

STICK TO THE FARM, GOVERNOR'S ADVICE

State's Executive Declares Agriculturist Has Advantage Over Dweller in Cities.

FINE HORSES EXHIBITED

Thoroughbreds on Parade at Utah County Development League Meeting.

Special to The Tribune.

SPANISH FORK, April 19.—The Utah County Development league held its first convention in this city today, with probably 5000 persons to witness the proceedings.

At the city pavilion this afternoon there was a meeting at which Governor William Spry spoke. The meeting was presided over by Robert T. Thurber, and there was a band to enliven the occasion with music.

Governor Spry said that he was gratified to see so many people there, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. He showed, he said, that the citizens of Utah were taking an interest in the development of their state.

This county produces some of the best fruit grown in the land. It is foremost in the state in agriculture and horticulture, and its products are good enough to compete with those of other states.

Farmer Is Fortunated.

Some have said that the automobile is taking the place of the horse; but while the power machine is splendid in high-speed races and for those who can afford to own it, it gives me a good thoroughbred horse, such as I have seen here at Spanish Fork.

Let us stick to the farm. It costs $100 a month for a fair-sized family to live in town, but the man who sticks to agriculture and fruit-growing is also able to raise mushrooms and put away some money for hard times. The farmer as a rule is out of debt, and he is the most independent of our citizens.

When he comes to Salt Lake we take off our hats to him, for we know that he is taking money out of the ground and building up the industries of the state.

There is no necessity for your boys either to move out of the state or to move from the farm to the city. There is plenty of room in Utah for them all, and plenty of opportunity for those who can afford to own it, in a material way. Don't go to the city and leave mother earth.

I appreciate this splendid gathering, for it shows your interest in development of your county.

Praises Utah County.

D. F. Collett of Salt Lake, secretary of the Manufacturers Association of Utah, said that Utah county contained more large towns than any other county in the state. The cry of each citizen in the county should be, "I am for Utah county." The man who is not loyal to his county is not loyal to his state, he said.

There was a piano solo by W. L. McAllister, and then the meeting was addressed by Messrs. Allen and Curtis in Colorado, who spoke of the subject of road roads.

At the close of the meeting the horse show began. It was held in the street and was witnessed by 5000 people. There were forty thoroughbred horses exhibited, from the Standard pony to great Shires, Clydes and Percherons.

DUFFY LOSES CASE IN THE CITY COURT

James Duffy, who stated on the witness stand that his vocation is gathering evidence for attorneys in damage suits, lost his own case yesterday when Judge J. Whitaker of the civil division of the city court ruled that Duffy had failed to establish his claim against Frank Christensen for $15. The case was thrown out of court. Christensen was secretary of the American party during the last municipal campaign. Duffy claimed to have been employed by Christensen to gather information to be used against Samuel Park, who headed the opposition ticket. This statement was emphatically denied by the former vice-chairman.

DORR IS EXPECTED TO CONFESS CRIME

Police Claim to Have Perfect Chain of Evidence Against Alleged Slayer of Marsh.

By International News Service.

STOCKTON, Cal., April 19.—William Dorr, captured here Wednesday night as the murderer of George Marsh of Lynn, Mass., is in a state of almost total collapse tonight at the jail, and Chief of Police Briar is firmly of the opinion that he will confess his crime when the opportunity affords.

"But don't care whether he confesses or not," said the chief. "With the evidence I have in my possession, documentary and otherwise, and which I cannot at this time divulge, when coupled with the evidence in the possession of the officers at Lynn, his confession is not at all necessary. I am satisfied, however, that when he is apprised of the facts known to the officers he will tell the whole story. He has no idea of the complete chain of evidence that we have against him."

"The murder was committed on the night of the 11th, after 8.30 o'clock. He left Lynn that night for New York, traveling under the name of Wallace A. Dawson. On the 12th he left New York for Chicago, arriving there at 1.15 p. m. the same day, taking the first fast train out for the west. It was his intention to go to San Francisco, lay low there for a few days and then come to Stockton. I am satisfied that he did not know that he was under suspicion until after he left Chicago and read a paper on the train, seeing his name coupled with the crime. There was nothing for him to do then but keep going until he reached Sacramento Wednesday morning, where he bought a workingman's suit and put it over a patty blue suit which he purchased at Alfred Benjamin & Son of New York. When captured he had this suit under his overalls. I am convinced that it was his intention to see his aunt, tell her the whole story, and then go east and remain in hiding."

The gun found near the scene of the Marsh murder has been identified at Stockton as belonging to Dorr.

SEPARATE, BUT SOON KISS AND MAKE UP

Chicago Couple Leave Each Other Eleven Times in Five Years.

By International News Service.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Laura C. Cummings was married to Norman P. Cummings December 12, 1905, one day after she had been divorced from George Jochem, her former husband. From that time until their last parting their life appears to have been one long farewell.

Up to the time that Cummings "disappeared" in 1910 with $37,000 in jewelry and $3500 in cash, they had separated eleven times. Ten times he is said to have left her and once she left him.

In one and one-half years from their marriage, or up to June, 1907, ten different divorce and separation suits were started and each one concluded with a kiss and makeup fest.

One year after their marriage, when Mrs. Cummings was bringing an action against her husband, she alleged that he had pinched and kicked her and then threw her down on the floor and sat upon her. He weighed 220 pounds.

On another occasion she went to the Baptist hospital to receive surgical treatment for sundry bruises and to rest and recuperate for the divorce action which she directed from a hospital bed.

When Cummings was fighting her divorce action he alleged that she was not legally his wife, because they were married the day after she had been divorced in Illinois.

In this state the law provides that divorced persons shall not marry in less than one year from the date of the decree. The courts held that as they were married in another state she was legally his wife and that the law of the neighboring commonwealth must be respected.

TELLS HOW MUSIC EXPRESSES FEELING

Students of the University of Utah Musical society, who will present Mayday's greatest oratorio, "The Creation," at the Salt Lake theater next Monday night, held a successful full rehearsal yesterday morning at the university assembly hall, both the symphonic orchestra and the soloists attending. The excellence of the work already done assures the artistic success of the production. A feature of the rehearsal was a brief address by Prof. George M. Marshall, head of the English department, who talked to the students and the other artists assembled upon the subject of "Feeling as Expressed Through Music." He made it plain that the emotional as expressed in harmony plays an important part in the life of everyone who really lives.

Prof. Squire Coop, director of the big production, has decided upon one addition to the programme. Miss Lillian Wright will play the famous Grieg concerto (Opus 16) as an introduction to the oratorio.

REMARKABLE RECORD. A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it assimilated, yet in Salt Lake City as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not assimilated, and fails to make good blood and firm flesh. Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, taken before or after meals, mingles with the food, so that it is assimilated by the system and makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. Statistics show that out of every one hundred people who commence the use of Samose, ninety-eight will find a full gain in weight and restoration of health and strength.

Any one who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can put 50c on deposit with Samose, ninety-eight will find a full gain in weight and restoration of health and strength, they will return the money without any questions.

Provo, J. W. McHenry of Murray and P. A. Simpkin of Salt Lake City; Price, Carl E. Williams of Salt Lake City; Richfield, George E. Odell of Salt Lake City; Bountiful, J. M. Kirgham of Lehi; Brigham City, Parley P. Jensen of Salt Lake City; Coalville, S. R. Thurman of Salt Lake City.
