Qualifications You Must Possess to be a Census Enumerator

There are many questions you must answer satisfactorily before you can hope to become a census enumerator. Some of them are of a rather peculiar nature. For instance, you must tell your sex and color and what is your education. Your age you must divulge and this may be a delicate matter for some of the young ladies. You are asked if you are physically capable of a full discharge of the duties of a census enumerator; if you have any defect of either sight, hearing, speech or limb. And there are many other queries. (Census Supervisor Hugh A. McMillin, whose office is in the Dealy block, has received from the census bureau a supply of blank applications for census enumerators. These will be forwarded to the list of applicants as soon as possible. The applications, properly filled out, must be returned to the supervisor, not later than January 31, the census director having extended the time for filing from January 25, which was the date first set for closing the consideration of applications. The "test" will occur February 5, as previously announced.) The instructions printed on the application form state that a definite answer is required to each of the questions, which are: "Are you a citizen of the United States? If naturalized citizen, when and where were you naturalized?" "Of what state or territory are you a legal resident? How long have you been a resident thereof? Of what county and of what town or city and ward are you a resident? How long have you been a resident thereof?" "What is your sex and color? What was your age at last birthday? Where were you born?" "What is your education? (Give the principal facts.)" "What is your present occupation?" "What is your professional or business experience? (Give the principal facts, and, if at present an officeholder, name the office you hold.)" "Have you ever been employed on census work, either national or state? If so, in what capacity and for how long a period? If an enumerator, for what territory or district? (Describe as accurately as possible.)" "Are you physically capable of a full discharge of the duties of a census enumerator? Have you any defect of either sight, hearing, speech or limb? If so, state nature of defect." "Do you speak English? Do you understand and speak any language other than English? If so, what language? (Specify languages spoken as Bohemian, Chinese, Danish, French, German, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Japanese, Lithuanian, Magyar, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Slavick, Spanish, Yiddish, etc.)" "Are you a member of a political committee of any party? (Answer 'Yes' or 'No,' but do not indicate what party.)" "In view of the fact that you may be required to take a test before a postmaster, state what postoffice would be most convenient to you for this purpose. (This test is of a practical character, consisting chiefly or wholly of
