There were six tables of cards and prizes were won by Miss Ellen Webster and Fred Edwards. Miss Doris Stewart entertained a dozen of her girl friends at an informally-arranged luncheon. The decorations were carried out in pink and green, ferns and flowers being used in profusion. A large bouquet of sweet peas formed the table centerpiece and a vase of the same flowers was at each end of the table. The place cards and refreshments accentuated the color idea and after luncheon a few games of five hundred were played. Miss Inez Gray entertained the members of her sewing club, together with a number of guests, on Wednesday afternoon. The dance given by the Weber club on Monday evening at the Hermitage was the only large social event of the week and was attended by a large number of people. Music was furnished by Purdy's orchestra and prizes were won by several parties followed the dancing. Miss Stella Jackson was hostess at a beautifully-arranged luncheon given on Wednesday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Marian Hyland, of Denver, who is visiting friends here. The decorations were carried out in pink and white in the dining room and in the parlor yellow was used. A large silver candelabra graced each end of the table and pale pink shades were used on the candle. Streamers of pink and white chiffon extended from the chandelier to each place card, and a large cut glass bowl of roses formed the centerpiece. A white rose was on each plate and vases of pink and white sweet peas were arranged about the room. The parlor was bright with sunflowers and nasturtiums. Sixteen guests were present. Miss Beatrice Moore entertained about twenty-five guests at a lawn party on Wednesday evening. The porch and lawn were lighted with Japanese lanterns. Games and music were enjoyed and in a guessing contest prizes were won by Miss Kate Adams and Edward Berker. Lunch was served in a cosy corner on the porch and supper was served in the dining room, the table being decorated with bowls of sweet peas and nasturtiums.
