

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN ELY DISTRICT

Governor Oddie of Nevada Issues Proclamation Following Killing of Two Greeks at Smelter. WARRANTS ARE OUT FOR MINE OFFICIALS Not Served Because There Is Doubt About Authority; Operations Proceed at Bingham.

MARTIAL law has been proclaimed in the Ely mining district by Governor Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada, following a serious clash at the gates of the Steptoe mill and smelter at McGill yesterday morning, when two Greek strikers, Nick Pappas and George Barnosas, were shot and instantly killed. A third Greek, according to the dispatches, was shot through the shoulder.

The gravity of the situation compelled Governor Oddie to order the mobilization of the Nevada state police. Captain J. P. Donnell, superintendent of the Nevada state police, left Reno last night for Ely at the head of eighty armed men. The dispatches announce that he will pick up en route many more men who are on the roll of the 250 men in the reserve force. That force will arrive at the scene of disorder today. In the meantime the force of deputies and guards now in the district will be relied upon to preserve order.

Slayers Not Identified. The identity of those who did the shooting was in doubt. The Greeks who were killed were members of a large band of foreigners who met the train from Ely yesterday morning and, joined by a number of strikers from Ely, marched towards the office of the smelting company.

The crowd was met near the office by mounted deputy sheriffs and halted. The shooting took place near one of the gates of the smelter inclosure, where food supplies have been received for the workmen who refused to obey the strike call.

Warrants for Officials. C. L. Spiegel, acting for the Ely Central Labor League, swore to warrants charging C. B. Lakenan, general manager of the Nevada Consolidated, C. V. Jenkins, business manager of the Steptoe mill, and thirty-five others, names unknown, with complicity in the alleged murder.

Warrants Not Served. While the warrants issued against Lakenan and Jenkins, charging them with complicity in the alleged murder of the two strikers, were accepted by Sheriff Crain, they were not served. The sheriff was not clear as to the effect of the proclamation of martial law upon his jurisdiction as sheriff and he went to Ely to consult with Governor Oddie before taking further action.

Lakenan Issues Statement. The following statement regarding the shooting was issued yesterday by C. B. Lakenan, general manager of the Nevada Consolidated:

It is a sympathetic strike, as nearly all high class employees had accepted the wage increase. We have played fair in the past and our employees will admit it. It is a struggle for recognition and carried on exclusively by foreigners. Rioting was commenced by the use of weapons which were flourished and frequently discharged and, in some instances, at employees.

Striking Miners Parading in Bingham Before Their Departure for Salt Lake

On Tuesday last the sheriff publicly announced that the situation was beyond his control. Yesterday, immediately after the governor of the state had ordered the rioters to disperse and allow men and supplies freely to enter the plant, intimidation was continued. This was all done in the presence of the governor, the sheriff of White Pine county and the county commissioners.

At Bingham, Garfield and Tooele operations yesterday went on without the slightest interference or demonstration on the part of the strikers, who, with colors flying and band playing, paraded the streets of Bingham prior to going to Salt Lake to join the big parade and mass meeting demonstration last night.

Jackling Satisfied. General Manager D. C. Jackling of the Utah Copper company yesterday expressed satisfaction with the Bingham strike. He said that the Utah Copper company was operating. Men were being engaged as fast as they could be properly put to work.

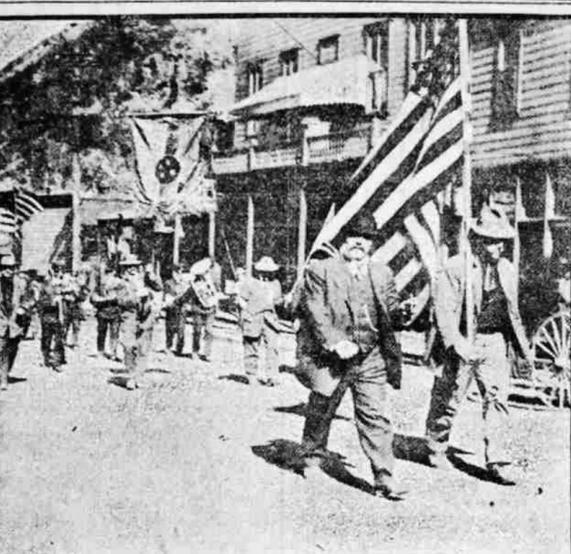

Work at Garfield. From Garfield it was learned that five units were in operation at the Magna mill yesterday and also five units at the Arthur mill. These will be increased to eight and seven units, respectively, today.

Quiet at Bingham. There was no disturbance of any sort in the camp yesterday. Sheriff Joseph C. Sharp and Harry Joseph, owner of the Silver Shield mine, went to Bingham in the afternoon to see the sheriff's automobile. Mr. Joseph said his mine would resume operations in three or four days.

Kidnaping Charged. Complaint was issued yesterday by the county attorney's office charging John Doe Hutchins, alleged to be a labor agent engaged in getting strike-breakers for the Utah Copper company, with kidnaping Lewis Walker, 29 years of age, of St. Louis.

May Reopen Saloons. It was reported that a concerted movement was on foot to reopen the saloons at Bingham on Monday. The saloons have been closed since the beginning of the strike September 18. Practically no liquor has been available in Bingham since that time.

At Denver and again in this city, according to the story told by Walker, he and Hutchins, alleged to be a labor agent, were shot by Hutchins that each instance was told by Hutchins that he would be shot if he succeeded. Walker asserts that at both points strikers told him of the situation at Bingham. He alleges that when he was hired in St. Louis he was not told he was to be a strike-breaker.

Sharp at once and if the sheriff was satisfied that the reopening of the saloons would result in no harm the mayor would grant the petition.

LITTLE CHANCE OF A STRIKE IN BUTTE. BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 17.—There is little likelihood of a strike of the miners at the Butte & Superior properties in sympathy with the trouble at Bingham.

STRIKERS DEMAND GRAND JURY PROBE

(Continued From Page One.) Getting that perhaps the company feared two or three strikers might run away with a steam shovel or two. He said that the company officials had referred to him as an agitator. He asked which was the agitator, the peaceful citizen who tried to get 50 cents more a day for the laborer who was struggling with the company, or the armed thugs who rode up and down the camp on horseback with a Winchester across his knee.

Defends Labor Unions. Mr. Olson defended labor unions, declaring that the policy of not recognizing the unions was foolish and shortsighted on the part of the corporations.

Roosevelt Likeness Hooded. At Second South and State streets an automobile bearing a monster picture of Theodore Roosevelt was stalled in the crowd and was the object for constant hooting and derisive yells from the strikers as they marched past.

PROSECUTION RESTS IN THE BECKER TRIAL. NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The state rested its case today in the trial of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker on the charge of investigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

Denounces Railroad Men. He denounced the union railroad men who were working on one train that were transporting the products of mine operations by strike-breakers and the train crews that were bringing strike-breakers to Utah.

Labor Unions Parade. Proceeding the meeting in the theater, labor bars of all kinds in a great street parade with men of all unions participated.

Salt Lakers Out in Force. Salt Lake labor unions turned out in large numbers to take part in the demonstration showing the structural iron workers, machinists, electrical workers and carriers.

Bingham Local Leads. Following the band came the Bingham local of the Western Federation of Miners, mostly foreigners, marching two abreast.

MINERS' LAWYER WHO TALKS TO STRIKERS

JUDGE O. N. HILTON. (Continued From Page One.) Judge O. N. Hilton, who followed Mr. Olson, said the strike was one between labor and greed. He pointed out that the Utah Copper company had paid a dividend of 15 per cent on its capital stock for its last fiscal year.

Earlier in the day, there were nearly 1000 men in this division. After them came the striking mill men and smeltermen from Garfield, several hundred strong.

Prosecution Rests. The defense has indicated it will endeavor to prove that a clique of gamblers inspired the murder of Rosenthal and that Becker is the victim of a conspiracy.

Opening Address Will Be Made by Defense Today; Accused May Testify. Captain Nothbart called up Jack Beck with a glittering record, and said: "I want to see you and Miss here right away."

Insulted Mother. "I begged him to give up my job to let me resume bar. He wouldn't. And then he looked closely with a look that I hope to God I never see again."

Makes the Charge. "Mother" cried Lucille. "To look me up like-like a man to No-no-no, son-of-a-bitch, that's what you wouldn't do."

GIRL LOCKED UP CHARGE OF MURDER

Lucille Cameron of Minneapolis Separated From Johnson by Police. By International News Service. CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—A beautiful girl, sobbing in desperate anguish, leaning on a momentary yearning, broken-hearted man, turning to the giant black figure of Johnson, nervo pugilist, as he directly upon the scene—the picture, revolting even to call it a picture, was presented to the Thirty-fifth street police station.

Bail Not Allowed. Jack Johnson was beaten for a moment. Then he offered to give the girl. But Captain Nothbart would not give bail now. "You can't give bail now. If you are not booked yet, said Lucille. And, what is more, she had booked her father, who was a well-known pugilist in the pugilist's care on a street.
