

each day. He denied that there was any manipulation of prices of export oil by the Standard or any intention to make things disagreeable for the independents. When questioned about the oil fight in Colorado, in which the Continental and Rocky Mountain companies engaged, Mr. Tilford said that all he knew was that the independents started the fight.

COUNTY ATTORNEY NO COLLECTION AGENCY

Would Not Be Party to Getting an Attorney a Fee.

Assistant County Attorney Job P. Lyon, in the case of D. R. McDonald, charged with uttering and passing bogus checks—thereby obtaining money under false pretenses—emphatically declared in Judge C. B. Diehl's court Monday morning that the County Attorney's office, as far as he could object, would not act as a collection agency for anyone, particularly an attorney.

McDonald, it will be recalled, last week paid for automobile hire and drinks in worthless checks upon the National Bank of the Republic and the Utah Savings and Trust company to the amount of nearly $200. He was arrested and placed in the county jail. He telegraphed to his father, a wealthy attorney at Los Angeles, who sent him enough money to settle the worthless checks. His creditors accepted the payments with one exception, the Jubilee saloon on Commercial street. It is said that the attorney for that concern told McDonald would settle if he would pay the amount of the bogus checks, $65, and $100 additional as attorney's fees.

There a hitch came, apparently, that was reported to the attention of Mr. Lyon.

Mr. Lyon recommended that McDonald be fined $25 and the recommendation was followed by the court.

The case against Press Jackson for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm was dismissed on motion of Assistant County Attorney David M. Haigh. The reason for the dismissal was the failure of the principal witness for the State, Love Harris, a negro, to appear. Jackson and Harris, the morning of June 25, fought a duel on Franklin avenue over a negro, Jennie Harris. Jackson was wounded three times and Harris twice. Jackson lay in St. Mark's hospital several days in a serious condition.

Mr. Porter, charged with intoxication, pleaded guilty and asked to be given a thirty-day sentence. His request was granted.

Beginning Wednesday State cases will be heard at 10 o'clock in the morning and city cases in the afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WIVES APPLY FOR DIVORCE DECREES

Desertion and Cruelty Are the Grounds Upon Which Actions Are Based.

STORIES OF ILL-TREATMENT RELATED TO THE COURT

Mrs. Moroni W. Wagstaff, Mrs. Silas S. Jones and Mrs. U. D. Erwin the Plaintiffs.

Because she says her husband, Moroni W. Wagstaff, has been guilty of extreme cruelty to her and has frequently made false accusations, M. Marie Wagstaff has brought suit for divorce in the District court.

Mrs. Wagstaff asserts in her complaint that her husband has frequently accused her of consorting with other men, and that he has employed certain persons to watch her movements.

As an evidence of his cruelty, she declares that on one occasion while visiting friends in Sautquin last July he telephoned from that city that her 18-year-old daughter was dying, which she states was untrue.

Mrs. Wagstaff asks the court to grant her a decree of divorce and reasonable attorney's fees, and that her husband be required to retain the custody and care of an adopted child, Gladys A. Wagstaff, 7 years of age. The Wagstoffs were married in this city January 26, 1904.

After thirty years of married life Mrs. Mary Jones and her husband, Silas S. Jones, sr., have concluded that they were mismatched, so the former has applied for a divorce.

The allegation of Mrs. Jones's complaint, filed Monday, declares that her husband has treated her in a most brutal and inhuman manner.

She says that on several occasions Jones has accused her in the presence of her 5-year-old son of adultery and unfaithfulness. She denies these statements made by her husband, attributing them to his jealous disposition. Finally, she says his treatment of her became unbearable. She asks for a decree of divorce and the custody of their minor child. The complaint says they were married July 9, 1877, at Butteville.

Desertion and failure to provide for her the necessities of life is the basis of an action for divorce brought by Mrs. Annie E. C. Erwin in the District court Monday.

She says that her husband, Uriah D. Erwin, deserted her on January 1 of this year, failing and refusing since that time to furnish her with support. The Erwins were married April 5, 1902, and have no children.

ACTIVITY AT STATE UNIVERSITY BEGINS. The second week of school opened at the university, Monday, with a much larger number of students present than last week, and with a much changed attitude among these students as to work. In every class the lessons were assigned and the students in the manner customary after school has been in session for months. A general sentiment pervades the school that the time for work has begun and that if things were a little lax last week they will not be again in the future. The view that last week was not supposed to be full of strictest discipline is carried out in that the discipline committee, which threatened many things when classes were out last Friday, observes the freshmen more rush, has as yet not ordered any of the offenders on the carpet.

Student activities are beginning to assert themselves. Save for the issue of the school paper a week ago, and the election of freshmen class officers, nothing along this line has been done. President Richard W. Young, Jr., of the associated student body, has called a meeting of the executive board for Tuesday afternoon, when the regular student body membership cards will be issued. Next Friday, if possible, the election of an editor of the Chronicle will be held to succeed Anton R. Ivina, who will not return to school. The executive board of the student body is managing the affairs of the paper until an editor shall be chosen.

Salt Lake City VS. New York Chicago

There is a fallacious idea among many people that millinery bought in New York or Chicago is less expensive than if bought in Salt Lake City. Banks, 116 South Main street, give these facts, compiled from the experience of twenty years in the business in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Denver and Salt Lake City.

New York and Chicago dealers pay $12,000 to $36,000 a year for rents alone; other expenses are correspondingly high. The cost of doing business in these cities runs from 25 per cent to 27 per cent of their gross sales.

Rents and other expenses being less in Salt Lake, Banks' conduct their business on 18 to 19 per cent of their gross sales. Add to this 5 per cent of the net cost of the goods at factories for freight, the same goods from the same hands are laid down in this city and can be sold for 4 per cent less than a New York or Chicago retailer or jobber can offer them for.

This is done every day in the week, but the old saying, "A prophet is with out honor in his own home" still holds good in Zion.

WILL CHOOSE APOSTLE AT MORMON CONFERENCE

Several Are Willing, but Joseph F. Smith Has Not Yet Given the Sign.

The seventy-eighth semi-annual conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will be held at the Tabernacle for three days beginning Friday, October 4, at 10 a. m. Interest in this session centers in the possible selection of a successor to Apostle George Teasdale, who died a short time ago.

Besides the successor of Apostle Teasdale, President Joseph F. Smith should prove of interest as heretofore. Last spring the declaration of a fine church's standing on several subjects was issued at his direction, to the world at large. This followed immediately after Reed Smoot was safely married in his seat at Washington. The political situation of Salt Lake may or may not call forth some comment from President Smith.

Among the possible tilters for the position made vacant by the death of Apostle Teasdale, are B. H. Roberts, the fiery orator; Ben Rich, a deceased apostle's son; Charles W. Nibley, a sugar king in a small way in Utah and Idaho; William Rudge, president of the Logan temple; and George C. Parkins, of Preston, Ida. All have been suggested before, and in a gentle way each has suggested that "Ezekiel is willing," but President Smith has taken counsel elsewhere, and all have been left "waiting at the church."

MRS. SUMMERS MAY RECOVER FROM INJURIES

Mrs. Collin M. Summers, who is alleged to have been brutally assaulted by her husband, a barkeeper, last week, is recovering from her injuries, according to police reports, suffering two hemorrhages of the lungs. At intervals she lapsed back into the unconscious condition in which she lay for three or four days after the assault. Sunday night, at the instance of N. A. Fredericksen, brother-in-law of the injured woman, two additional physicians were called to make a thorough examination of Mrs. Summers was made. The physicians believe she will recover.

Summers, suffering much mental agony in his cell at the city jail over the affair. He claims that he does not know anything about what took place when he is supposed to have made the assault upon Mrs. Summers. In the event of Mrs. Summers' death he will be charged with grave offense.

TIGHTNESS OF MONEY AFFECTS BROKERS ONLY

After a two-weeks' trip to the East, Cashier Joseph Nelson of the National bank and Manager Langford of Saltair bank, have returned home. The purpose of their trip was to inspect the pleasure resorts of the West, with a view to getting ideas for the improving of Saltair. Speaking of the present tight money conditions, Mr. Nelson stated that there should be no apprehension as to a possible panic in Eastern markets. He explained that the present tightness of money is due to the fact that the banks are calling in brokers' loans and lending money to railroads and industrial and manufacturing enterprises, with the result that the brokers find themselves short of funds, and are disposing of their former securities with little regard to their purchase price, in consequence of the dumping of the securities on the market, their prices have greatly declined.

Forestry Course for A. C. U.

Some time ago Governor Cutler wrote a letter to Gifford Pinchot, of the forestry service at Washington, for the purpose of interesting the government in establishing a course of forestry in the Agricultural college of this State. James B. Adams, assistant secretary of the Agricultural College, has written Governor Cutler that his department is very much interested in the plan and the matter had been referred to Mr. Price, the associate forester. Mr. Price is now in the West, but will stop in Salt Lake for several days before his return to Washington.

Land Office Applications.

The commissioner of the general land office at Washington, D.
