CLUB WOMEN HAVE CHAUTAUQUA TODAY

Excellent Programme Arranged; W. C. T. U. Will Hold Annual Outing.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 25.—This was fraternal day at the Utah Chautauqua assembly, and in addition to two excellent lectures by Dr. G. Stanley Hall, it marked the opening entertainment by the Cambridge players, a company of musical artists and dramatic impersonators. There are four persons in the company and their programme for the afternoon and evening furnished some of the best entertainment of the entire assembly. The evening programme also included the presentation of Wagner's "Parsifal" by means of Dr. Henry A. Rose's auto-telephone and illustrations.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, July 25.—The extensive road-building operations in Weber county, together with the construction work now in progress, has caused a shortage in the available supply of teams and wagons to the extent that the county's new steam roller cannot be placed in operation until more teams can be secured to transport crushed rock from the crushers at Idaho Falls to the Riverside road district. County Road Commissioner Joseph Storey declares that the contractor who has the contract to furnish the rock for the work on the Riverside and Wilson roads has not been able to keep both rollers in operation owing to the shortage of teams and wagons. The work in the canyon is operated at a reduced output. The county pays $1.20 per ton for the transportation of the rock for the macadam roads.

Change in Management.

OGDEN, July 25.—Another change in the management of the local branch of the Mutual Telephone & Telegraph company was announced today. Sam J. Jones, who succeeded W. F. Madison as local manager but a few weeks ago, has been relieved of his duties and the management of the company's phone branch and P. W. Carroll of Fort Collins, Colo., has been named as his successor. It is said that Mr. Jones had the option of remaining in Ogden or taking charge of the phone branch in Denver. Mr. Carroll arrived in Ogden today and will take full charge early next week.

Ask for New Bridge.

OGDEN, July 25.—At the morning session of the board of city commissioners a petition was presented from the property owners in the eastern section of the city asking that a new bridge be built over the Weber river at Fairview. The petition was signed by 125 property owners. The matter was referred to J. C. Nye, superintendent of streets. The J. P. O'Neill company is the contractor for the bridge. The O'Neill company was $4000 while the bridge is being built. The company, the only other bidder, was $2500.

Drug Victim Sentenced.

OGDEN, July 25.—Gerald McDonald, a drug addict declared by the county authorities to have kleptomaniac tendencies, was sentenced by Judge J. A. Howell today to serve two years in the county jail for the theft of a quantity of third degree burglary. McDonald pleaded guilty to have stolen more than $15 worth of carpenter tools from the home of N. S. Peterson on Grant avenue. His operations covered a period of two weeks, the man taking a tool and sawing it wherever he needed a new supply of tools.

LUMBERMEN TO MEET.

Programme of Sports and Banquet Will Mark Annual Outing.

Special to The Tribune.
