GOOD HITTING IS JUST LUCK

Hans Wagner Declares That It Is Impossible to Place Them Safely.

ELEMENT OF CHANCE IS IN BATTING AVERAGES

Misfortunes, Not Misplay, Usually Account for Errors Against Fielders.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—John H. ("Hans") Wagner, last year's premier swatsman of the National league, at the Aldine hotel a few days ago, while the Pirates were playing here, characterized his slump in batting in the beginning of the season and the subsequent improvement as simply "baseball luck."

"If you hit the ball where they are not, you're all right, and if you hit them where they are, you're out," said Hans, "and it's a whole lot easier to hit them where they are. Only luck puts them anywhere else. Any baseball player will have a good year and then a bad year, and that's what has happened to me this season. For a long time I couldn't seem to hit them safe, and that's the reason my percentage slumped."

"You'll find that it isn't only in batting that baseball luck holds sway. Many a fielder has an error checked up against him simply because that element of luck caused maybe his spikes to slip, maybe the ball to take a tricky bounce, in fact a hundred and one different ways of making the stop difficult. There are mighty few errors made now that are the player's fault. Very seldom when the ball is knocked out to a man along the ground, does he miss it because he misjudged it. The fielder's eyes are all good, and it's a twofold one shot that the ball was deflected in some manner just as the man was going after it."

Did Not Think of Quitting.

"No, I wasn't thinking of quitting baseball at the beginning of the season," answered Hans in response to a question to that effect. "That has been all false rumor. If I'd wanted to quit, I'd quit, and that would be all to it. I won't know, though, when I get too poor to play with the Pittsburgh team unless the team tells me I'm ready to play with them until they decide that I'm worthless. You know how it is. A young player has lots of vim and he's pushing right along, while an older one sort of loses our dash."

"Baseball luck put in against our team in the beginning of the season, with twenty straight days of nothing but rain, and that has been a disadvantage to us ever since. We have more than a dozen double-headers to play off, and we are going to try to win them. Whether we will or not I can't say."

Here's another incident of baseball luck. Every time we strike the Phillies they are playing at their very best, and generally take the majority of the games from us. It is a case of hoodoo. We simply can't defeat the Phillies, although we can trim other teams that put it all over us."

BROOKINGS FLIES OVER CHICAGO LAKE FRONT

Man Watching Aviation Trial Falls Sixty Feet Down Tall Chimney.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Carrying a newspaper man, the first airplane passenger ever carried in Chicago, Aviator Walter Brookings soared above the city's lake front late today and sailed away over the lake, swinging about over the edge of the tall building district and easily brought his Wright biplane to earth again.

It was his third flight of the day, the fifth of the last two days, all of them perfectly made and the first witnessed here.

In the course of the morning flight today, Roy Smith, watching from the top of a chimney, lost his footing and plunged down sixty feet into a heap of soot within the chimney, where he was discovered by firemen who dug through the brick. He was only bruised.

In the course of the morning flight today, Roy Smith, watching from the top of a chimney, lost his footing and plunged down sixty feet into a heap of soot within the chimney, where he was discovered by firemen who dug through the brick. He was only bruised.

Brookings' flights were preliminary to his attempt tomorrow morning to break the American sustained flight record and thereby capture the Chicago Record-Herald's prize of $10,000 for a flight from Chicago to Springfield, a distance of 157 miles.

His sailing today was closely watched by his tutor, Wilbur Wright. Very seldom when the ball is knocked out to a man along the ground, does he miss it because he misjudged it. The fielder's eyes are all good, and it's a twofold one shot that the ball was deflected in some manner just as the man was going after it."

FOOTBALL TEAM IN SORT OF PRACTICE

New Sodded Gridiron Is Tried Out by the University Players.

The first scrimmage work in football practice this year was given the varsity football squad Wednesday afternoon, when some of the "royal" squad lined up against the freshmen team to try out some of the new signals and plays they have been studying during the past week.

The newly sodded athletic field where the men have been doing part of the practicing this week is in a fairly good condition and it is thought that the new sod will stand the rough work of the big games pretty well. No heavy work is yet being done by the team on the field in order that the grass will have all the time possible to become thoroughly rooted.

Three new men have been placed on the training table since the beginning of training—Stewart Young, Carmichael and Dolly Riser. Riser was captain of the junior football team, while Young, the class series of last year, and his speed and knowledge of the game has won for him a position on the big team.

The first game with Eureka will be played next Sunday at Eureka. The other two games will be played on the following Saturday and Sunday at Walker's field. As a final practice game before the first game with Eureka, the Occidentals will play Murray at Walker's field next Saturday.

The Murray team won the state league series, with the Occidentals a close second. In the post-season series between the two teams the Occidentals won Eureka has won from every team in southern Utah and believes it has an excellent chance to beat the Occidentals for the state championship. In next Sunday's game, either Mooney or Langford will pitch for the Occidentals, and probably Heusser for Eureka.

ARRANGING DATES FOR WORLD'S SERIES GAMES

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 28.—The world's series between the Chicago Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans may start on Saturday, October 15, according to an announcement made here by Secretary McRoy of the American league today.

That is, however, if President Murphy of the Chicago club will wind up his season with St. Louis on October 13, as he stated yesterday in Chicago, and if the other clubs of the series will not start until October 17. A meeting of the national commission will probably be held Monday when this matter will be decided.

McRoy's visit here was to sign up Outfielder Speaker and First Baseman Stahl of Boston, two members of the all-star American league team which will meet Philadelphia in a five-game series starting October 10. The Chicago team will be expected to avoid the world's series does not start until the 16th.

PAL MOORE BEATEN BY LITTLE BRITISHER

Owen Moran Wins Six-Round Bout in Philadelphia After Hard Battle.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Pal Moore of this city was beaten by Owen Moran of England in a six-round bout before the National Athletic club tonight, notwithstanding that the local lad had almost put the Englishman out in the third round with a vicious punch, which landed low and which sent Moran to his knees in agony.

After a moment's rest, the Englishman signified his willingness to go on with the battle, but the men had scarcely set themselves for another punching when Moran again hit Moran below the belt. This time, Moran walked to his corner, and the referee, after warning Moran that if he again struck low he would be disqualified, announced that Moran would again agree to go on.

Moran had the advantage in every round except the first and second, which were even. He did nearly all the leading and forced the fighting. His blows had more steam behind them than those delivered by Moore, who did not seem to be at his best.

The fight was at catch weights, but there was little difference in their weights.

GUN CLUB WILL KEEP TRAPS OPEN THIS FALL

"Because of the fact that the malady which is afflicting wild ducks in Utah has caused a postponement of the duck hunting season, the Salt Lake Gun club will keep open its traps for the hunters. Instead of closing them as usual, the club hunters will have to be satisfied with bagging the clay birds."

The Salt Lake Gun club met Wednesday night and decided not to close its traps this season. The club decided that the disease which is afflicting the ducks is a menace to public health, and that the hunters should be satisfied with bagging the clay birds.

An open shoot will be held under the auspices of the gun club at the traps next Sunday for a number of merchandise prizes for different classes of marksmen.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL HAVE EIGHT GAMES

Hard Schedule Is Being Arranged for Local Football Warriors.

The schedule of games for the high school football team this year will be one of the best the school has ever had. Now that some other field other than the high school campus must be secured for the games, the schedule will be commenced at once. It is the plan to play the Jordan high school within two weeks, and the university freshmen team on the Saturday following. It has been the custom in the past years to play each of the high schools two games, but this season only one game will be played with a school.

The schedule will be a heavy one, consisting of eight games. The game with Ogden will probably be played on October 29.

One of the schools in the northern part of the state will be played. Payson was the southern champion team last year, and the school will probably be given the first opportunity to arrange for a game between the two schools. The outside schools that have been written to for games are the Spokane high school, Rutte high school, East Denver high school, West Denver high school, Manual high school, Denver, Colorado Springs high school and Pueblo high school.
