

MORE SHOWERS ARE COMING THIS WAY

Dr. Hyatt Makes an Effort to Explain the Peculiar Weather Conditions.

"It's a freak of nature," declared Dr. Hyatt with marked emphasis, Tuesday afternoon in regard to the prevailing atmospheric conditions. He returned in the forenoon from Modena, where he has been since last Saturday on a business visit, and, upon being asked about the conditions in the southern part of the state, said the people of that section were enjoying the best of weather. The storm, which at Great Salt Lake thus confining its effects to the valley and immediate vicinity.

The doctor says that the two low pressure areas which were centered over Arizona and Montana, Monday, have moved west in direct opposition to the wave of nature, and the high pressure, which was centered over Oregon, and which at a late hour Monday night was moving this way, has entirely disappeared. Concerning the conditions elsewhere Tuesday, he said:

"The low barometric pressure over the plateau and Rocky mountain slope has changed but little, and extends northward to British Columbia, causing showers over portions of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah, and the British possessions. Showers are also reported over portions of Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas, Illinois, Massachusetts and Gulf States. Heavy rainfall is reported over Alberta and Oklahoma. Over the lake region the barometric pressure is high.

The low pressure over this section will cause showers and cooler weather Wednesday." Tuesday's record at the Salt Lake office of the United States weather bureau for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 p. m. was as follows:

Temperature at 6 p. m., 50.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Joseph Stiz, who has been convicted of illegally voting under the names of Charles Mallen, was today sentenced to a year in prison in passing sentence, Judge Foster said the prisoner's good reputation would have earned him a suspended sentence in any less serious offense, but in this case he felt bound to take away from him the right to ever again cast a ballot.

A beautiful church wedding Tuesday evening was that of Miss Leila Stingley, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stingley, and J. Campbell, at St. Paul's church at 8 o'clock. Miss Stingley, who was given away by her father, wore an elegant gown of white chiffon and lace over white satin, embroidered with pearls. A long tulle veil was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms to the hem of her gown, and she carried white roses with a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Millie McMillan, maid of honor, and Miss Rena McMillan, Miss Mary Moore and Miss Georgiada Moore as bridesmaids, all beautifully dressed in white lingerie gowns, with short white veils, caught with pearl pins, the gifts of the bride. They carried large bunches of red roses. The church was effectively decorated with palms and white peonies. The pews were roped with white satin ribbons and bunches of white peonies. Arthur Shepherd played softly several selections before the services. At the hour of eight he began the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party moved down the aisle. At the church they were met by the bridegroom and his best man, John Clark, and the Rev. Dr. Perkins, who performed the ceremony, during which Mr. Shepherd played "The Holy Nuptial" (Dubois). He later played the Mendelssohn wedding march. The ushers were Richard Stingley, Jr., Jack Lloyd and Mr. Bodine. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's uncle, Samuel Newhouse, where there were about sixty relatives and friends. The rooms were handsomely decorated with a profusion of American beauties. Coffee was served by Mrs. Lorine Leary, assisted by Mrs. Richard Stingley, Jr., and Mrs. L. L. Savage. Later Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for Oregon and Washington. They will return here to make their home. Mrs. Campbell wore a navy blue traveling dress with hat and gloves to match. Mrs. Stingley, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of white net over lace. Mrs. Richard Stingley, Jr., wore a white lingerie gown, and Mrs. Hackley of Colorado Springs, sister of Mrs. Stingley, wore white net.

Miss Alice Fisher and Frederick B. Davidson were quietly married Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of her parents. The Rev. Father Kiely officiated in the presence of the family and a few intimate friends. The bride wore a pretty gown of white lace and carried white roses. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. White of Colorado and Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers of the Dakotas stood with the bridal couple. The ladies wore pretty white gowns and carried pink roses. A wedding breakfast followed. There were sixteen guests. A large mound of pink roses formed the centerpiece. The rooms were decorated with pink roses and palms. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will be at home after June 10 at 1205 West Second South for the summer, and after September 1 they will be at home at 530 East Fourth South.

From 11 to 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the art room of the university was thrown open and many friends and patrons of the institution viewed the fine exhibition of work. Many water colors, oils and black and white drawings were shown. The work shown was done by Delbert Draper of southern Utah, Miss Neagle, Miss Cottrell, Miss Mehan of Salt Lake City, and Miss Ethel Watris of Ogden.

The Secret of the Wink Is out

It was too good to keep. Winks flew thick and fast about the grocers'. As a result all those sample packages of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes went in a hurry.

Now the call for full size packages is enormous. We can't begin to fill the demand. Everybody who was fortunate enough to receive a sample wants more.

Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes is simply irresistible. There is something about the taste which is lacking in every other breakfast food. There are many imitations, but they imitate in name only. The taste—the only taste—belongs exclusively to Kellogg's. Your grocer has it in large packages 10 cents. Be sure and ask for
