MOTORCYCLISTS RIDE TO BIG COTTONWOOD

Nielsen, ten hairy motorcycle riders accompanied by two ladies, left the clubrooms bound for Sandy, but the roads were in such bad shape that at Twelfth street and took the bunch through Holiday to the mouth of Big Cottonwood canyon, returning at 2:30 p. m. The cold was intense and after several spills in snowdrifts they returned to the clubrooms and told some of the "sit-by-the-fire" riders who were busy playing pool, the stories of riding against refreshing breezes, open-air snow baths, etc. The roads were fair but many snowdrifts made riding difficult. ## Major Daingerfield, the Foremost Breeder of the Thoroughbred Horse, Dies

By International News Service. LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 5.—Major Foxhall A. Daingerfield, one of the greatest breeders of thoroughbred horses America has ever known, died today at a hospital from stomach trouble. He had been in failing health for over two years and was recently brought from Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore. He was a brother-in-law of James R. Keene, the millionaire turfman and Wall street financier, who died last week in New York. During the past twenty years Major Daingerfield had crossed the strains of blood of the greatest kings and queens of the turf and produced a wonderful family of racers. Of the long list Colonel Daingerfield, Ould and Cap and Bells were among the best. Major Daingerfield was a native of Virginia. He served through the Civil war in the Confederate army and served for a while as the courier of General Robert E. Lee. At the time of his death he was a member of the state racing commission. While a member of that body he helped in the revival of long-distance racing. He was the father of the Kentucky Endurance stakes.

L. D. S. HOPES FOR HIGH SCHOOL TITLE

Well pleased with the showing of his quintette last Saturday when they lost a hard game to the heavier and more experienced Y. M. C. A. five, Coach Miller of the L. D. S. will start work this afternoon to place the lads in shape for their game with the B. Y. U. slugs on January 13. The Saints have had two practice games and with a return contest being arranged with Y. M. C. A., the game at Provo and the division schedule a week further away than from the other league teams, they feel confident of being in prime condition when they start the battle for the flag. Despite the confidence expressed by some of the high school players regarding their ability to take the Saints' measure, Coach Miller feels that his lads will have no trouble in duplicating the trick of former years and win hands down from the Indians.

WOLGAST IS THROUGH WITH LONG BATTLES

Former Champion Will Not Sign Again for Bouts of Twenty Rounds.

By H. M. WALKER. By International News Service. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—Little Ad Wolgast would have us believe that he is through as a twenty-round laborer and that henceforth his efforts in the ring will be of the light and harmless short bout brand. There are two reasons why Wolgast makes this talk. He is so ring worn and tired of the game that the very thought of opening a training camp sickens him. Then, too, Ad has saved the bulk of his earnings and is independently wealthy.

His first idea was to retire permanently. The six-round affair came as an afterthought when he recalled that one good night's rest and a eucalyptus rub was all the preparation necessary for an eighteen-minute affair of the gloves. No was while Lightweight champion Willie Ritchie was in Los Angeles week before last that the Dutch boy gave the first advance of being tracked down. "I wish," remarked Ad, while lounging in the Examiner office one night, that Tom would quit talking return with Willie Ritchie.

"I've got enough property to keep me busy for the rest of my life. I give you my word of honor that my income is close to $40 a day. It's just like going to jail for thirty days to open up a training camp for a championship fight. Good luck came my way for over two years and I made the best of it. I would be satisfied never to put on a boxing glove again."

No doubt but what Wolgast is sincere in all he says. However, before the ink in these columns is dry Ad may have changed his mind for a twenty-round fight with "Harlem" Tommy Ryan. "There isn't money enough in San Francisco to hire me to box that dub," said Adolph, when told that Promoter Jim Coffroth would make him an offer. But Ad made $10,000 as his price and Coffroth is reported to have taken the demand under serious consideration.

"I thought that Willard had clean up everything in sight as he already has floored McCarty in a ten-jut go. If Willard makes the right kind of a start, our here I'll quit the ring and devote my time to managing him. With me back of him, Willard can go right to the front if he has the goods."

But what he Cherokee Tom Jones says when he hears of this plot to send him back to hard labor?

McGoorty and Gibbons May Be Matched to Meet on the Pacific Coast

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, Wis., and Mike Gibbons of St. Paul will meet on the Pacific coast February 22 if Gibbons is willing. McGoorty's manager has already signed and is ready to rush his man to the coast as soon as Eddie has filled his engagements in the east. James Coffroth of San Francisco is offering the fighters a twenty-round engagement. The men will weigh in at 135 pounds ringside and the affair will be called a championship bout.

McGoorty is matched to fight Freddie Hicks of Detroit and Jack McCarron of Philadelphia. The early part of the year will be a busy season for the Oshkosh boxer, as he is scheduled to meet Frank Klaus of Pittsburg in Paris March 23 and the winner of that bout is to fight Billy Eppke in the French capital. A syndicate of Chicago sporting men is grooming Jess Willard, the giant heavyweight, who has a ten-round draw with Luther McCarty to his credit, for another go at the white champion.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS TO RESUME WORK

The high school quintettes will be hard at it again this afternoon and with less than three weeks before the opening of the division league Coach Robinson will have to soon select his men for the first and second fives. During the holidays a squad of eighteen men showed up for regular practice. Who will do the tussling for the Indians is an open question and a degree of uncertainty surrounds the center position, although King and Bean seem the most likely men for that job. Leonard, Rawlins, D. Cahoon, Caifey, Maxine and Rogers are the most likely forwards yet to appear, although several more first-class men are anticipated the race during the present week. The schedule will be maintained throughout the year to fulfill the double schedule arranged in this division. All players making either team will receive the usual recognition and may be shifted from one five to the other. A majority of the high school squad was present at the L. D. S. vs. Y. M. C. A. game Saturday night and profess confidence of a victory over the Saints in the coming season. This action is brought to the attention of the high and the Y. M. C. A. is being planned for this week.

RIVERS MAKES HIT WITH EASTERN FANS

Mexican Boxer Works Out in Impressive Style Before Many Enthusiasts.

By ED CURLLEY. By International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Joe Rivers, the latest addition to our pugilistic ranks, spent a busy afternoon at his training quarters between training and greeting a host of newly made friends who took advantage of the holiday to see the Mexican in action. Rivers went through the daily stunt of rope jumping, punching the bag and when everything was cleared off the decks, started in a four-round melee with Paquey Hommey.

For twelve minutes the pair of lightweights buffeted one another around with neither overlooking an opportunity to slam. The visitor showed up to great advantage. He worked faster than ever. His wallops were straight and plenty and most of them hit the mark. Rivers convinced the fans that he will give Leach Cross a strenuous time and there is no doubt he will enter the ring a hot favorite. He is now down to 134 pounds. He will do no work tomorrow, but rest up and take in the sights of this village. Joe has developed a slight fondness for Broadway and hates to leave the bright lights in his wake.

Cross will start in work tomorrow at Lakewood. Leach is a master at the ten-round game and figures his knowledge of the short bout will prove of inestimable advantage.
