the House adjourned. Representative Herburn, chairman of the Interstate Commerce and Foreign Commerce.

Must Support or Object.

Under the terms of this special rule the House will not be given opportunity to vote on the bill, and it is not possible to support or object to a motion to non-concur in them "in gross." As this procedure is the province of both Democratic and Republican members of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, it is not possible that there will be no opposition to the resolution.

AGREE ON STATEHOOD

It Is Said That Satisfactory Report Will Be Reached Soon.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—An agreement on the Statehood bill, embodied in a conference report, was reached this week, according to information today. What the terms of this agreement will be cannot be stated with precision, as the report has not yet been drafted. The plan which seems to be acceptable to both sides is to admit the Oklahoma and Indian Territory shall be admitted as one State at once; that Arizona and New Mexico shall be admitted as two States at a later date, the question of being joined in one State, that the vote shall be cast at a regular Territorial election, when the Territories are admitted. The proposition is generally known as the Foreaker amendment of a year ago.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—A resolution was adopted by the annual conference of the Structural Building Trades Alliance of America asking the local unions affiliated with it to urge their members against the use of alcoholic liquors, the object being, it is said, not so much to encourage temperance as to protect workmen from accident.

Suspected of Murder.

BATON ROUGE, May 22.—Three Turks were arrested today at Mediana on suspicion of being the murderers of W. H. Stuart, who was killed in the territory. The men are not known in the vicinity, but it is conjectured they may have been brought from some other village to commit the murder.

CRISIS OF GIRLHOOD EXTENSION WORK

It Is Being Inaugurated by the Trustees of the Agricultural College.

Miss Emma Cole

A mother should come to her child's aid at this critical time and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Miss Emma Cole of Tullahoma, Tenn., writes:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: I want to tell you that I am enjoying better health than I have for years, and I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"When fourteen years of age I suffered almost constant pain, and for two or three years I had severe and pain in my side, headaches and was dizzy and nervous, and doctors all failed to help me."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and after taking it my health began to improve rapidly, and I think it saved my life. I sincerely hope my experience will be a help to other girls who are passing from girlhood to womanhood, for I know your Compound will do as much for them."

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice ask her to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will receive free advice which will put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

FIGHTS EIGHT-HOUR LAW

Representative of Carnegie Steel Company Outlines His Position.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A. C. Hayden, representing the Carnegie Steel company, opposed the eight-hour law before the House Committee on Labor. He said the enactment of the measure would drive every large industrial plant in the United States into bankruptcy. He said that the Carnegie steel works, which employ 100,000 men, would be forced to close down, and that the Government would be forced to pay the cost of the same to the Government from 12 1/2 to 25 per cent.

Tells About Carnegie.

The Carnegie company, he said, at one time made the experiment of changing its factory method from two shifts, met working twelve hours each, to three shifts working eight hours each. The result was that the product of the factory decreased 20 per cent.

Fears the Penalty.

Another decided objection mentioned was that under the bill as drawn, if a laborer should be injured by any accident or design work one of the most serious penalties would be imposed. The employer would be subject to the penalty of imprisonment, and the laborer might be entirely innocent of any design to do so. More than this, he said, the bill was so drawn that most of the inspectors would be removed, and the courts could not go back of the report of the inspector.

TURKEY WITH WOODEN LEG

Wild Bird Killed in Virginia—Suppositions of 'Long Shore Hunters.'

In most communities there are certain persons who possess peculiar characteristics, habits and beliefs, and this was true of the long shore sportsman of the Mother State as of persons dwelling elsewhere.

Wild Bird Killed in Virginia—Suppositions of 'Long Shore Hunters.'

Many of the old-time sportsmen still carry and use their muzzle-loading guns, which cannot be displaced by more modern arms. The quality of the shot, of a good many birds and other game and this is chiefly due, it is believed, to their knowledge of the habits of the game. The seldom go out without finding something.

Wild Bird Killed in Virginia—Suppositions of 'Long Shore Hunters.'

A story is told of one gunner who, if any of the birds should fall from his hands while loading his gun, will at once return home and make no further effort to hunt that day, believing, as he says, that those who were in the habit of hunting it would be useless for him to continue the hunt.

Wild Bird Killed in Virginia—Suppositions of 'Long Shore Hunters.'

Another, whom I will call here Capt. Pete, is a sailor and all around sportsman. He loves to tell of his adventures with his dogs and gun, and is seldom seen without them. He tells many stories about the accuracy of Sweet Lips, his gun, and declares he can beat any man in the United States at turkey in the States of Virginia.

Wild Bird Killed in Virginia—Suppositions of 'Long Shore Hunters.'

On the occasion of a turkey hunt near the Rappahannock river, Capt. Pete claimed to have shot a forty-pound wild turkey, for which he was offered $4 cash. The gray whiskers on the turkey's breast were eight inches long, and he had one wooden leg. Here Capt. Pete gives a laugh that could be heard a half-mile away. "Saw he was the biggest turkey I ever saw. There were eighteen fellows in the bunch of us, and four others besides, and all ate a sumptuous meal from one-horn."

Wild Bird Killed in Virginia—Suppositions of 'Long Shore Hunters.'

Uncle Pete says he cannot account for that one wooden leg unless that turkey had been previously owned by someone as a pet wild turkey—Forest and Stream.

Benefits of Food Adulteration.

"Prof. Stillman of Stevens institute, who recently gave a dinner at which most of the viands were manufactured by chemical means, believes that much food adulteration is not really harmful," writes Lawrence Perry in Technical World Magazine.

"I sent my boy to the store to buy a pound of the cheapest raspberry jelly," said Prof. Stillman, by way of explaining his belief. "The boy brought back something which looked and tasted like raspberry jelly, but which never saw a berry. It cost twelve cents. The cheapest possible cost for raspberry jelly—it has been computed—would be thirty cents a pound—the real raspberry jelly. I mean, that represents the bed-rock cost, aside from the labor cost and the profits. Now I analyzed that raspberry jelly and found it was made of apple pulp after the elder was squeezed out, glucose and a few other materials. It is true that it would not appeal to the educated palate, but it brings the luxury of raspberry jelly within the reach of the very poor. It was entirely harmless, and was nourishing. The only harm was the fact that it was labeled raspberry jam, when it should have been labeled as an imitation. I could give you many other instances of a similar kind; but to no different purpose."

COURTS NEED MONEY

Urgent Deficiency Is Reported by the House Appropriation Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—To meet an imperative emergency the House Committee on Appropriations today reported an urgent deficiency bill, making available for immediate use $50,000 of the unexpended appropriation of 1905 for the payment of witnesses and jurors.

Another Expense Account.

The bill also contains an appropriation of $25,000 to pay the expenses of opening certain Indian reservations, which, according to existing law, must be opened before the beginning of the next fiscal year. This amount is to be reimbursed to the treasury from the sale of Indian lands.

Emerald Treasures in Value.

The qualities for which precious stones are mostly prized are luster, transparency, refraction and dispersion of light; although, of course, scarcity and demand are the principal factors determining the market prices; for instance, the emerald today is treble the value it was only a few years ago. This is partly caused by the greater demand, but more on account of the state of war which has cut off the supply from Colombia, from which they principally come, is now engaged, thereby rendering it most difficult for those engaged in the industry to procure them.

Emerald Treasures in Value.

The emerald mines of Colombia, at Boyaca and Cundinamarca, have been worked almost continuously since 1658, and have been the means of supplying the world with most of the emeralds in modern times. There were mines in Upper Egypt which yielded this gem to the nations of antiquity, but good stone last sight of from the time of the Mahomedan conquest until quite recently, when some attempts at working them were made.

Emerald Treasures in Value.

The emerald mines in the Urals were not known until the eighteenth century, and though they yielded fairly good material for a time, their importance is not great, as the stones found are not of good enough quality to pay the rate demanded by the Government from the lessees, but they were reopened in 1890 by a grant of an unlimited access, as far as can be learned.

Emerald Treasures in Value.

There are many stones holding the qualities first mentioned in a high degree, but they are little known, because, in the first place, they are to be obtained in larger quantities, and secondly, because the stone trade cannot therefore make the profits they are able to with the scarcer gems, while because of their abundance and presumably lesser value, they have been given to the native cutters, who do not understand the laws of refraction and reflection, to operate on, with the result that they are put on the market and eventually mounted in jewelry, looking like various colored acid drops, and entirely lacking brilliancy and those sharply defined facets which give that reflection which is the chief charm and makes evident the great difference between the real stone and its imitation.

Emerald Treasures in Value.

The last few years have witnessed the great strides which the various fancy gems have made in the public favor, notably when used in the neck chain; at present these are being made up with all manner of colored stones, and if the manufacturer gives as much attention to the cutting of the stones as does the maker of the settings, he can produce a really delightful ornament—Mines and Mining.

His Peroration.

The following was part of a young attorney's peroration on argument of demurrer in one of the courts recently: "May it please your honor, this is a stupendous question. Its decision by you this day will live in history long after you and shall have passed from this scene of earthly glory and sublimity vanquish when the tower of Pisa shall be forgotten when Waterloo and Borodina shall grow dim in the distant cycles of receding centuries, when the names of Eugene, Marlborough and Napoleon shall no longer be remembered, when the pyramids of the Pharaohs shall have crumbled into dust, when the hippopotamus of the Nile shall be as extinct and imperishable as the case, your honor, originally concerns the case of two new hats and an umbrella."—Exchange.

RELIC OF DE SOTO FOUND

Ancient Spanish Halberd Picked Up in Monroe County, Miss.

A man of Monroe county, Miss., while fishing in the Tombigbee about two miles south of Aberdeen, found in the edge of the river, partly imbedded in the soft mud, an ancient Spanish halberd. There is a peculiar interest in this relic because there is little doubt that it is a relic of the expedition of Hernando de Soto, then on his way unconsciously to the discovery of the mighty river so closely associated with his name. There is no remnant of the wooden handle, the metal is heavily incrustated with rust, and the once keen edges have worn away, but the form of the weapon is well preserved, and when struck against a hard substance the steel rings almost as true as when it left the armorer's hand more than 300 years ago.

It has the spear point on top, battle ax on one side and a curved knife on the other, reminding one of the ancient instructions to the halberdier in training, who was taught that "if the ax stroke should fail to repair his mistake with a prompt thrust of the piked head."

Relic of De Soto Found.

De Soto went into camp for the winter in what is now Pontotoc county, and the remains of his intrenchments were in evidence a few years ago and may possibly be still visible. In April, 1841, he continued his march to the northwest until he reached what is now De Soto county, where he turned due west and camped upon the bluffs overlooking the Mississippi, which he here saw for the first time.

The Latest Gold Field.

Tierra del Fuego is the latest gold field. A stern-wheel paddle boat, just completed by a British firm, is to be sent to Tierra del Fuego for the purpose of carrying the mail by a dredger now at work on the river banks and being gold, and that within a few days the gold of Tierra del Fuego will be sent to Washington.
