

HEALTH BOARD TO INVOKE LAW

Declared That Undertakers Persistently Fail to Report Deaths as Required.

STATUTE ON POINT CLEAR AND WILL BE ENFORCED

Registrar Waries of Failure to Make Returns in Certain Cases.

In spite of the law on the subject and repeated warnings from City Health Commissioner S. G. Paul, who also is registrar of deaths, two or three undertakers are failing to notify the registrar of deaths occurring without medical attention or under other suspicious circumstances, Dr. Paul says. Here is the law on the subject:

"2036.—Death Without Medical Attendance. In case of any death occurring without medical attendance, it shall be the duty of the undertaker to notify the registrar of such death, and when so notified the registrar shall inform the local health officer and refer the case to him for immediate investigation and certification prior to issuing a permit; provided, that when the local health officer is not a qualified physician, or there is no such official, and in such cases only, the registrar is authorized to make the certificate and return from the statement of relatives or other persons having adequate knowledge of the facts; provided further, that if the circumstances of the case render it probable that the death was caused by unlawful or suspicious means, the registrar shall then refer the case to the coroner for his investigation and certification."

Section 2036x12 of the compiled laws of Utah makes a violation a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $100 or six months' imprisonment in the county jail, or both fine and imprisonment. Under the law, an undertaker should notify the death registrar of deaths occurring without medical attention as soon as possible, the same day, if practicable. Instead, two or three undertakers have waited in some instances two or three days, or even longer. In one or two cases undertakers have presented themselves before the registrar fifteen minutes before the time set for the burial and rather than delay burial the registrar has hurried out to make an investigation so that the burial could proceed on time.

ARCHITECTS BUSY WITH PLANS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

The city school board wants the new high school building ready for occupancy by September 1, 1911, and to this end work is being rushed on the competitive plans that must be submitted to the board by September 1 of this year. Deep interest in the new building is being manifested by architects and builders of the city, and several architects are said to have tentative plans well along, while others are beginning on plans. Two or three architects have plans almost ready for submission now, it is said.

Work on the ten-room addition to the Longfellow school is being rushed. Mr. Dallas of Dallas & Hedges says the addition will be ready for use on the opening day of school and this settles all doubt on that point. The addition will give the Longfellow building sixteen rooms. The cost of the ten rooms being added is approximately $50,000.

Freeman Morningstar Talks of the City's Rapid Growth

Freeman Morningstar, a prominent real estate dealer and mining promoter, believes in the greatness of Salt Lake City. He said Saturday: "As a citizen with a certain amount of civic pride in my make-up and with interest in the splendid progress now going forward on every hand in our most wonderful municipal development, I desire to commend the spirit of the men prompting it, their foresight and, on the whole, their good judgment displayed in the execution of all this great work. I say great work because really it is a great work—this work of building a rather raw city into a great commercial, social and educational metropolis—and embellishing it with those things that are both essential and aesthetic."

"It is no work for small boys, nor small men. It is, in fact, a big job—carried on and continued to a logical result—a work fit for large men, big men, men of the stamp of Denver's great mayor, Mayor Speer. Under his guidance in five years Denver has prospered enormously, and is now enjoying the largest and most permanent growth in her history. A Denver paper a few weeks ago enumerated a score of big things that now exist there as the direct result of his painstaking, loyal public service for the city he loves and for which he is giving freely of his time and skill, the best that is in him."

"We already possess one of the finest city halls to be found in the entire country west of the Mississippi river, and it is indeed a credit to the men who planned and made it possible for us. The Packard public library and three or four of our clubs are further evidence of the high civic pride of our citizenship. And now, as if to carry out the high standards already set by our people as a whole, we find that the corporations, such as the mining exchange, the two great hotel companies, but also and especially our beautiful hotels at either end of Main street, and the three great railroad systems, are each doing their best to become part of the determination on the part of everybody here to build up in this great natural intermountain empire not only one of the strongest centers of trade and great financial operations, but also and especially a great social and educational capital, for all the states lying between the Rocky mountains and the Sierra Nevada, and from the Canadas to Mexico. This is also borne out by the action taken by our legislature in passing a bill that is intended to give us a $2,000,000 state capital building, on that princely site of twenty-one acres set apart for the purpose and the economy of our state capital building years ago. We have been slower than other states in getting our state capital, but it is far better for us that things are now being done so that it was not built a dozen or more years ago, because we shall have a fine building in the county jail, or both fine and imprisonment."

HOT WEATHER AFFECTS TRADE

bank clearings compared with the corresponding period of last year. There is a general feeling of hesitancy over the country, and this feeling is not a stranger to Salt Lake City. The volume of business transacted has been large, but the business interests have not made up their minds that conditions have assumed an altogether normal basis.

Crop Situation Better. It is generally conceded that a certain knowledge of crop results will have a marked bearing on conditions generally. The rains of the past week will undoubtedly be of great benefit, especially to the hard crop in various parts of the state. Beets were suffering for the lack of refreshing rain and the showers came at an opportune time.

The grain crops had progressed to such a stage that the rains did little or no good to them, but that thousands of dollars benefit will accrue to the beet fields and the ranges of the state is conceded by all those conversant with the situation. A prominent producer man of the state has estimated, after a careful inspection of the crops, that the yield this year will be about eighty-five per cent of the yield of last year. This, if true, in the face of pessimistic and discouraging reports about the crop outlook, will have a most beneficial result on general conditions. Lumber and Hardware. The lumber trade reports conditions about the same as last week. There is little change in prices. The mills in the northwest are working to capacity and are turning out immense quantities of stuff for the trade. Collections are fairly good. So great is the demand for cement that the mills find it difficult to supply the trade. The hardware trade reports a fair business in seasonable goods. Shipments to outside buyers not heavy, but are up to expectations. The wholesale dry goods trade is kept fairly busy in handling orders from customers in the country. Business is not lively, but it is far from being quiet.

Special Sales Patronized. Jobbers say that orders are now being placed for fall and winter goods. Outside dealers are holding off, however, on heavy orders, preferring to buy only what they think will be sufficient for their immediate needs. The retail dry goods trade has had a reasonably busy week. Seasonable goods are selling like the proverbial hot cakes. The business in this line has been accelerated on account of the many special sales during the week. Dealers report that these sales have been well patronized. White goods of all kinds have been bought in large quantities.

GOVERNOR CALLS EXTRA SESSION

Chief Executive of Utah's Eastern Neighbor Interested in City's Progress.

John F. Shafroth, governor of Colorado, is at the Wilson hotel for a few days. The governor has a meeting of the board of agriculture to attend at Grand Junction and must visit the reformatory at Buena Vista, so he came to Salt Lake to attend to some private matters. In the '90s he invested in north bench land and now that the section is being built up he thought he would investigate the matter, which he did Saturday and incidentally took in the city generally, with which he was much impressed. In company with his old-time friend, Samuel Newhouse, Governor Shafroth motored about the city during the forenoon, and hearing the Governor Spry was attending a session of the state board of pardons at the state's prison, they went out to that institution to give the Colorado executive an opportunity of paying his respects to Utah's governor. The two gentlemen, having met before. An inspection of the penitentiary was made for the benefit of the visitor and he said at the close of the tour through the grounds and buildings that the prison was excellently kept up and was a fine structure in every way.

Seen at the hotel during the afternoon, Governor Shafroth, pleasantly granted an interview, but he said that there was little that would be new. He had enjoyed his day and was much surprised at the great progress being made throughout the city and the substantial buildings that are going up.

Asked if he would speak of the political situation in Colorado he replied that much was being said right now about the situation in that state and the legislature in August, but that the reasons for calling that session were that the members who had been elected on pledges of certain reform legislation, such as the repeal of law relating to banks and banking, the initiative and referendum, railroad commission, headless ballot, direct primary law, public service and other important acts had not passed such laws, a majority of both parties obstructing such enactments. Now he had called the extra session in an effort to get the members to keep their pledges of honor to the people and he was in hopes of seeing some action taken in passing the laws.

MUSIC AT LUNCHEON DELIGHTS BIG CROWD

Over 250 people, who sat down to the regular Saturday luncheon at the Commercial club, were delighted with the fine programme of vocal and instrumental numbers rendered by local artists. The programme follows: By Miss Irene Kelly, soprano, "The Magnolia" and "The Rose" (Victor Herbert); "Were I a Bird" and "Lift Up Thine Eyes" (Frederick Logan), and "Believe Me" (Sinding) in G, by Bee-thoven, and "Nocturne," by Chopin. Miss Helen Hartley gave the following violin solos: "Serenata," by Moskowski; "Humoresque," by Tchaikovsky; "Minuet" in G, by Beethoven, and "Nocturne," by Chopin. Fred C. Walker, tenor, sang "I Know You Are Right, Eyes" by Gustav Meissner; "Jean," by Spross; "A Southern Lullaby," by Greely, and aria from "Carmen," by Bizet. Kelly and Mr. Graham sang the duet for soprano and tenor from Puccini's "Madam Butterfly," and "Because You Are So Beautiful" from "The Mikado." Miss Maude Thorne was the accompanist. The vocalists are an innovation on the programme introduced during the absence of the regular quartette.

FRED C. WALKER GETS FINE NEW POSITION

A dinner which was given at the Wilson hotel by F. C. Walker, following the close of the semi-annual meeting of managers of the Utah, Idaho and Montana branch offices of the Capital Electric company, marked an important change in electrical affairs. Mr. Walker, who for several years has been the manager of the Salt Lake Electric Supply company, has been appointed general superintendent of the Capital Electric company's branch stores, which are located at Ogden, Provo, and Butte store, takes Mr. Walker's place as manager of the Salt Lake Electric Supply company. A notable feature comes to light in this connection, as Mr. Walker and Mr. Scheiber both started to work for R. W. Walker, 1895 at store in Ogden. Mr. Walker has filled the positions of store boy, wireman, shop foreman, superintendent and manager of the Salt Lake Electric Supply company.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS HAVE PLEASANT OUTING

The university summer school excursion up Emerys Canyon Saturday proved a splendid success, in spite of the severe thunderstorm in the evening. The students, over 1000 in all, left early in the morning for the head of the canyon in special cars. The day was spent in mountain climbing and picnicking. In the evening the crowd gathered at Point Lookout to see the sunset on Great Salt Lake, but were soon forced to return because of the sudden gathering of the clouds and the rain. The excursion was the largest and most successful outing of the present session.

Bids on Second West Street Work to Be Opened July 29.

The board of public works met in special session Saturday morning and awarded the contract for street repairs to P. J. Moran, who was the only bidder. Moran's bid was as follows: Excavation, cubic yard, $50; concrete foundation, cubic yard, $35; pavement, exclusive of foundation, square yard, $1.57; pavement, graded, square yard, $1.25; pavement, not graded, square yard, $1.50. This is the same figure at which the street paving repairs were awarded to Moran for last year. The work will run from $10,000 to $15,000. Silver Brothers Iron Works company will build the city's dredge barge and install the machinery on it for $7885. This firm was the only bidder on this work and although the tender was almost $2000 above the estimate, the contract was awarded. The city already has the machinery at a cost of about $9000. The contract for laying cross walks for 1910 was awarded to McKay & Reed, whose bid was $6000. Fewer cross walks will be laid this year than last, it looks like now.
