

CRAZY MAN SAYS HE IS MURDERER

Sensation in Trial of Steve Adams as Stranger Appears and Confesses Guilt.

ROOSEVELT'S DAUGHTER SENT HIM, HIS DELUSION

Will Be Taken to Asylum; Policy of the Defense Yet Remains a Secret.

WALLACE, Ida., Feb. 20.—It is the man that killed the hand. I am the man that killed Fred Tyler. Turn all these other fellows loose for I am the man that done the deed.

This was the announcement which Judge Wood's court this morning. A small dark stranger with long black hair and a stubby beard was standing up beside Steve Adams, proclaiming himself guilty of the crime for which Adams is on trial. A court officer followed. Mrs. Adams burst into tears. Adams himself turned pale. Seized by two officers the dark stranger was hurried from the court room to the sheriff's office. There he said his name was Patrick C. Ryan of Deer Lodge penitentiary for stealing mutton and after being released he had gone to Burke, where Roosevelt's daughter had told him to come to Wallace and take charge of this case. He said if Adams was convicted an earthquake would destroy the Court House. Ryan will be committed to the asylum.

Unknown Is Defendant.

Adams says he did not know the man. This morning was taken up mainly with reading the testimony given by Coroner Keys at the preliminary hearing, the attorneys having agreed to this method owing to the coroner's illness. His testimony relates largely to the condition of the body of Tyler and surroundings where it was found in the woods. The reading was not concluded when court adjourned at noon.

While the defense still conceals its policy, signs have led to the predictions that Adams' attorneys will endeavor to cast doubt on the identification of Tyler's body and will also uphold the theory that Adams was not in the Marquette creek region at the time this murder occurred. Adams is beginning to show some signs of the severe strain and at times appears worried and uneasy.

Mrs. Adams also has given signs of nervousness as the State masses its evidence.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions, which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, unadulterated glycerine, taking the place of the commonly used alcohol. In its make-up, in this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little box of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

COUNTY ATTORNEY PROTECTS A FRIEND

Willard Hanson Resents Appearance of Special Counsel to Prosecute Case.

County Attorney Willard Hanson has refused to permit Attorney A. B. Edler to prosecute the State in prosecuting Martin F. Hoben, of Bingham, on a charge of ruining Edna Thomas, a young girl of Bingham, although Mr. Edler has been employed by the girl's mother and her friends to assist the prosecution.

Hoben was a schoolmate of the county attorney and a classmate at college, it is said, of Mr. Hanson's assistant, David M. Haigh. A marked reluctance on the part of the county attorney's office to prosecute him on a felony has been visible for some time. Last October the mother of the girl complained to the county attorney's office that Hoben had ruined her daughter, and a warrant was issued for his arrest on a charge which is a mere misdemeanor under the Utah statutes. This warrant was issued by Justice of the peace Lee of Bingham, and, at the request of the defendant, was transferred to the court of Justice of Peace Williams of Bingham Junction, where it is still pending.

In January the mother, feeling that the case was not being pressed as it should be, again demanded action on the part of the county attorney, and a warrant was issued charging Hoben with a felony. Justice Williams again transferred the case to Justice Williams, and, in the meantime, Mr. Edler was retained to assist in the prosecution.

The case was set down before Justice Williams for preliminary examination last Saturday. Mr. Edler appeared, and was at once notified by Mr. Haigh, who was on hand to represent the county attorney's office, that he would not be permitted to assist in the prosecution. Mr. Edler then decided to remain and witness the proceedings, when the attorney for the defense demanded that he be excluded from the room. The justice was inclined to grant the order, until Mr. Edler declined to leave the courtroom despite the court's order. He was then accused of being present to represent the newspapers and bring disgrace on Hoben. This Mr. Edler denied with emphasis.

Finally Mr. Haigh grew impatient. "I'll either dismiss this case or ask for a continuance," he said. "I will not be concluded to ask for the continuance, and the case was set down for hearing next Saturday."

Mr. Hanson, when asked for the version of the case yesterday, said that he had decided upon a policy of allowing the special counsel to represent the State in an criminal case.

"Our office," said Mr. Hanson, "is perfectly capable of attending to the interests of the State. As for Mr. Edler he is, no," replied the reporter, jocularly. "I understand he is merely a member of the American party."

"That's simply another reason why he is a—," exclaimed Mr. Hanson, quivering with rage.

The mother of the girl telephoned Assistant County Attorney Job B. Lyon yesterday afternoon asking him to prosecute Hoben Saturday, but Mr. Lyon will be unable to do so unless assigned to the case by Mr. Hanson. Otherwise Mr. Hoben will be prosecuted by his good friend and classmate, Mr. Haigh.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by all leading druggists.

PE-RU-NA RELIEVES STUBBORN COLDS.

Mr. Jacob W. Star, President Civil Service Retiring Association, also Secretary of Weights and Measures, Camden, N. J., writes from 1331 Wallach Place, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I wish to give my unqualified endorsement of Pe-Ru-na as the best possible remedy for dizziness and constipation, and without an equal as a tonic for the weakening effects of a long and stubborn cold. I have tried it thoroughly, and speak from a complete experience. It is excellent as a tonic."

Neglected Colds Lead to Many Ailments.

A SETTLED cold is a dangerous disease. It paves the way for many other ailments.

A stubborn cold may result in chronic catarrh of the head or nasal passages. It may produce a persistent form of pharyngitis.

If the cold settles in the larynx or bronchial tubes it gives rise to continued hoarseness or a cough that is difficult to relieve.

A cold may settle in nearly any organ in the body, and very quickly lead to organic disease of that organ.

Any remedy that can relieve stubborn cold is of untold value to the human family.

For many years Pe-Ru-na has been used by a multitude of people for colds. Whenever ordinary remedies fail to relieve a cold Pe-Ru-na is resorted to. It seldom, if ever, fails.

An Announcement and an Invitation

OUTFITTERS FOR WOMEN

TO THE LADIES OF SALT LAKE CITY:

It will be our pleasure next week to present to you the achievement of two world famous Parisiennes—Mme. Fouldie de Gras, the painter, and Margaine La Croix, the modiste, who was awarded the grand prize at the Paris exposition for the most artistic creation in gowns. The united geniuses of these two extraordinary leaders in their respective arts made perhaps the most revolutionary advance ever discovered in woman's dress.

The pictures of Mme. Fouldie de Gras, hung in honor places in the art galleries of Europe and America, and the gowns by Mme. Margaine La Croix for European nobility and the women of America's smartest set, were the precursors of this most artistic product. Working together they seemed "to snatch a grace beyond the reach of art." Unfettered by narrow precedents, approaching a labor of love with spirits unhampered and freed from set rules by their art training, with no wrong principles learned to follow, and with only NOW and their great art as a foundation they evolved and built a new corset—a corset essentially different from any hitherto known—a corset with all the qualities of true elegance, symmetrical beauty, refined taste and poetic attraction.

Mme. Fouldie de Gras, understanding to a nicety the value of art and its lines, contributed this knowledge and invented the patentable features of the corset. Mme. Margaine La Croix, as the artistic dressmaker, understood to perfection the construction of a correctly fitting garment. The combination was ideal. It had been the province of one to paint, the other to gown, the world's most charming examples of femininity. Their two arts blended and their achievement was ideal, too.

Written description cannot do this clever French idea in corsetry justice. We give you only an anticipatory hint when we tell you that these corsets—"L'Inresistible" and "The Gossard"—LACE IN FRONT. Instead of endeavoring to describe them we extend a sincere and cordial invitation to come and see for yourself this foundation for a perfect costume at the exploitation demonstration which will be given in our corset section commencing next Monday morning, under the personal supervision of Mme. Fardessee, expert corsetiere.
