

Music and Musicians

Keeping Time.
Keeping time in music means the playing of notes in strict obedience to a regular beat, giving each note its proper length with a defined rate of speed. To keep correct time means a knowledge of rhythm, measure, movement combined with well developed musical mentality. In fact, the whole story of correct time lies in the mental concentration. It is time that gives music its true character. To make light of it means a succession of musical sounds as meaningless as a jumble of words without punctuation. Without rhythm, which is really the only proper means to express an idea, music is without musical interpretation. Meter describes the number and nature of the beats in a measure, that is between the bar lines on the staff. Movement or tempo decides the degree of slowness or swiftness with which a piece should be executed. A good system for teachers to adopt with young students in regard to time is to make them count or beat time away from the instrument. A vivid sense of rhythm, movement and time is given in this way, the pupil will surely keep good time without taking undue freedom with the composition.

Famous Choir Returns.
The Mountain Ash Male Voice chorus, which made such a splendid impression at the Salt Lake theater on November 11-15 last, is scheduled for a reappearance at the tabernacle on Friday evening next. Since the singers' extraordinary here they have been in the northwest and on the Pacific coast, and have won, as they did here, genuine encomiums from the music-loving people. Their choir's appearance at the second recital is under the auspices of the tabernacle choir, the Canadian association and the Sons and Daughters of Wales society. The programme will include the ever-famous "Barney," "Destruction of Gaza," "Old Black Joe," "The Tyrol," and others. Popular prices have been decided upon and a crowded house is looked for.

Music at L. D. S. Hospital.
Joseph Foll, conductor of the Thirty-third ward, has arranged a splendid musical programme to be given at the L. D. S. hospital this evening at 8 o'clock. Those taking part will be Dr. H. Kirkman, Mrs. George C. Buckle, Miss Romania Hyde, Miss Frances Hamlin, J. Foll, E. Erwin, Garden Garrett, Carl Foll and the Liberty quartette.

Music Comment.
"Faust" recently had its 1400th performance in Paris.
Mischa Elman, the great Russian violinist, will reside in London for the future.
Lorenzo Perosi, the priest composer of Italy, has just completed a new oratorio, "Vespertino Oratio."
Herbert Hodge, organist at St. Nicholas Cole abbey, England, has recently given his 1250th organ recital. The English surely love the organ.

Oscar Hammerstein has scored another success in London with "Quo Vadis." Two of the most successful members of the cast were Felice Lane and Orville Herold.
Great teachers of violin in Europe do not accept all pupils who apply. They do not conduct violin teaching as a business, but as an art. It is often a matter of surprise to Americans that the European teachers will not consider money—but the talent.

Many compositions of Dvorak will soon be published in Berlin.
H. Constantino, the well-known tenor, will soon take the role of an opera impresario.

Music Notes.
Miss May O'Neill will be the offertory soloist at St. Mary's cathedral today.
An enjoyable violin recital was given by some of the pupils of Mrs. Ida T. Davis at her studio on New Year's evening. Those taking part were Lynn Ostler, Nell Officer, Mary O'Donnell, Guy White, Roy Winter and Milton Packman. Miss Gladys Johnson added to the pleasure of the evening with several of her own compositions, "Poems of Christmas Time." Mrs. Emily Sitten also dedicated those present with two splendid vocal numbers.

The music rendered at the Judge Menov hospital on Wednesday was beautifully rendered by the choir of St. Mary's cathedral, with Miss Maggie Harley, Miss Alice Farrell and J. M. Madden soloists.
