DENIES RIGHT OF THE UNITED STATES

foreigners who may be made prisoners among the rebel forces; and although there does not exist sufficient data to suppose that the chiefs of the government forces have declared that they would execute summarily Americans who may be taken prisoners and who might be fighting on the side of the rebel forces, orders have been sent to the military chiefs that if it should happen that foreign soldiers should be taken prisoners, these should be treated in conformity with the laws of the republic and of international practice.

Effort to Restore Peace.

The government and the people of Mexico lament that the peace has been disturbed in an effort for the republic and are making incessant and strenuous efforts to re-establish it. This government expects to accomplish by means of a concentration of the elements of war and through the aid of the clearly defined opinion of the majority of the Mexican people, which expresses its confidence and other foreigners who reside among us should know, is emphatically secured by the present government of the republic.

Far from evading responsibilities which are being assumed by the present government of the United States, the government recognizes with satisfaction that the government of the United States would never attempt to impose this latter character which any may attempt to impose on it outside of these principles. My government recognizes with satisfaction that the government of the United States would never attempt to impose this latter character which any may attempt to impose on it outside of these principles.

Unfounded Rumors.

It is to be regretted that some Mexicans have spread unfounded rumors of injury to property and interests of foreigners. Here, in Mexico, this, the fault is not confined to Mexico but is common to all countries whose press makes it a point to publish sensational and even false news.

The authorities of the republic have always endeavored, within the limits of its law, to punish those who cause the damages to which your excellency alludes.

My government has taken notice of the communication directed to the rebel forces by order of your excellency's government and through the conduct of Consul Fletcher in Chihuahua, not without lamenting the fact that it has been obliged by circumstances to follow this course, as expressed in the communication since the person is guilty of flagrant violation of the laws of the country, having risen in arms against the legitimate government, and is only responsible before Mexican courts.

The Mexican government and people can not be responsible, therefore, for the acts of this rebel chief, since lines laid down in the communication which was sent to him by order of your excellency's government.

My government also laments that the tenor of the instructions to Consul Fletcher in Chihuahua were given to the public in the same official note which I have the honor to respect.

I take this opportunity to reiterate to your excellency the assurance of my most high consideration.

YOUNG PIANISTS ARE APPLAUDED BY MANY

Miss Marjorie Cassidy, Miss Bessie Goldsbrough, Lawrence Eberly and Lawrence Jones, advanced piano pupils of Thomas Giles, were the chief figures last night in a concert recital at the Salt Lake theater.

Laura Jensen played Weber's "Concert-stück," op. 79, with assurance and excellent conception of its requirements.

It was left to Miss Cassidy in her splendid playing of the Tchaikowsky concerto, op. 23, for orchestra and piano, to score the greatest triumph of the evening, and so much may be said without in any wise detracting from the other young artists who appeared.
