

THE SOCIAL SIDE OF LIFE

He's only a nurse to pay her bills—
 Pay for her bills, and she'll be
 An escort to take her to and fro
 Wherever she thinks she wants to go
 To call for her when she brings game's done.
 To sympathize with her grief or fan,
 A something to tell her troubles to,
 To cheer her up when she thinks she's blue.
 To take but never to give her advice,
 To tell her her horrid looks look nice,
 To post her letters and wind the clock,
 And look up the back of her modish frock.
 To strap her suitcase and find her gloves.
 And listen to tales of her old-time love,
 In fact, to do all she may say or ask,
 And he's such a fool that he loves the task.

The seventy-five members of the company which will appear in the revival of the famous Gilbert & Sullivan opera "H. M. S. Pinafore," are working overtime since the arrival of Harry James, the San Francisco stage manager, who is putting principals and chorus through a course of professional sprouts that has kept them busy day and night, for every minute that they are not under the watchful eye of Mr. James, Squirt Coop, who is directing the music, has kept them more than busy.

At Wandanere where the opera will take place on July 17, 18, 19 and 20, workmen are constructing a model of the battleship Utah over the lake with sufficient deck room to stage the production just as well as it could be put on at a theater, though the added novelty of the surroundings will form the most unique setting of any out door affair ever attempted by local talent.

The principals and chorus of the local production have been chosen first for their musical ability and second with an eye to beauty, and the result has been a complete cast that will unquestionably prove a great attraction. Mrs. W. H. Cunningham will sing Buttercup; Hazel Taylor, Peery, will be seen as Josephine; Mrs. Harold Siegel is cast for Hebe, and such well known artists as Hugh Dougall, M. J. Brines, Fred Smith, Lawrence Greenwell, Melvin Peterson and Julian Thomas will interpret the principal male roles.

The ability of the ladies is too well known to need extended comment, and the music and comedy in the pretty opera give exceptional opportunities to the men. In the chorus will be seen many of the most attractive young ladies in the city and among the men a number whose voices have delighted Salt Lake audiences before.

A unique feature of the production will be the boat and box seats over the water, though besides these there will be ample accommodations for all who attend.

The performances will be for the benefit of the Free Kindergarten and Neighborhood Cornucopia.

The chorus will be as follows:

Mrs. Jack Keith, Mrs. L. L. Savage, the Misses Stella Angell, Virginia Beatty, Minette Baer, Lucile Clark, Frances Cowan, Helen Clawson, Eliza Dey, Craig, Virginia Duncan, Esther Davis, Ivy Evans, Ada L. Ferguson, Edith Godbe, Rowena Korn, Lillian Lane, Aileen McMillan, Eud May, Mary Marshall, Carrie Marshall, Gladys McCormack, Margaret McClure, Amy Osborne, Louise Osborne, Margaret Stewart, Isabel Sniffer, Josephine Weil, Messrs. Anderson, Ash Brown, Edith Cannon, Christensen, Corwall, Dale, Hughes, Lawrence, Montcar, Musser, Peterson, Peabody, Summers, Thomas and Winters.

Take Off the Fat Where It Shows

Most women suffer much humiliation and inconvenience, especially during the hot summer months, because of great quantities of fat so located that, no matter how they dress, everybody sees that they are abnormal. This is the season and the day of the slender figure, and fat women are simply not tolerated either in business or social affairs. Women may not know it, but when they see a fat woman pass them on the street, make a manner of sympathetic remarks about her. They do not mean to be unkind or to seem unkind, but it is natural for a man to dislike fat on a woman. Where fat shows the most there is where it must be removed, and as quickly as possible. Hot water, dressings, and the made for the fat woman's misery and the slender woman's delight. They expose all the charms of woman and her ugliness as well. Exercise and diet will not remove fat. This has been proved. The famous Marmola prescription which has met with such phenomenal success and has so many of our society women as its sponsors, is now being sold in tablet form to meet the demand of the public for this style of treatment. The tablets go into your system just like food. They stop the stomach and digestive apparatus from producing fat and reduce the fat upon the body at the rate of from 12 to 16 ounces a day. They are harmless in hot as well as in cold weather and can be carried in your purse and taken even after you have indulged in a hearty meal away from home. They are sold at all drug stores at 75 cents a case, or if you prefer you may write the Marmola Company, 1123 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

Miss Cary Marshall.

Miss Mary Marshall.

short stay in town are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hewlett of Pasadena, who have been spending a few weeks here. Mrs. Hewlett is already famed locally for her beauty and charm, and at a recent dinner where beauties were numerous she was the center of attraction, as well as the guest of honor.

The really warm weather (for Salt Lake) which has visited the town the past few days, while nothing at all compared to the terrors of the eastern climate, has had a tendency to discourage all motor activities—except, of course, the automobile activities—and as a consequence the very interesting handicap golf tournament which Mrs. Gemmill had planned for the women of the Country club has had to be postponed till milder weather comes. The handicaps have been given out and the women paired off for the match, and the list will simply stand—barring any serious impediments to playing the games, till the autumn season, when golf is more popular than it is in mid-summer. The entries are Mrs. William Reid, Mrs. L. L. Savage, Mrs. E. W. Salisbury, Mrs. L. J. Gilmer, Miss Anna McCormick, Mrs. F. E. McGurran, Mrs. Louis McCormick and Mrs. J. Frank Judge.

The most elaborate dinner ever given at the new Commercial club was the patriotic dinner of July 4, when Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caine entertained about a score of their friends to meet the Terrys and the Schieds, who had much to tell of the world and what they have seen of it on their travels. The affair, besides being most enjoyable, was elegant in all its appointments and the decorations were the most beautiful imaginable.

From the Los Angeles Express of recent date the following will be of interest to the many local friends of the bride: "Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Shannon Mills, whose marriage took place Wednesday, June 28, in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Ogden, Utah, arrived in Los Angeles Friday, coming here to make their home. They are settled for the present at the Trebor apartments, where they will receive friends and remain until plans are perfected for the erection of a home of their own. The bride, formerly Miss Margaret Armstrong, is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Dee Armstrong of Ogden, with whom she has passed many winters in Los Angeles. It was during their sojourn here last winter that her engagement to Mr. Mills was announced, their departure for home soon after having been for the purpose of making plans for the church wedding. Mr. Mills is manager and illuminating engineer of the electrical department of the Johns-Manville company, Los Angeles.

Now that the "safe and sane" Fourth of July is ended, everybody seems to smile approval on the scheme. Society folk in general do not like the bustle and noise of the nation's birthday, and they do not infrequently take to the tall timber, either literally or figuratively. This year the start was made early in the morning, because, for the first time, a really peaceful night preceded the day, and motors decked with the national colors could be seen making a quick "getaway" on all the lines that lead out of town. Many went to Springville or Provo for a delicious semi-country midday meal, while others, great numbers of them, went north to the usual place, the Hermitage, which belied its name on that date. Comparatively few remained for the tea at the Country club, but a few of the members enjoying the late afternoon, some even getting up enough energy to join in the approaching and putting contest in which Mrs. Gemmill and Frank Judge won the prizes.

Has anyone noticed how sedate the colors of the automobiles are nowadays as compared with those that were wont literally to dazzle the eye of the beholder a few years ago? One seldom sees a crushed strawberry kind now, and a real orangeade variety is left to the long dead past. There was a time when the striped variety was proper thing, but it was found that particular brand was blamed many times for the dizziness which too frequently attacks joy riders. The proper tone just now seems to be a pale gray, which, of course, harmonizes with the surrounding scenery and at the same time goes well with the raiment of the occupants. There is still a warm spot in the human heart for the bright red machine, as it would seem to indicate a hotter time than the cool, sedate-looking gray car. But there's no denying the fact that the red-hot car shows the heat awfully.

Among the new young matrons who have come to the city within the past few weeks to make a home is Mrs. Curtis Y. Clawson, who, as Miss Louise Parkinson, was one of the belles of Logan. Mrs. Clawson is of the tall, slender brunette type, and is a charming and accomplished young woman who will make a circle of friends in the city.

The Los Angeles Herald of Thursday says: "Miss Hazel McKinney of Salt Lake City, who is the house guest of her cousin, Miss Mabel Hall of South Hudson avenue, Pasadena, was the guest of honor at a theater party Friday evening, supper being served afterwards. The guests included Miss Hall, Miss McKinney, Miss Hazel Beck, Miss Rowena Darling, Harry Beck, Will Beckman and the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frame."

The schedule for July events at the Country club provides a program most enjoyably at a bridge tea, six tables of the game preceding a delightful tea, at which a number more came in. The affair was in compliment to Miss Harriet Peabody of Chicago, who is a guest at the home of the Tyndales.

The home was gay with flowers; red sweet peas in the hall, pink in the parlors and a most artistic arrangement of cecropis and yellow nasturtiums in the dining room. A number of friends assisted the hostess.

The Ivers home on East First South street was the scene yesterday of a most delightful reception given by Mrs. James Ivers in compliment to her daughter, Mrs. Finlen, who is a guest at the home. The delightful weather of the afternoon, mild as a day in May, made a tea particularly pleasant and the home was filled with friends all the late afternoon hours. An orchestra was stationed in the lower hall, furnishing a delightful musical program, and throughout the rooms the June flowers lent their beauty and fragrance. Miss Congriff assisted the hostess at the punch bowl, which was placed in the library, while Mrs. Joy H. Johnson, Mrs. C. S. Vadner, Mrs. J. L. Franken and Mrs. W. H. Cunningham took turns at the tea table pouring.

The fact that the Fifteenth will be here before the end of the week seems almost too good to be true, especially to the remnant of army folk left at the post. The news comes that the regiment will leave San Antonio on Tuesday and that will bring them here by Saturday at the latest. Many changes have taken place in the personnel of the officers since the departure of the Fifteenth in March, but there are enough of them to come home to insure a hearty welcome from their friends here. Lieutenant Emory S. Adams, whose leave begins Monday, will leave there a day ahead of the rest and will come directly here.

Mrs. William Igleheart entertained the members of the Saturday night club last evening at Rowland hall, the time going well with the raiment of the occupants. There is still a warm spot in the human heart for the bright red machine, as it would seem to indicate a hotter time than the cool, sedate-looking gray car. But there's no denying the fact that the red-hot car shows the heat awfully.

The week opens right briskly for midsummertime with a number of affairs scheduled for the first few days. The morning bridge party, either on the porch or in the shaded rooms, is becoming more and more popular and will probably hold its own, even with the evening affairs throughout the summer. Mrs. Frederick Steigmeyer has issued cards for one such affair on Tuesday morning to meet a charming guest at her home, Miss Elizabeth Stewart of Redding, Pa. Miss Jane Darling will give a bridge tea and late ran informal evening affair on Monday at the Darling home in honor of her cousins, the Misses Bache of Los Angeles, who are guests of the F. E. McGurran. Mrs. Enos A. Wall will

Wrinkleless Skin
 Now Easy to Have

(From Family Physician)

"There's no excuse for any woman having wrinkles now. It has been found that a simple mixture of saxolite and witch hazel has a remarkable action upon the deepest wrinkles, no matter what their nature, whether caused by worry, habitual frowning, a debilitated condition or the ravages of Father Time. This harmless remedy, which anyone can easily make and use at home, acts both as an astringent and a tonic. The combined effect of lightening the skin and heightening its vitality is to immediately affect every line and wrinkle, keeping the cuticle smooth and firm as in youth.

The proportions are one ounce saxolite (powdered) to one-half pint witch hazel. The solution should be used as a wash lotion. It is equally effective in disposing of babbiness of cheek and neck, as well as sagging below the eyes.

be the hostess on Tuesday afternoon at a large and elaborate bridge tea at the Country club. The usual midweek luncheon, followed by bridge, will be the order on Wednesday at the Country club, and the week will close with the dinner and dance on Saturday night. These, with the usual number of motor parties, lake parties and out-of-town affairs, will fill the time pretty well for July.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Kayser entertained a party of ten friends last evening at an elaborately appointed dinner at the Hotel Utah at which decorations of lavender and white sweet peas were used. The long table was bright with the flowers, and handsome favors of silver were at each place with the place cards.
