

DAVID H. MOFFAT VISITS SALT LAKE

Gives Assurance That His Road Will Be Hastened to Completion.

TUNNEL THROUGH THE ROCKIES IS BUILDING

Every Effort Will Be Made to Put New Line in Shape for Business.

David H. Moffat, head of the Moffat road, registered at the Knutsford yesterday. The object of the present trip on the part of Mr. Moffat and associates, who accompany him, W. G. Evans, president of the Denver City Tramway company; F. B. Blison, vice-president of the International Trust company, Denver, of which Mr. Moffat is president; H. S. Sumner, chief engineer of the Moffat road; W. A. Deuel, general manager of the road, and S. M. Perry, a director, is to make final selection of a right of way for the road, bearing upon the direction or line along which it will approach Salt Lake City.

ARTHUR F. BARNES TO RETIRE FROM COUNCIL

Veteran Third Ward Democrat Says He Has Had Enough of Public Life.

Arthur F. Barnes, the veteran Councilman from the Third ward, has announced to his Democratic friends that he will not be a candidate for re-nomination this fall. Mr. Barnes says he is too busy to attend further to his Councilman's duties, and for that reason will retire. His party would probably renominate him unanimously were he to signify a wish for another term.

ONE IN THREE

Every Third Person Poisoned by Coffee.

It is difficult to make people believe that coffee is an absolute poison to at least one person out of every three, but people are slowly finding it out, although thousands of them suffer terribly before they discover the fact.

DEMANDS CESSATION OF THE GRETNA GREEN

Davis County Paper Wants the "Marrying" Fame of Farmington Stopped.

Special to The Tribune, Utah, Sept. 6.—The notoriety which Farmington has achieved as a place for eloping persons from Salt Lake to come and get married is the subject of a leading editorial in this week's issue of the Davis County Argus, which raps Elder George H. Blood, County Treasurer, over the knuckles, for his willingness to marry all who may apply.

DR. FRANK A. LANGE DIES OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Dr. Frank A. Lange, of the New York Dental company, died Friday morning at the home, 428 East Seventh South, of Bright's disease. Dr. Lange has suffered from the disease for a long time, but it was only Wednesday that he was taken critically ill. A physician was called, but Dr. Lange grew worse, and death followed at 1 o'clock Friday morning.

DIVORCE MILL GRINDS RAPIDLY

Several Mismatched Couples Are Granted Separation in District Court.

TRAVELING MAN TO PAY HEAVY ALIMONY

Ira Horton Must Give His Wife $85 a Month by Order of Judge Morse.

Judge Morse held the usual weekly divorce mill Friday afternoon and loosed the bonds of several unhappy couples. The tales of married unhappiness were devoid of anything more than ordinary devotion, and the knots were cut on the lumpy-a-reporter on a local paper.

The first to appear was Marguerite Dodson. She told the court that she married Mark M. Dodson in Laramie, Wyo., March 18, 1904, that after their marriage they removed to Salt Lake, and that since May, 1902, she had no idea where he was, and has been forced to earn her living as a domestic servant.

Sue Horton was granted a divorce from Ira C. Horton, a traveling man, and was also awarded alimony in the sum of $85 a month. Mrs. Horton is a prematurely white-haired woman, and was well dressed. She testified that she married Mr. Horton at Rochester, Minn., in 1887, and that they had three minor children. Since May, 1902, she testified, he had refused to live with her, although he had supported her. She said he was earning $150 a month, if not more. The wife was given the custody of her three children.

Della M. Mosey was granted a divorce from Lewis H. Mosey, a structural iron worker. They were married in Salt Lake March 7, 1888, and the wife says she deserted her husband the following August. Since May, 1902, she testified, he had failed to support her.

Anna Anderson was granted a divorce from Albert E. Anderson, a gambler, who left Salt Lake and his wife, when the American party came into power in January, 1905, and closed gambling in Salt Lake. His wife testified that since leaving her, her husband had not supported her. They were married in Salt Lake July 15, 1896, and have no children.

Jennie P. Nicholson was granted a divorce from James Hunter Nicholson, formerly a reporter on a local paper. The couple were married in Pennsylvania June 14, 1895, and came to Salt Lake in April, 1906. The following August Nicholson was sent by his paper to report the National Irrigation congress at Boise, Ida., and never returned. His wife was given the custody of their one child.

The divorce suit of Gertrude E. Anderson against Robert L. Anderson, manager of the Decker Exchange, was dismissed, upon motion of the plaintiff. Attorney P. J. Daly, who represented Mrs. Anderson, said to the court that an amicable settlement of the suit had been agreed upon. Mrs. Anderson, in her complaint, charged her husband with non-support. Terry began suit in the District court Friday against John W. Terry for divorce. They were married at Farmington, Utah, May 11, 1904. Since March 25, 1906, the wife alleges, her husband has failed to support her. She asks for the custody of their one child.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active.
