DR. COOK TALKS TO UTAH TEACHERS

His Address Was the Feature of the Afternoon at the Convention.

OFFERS SOME GOOD ADVICE

Urges Teachers to Study History of Education as They Would Their Own Geography.

The third general session was held at the assembly hall at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Invocation was pronounced by Rabbi Freund.

Before introducing the speaker of the occasion several important propositions were disposed of by President Mathonah Thomas.

Superintendent John M. Mills, in behalf of the Ogdens schools, presented to the association the artistic banner or emblem for use in the National Educational association conventions.

Dr. Cook's Address. Dr. John M. Cook, president of the Illinois Normal, addressed the gathering for one hour and a half.

Dr. Cook is a strong advocate of evolution, judging by his remarks. He introduced Rousseau and Voltaire, placing them as heralds of the new day.

One Sensational Feature. The only sensational feature of the session was the introducing of some drastic resolutions for legislation against the "stockade."

Whereas, we have dedicated our lives and our energies to the spiritual, moral and intellectual uplift of our fair state;

Whereas, we are the legally appointed guardians, in part, of the boys and girls of today, the citizens of tomorrow, who must be the bulwark of our future commonwealth;

That we condemn as abhorrent, immoral, uncivilized, un-Christlike, the doctrine that the social and necessary evil in our modern city life.

Coffee to Again Advance. According to the reports of local coffee dealers, there will be a still further advance in this beverage in the near future.

Barbers' Union Meeting. The Barbers' Union of Salt Lake met in Federation of Labor hall Wednesday night to arrange for a meeting to be held next Tuesday night.

OPPOSE SEPARATE TRADE SCHOOLS

Industrial Education Should Be an Organic Part of Public School Curriculum.

COMMITTEE FILES REPORT

Recommendations Are Made for the Improvement of Industrial Training Methods.

Last year a committee, consisting of Dr. J. A. Whitson, W. M. Stewart, Henry Peterson and Carl Marcussen, was appointed by the Utah State Teachers' association to draw up plans for improved industrial education.

The committee recommends the following: 1. All school work should have organic relations to life activities.

2. Industrial education should be made an organic part of the public school curriculum.

3. A separate system of public industrial or trade schools should not be established.

4. In the elementary school the industrial subjects should consist of domestic activities, manual training, and applied nature study, with special reference to the agricultural needs of the community.

5. The teachers of the state should immediately introduce industrial training into the schools where it is not now found.

6. Your committee recommends that the teachers of our state co-operate during the coming year with a committee on the subject of industrial education.

7. The industrial subjects should become more distinctly differentiated in the seventh and eighth grades and should become more highly specialized in the high school.

8. The industrial subjects should include domestic arts, domestic science and domestic art, elementary agriculture, and such other industrial activities as the special needs of the community demand.

9. Every secondary school can and should provide some industrial work. Every school of the seventh, eighth and high school grades should be sufficiently trained in mechanical skill and knowledge to be able to understand an application of the ordinary problems of lighting, heating, plumbing and ventilating modern homes.

10. Your committee recommends that the teachers of our state co-operate during the coming year with a committee on the subject of industrial education.

11. The industrial subjects should become more distinctly differentiated in the seventh and eighth grades and should become more highly specialized in the high school.

teenth annual conclave now in session here.

Unusually Interesting Session. The second day of the Utah State Teachers' association convention was one of unusual interest, not only by reason of its problems and discussions, but because of the large field covered in a dozen or more department meetings, and in the absorbing address delivered by Dr. John M. Cook, president of the Northern Illinois Normal school, at the afternoon session.

Art section met in the Assembly room of the Lafayette school at 9 o'clock under the direction of President A. Whipple and Secretary Fawn Brimhall.

Auditor of Utah Files Report Which Shows Where Money Goes

The biennial report of the state auditor as filed Wednesday discloses the tremendously increased expenditure at the University of Utah, which in 1908 cost $192,250.33; in 1909, $121,476.03, and in 1910 $282,503.73, of which the charge for general maintenance rose from $93,057.85 in 1909 to $229,484.64.

The Logan Agricultural college has also increased its cost from $69,547.56 in 1908 to $77,007.33 to $138,589.22. There are many other items which are entitled to close examination and analysis which this Tribune will take up later separately, so that the public may know what is being done with its funds. Here are figures from the report:

Table with columns for Receipts and Disbursements for 1908, 1909, and 1910. Receipts include taxes, interest, and other income. Disbursements include salaries, expenses, and other costs.

THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE, THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 29, 1910.

The main high school building, the ladies making up nearly the total attendance. Superintendent A. C. Nelson delivered the principal address for the kindergarten section, taking for his subject "Effective Kindergarten Log."

In the gymnasium assembly room of the high school the primary section met at 10 a. m., presided over by President Willis Spurgen of Ogden, with Etta Powers of Salt Lake as secretary.

Another interesting division was the commercial section, presided over by President G. F. Roach, with Miss Florence Lanning, secretary.

Commissioners of Commerce Promise to Ask Congress to Create New Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—As a result of conferences between Judge Arthur A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and J. P. Mabie, chief of the railway commission of Canada, an agreement has been reached to recommend to the respective governments the creation of an international railroad commission which shall have supervisory authority over rates between the two countries.

Mr. Mabie reached Washington from Ottawa last night in accordance with a previous arrangement with Chairman Knapp. He came to discuss the details of an agreement they had reached last August, and today the two officials were in conference.

For some time it has been realized that the increasing railway traffic between the United States and Canada was likely to render future control over rates difficult, unless some international action were taken.

Under existing circumstances it is not possible to compel either railways or express companies to establish joint through rates and routes to and from points in the two countries.

Out of this situation grew the idea of the creation of an international commission which should have supervisory control over the railways and other common carriers doing an international transportation business.

Watchman Kills Miner. TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 28.—After an altercation at the Southern Pacific depot here last night Pat Boyle, a Twin Butte miner, was killed by a watchman.
