

C. J. THIRKILL'S CHECKS NOT GOOD

He Is Arrested for Passing Worthless Paper on a Saloon.

RELEASED LATER ON HIS RECOGNIZANCE

Resorts to Attempted Bribery to Keep Facts From the Newspapers.

C. J. Thirkill, about thirty years of age, formerly a clerk in the employ of the Oregon Short Line railroad, was taken into custody about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Sperry, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. His attorney, J. W. Stringfellow, appeared before Judge Diehl in police court, shortly afterward, with his client, and asked that the hearing in the case be continued until today. The request was granted, and Thirkill was released on his personal recognizance to appear today.

It is alleged that Thirkill passed a worthless check for $15, drawn on the National Bank of the Republic, on Frank Winzell, proprietor of the Owl saloon, on Second South street, near State street, on Monday. Mr. Winzell is the complainant in the case, and, although only one offense is charged, Mr. Winzell said Tuesday that Thirkill passed another check for $15, and a third one for $10 to the bartender during his absence Monday night. Mr. Winzell presented the three checks at the National Bank of the Republic Tuesday morning, only to find out, as he says, that Thirkill had no funds on deposit in the institution.

A warrant for Thirkill's arrest was immediately sworn out, and Deputy Sheriff Sperry and Detective Chiles of the local police began a search. Both officers came upon Thirkill about the same time at the Owl saloon, and he was placed under arrest. In addition to the charge against him, Thirkill succeeded Tuesday in getting in debt to the sum of $40 for the hire of an automobile, used in an early morning revelry with several disreputable women. Soon after Judge Diehl continued the hearing in his case Tuesday, Thirkill called up the representatives of two of the morning newspapers over the telephone and informed them that there was a "piece of money in it" for them if they would suppress the news of his arrest.

TO THE PUBLIC—NOTICE

On account of sickness I am forced to retire from business, so I have engaged Mr. C. E. Osterloh to dispose of my entire stock of unredeemed pledges at auction. The stock consists of over $20,000 worth of watches, diamonds, jewelry, musical instruments and a general stock of merchandise usually found in a place of this kind. Having been in business here for over twenty years, I can truthfully say that I believe I have a line of goods that will give entire satisfaction to any one buying at this sale. Over four hundred gold watches, $5,000 in diamonds alone. Guns, pistols, music boxes, typewriters; also fixtures for sale. Everything must be sold regardless of value. Sale starts Saturday evening, September 29, continuing until all is sold, and if you want good values be sure and attend this sale. Thanking you for past favors, I remain, respectfully,

DR. L. W. HARTMAN ISSUES A LABORATORY MANUAL

A laboratory manual of experiments in physics to be used by the college students of the university has just been issued by Dr. Leon W. Hartman, who is in charge of this branch at the institution. The book contains nearly a hundred experiments, each of which illustrates a fundamental principle. The experiments are embraced under the following headings: Mechanics, sound, heat, electricity and magnetism and light. The book is perhaps the first of its kind issued in Utah. All the mathematical symbols, which are ordinarily only made in large Eastern printing establishments, appear in the book. The volume is profusely illustrated with diagrams, all of which are original with the author.

COUNT WHO DESERTED BRIDE IS ARRESTED

He Is Wanted on a Charge of Passing a Worthless Check.

The local police authorities are in receipt of information, telling of the recent arrest in Baltimore, Md., of Count Von Berghelmer, who is wanted here on the charge of passing a worthless check on the Freed Furniture company, and whose marriage in this city two months ago to Miss Peterson of Sugar Ward attracted considerable attention. The honeymoon of the couple was short-lived, as soon after they left for Germany, as was announced, the count deserted his bride and she returned to her parents in this city. As soon as the news of the arrest of the count arrived yesterday, the evidence against him was placed in the hands of the County Attorney, and it is expected that Governor Cutler will be asked to issue requisition papers in order that the man may be brought back here for trial.

In making known the wedding here, the count wrote out announcements of the event, in which it was said that he would present his bride to his noble

THROWN FROM WAGON IN RUNAWAY MISHAP

Joseph Ward and His Wife Are Painfully Hurt as the Result.

Joseph Ward, a ranchman living at Brighton, was slightly but painfully hurt, and his wife was seriously injured in a runaway accident and a collision of the wagon in which they were riding with a heavy drag on Second South and Fourth West streets about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Both were taken to St. Mark's hospital and given medical attention. Mr. Ward sustained a severely wrenched back and a bad bruise on the right hip, while his wife received several small lacerations and contusions on the back of her head and several bruises on her back. It is expected that both will recover in a short time.

As they were driving west on Second South street, near Fourth West street, their horse, which was attached to a light farm wagon, became frightened at a passing automobile and ran away. Mr. Ward did his best to check the speed of the frenzied animal, but to no avail. The horse pursued a zig-zag course down the street and when about midway between Fourth and Fifth West streets struck a rear wheel of a heavy drag. The collision completely upset the farm wagon, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward were thrown out with considerable force. Dr. S. C. Baldwin happened on the scene shortly after the accident and accompanied the couple to St. Mark's hospital in the police patrol.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mott I. Newhouse, after spending some ten days in Salt Lake and vicinity looking after his mining and real estate interests, left for New York Monday evening, where he will be later joined by his friend, Jules Porges, who came here with him, but who will remain here several days longer as the guest of Samuel Newhouse. After spending some time in New York together they will return to Paris. They expressed themselves as having had a pleasant experience in Salt Lake and were favorably impressed with the country and this city's brilliant future.

HOARD TEACHING IN SCOTFIELD NOW

Deserted Wife's Letters Lead to Discovery of the Man.

YOUNG WOMAN HAS A NEIGHBORING SCHOOL

Said to Be the One Mrs. Hoard Has Written About.

It appears from reliable sources, after inquiry made Tuesday, that Garfield Hoard, alias Bert G. Hoard, who is said to have deserted his wife at Madison, Ind. several weeks ago, is in charge of a school at Scofield, Carbon county. A few miles away from Scofield, at Winter Quarters in the same county, there is a young lady in charge of a school who is said to have been the one whom Mrs. Hoard accused.

Rumors are afloat that the two teachers are constantly together after school hours, while the little woman whom he deserted is hoping each day to hear from her husband. It was reported that the person whom he gave as a reference at the time that his wife learned of his whereabouts, which asked, why he did not present an itemized bill, Neelands declared one had already been presented. Mrs. Runswick testified that he became abusive, struck her on the head, choked her and dealt her a blow in the stomach.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON COMBINATIONS

The National Civic Federation has called a national conference of combinations and trusts to be held in Chicago, October 22 to 25, and has invited the Commercial club of this city to appoint three delegates to participate in the convention.

The following are some of the topics which will be discussed in this meeting:
1. The Government power over corporations engaged in interstate commerce; the division of power under the Constitution between the Nation and the State, power concurrent in Nation and State.

2. How should the corporation be constructed? Should there be National corporations as well as State? the basis of capitalization of corporations; their internal control; provisions looking to the protection of investors and the stockholders, as well as fair dealings with the public; distinction between public service and other corporations.

3. The just and practicable limits of the restriction and regulation of Federal and State of combinations in transportation, production and distribution and labor.

CONVICTED OF BEATING WOMAN OVER A BILL

Abraham Neelands, a hardware merchant of 69 West First South street, was found guilty yesterday before Judge Diehl in police court of assaulting Mrs. Nora Neelands of 299 South Fourth East street, Saturday. At the close of the trial, Judge Diehl announced that he would impose a fine of $100. The evidence showed that Neelands went to the Runswick residence and presented a bill for some hardware. When Mrs. Runswick asked why he did not present an itemized bill, Neelands declared one had already been presented. Mrs. Runswick testified that he became abusive, struck her on the head, choked her and dealt her a blow in the stomach.

POST NOTICE ON REV. J. C. BELL

Trustees of African M. Church Accept Resignation and Take Action.

REFUSE TO ACCEPT HIS PROPOSITION

Trouble the Outgrowth of a Percentage Plan to Pay Off Church Debt.

"The board of trustees of African M. E. church announce they have received and accepted resignation of their pastor, the Rev. J. C. Bell. All persons are notified that he is no longer authorized to accept any contributions to pay off debt on the new church, which has just been completed on East 8 South."

The foregoing statement was issued by the board of trustees of one of two colored peoples' churches of Salt Lake Tuesday, as the result of a special meeting which was held Monday evening to consider a proposition submitted by Rev. Mr. Bell had submitted. Mr. Bell, as pastor of their church according to a statement made by one of the trustees, is paid $500 a year household expenses. Just exactly what the board of trustees proposed over a year the members of the church have been soliciting funds for a new building. They still need $3000 to pay off the debt on their $7000 edifice. Mr. Bell, like all other members of the church, and particularly the trustees, has been busy soliciting funds to clear this debt.

The proposition which he submitted to the board eight days ago was that the $500 salary and other emoluments remain the same, but that he give Mr. Bell a percentage of money which he should collect for the church. This percentage was to be 50 per cent, with the 50 per cent to be retained by the board. Mr. Bell did not accept the proposition, and made it understood that his resignation was in the hands of the trustees.

Monday evening the trustees and took the course outlined, refusing to consider the proposition, both on the basis that they had no right to money donated for the building, and secondly, that they did not like the percentage in the field of solicitors. The members of the board of trustees have not decided what step they take next, but Rev. Charles Hubbs of Denver is the presiding elder of the district, and he is to be notified of the board's action. He will have power to suggest a successor to Bell, and the trustees will pass final upon his appointment.

The colored congregations have much difficulty in the past in collecting funds for their church, but recently they have taken protective steps to prevent further harm. On one or two occasions persons have solicited their name, and have later been found to be fakes. Last March such a case was unearthed by The Tribune. A colored woman solicited at the W. growers and Lumbermen's convention for one of the churches, and secured a great sum of money. She made a denial of the charge that she was collecting money under false pretenses which she solicited for the Y. M. C. A.

One of the members of the board of trustees in the field of solicitors, and reasons why the board could not consider Rev. Mr. Bell's proposition. Trustees, he said, desire to secure more for their church, but they do not wish to use as a pretext to secure money for other purposes.

WANTS ACCOUNTING AND RECEIVER APPOINTED

Charging that Louis Bamberg, president and Joseph Oberndorfer, secretary and treasurer, of the De Lamar Bond Gold Mining company were guilty of mismanagement of the assets of the company, Ernest H. Greene has brought suit in the District court asking that a receiver be appointed to take charge of all assets of the company under the direction of the court.

In one of the paragraphs of his complaint, Bamberg and Oberndorfer have at certain times disposed of the treasury stock of the company for the funds. Other charges of dissipation of the assets of the company are alleged.

Besides asking for a receiver, Greene wants judgment for $3057.03, which claims is due him by the company.
