Special to the Tribune. OGDEN, Sept. 29.—In marked contrast with the Republican convention held in this city last week, the Democrats of Weber county held their county convention in the district court room Tuesday, and named a ticket with absolute harmony and without working themselves into a frenzy of excitement. In fact, there was more harmony and empty seats in the convention hall than anything else. There was no slate. Some names had been mentioned in connection with the various offices before the convention, and it had almost become a foregone conclusion that the nominations would be given them, but as an evidence of their interest in the convention they were conspicuous by their absence. In an easy-going way the delegates, when nominations were called for, turned in their seats and scanned the others present for some available man for the nomination. When a choice had been made from those in attendance, the name was placed before the body and the vote taken without any apparent show of interest in the outcome. Most of the nominees were brave and meekly allowed their names to go before the convention with a sacred air, but on several occasions a nominee would "back" and refuse to be led to the slaughter.

At only one time during the entire convention was there any show of real excitement. This was during the address of Dr. E. M. Conroy at the morning session, just after he had been named as temporary chairman. Dr. Conroy began his address in a happy vein, but before he had closed there were some sour visages in the hall. He started out by saying that he was going to speak plainly, and if the delegates were not pleased with what he said they would be to blame, as they had selected for their temporary chairman a man who had been a member of the church. He then launched into a severe denunciation of the leaders of the Mormon church for their interference in politics, directing his discussion along this line more directly to Apostle-Senator Reed Smoot. The speaker said that as long as Reed Smoot remained in the United States senate, then so long would there be strife and discord in Utah, and he begged the support of his fellow Democrats to strive to defeat the apostle, and place the ban on church interference in politics. Continuing, the speaker expressed the belief that this was a Democratic year for victory, both in the national and local politics, and begged that a good winning ticket be named.

Subject of Comment.
Dr. Conroy's address was the subject for much comment during the day. Another crack was taken at the apostle-senator later in the session when a resolution introduced by the platform and resolutions committee referred to the apostle-senator as the cause and source of most of the strife and bitterness which has been engendered in this state since he assumed the prerogatives of his office.

The attendance at Tuesday's convention was light, one or two of the districts in the county not being represented at all. So that a full vote could be cast on the various nominations, the credentials committee recommended that the delegates who were in attendance from each of the districts be allowed to cast the full vote, and that each of the districts. This recommendation was adopted.

The order of business placed the nominations for state senator and the representatives in the lower house of the legislature at the foot of the list. Long before these nominations were reached a number of the delegates began to leave the hall and when votes were taken several of the county districts were entirely without representation and were passed over by the chairman. The convention was called to order shortly after 11 o'clock in the morning by Sam Thomas, chairman of the county central committee. Dr. E. M. Conroy, former mayor of Ogden city, was named as temporary chairman and W. H. Louder, vice chairman. J. G. Widdison was named as temporary secretary. After the appointment of committee on credentials, permanent organization and resolutions, an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the committee submitted their reports. W. F. Bossner was chosen as permanent chairman, John L. Herrick, secretary; Adam Peterson, vice chairman, and Adam Gledhill with Henry Greig, as assistant secretaries. The convention then got down to work after a spirited talk from Chairman Bossner, and prayer by the convention chaplain, the Rev. Noble Strong Elderkin.

Here Is Platform.

We, the Democrats of Weber county, in convention assembled, declare our allegiance to the principles contained in the platform of our party, adopted at the national convention at Denver and the state convention at Logan, and pledge ourselves to support the candidates named at these conventions.

We believe in the growth of the principles of democracy, and invite men of like political faith to unite with us in the election of William J. Bryan, the greatest living advocate of popular rights, whose ideas of democratic government is that the people rule.

We pledge the candidates nominated by the convention to favor and support liberal appropriations for the public roads and highways of the county and state; and to enact laws by the state legislature of a law providing for a railroad commission.

We believe that it is a country where the people rule they should have the right to judge of their own interests, and questions vitally affecting their interests, no matter whether the question is the voting of bonds by public authorities, as now permitted under the law, or whether the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be allowed or prohibited in the county.

We believe in local option and pledge the candidates of this convention for the state legislature to vote.

We call attention to the packed convention and fraudulent primaries held by the Republican party in this county, no longer ago than last week, and demand in the name of political decency and morality the enactment of a primary law which will permit a fair expression of opinion and a fair choice of candidates by the people, even in the Republican party.

As to Bank Deposits.
We particularly commend the provision of our national platform providing for the guaranteeing of funds of depositors in banks and direct the attention of the people to the incoherence and danger of them during the Republican panic of 1907, and it is self-evident that at that time had funds of depositors been guaranteed by the government, our national platform, there would have been no occasion for fear of loss by those who had deposited their money in the banks, or the loss of the failure of banks, which fell upon the people of many communities throughout our country.

And we also recommend that provision of our national platform favoring the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and we are convinced that such a measure would shortly relieve the people of the state of Utah of much of their present troubles. It is a fact that ever since Apostle Reed Smoot entered into active participation in partisan politics and was elected United States senator, the highest office in the gift of the people of the state, he has been the cause and source of strife and bitterness among our people, and has brought upon us the suspicion of the people of the entire United States. We believe that the peace of our people, the mutual good will and happiness, is of more concern than the ambition of any man, and we pledge the candidates of this convention to do all in their power to secure the election of a successor to the Hon. Reed Smoot, upon his merits as a Democrat and his allegiance to the principles of Democracy.

We believe that municipalities should be conducted on business principles and that officers should be elected without reference to politics. We, therefore, pledge the candidates of this convention to favor and support the enactment of a law along the lines of what is known as the Galveston or Des Moines plan of city government, to be made applicable to Ogden City.

Believing that the best interests of the nation, the state and our country demand the retirement of Republicans from power and the election of men more nearly in touch with the common people of the nation, state and county, we earnestly invite the support of the citizens of this county for the Democratic ticket and its candidates.

Putting Up Ticket.
For county commissioner, four-year term, John L. Herrick was nominated by acclamation.
James L. Bues was given the nomination for the two-year term by a vote of 147 to 1 over his nearest opponent, Levi J. Hammond, who received 48 1/2 votes.
John C. Hunter, who entered the race for the nomination, withdrew after the first ballot.

For county clerk, W. H. Anderson led his opponent, Charles Pincock, by a vote of 95 to 42.
For county clerk, John G. Wintle was given the nomination by acclamation after the refusal of S. A. Maginnis to allow his name to go before the convention.
D. D. McKay for treasurer, F. H. Wright for recorder, Arthur E. Pratt for attorney and S. S. Smith for assessor, were each nominated by acclamation, as there was none who opposed them.

For county surveyor, Washington Jenkins received the nomination over L. B. Spencer, by a vote of 104 to 32.
J. B. Trimble for assessor was given the nomination over Horace Foster by a vote of 97 to 37, and Benjamin Fernes, the nomination for city constable over Thomas Cunningham by a vote of 52 to 38.

The race for the nominations for the state legislature proved to be the most interesting of the convention. Seven candidates were nominated and one, W. W. Browning, refused to stand for the honor and withdrew in favor of T. P. Horn, leaving, besides the latter,

Mr. Smith requested that his challenge be forwarded to Mr. Kuehler at once by the chairman.

The fair proper will really open for the public Tuesday night, but the formal opening will be held Wednesday morning.
Nearly all of the booths have been taken and some of the best agricultural products of the state are now on display in the main building. The Nat Reize Carnival company, with an aggregation of fourteen tent sideshows, is on the ground and will begin to operate on Wednesday morning. The drawing card at the fair will be the horse races. Over 100 of the best racing horses from Idaho, Colorado, Utah and other states have arrived and the officers of the association have arranged some of the best racing events which have ever been seen in this state.

PROVO DEMOCRATS GATHER WEDNESDAY

County Convention to Select Candidates for Various Offices.

Special to the Tribune. PROVO, Sept. 29.—The Democratic county convention, to be held here on Wednesday, promises to be a lively one, but there is a dearth of candidates and only by the enthusiasm manifested by the delegates will men be induced to accept nominations.

There is, however, a feeling which manifests itself on all sides, that this will be a good time to get on the Democratic ticket in Utah county. The people are tired of the ring rule and they say the only way to emphasize their dissatisfaction with the present administration is to elect a Democratic ticket. This sentiment portends victory for the Democrats.

Ernest A. McGraw's name will be placed before the convention tomorrow for nomination as County Attorney. John E. Boot, the center street merchant, will ask the convention to nominate him for County Commissioner, and Joseph W. Loveless, present fire chief, will have a strong following for the office of sheriff.

SPRINGVILLE NOTES

Special to the Tribune. SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 29.—Canute E. M. Swenson of this city died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock of consumption, after an illness of a little over a year. Canute Swenson was born in Sweden thirty-five years ago, and came to Utah with his parents when a small child. He was unmarried, but leaves a mother and a brother and sister to mourn his death. Mr. Swenson was a member of the Maccabees, Modern Woodmen and L. O. O. F. orders and had insurance to the amount of $3000 in the two orders first named. The funeral will be held at the First ward L. D. S. church, the orders of which he was a member will turn out in a body.

The teachers of the public schools of Mount Pleasant, seventeen in number, came to Springville this morning to visit the schools of this city.

Wednesday morning farmers have shipped three carloads of cantaloupes this season and would have shipped two or three carloads more had it not been for the heavy frost which visited this section of country a few nights ago. This is the first year that the farmers here have had to grow cantaloupes for the market in large quantities, and they believe that with a suitable season the industry will prove a paying one. It is expected that a large acreage will be planted next year.

BOOM FOR ABEL JOHN IS STARTED AT LEHI

Special to the Tribune. LEHI, Sept. 29.—A boom has been launched for Abel John Evans to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Uncle Jesse Knight for governor on the Democratic ticket. Friends of Abel John say that no one in the state is better qualified by experience and ability than the Lehi man. While he is a lawyer of well-known ability, he also holds interests in practically every industry in this end of Utah county, including farming, sheep raising, mining, irrigation projects, electric light plants, sugar making, etc. Mr. Evans has held various offices in the municipality, been a county commissioner and a member of the territorial legislature. He was a member of the state constitutional convention and has served in the state senate, acting as its president one session. He was a delegate to the Denver convention of the Democratic party in 1904. In making the state ticket at Logan the geography of the state was considered to a certain extent. Utah county has the second largest population of any county in the state, and being given Uncle Jesse, asked for nothing more. Now it is the turn of Abel John, a man of wisdom points to the expediency of placing another Utah county man into the vacancy.

THE TRUTH ABOUT KIDNEY TROUBLE

(ALBUMEN AND CASTS)

People have been led to believe that the strings and beads in their urine (otherwise known as casts), and have been frightened into the belief that this meant death.

As a matter of fact casts can not be seen with the naked eye, only through a high-power microscope; and even when found they are no longer evidence of absolutely incurable cases.

In those cases in which the degeneration has not proceeded so far but which if treated the kidney can still perform its functions, the albumen and casts respond as definitely to the reduction of the inflammation by Fulton's Renal Compound as the other symptoms, and the microscope will show the cure to be less in number week by week until the inflammation and albumen have completely subsided.

If asked what percentage of kidney cases that show casts have a chance of recovery, we would say that the percentage of cases beyond recovery is small.

One of the reasons for this belief is that there are very few records in the text-books of cases in which the autopsies disclosed the nearly complete dispersion of the kidney. Such are rare. Then again, Fulton's Renal Compound gets such a high percentage of albumen that this also sustains the above conclusion.

The high efficiency of $7 per cent heretofore established by this Compound was in a line of cases all of which, so far as we knew, were considered chronic and incurable.

DUBOIS REFUSES TO GIVE UP THE FIGHT

Decision of Supreme Court in Favor of Mormon Democrats Has Not Altered Case.

Special to the Tribune. BOISE, Ida., Sept. 29.—The Democrats as represented by Stockbridge for United States senator and Alexander for governor, who were recognized by the supreme court in its decision yesterday, have state headquarters in full force and the campaign is being planned. Candidate Alexander started on his campaign tour of the state yesterday. He went to Rexburg, where he spoke last night, and on the way he addressed a crowd at Mountain Home in the afternoon. Chairman Rogan of the anti-Mormon state committee gave out a statement in which he said that most of the members of that faction of the Democratic party will not support the pro-Mormon ticket.

Relative to his position in the matter former Senator Dubois gave out the following: "The supreme court decision does not change my views. I think it will not change the views of any who have made and intend to make the fight to free the state from Mormon domination. There is no difference between a Republican-Mormon ticket and a Democratic-Mormon ticket. I will not support either. My views will be expressed pretty fully in this week's Scimitar."

PROVO NEWS NOTES

Special to the Tribune. PROVO, Sept. 29.—Zenobia Melinda Tanner Adams has begun suit in the district court asking to be freed from the marriage ties that bind her to Stephen Adams. According to the complaint, the marriage took place in Provo, July 13, 1905, and there is one child, a boy, aged 2 years. The allegations are failure to provide and cruel and inhuman treatment. Plaintiff asks for the custody of the child, $40 per month as alimony and $200 attorney fees and costs.

Funeral services over the remains of W. E. Hardy, who died Sunday from tuberculosis, were held in the Second ward meeting house today at 1 o'clock. Deceased was 20 years of age and leaves a widow and two small children.

A marriage license has been issued to Arch M. Cheney of Fairfield and Clara Allen of Conville.

NEWS OF GREEN RIVER

Special to the Tribune. GREEN RIVER, Sept. 29.—A. D. Lewis and daughter, Miss Eva, have gone to Salt Lake City on a pleasure trip. Colonel and Mrs. George W. Durant have returned from a visit with their son in Eliza, Ill.
State Superintendent of Schools Nelson was in town recently looking after the new school which will be established in Elgin, on account of the old school being moved into the old building three miles north of town.
Miss Maude Woods left last Saturday for the Collegiate Institute in Salt Lake City to complete her education.
W. Edwin Tribble has returned from an extensive tour. He took in the Denver convention and it will be remembered that it was he who carried the Bryan banner to the stage that started the famous cheering record. Mr. Tribble spent some of his time in Tennessee, Washington and Virginia, but found no place that was any better than Green River.
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pierce and family have moved to Iowa, where they expect to make their home in the future.
The frost has killed all of the cantaloupes, so the juicy fruit will not be seen on the market until next summer. Twenty-three carloads were shipped out to eastern plants this season, at better prices than any grown in other localities.
Four automobiles, loaded with politicians, left Tuesday for the county convention to be held in Castle Dale. They are all going to boost for Thomas J. McCarty for representative, and work for a bridge over Green river.

OPPONENTS OF SMOOT ARE GETTING THEIR

Special to the Tribune. PROVO, Sept. 29.—In the Republican county convention, held here on Monday, it was very apparent from the start that all men who opposed the Smoot machine were to be taught a lesson and before the convention was over all those who voted for Parley P. Christensen in the state convention were relegated to the deepest depths of oblivion, and the only way back is to put on the Smoot collar and crawl.
George A. Hone of Benlamin was a member of the late Legislature and was also a delegate in the recent Republican state convention, and as such delegate he voted for Parley P. Christensen against Elder Joseph Howell. Hone was consequently marked for retirement so when he came before the county convention for nomination to succeed himself as a legislator he was handed a lemon with 23 marked on the rind. Hone was wise to just what defeated him, and so expressed himself to a representative of the Tribune.
Charles T. Westral of Pleasant Grove, also a member of the lower house of the last Legislature, who very much desired vindication by being nominated to succeed himself, was never given a chance to look in. His record was against him, and he, too, was retired.

WEISER NEWS NOTE

Special to the Tribune. WEISER, Ida., Sept. 25.—The weather for September in the section within its grasp the past five "Killing frosts" have occurred, all kinds of vegetation. The residents of the section are fortunate in being in a valley where it is possible to grow wood if coal fails to arrive.
The prune and peach-packing season over, and apple shipping is now the order of the day. The apple shipments this section this fall will be larger ever before and the fruit of better quality. Orchardists are paying more attention to their trees in this locality than they have in the past. The fruit is better and the result is seen in crops and better quality of fruit, freshness from worms.
Weiser is enjoying a budding boom. A number of substantial brick houses are being built, besides an electric church. Real estate men are being made for city and ranch property. The United Presbyterian church is nearly ready to open. The citizens of Weiser are going to furnish $125,000 worth of school for five years to assist in maintaining school that length of time. The academy has been closed for some time.
