

RIEL STEPS OUT, BOWMAN GOES IN

Change Takes Place in Criminal Division of the City Court.

KIND WORDS FOR THE OUTGOING OFFICIAL

New Judge Opens Court, and Then Adjourns for the Day.

At noon, Monday, Judge C. B. Diehl, for nearly ten years judge of the criminal division of the city court, retired from office and was succeeded by Judge J. M. Bowman, who, with Judge E. A. Rogers, was elected to the position of city judge at the last election at the polls.

Judge Bowman opened court at noon and then ordered a recess until 10 o'clock Tuesday forenoon, when his official duties will begin by the trying of cases.

The last session of Judge Diehl's court will be long remembered by the judge, members of the bar, police officers and friends gathered at the time. After the cases of prisoners arraigned had been attended to, Judge Diehl was just about to order a recess of the court, when Assistant City Attorney E. A. Rogers informed the court he had one more motion to make.

Mr. Rogers then presented to Judge Diehl a handsome gold, thirty-second degree Masonic chain.

Judge Diehl responded. In accepting the gift, which he showed plainly he was very grateful for, he said: "I am only saying this. I have made many good friends and have been happy in that I have kept them. My associates here have been most pleasant. Members of the department, the attorneys and gentlemen of the press have been my friends and have been so tied up with me in my daily and official life that I regret the severance. For this beautiful chain I most heartily thank them and shall wear it with much honor, with good feeling and good will, and I trust Judge Bowman, who succeeds me, will leave here, when he does leave, with the same expressions of friendship, respect and honor as I leave."

Attorney William Newton, then, on behalf of the members of the bar, court attaches and newspaper men, said: "I desire to say a few words of thanks and regrets, and I believe everyone will voice my sentiments. We regret that your honor is about to leave us, but of course you are not going far away and I hope these associations will continue both in and out of court. I desire to thank you for the cleverly and judiciously handled cases which have shown the unfortunate and criminal."

A general hand-shaking and voicing of congratulations and best wishes for the retiring judge occupied the next half hour. Members of the police force, attorneys, many close friends of his honor and newspaper men were among those to extend these wishes.

SPECIAL COURT FOR DOMESTIC DIFFICULTIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The proposal to establish a special New York court for cases of domestic tangles, abandonment and the like should be handled exclusively by taking definite form. The legal department of the Educational alliance has prepared a bill creating such a court, which is to be presented to the legislature in the near future.

CONGRESS PROMPT TO GIVE RELIEF

The Special Message. The text of the president's message is as follows: "To the Senate and House of Representatives: "The appalling calamity which has befallen the people of Italy is followed by distress and suffering throughout a wide region among many thousands who have escaped with life, but whose shelter and food and means of living are destroyed. The ordinary machinery for supplying the wants of civilized communities is paralyzed, and an exceptional emergency exists, which demands that the obligations of humanity shall regard no limit of national lines."

The immense debt of civilization to Italy; the warm and steadfast friendship between that country and our own; the affection for their native land felt by great numbers of good American citizens who are immigrants from Italy; the abundance with which God has blessed us with the resources of these should prompt us to immediate and effective relief.

Confident of Approval. "Confident of your approval, I have ordered the government supply ships, Celtic and Culgo, to the scene of the disaster, where, upon receiving the authority which I now ask from you, they will be able to distribute food, clothing and other supplies with which they are laden to the value of about $300,000. The Celtic is at Port Said. Eight vessels of the returning battleship fleet are already under orders for Italian waters and that government has been asked if their services can be made useful."

I recommend that the congress approve the application of supplies above indicated, and further appropriate the sum of $500,000, to be applied to the work of relief, at the discretion of the executive authority, with the consent of the Italian government.

The fact that Congress was adjourned for the holidays prevented earlier action, although by the president's direct orders supplies aboard the naval ships Celtic and Culgo, intended for the battleship fleet, were ordered delivered as quickly as possible.

Contributions of money continue to pour into the headquarters of the American Red Cross society. Today the subscriptions amounted to $47,750. The largest contributions were: Illinois branch of the Red Cross, $10,441; California branch, $10,000; District of Columbia branch, $6,000; Italian relief committee, Milwaukee, $5,000; Connecticut branch, $4,000; Rhode Island branch, $3,000; Massachusetts branch, $2,000; Pennsylvania branch, $2,000; New York branch, $1,000. The Illinois branch of the Red Cross telegraphed that it would remit $20,000.

VULTURES FEED ON VICTIMS OF QUAKE

last was an Italian soldier, who had distinguished himself in the work of rescue. He had fallen three stories, while trying to extricate a woman imprisoned in an attic, and was mortally hurt. His hand wandered and he talked of his sweetheart and tried to sing a song before he lost consciousness.

Here and there the correspondents counted rooms above and below their work. They were digging at the instance of some distracted wife or mother who imagined she heard a voice, but usually there was no echo to the pathetic calling. One party was trying to dig out a girl whose crying could be heard plainly, but as the correspondent watched, there was a sudden cave-in and then silence. In many places, the accompanying arms and legs protruded from heaps of masonry and plaster.

Curious freaks of the earthquake were everywhere to be observed. Standing walls had fallen out exposing one or two rooms above and below, while nothing seemed to have been disturbed. Pictures hung straight on the walls, lamps were on tables and vases and flowers on mantelpieces. In one place, a woman was seen to be carrying a child on her back, while she was being carried by a soldier who was being carried by another soldier.

Death Came Like Flash. The accounts of all survivors agree that the devastation was accomplished in less than one minute. Along the line of a fork, a tidal wave rushed in and out, and all was over. All say that when the shock came they felt an upward thrust and a slight motion, followed by an oscillatory motion and the crust of the earth vibrated.

Major J. E. Reynolds Landis, the American military attaché at Rome, said that the American battleship fleet will arrive at the scene of disaster too late to be of much assistance, conferences are being held to rearrange their sailing programme, as it is thought that their visit to several Italian ports will be ill timed under the circumstances.

People are still living under the ruins of Messina. A few were taken out today, but the great task has not yet begun. The crews of the Russian squadron are having increased admiration for the courage of the sailors who have been killed or injured in the performance of heroic service.

STRONG EVIDENCE OF UNIVERSAL BROTHERHOOD

ROME, Jan. 4.—The universal brotherhood spoken of by Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, was further emphasized in Rome today when, upon the arrival of 1,000 wounded from Messina, the Italian government, through the Vatican, asking whether these unfortunates could be taken in there. The Vatican replied in the affirmative, and the wounded were received with open arms by the Italian government.

HAINS TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

Dramatically Recites Conjugal Troubles of Brother That Led Him to Kill Annis. FLUSHING, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Taking the witness stand in his own defense, Thornton Jenkins Hains for more than four hours today related with a wealth of detail the story of the shooting of William E. Annis and of the conjugal troubles of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., that counsel asserts caused the mental unbalancing of the army officer and led to the killing of Annis. When court adjourned Hains' direct examination had not been concluded and he will likely be on the witness stand all day tomorrow.

The defendant declared that when he went to Bayville to look at real estate on August 15, he had no idea that his brother-in-law had been shot. He told the jury that all the shots had been fired by Captain Hains before he rushed to the boat to protect his brother from John Tonnin, the boatman, and from club members who he said, he thought would harm the captain. Hains denied that he pointed a revolver at Mrs. Annis, but he admitted that he had no idea how many shots Captain Hains had fired and when Charles Roberts, a club member, pointed a revolver at him he drew his own revolver and told Roberts not to shoot.

CONSOLIDATED GAS - LOSES VITAL CASE

Supreme Court Questions Law Fixing Price at Which Product May Be Sold. WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—In an opinion of Justice Peckham, which was unanimously concurred in by the entire court, the supreme court of the United States today reversed the decision of the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, granting an injunction against the enforcement of the 80-cent gas law. The decision of the court did not deal with the constitutionality of the law, but left the inference that that question would depend upon the fact as to whether the law was confiscatory, which it was intimated has not been sufficiently determined. Justice Peckham said that bonafide tests should be made under the operation of the law before appealing to the courts for its nullification.

State Law Upheld. The cases involved the validity of the New York state laws of 1915 and 1916, the latter of which fixed the price of gas in New York City at 80 cents per 1000 cubic feet. The action was begun by the gas company in the circuit court, and the injunction against the enforcement of the law, and the injunction was granted by that court on the grounds that the terms of the law make it confiscatory of the property of the gas company. The rate fixed being below a reasonable price, in the opinion of that court, Justice Peckham delivered the opinion today overruling the lower court. The effect of the opinion is to declare the law constitutional.

Taft REGRETS COMMENTS ON OHIO SITUATION

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 4.—Regret is felt by the president-elect at what both he and his friends regard as the unfair interpretations being printed regarding the withdrawal from the Ohio senatorial contest of Charles F. Taft.

Mr. Taft's withdrawal from the contest in the interest of party harmony was widely remarked upon. By remaining in the fight, it is asserted, he could at least have made possible the election of a "dark horse."

MOST OF HYDE-BENSON SUITS NOW DISMISSED

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 4.—Practically all the suits brought by the government for the purpose of cancelling patents to the Hyde-Benson patents in this state were dismissed today by Judge Wolverton in the federal court, on motion of United States Attorney having advised the court that an investigation of the facts indicated that the "script" came into the possession of the inventor, and that the course of study is too heavy for the pupils to carry properly. The lengthening of the term would increase the teachers' payroll about $900.

MRS. ERB SAYS SHE DID NOT AID SISTER

Was a Coward, So Let Her Struggle Alone With Husband, Who Was Slain.

MEDIA, Pa., Jan. 4.—The dramatic trial of Mrs. Florence Erb that participated in the killing of her husband and the testimony of Mrs. Catherine Beisel, the self-confessed slayer of her brother-in-law, as to the family differences that led up to the shooting, made the proceedings of the trial here today one of the most interesting of the year.

Mrs. Erb was cross-examined for several hours. With emphasis she declared she had in no way assisted Mrs. Beisel in the killing of her husband. That she had permitted her sister to battle single-handed with the man, the witness explained, was because she had been a coward by his abuse. Effort was made to bring from the witness admissions that she had associated with several men and that they had visited her home during the absence of Captain Erb. This questioning met with but little success.

Means Nice Increase

The board of education will meet this evening to take up the matter of extending the school year from nine months to nine months and one week. The board has the money on hand to pay the teachers and then the course of study is too heavy for the pupils to carry properly. The lengthening of the term would increase the teachers' payroll about $900.
