

GRAZED WOMAN TAKEN TO THE COUNTY JAIL

Pitiable Predicament of Mrs. W. M. Sargent of Woodland, Idaho.

Excessive use of drugs is the cause attributed for the serious mental condition of Mrs. W. M. Sargent of Woodland, Ida., who was taken to the county jail Thursday night at 10:30 o'clock by the police and locked up in a padded cell.

EXCITING RUN AFTER SUPPOSED BURGLAR

An excited young man and woman were the cause of the police having a fast trip Thursday night at 11:15 o'clock after a supposed burglar. Word was received at police headquarters that a burglar had been seen entering a grocery store between Seventh and Eighth South streets on State street.

Investigation brought out the fact that the night watchman at that section had entered the store, as he is accustomed to do, and the young man and woman saw him and thought him a burglar.

ELKINS LAW NOW PRACTICALLY NIL

Continued From Page One. The rate he was using was lawful or not, Judges Grosscup, Sessum and Baker of the United States circuit court of appeals reversed that statement of the law and held substantially that the government had to prove that the shipper knew he was getting an illegal rate. In the opinion of government officers that rarely if ever could be done. In this view of the situation the Elkins law is practically nil.

ALL THE CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS ARE OFF

CHICAGO, March 11.—All the criminal prosecutions against the Standard Oil company of Indiana, pending in the northern district of Illinois, with the exception of two cases, have been abandoned by the government as the result of Judge Anderson's decision. It was announced tonight. The two cases which may still be pushed are those involving oil shipments from Whiting, Ind., to Evansville, Ind., over the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad by way of Dolton Junction, Ill. The most the government could hope for in these cases is a fine of $1,000,000.

CONGENIAL WORK And Strength to Perform It.

A person in good health is likely to have a genial disposition, ambition, and enjoy work. On the other hand, if the digestive organs have been upset by wrong food, work becomes drudgery. "Until recently," writes a Washington girl, "I was a railroad stenographer, which means full work every day. Like many other girls alone in a large city, I lived at a boarding house. For breakfast it was mush, greasy meat, soggy cakes, black coffee, etc. After a few months of this diet I used to feel sleepy and heavy in the mornings. My work seemed a terrible effort, and I thought the work was to blame—to arduous. At home I had heard my father speak of a young fellow who went long distances in the old Grape-Nuts and cream and nothing more for breakfast. I concluded if it would tide him over a morning's heavy work, it might help me, so on my way home one night I bought a package and next morning I had Grape-Nuts and milk for breakfast. I stuck to Grape-Nuts, and in less than two weeks I noticed improvement. I can't just tell how well I felt, but I remember I used to walk the blocks to business and knew how good it was simply to live. As to my work—well, did you ever feel the delight of having congenial work and the strength to perform it? That's how I felt. I truly believe there's life and vigor in every grain of Grape-Nuts. MURRAY MAN VICTIM OF 'HIGH FINANCE'

J. L. Lindgren Is Shown Smooth Trick by an Utter Stranger.

J. L. Lindgren, a tailor at Murray, was a victim of "high finance" Thursday afternoon, and now the police are looking for the slick young stranger who successfully carried out the "deal" which resulted in the Murray merchant being done out of $20. Thursday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, the stranger went into Lindgren's place of business and asked to see some samples of clothing. The request was granted and the material shown, but none of it met with the approval of the stranger. He then asked if Lindgren would give him a $20 bill for some gold and silver. The tailor consented to give the bill for the gold and silver, and handed the stranger a $20 bill, which the latter placed in an envelope, with the remark that it was addressed to his sister, to whom he was sending the money. When Lindgren counted over the money given him by the stranger, he found there was only $19. He called the man's attention to the fact and he acted as though surprised and said that he had made a mistake. Then taking the sealed envelope from his pocket, supposedly the one he had placed the $20 bill in, he asked Lindgren to hold it while he went and got another dollar. The stranger picked up the $19 and departed, saying that he would be back within a few minutes. When he did not return in fifteen minutes, Lindgren became suspicious, and, opening the envelope, which had an address on it like the one in which the $20 bill had been placed, he found only a small piece of paper, upon which was scribbled the words, "I thank you, Lindgren, and will be back with the $20, but as yet he has not been captured."

City and Neighborhood

THERE WILL BE a general setting of cases for the April term of the third circuit court, to be held at Ogden, Monday, April 5.

CAROLINE DAY, the 15-year-old daughter of Gus Day of 455 Second East street, died of health Thursday.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS matters connected with the Salt Lake Automobile club were brought up at a meeting of the club in the Commercial club Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

A. H. BAILEY, an Ogden merchant, filed a petition in the United States court Thursday to be adjudged a bankrupt. Bailey gave his assets as $259.26 and his liabilities as $755.36.

TOTAL BANK CLEARINGS for Thursday, March 11, were $877,345.50, compared with $659,916.55 for the corresponding day a year ago, an increase nearly 25 per cent over the same day of 1908.

FANNIE F. OWEN, 19 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Owen, living at 222 Sixth East street, died Thursday morning of pneumonia. The funeral will take place Sunday.

AT THE regular services at Temple B'nai B'rith, on Fourth East street, at 8 o'clock this evening, John P. Meakin will speak on "Practical Progress." All are cordially invited to attend the services.

UNDER THE public buildings grant to Utah under the enabling act the state land would be allowed the application of M. B. Whitney of this city, for the purchase of 229.08 acres of land, located in township 11, range west.

S. A. BLACKNER'S suit against the city for $3000 damages to his property on Second avenue, between Main street and Canyon road, by reason of a change of grade in 1907, went on trial before a jury in Judge Armstrong's division of the district court Thursday.

THE PASSING of sentence upon R. D. Gammon, who was recently convicted by a jury in Judge Lewis's division of the district court of embezzling $25,700 from the Third Detective Service company of Missouri, and the hearing of the argument on his motion for a new trial, were continued until April 17 in Judge Lewis's court Thursday.

GOVERNOR SPRY announced Thursday night that he will probably be sending the appointments of the state appointive officers to the legislature today, but would not indicate the officials he will appoint first. The appointment of a juvenile court judge for Salt Lake county will probably be the last, for the reason that the legislature has taken no definite action upon the new juvenile court law.

MRS. IDA WALSH sent a communication to the city recorder for the council Thursday, in which she sets out that she holds a mortgage for $3000 upon E. W. James's property in lot 4, block 3, plat 1, and that the property has been damaged to such an extent by a change of grade that the mortgage will not reimburse her. She stands to lose $1500 by reason of the change of grade, she says, for which she will hold the city liable.

ELKS' BOOSTER IS PLACED ON SALE In order to advertise the coming attraction which will be given by the R. P. O. E. of the city at the Salt Lake theater, Monday and Tuesday evenings, and to arouse as well an interest in the great national reunion of Elks, which is to be held at Los Angeles next July, the Elks' Booster, an eight-page publication, made its first appearance Wednesday. The paper, which contains many skits and personal accounts of those Elks who stop over here next July on their way to the great reunion, and a nucleus will also be formed of a fund for the purpose of advertising the city before the 200,000 visitors who, it is expected, will stop here at that time.

Mary Hougaard's suit for $15,000 damages against the American Smelting and Refining company for the death of her son underneath one of the company's electric cars at Garfield, July 2, last, came to a sudden termination in Judge Armstrong's division of the third district court Thursday. It was found that the complaint was directed at the wrong company, and the plaintiff moved for a dismissal of the case, which motion was granted. The suit should have been directed against the Garfield Smelting company.

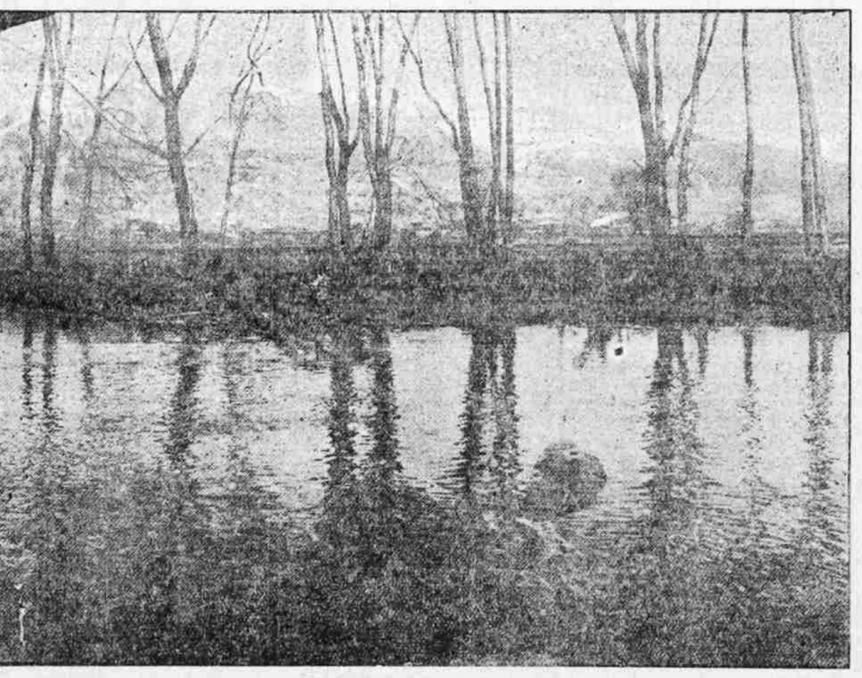

Mrs. Hougaard sets out that her son, Melroy, only 19 years old, was her only support, her husband being dead. The company was charged with negligence in not providing proper lights.

NORTHWESTERN PORTION OF SALT LAKE CITY BEING OVERFLOWED BY THE JORDAN RIVER

CAMP'S LANE, SHOWING COUNTY ROAD UNDER WATER FOR MILE AND A HALF.

The overflow of the Jordan river, beginning at Ninth North, is causing a great deal of uneasiness among the residents of the northwestern portion of Salt Lake City. Several days ago the river overflowed its banks a few rods north of Ninth North, and about a mile south of Ninth North, and submerged about twenty square miles of farm land, the water being from six inches to five feet in depth. The last two cold days proved a blessing, as the water has lowered considerably, but the river is full, nearly on a level with the land, and with a few inches rise the entire northwestern part of the valley will be flooded. The farmers are praying for the cold weather to continue, in order that embankments may be thrown up along the low places on the river. Embankments put in last year have been washed away and must be replaced in the near future if the homes of several farmers are to be saved. The river has broken through onto William Langford's farm on Ninth North. Trees are being cut and brush piled up and covered with earth on the west bank of the river. A mile north from this farm there is a low place, extending west from the river, and it is here that a big flood is expected. Four days ago the river overtopped and submerged miles and miles of farm land. Mrs. Hedlitch was compelled to leave her home and wade more than a mile through water to the residence of Mrs. Grimes, a neighbor, with whom she is now living. The Hedlitch property is completely surrounded by water, extending from a mile to several miles in all directions. Mrs. Grimes said that she has traveled all over the world, but never saw anything to equal the present conditions prevailing in her neighborhood. Several farmhouses are built on small knolls, and while the houses stand out of the water the barns, chicken coops, pig pens, wagons and farm implements are standing in the water. The people are helpless as long as the water is at its present depth, and thousands of dollars of damage is being done daily. Many of the families are unable to send their children to school, as it is impossible to get to any of the public roads without wading through the water. Efforts have been made to pump it out and return it to the river at a point below the overflow. Many of the farmers have donated $500 each to do the work, and Mrs. Grimes said that the city was to do part of it. The pump was put in operation, but broke two days ago and has since been out of commission. The water is gradually rising, and if it continues to do so all the farmers living in the lowlands, where the water can reach them, will come to the city to live. All the farmers living at North Point are compelled to go by way of Bountiful to come to this city, and with a few more inches rise in the river this route will also be cut off. A great many of the people are building large rafts, in contemplation of being flooded out of their homes. The damage already done cannot be estimated at present, but the amount runs into thousands of dollars. The great flow of water is washing out fences, drowning poultry, hogs, and ruining farm implements and machinery.

Ask Your Neighbors

So many people scattered all over the American Continent have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines that there's scarcely a hamlet where some of these grateful people are not to be easily found—ever ready to say a good word for the medicines which cured them and which very likely may cure you, if similarly afflicted. Look them up. They are walking advertisements for Dr. Pierce's medicines—ever ready to pass the good news along that these medicines cure when many others fail. Little advertised NOW, because their record of 40 years of cures makes great displays of their merits unnecessary. The great American people, pretty generally know of their unequalled record. of all kinds. The farmers say they have never seen the like, and many of them will endeavor to dispose of their farms and move out of the district. From general appearances the farms under water would now make ideal duck clubs. To keep the river from further overflowing in the neighborhood of the Ninth North street bridge the streets committee of the city council Thursday evening recommended an appropriation of $500, to be expended by the street department in building levees along the river. The appropriation was recommended largely upon the petition of A. K. Lawson. The matter will come before the city council next Monday night and no doubt will be favorably acted upon.

HUSBAND AND WIFE KISS AND MAKE UP

Edwin E. and William McKee have agreed to kiss and make up, and as a result Mrs. McKee's suit for divorce was dismissed upon her own motion in Judge Moore's division of the district court Thursday.

Mrs. McKee charged McKee with cruelty covering a period of five years. They were married September 18, 1903, and on February 3, 1909, he drove her out of the house, she alleged. She said that McKee had money on deposit at the Commercial National bank and joined the bank as defendant to restrain it from paying out the money to McKee, from whom she demanded alimony. McKee also owns property in lot 3, block 58, plat D, Mrs. McKee alleged, which she asked that he be restrained from disposing of.

Looking for Bloodhounds.

Shiriff Sharp is thinking of adopting the system in vogue in the police department of New York City of hunting down criminals with bloodhounds, and to this end he is corresponding with the Whitwood kennels at Wichita, Kan., to secure some bloodhounds for trial. The bloodhounds will be used mainly at the field and Bingham street, to try them out. They will be employed in the greater part of the city, and among the foreigners, most of whom look so much alike that the officers always have difficulty in identifying the criminal.

Social Science Club Lecture.

"The Constructive Program of Socialism" is the subject of a lecture to be given under the auspices of the Social Science club tonight at 8 o'clock in the room of the club, 138 South Second East street, by William Thurston Brown, minister of the First Unitarian society. The speaker will discuss the program of socialism, and if it continues to do so all the farmers living in the lowlands, where the water can reach them, will come to the city to live. All the farmers living at North Point are compelled to go by way of Bountiful to come to this city, and with a few more inches rise in the river this route will also be cut off. A great many of the people are building large rafts, in contemplation of being flooded out of their homes. The damage already done cannot be estimated at present, but the amount runs into thousands of dollars. The great flow of water is washing out fences, drowning poultry, hogs, and ruining farm implements and machinery.

Newspaper Circulators Meet.

An interesting and enthusiastic meeting of the Salt Lake newspaper circulators was held in the administration rooms of The Salt Lake Tribune, Thursday evening. Interesting talks were made by John W. Surman, editor of the Desert News, George Weaver of the Salt Lake Telegram, Rufus Johnson of the Intermountain Republican, and J. W. Musgrave of The Salt Lake Tribune. The meeting was well attended and a general discussion was participated in by all those present.

OPERATORS REJECT DEMANDS OF MINERS

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.—The anthracite coal operators refused all the demands of the United Mine Workers and made a counter proposition that the present agreement be continued for another three years. The conference adjourned for the afternoon. Mine workers officials expected the decision. Thomas Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, declined, however, to comment on the outcome beyond stating that he and the committeemen would discuss it before taking action.

The miners and operators will meet again tomorrow.

A statement for the public, agreed on by both sides, says:

"The operators declined to accede to the demands. The chief reason offered for the refusal was that any increase in the cost of production would necessitate an advance in the price of coal, and that such an advance was impracticable. The operators said that wages in the anthracite mining industry were already at a high level and could not be increased."

PRESIDENT APPROVES COURT-MARTIAL SENTENCE

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The president today approved the sentence of dismissal and confinement at hard labor for two years imposed by a court martial in the case of First Lieut. Edward Gottlieb, coast artillery corps, who was recently tried in the department of the east on charges of disobedience of orders, presenting fraudulent claims to the government, obtaining money from private parties and absence without leave.

THOMAS VANCE GIVEN REPRIEVE BY COURT

Extra Precaution Taken by Attorneys for the Condemned Man.

Acting upon the suggestion outlined in The Tribune Thursday morning, the attorneys for Thomas Vance who was under sentence to be shot for murder today, applied to the court for a formal reprieve of the condemned man Thursday forenoon. The reprieve, as granted by the court, was for a period of 15 days, two days after Vance's first appeal for a new trial was overruled. The reprieve was really granted, though Judge Armstrong, in the court case, was tried and convicted and had also sent a stay of execution to Sheriff Sharp, in order for a new trial would be sufficient to stay the execution, set for today. Although satisfied that the reprieve, as granted by Judge Spry Thursday, extended to the session of the board of pardons, which is held March 20, by this motion for a new trial will have disposed of, it is confidently believed it is set for hearing Saturday.
