

DR. CHARLES' FLESH FOOD

APPLIED AS A COLD CREAM ACTS AS A MEDICINE.

Wherever applied, its healing and nourishment is instantly absorbed by the pores. It strengthens and builds up the tissues underlying the skin and Firm, Healthy Flesh is the result.

DR. CHARLES' FLESH FOOD is no new experiment. It has been in use for more than fifty years and during that time thousands of women and men have used it with entire satisfaction.

That it is not to be classed with "Cold Creams" and other things of like superficial potency is proved by the fact that it is prescribed by leading physicians and used in hospitals for the nutrition of invalids whose stomachs are too weak to digest food.

DR. CHARLES' FLESH FOOD should be used by every woman who has the least desire to be attractive. It is the only preparation that will round out hollowed, thin cheeks or scrawny neck with Firm, Healthy Flesh and Remove Wrinkles from the face and hands, no matter how deep the furrow.

FOR DEVELOPING THE IMMATURE BUST or to make the breast firm, large and beautiful nothing can equal it. To prevent the breasts from shrinking after weaning baby, mothers should always use DR. CHARLES' FLESH FOOD. It will also restore a bosom to its natural contour and beauty lost through nursing and sickness.

HARD WOOD IN GREAT DEMAND

Memphis Man Discusses the Great Growth of the Industry.

HARDWOOD FORESTS ARE VIRTUALLY ALL GONE

Louisiana and Texas Are Now Supplying the Principal Markets.

J. R. Whitesides of Memphis, Tenn., is a guest at the Kenyon, being here to answer the urgent calls made on his firm for hardwood lumber. He has just made a tour of the Northwest and finds the demand equally great. In a general way he said:

"The hardwood forests are nearly all gone from the Mississippi valley States excepting Louisiana and Texas, and our logs come to us from both States. We deal in oak, ash, poplar and hickory, and find it difficult to meet the demand. Foreign lumber cuts no figure in our domestic market, other than for fancy woods for finishing purposes, and the great mass of trade in carriage building, agricultural implements, farm wagons and general railroad equipment still calls for native hardwoods. The furniture trade makes the heaviest drain on our stocks. Everything now must be in quarter-sawn oak, and it is astonishing how few people understand what quarter-sawn oak is. We saw the log a third above its center and then saw it in boards or planks just as the points of the compass go, keeping such a bevel on the log as to preserve the oak markings. It is because of the peculiar oak grain that the wood is sawed in that way. We get as many linear feet as by any other method of sawing, but cannot get wide planks.

Demand Is Great.

"The great forward strides in business make it imperative that we keep up with the demands, and all over the Northwest I booked heavy orders for hardwoods. We use your pine and fir for house building, and so in exchange products.

"We have an asset in our logged-off hardwood lands more valuable than we dreamed of. This land is eagerly sought by Northern people, and where we once had great tangled areas of idle land we now have first-class farms, producing cotton and corn to beat the bard.

"Our logs come to us by rail, the old steamboat methods being abandoned. We scarcely ever send anything by boat that can be shipped by rail. The old steamboat fleet is largely reduced, but we have still some good boats on the river. The new Robert E. Lee is still boss of the river, and makes excellent time between St. Louis and New Orleans. The greatly increased railroad facilities all over the South make it possible to use the roads for almost all purposes. In fact, towing coal and other heavy freight is about the only paying business now on the river. The celebrated Anchor Line steamers yet run, and do a good through passenger traffic between St. Louis and New Orleans. Of course, there are many intermediate lines up and down the river, but the old days of river navigation are gone forever.

Feeling Dying Out.

"Speaking of sectional feeling, let me say, I have been in Memphis for years, and never felt, under any circumstances, that I was a Northern man. We have a club, the 'Tennessee,' in Memphis, and we have old officers of both the Union and Confederate services as members. I have seen a good deal of busy poking fun at each other over alleged 'skedaddling' and 'coffee-cooling' there is a genuine good nature in it all that is good to see. I have found only the soured, ill-natured ones who seem to think it good form to drag in the 'Sunny South' and 'Lost Cause.' Men and women of action in the South, as well as in the North, are in the present, 'act in the living present, heart within, and God overhead.' It is notable that in all my residence there I never met a Northern man who obstructed the fact that he was such on anybody.

"I recall an instance of an evening party at a home in Memphis, to which a young gentleman friend of mine, newly arrived, was invited, and when the time for music arrived the daughter of the house went to the piano and sang 'The Bonnie Blue Flag.' My young friend possessed a good tenor voice and was being pressed to sing, gave Julia Ward Howe's 'Battle Hymn of the Republic,' and the host admired the song, and complimented the singer. The New South is a vital fact, and we know but one country and one flag."

SENSATIONAL SUIT IN DISTRICT COURT

William Ferrell Says He Was Given Decidedly the Worst of It.

SETTING ASIDE OF DEED IS RELIEF ASKED FOR

If Deed Is Not Set Aside, the Plaintiff Asks for $2500 Judgment.

An action was filed in the Third District court Saturday by William Ferrell against Frederick A. Wiswell, John W. Ball, Frank H. Clark and Etta O'Nash, in which Wiswell, Ball and Clark are charged with securing a deed to certain property, owned by the plaintiff, by fraudulent means, taking advantage of the plaintiff's ignorance and through misrepresentations to the plaintiff inducing him to sign certain papers through which they gained title to his property.

What Complaint Alleges.

The complaint filed in the case sets forth the following allegations: That the plaintiff, since September, 1905, has been the owner of part of lot 12, block 21, plat A, Big Field survey, containing about five acres of ground, and also of five shares of the capital stock of the Big Cottonwood Lower canal; that the plaintiff is old and unfamiliar with general methods of conducting business; that Clark, who is a lawyer, on September 25, 1905, induced the plaintiff to sign a certain instrument, purporting to convey the land and stock above described to Clark, the conveyance to be made at some future time and in consideration for which Clark agreed to give the plaintiff 4000 shares of stock in a company which was to be organized for the purpose of exploiting some new ore-reducing machinery and was also to pay the defendant $100 in cash; that Clark also represented to the plaintiff that patents were owned on the machinery mentioned, which had been secured from the United States Government.

Prayer of Plaintiff.

The plaintiff further alleges that he has never received any consideration for his property and that Clark had the deed to the property recorded on or

Most physics cause chronic constipation—or worse

Chronic constipation, piles, appendicitis and other such intestinal afflictions are more often caused by improper physics than anything else. The average physic, whether it is in the form of a water, candy, piller, or pill, is intended to quickly and unnaturally move the bowels. Such an unnatural treatment so shocks and weakens the intestinal muscles that the continued treatment of stronger and stronger physics becomes necessary. This produces chronic constipation.

Piles and appendicitis are caused by the violent manner in which these explosive drugs attack the intestines.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

In the ordinary sense is not a cathartic. It is a laxative but acts differently from all other preparations. It contains great tonic properties, which strengthen instead of weaken the intestinal muscles. It is pleasant to take, does not gripe or cause pain, and never creates a necessity for the continual use of any physic. All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

about November 14, 1905, and that Clark and his wife executed a purported deed of conveyance of the property to the fourth defendant, Etta O'Nash, who accepted the same, knowing it to be fraudulent.

The plaintiff asks the court to declare the conveyance and deed null and void, or, in case the deed is not set aside, that judgment be declared in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $2500, which, it is alleged, is the value of the property and stock.

How to Kill a Mosquito.

In a communication which we have received from a well-known citizen of Meridian, Miss., the following suggestion is thrown out for the construction of a mosquito destroyer: "Why may not an apparatus on the order of the electric circular fan be made and used for destroying mosquitoes? The little whirling fans now used to agitate the air, and thus make the heat less oppressive, blow the mosquitoes with which the current comes in contact away from the machine. Now if the machine be reversed so that the current is toward and into the apparatus, I believe the mosquito, and possibly house flies also, in a room would be sucked into or against the machine and it could be so constructed as to either kill or capture them. Mean while the apparatus, drawing the air toward it, would serve the same purpose as the out current machine in reference to agitating the atmosphere, thus there would be no additional expense of consequence. If one machine would not work effectively, two certainly would; one machine working the current outwardly and the other set opposite to it, sucking the air into it. There is no doubt in my mind that a room could thus be rid of mosquitoes. This plan might work, but we doubt it. After all, the best way to kill mosquitoes is to pounce upon 'em at the threshold, when the wiggles are about to swap their paddles for wings, and smother 'em to death with oil-
