MADERO PLEASED WITH TAFT NOTE

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—President Madero today received the reply from President Taft to his telegram protesting against intervention in which President Taft assured him that the reports that it was the intention of the United States government to land forces in Mexico were inaccurate.
"I never expected anything less than this," commented Madero on reading President Taft's message, "regard it as satisfactory and friendly."
The fighting continued throughout the day but the federal garrisons were ineffective in dislodging the rebels from their entrenched and fortified positions. Furthermore, the federalists did not show the same aggressiveness that characterized their action in the early days of the battle. This is believed to be due to the fact that they realize that the present federal government forces are not of sufficient strength to defeat the rebels.
Madero appeared sanguine yesterday and today of the progress of the federal army. He declared he was optimistic regarding the outlook and that he had been advised by the military commander in his opinion Zapata, the guerrilla leader, was not a supporter of Diaz.
Nearly all the non-combatants have been moved out of the city and the capital and are being distributed among the poor.

Refugees Cross Line.

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 17.—Andreas Garcia Galan, rebel commander at Nuevo Laredo, sent a force of cavalry to a point fifteen miles south of the border today, presumably to intercept the 600 federal troops under General Naranjo, reported en route from Monterey to retake Nuevo Laredo. The communication to the south is interrupted and efforts to confirm a report that Naranjo and his men were approaching Nuevo Laredo were without result.
No disorder occurred in Nuevo Laredo today but merchants closed their stores about 2 o'clock. It is reported that the United States because of rumors that a battle was imminent.
No information was received here today as to conditions in the interior except brief dispatches sent over a circuitous route from Monterey, Saltillo and Tampico, where quiet prevailed.

Rebels Executed.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 17.—Juan R. Porras, a rebel chief, and twenty of his followers, were shot Saturday on the line of the Orient railway, near Chihuahua City. Federal troops also captured forty-seven others of the Porras group, who were taken to the state capital today.
Porras was a member of Gen. Pascual Orozco's original staff, but recently has been operating as a rebel general. He was accredited many outrages, including the cremation in a burning station house of three Mexican Central railway employees at Guadalupe.
It is said that the Porras execution, ordered by General Antonio Robles, met with approval of the rebel general, Pascual Carrasco, who has made a truce with the federalists at Chihuahua City. Porras is said to have continued operations despite the informal armistice which federalists and rebels appear to recognize.
The main rebel group under Gen. Ines Salazar was shot today at Aconito, an inland town, between the Northwestern railway and the border and about 100 miles southwest of Juarez. He is waiting the return of a rebel general, Antonio Carrasco, who went to Palomas, on the New Mexican border, to meet Attorney Emilio Vasquez Gonzalez, who has assumed a provisional presidency by virtue of the Tacubaya plan recognized by the various rebel factions following the Madero revolution.

NO RIGHT TO FIX RETAIL PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The United States district court denied today to owners of patents the right to fix the price for the resale of their patented articles. Judge Ray, who rendered the decision, said that the right to control the resale price as demanded by the patentees becomes a party to an illegal combination in restraint of trade. In this respect the decision carries out the purpose of a bill now before congress.
The action was brought by the Waltham Watch company of Waltham, Mass., against Charles H. Adams, a New York jeweler, to restrain the defendant from selling for less than a fixed price watches manufactured by the Waltham company. Every watch contains a notice that the retailer bound himself to regard the price agreement. Mr. Keene said that after purchasing the watches they became his exclusive property and that he could sell them for whatever he wished.
In sustaining this contention, Judge Ray declared that this case had no parallel in the Henry vs. Dick case, which the supreme court held that the patentee was entitled to make certain restrictions regarding the use of machines he manufactured.

INCREASE IN POSTAL BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—An increase of nearly $5,000,000 in the annual post-office appropriation bill was made by the senate committee on post offices, which reported the measure to the senate today. The total asked for support of the postal service for the year is $22,487,442, the statement including an increase of $2,500,000 in railway mail pay, occasioned in part by the establishment of the parcel post.
A new weighing of the mails, covering a period of thirty days from September 1, 1912, is provided by the bill as reported to the senate. This step has been recommended because the parcel post has greatly increased the weight of the mails and the railroad claim they are entitled to compensation on a new basis. The bill also would stop the present practice of carrying second-class mail in fast freight trains.

SALT LAKE FIGURES IN SUNDRY CIVIL BILL

Special to The Tribune.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The Sundry Civil bill reported to the house today carries $20,000 on a continuing contract for Salt Lake's federal building and $15,000 for Brigham City. Pocatello is given $50,000 and Idaho Falls $38,000.

TWO THOUSAND MARINES ARE RUSHED SOUTHWARD

sure to leave over for Mr. Wilson the settlement of this country's relations with Mexico, but he is decidedly opposed to taking any measures himself unless extreme provocation and wholesale murder of Americans drive him to it.
The president told friends today that he realized what a difficult thing it would be for a new administration to gather up the reins of government and understand the conditions in the southern republic in a few weeks or in a few months.

Handicap for Wilson.

He is of the opinion that it would take at least six months for Mr. Wilson and his cabinet to grasp details of diplomatic negotiations, of troop and battleship movements and international niceties that he and his cabinet have acquired in two years' close study of a condition that never has ceased to confront them. He has informed his advisers that he will be president up until Mr. Wilson takes the oath of office and that intervention is demanded by congress on his last day in office he would not hesitate to concur. But he hopes he will not have to act and then move into the background, leaving a real administration to struggle with the real problem.

Night sessions of the cabinet to consider late developments from Mexico probably will not be held in the future. Several of the president's callers suggested to him that these meetings might be misunderstood throughout the United States and in Mexico and that their significance might be magnified. The cabinet will meet on several of these late meetings, which apparently brought little tangible action, might lead to suspicion that the "hid" had been clamped down; that the public was being misled and that each of the many secret orders were being framed and issued from the state, war and navy departments.

Precautionary Measures.

Further precautionary measures have been taken to safeguard the lives and property of Americans in Mexico. The president has ordered that he actually dispatching a military force to the country. This problem has been greatly complicated by the act of the Madero government, possibly without the actual direction of President Wilson. Several of the latest through Mexico news that armed intervention by America was about to occur, in the hope of inducing malcontents to drop their temporary quarrel with the government and respond to the patriotic call to repel foreign invasion.
It was for this reason that the state department was obliged late today to cable and telegraph directly to all of the American consular officers who could be reached a denial of any intention on the part of the United States to send troops into Mexico, or of any change in policy on the part of this government. It was felt that the safety of Americans scattered throughout Mexico was jeopardized by these false reports.

No Pledge Given.

While President Taft's message to President Madero referred to the reports that orders had been given to land forces in Mexico as "inaccurate," it was noticeable that no pledge was held out as to the future, nor was there any attempt to repel foreign invasion. The ordinary precautionary measures now in progress were discontinued.
"In addition to ordering marines to Guantanamo, word has been passed quickly to military commanders of the various posts to make ready for eventualities."
It was indicated, however, that this only was an ordinary and proper means of precaution. In fact, as was stated by a cabinet officer today, the administration is most anxious to prevent the spread of the idea in Mexico that the United States is contemplating the dispatch of an army to that country. Should that idea get in currency it might precipitate the very trouble which it is desired to avoid and so the danger to American life in Mexico.

Rebels Take Matamoros.

A treasury department telegram from Brownsville, Tex., gives the details of the peaceable revolt last night of the military and civil authorities of the border town of Matamoros. The rebels ousted the mayor and collector of customs and have charge of the city.
A postoffice telegram tells of the discontinuance of train service on the Mexican National railroad south of El Paso, Texas. Consul Honoy at San Luis Potosi reports that American volunteers carried all Americans in Charcas to safety. He says refugees are pouring in from the countryside and that rebel bands are operating in nearby hills towards Mexico, which has been communication has been discontinued between many points in that section.
Rebels are reported in the neighborhood of Bufosci, near Cananea, but Consul Simplic reports from Nogales, Mexico, that the eastern part of his district and the city of Cananea are quiet. With rail and telegraphic communication maintained north and south of Chihuahua, the situation in that city is reported by Consul Letcher as quiet.

TAFT'S MESSAGE TO PRESIDENT MADERO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Taft's reply to Madero's appeal to withhold intervention in Mexico, sent by telegram, was made public by Secretary Knox today as follows:
"From your excellency's telegram, which reached me the 14th, it appeared that your excellency was somewhat misinformed as to the policy of the United States towards Mexico, which has been uniform for two years as to the naval and other measures thus far taken, which are measures of natural precaution. The ambassador telegraphed that when you were good enough to show him your telegram to me, he pointed out this fact."
Your excellency must, therefore, be aware that the reports which appear to have reached you that orders have already been given to land forces, were inaccurate. The ambassador, who is fully informed, is nevertheless again instructed to afford you any desirable information.
"Fresh assurances of friendship to

Mexico are unnecessary, after two years of proof of patience and good will. "In view of the special friendships and relations between the two countries, I cannot too strongly impress on your excellency the vital importance of early establishment of the peace and order which this government has long hoped to see, both because American citizens and their property must be protected and respected and also because this nation sympathizes deeply with the afflictions of the Mexican people."
"In recognizing the anxiety shown by your excellency's message I feel it my duty to add sincerely and without reserve that the course of events during the past two years, culminating in the present most dangerous situation, creates in this country extreme pessimism and a conviction that the only way in which the United States is the prompt relief of the situation."
"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

DORR ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF MARSH

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 17.—Several persons who had known the prisoner at his home in Stockton, Cal., were in court here today for the trial of George E. Dorr, accused of the murder of George E. Marsh, a wealthy soap manufacturer of Lynn, was opened here today.
The body of Marsh was found by the roadside in Lynn on the morning of April 12, 1912. He had been shot to death the night before. Marsh was 78 years of age and a widower.
The alleged motive for the crime, as set forth by the prosecution, involves a legacy of $100,000 which the late James Marsh of Stockton, Cal., it is claimed, left in trust to the murdered man, his brother, for Orpha Marsh, an aunt of Dorr. Dorr made his home with his aunt, and it was she who gave him the money.
The state contends that Dorr came east and for several days before Marsh was killed lived under an assumed name in Lynn.
Judge Joseph P. Quinn presided. More than 100 witnesses have been summoned.
A jury was obtained without much difficulty. The defense exercised its privilege of peremptory challenge in twenty-one instances.
Before adjournment late in the afternoon, the court directed the sheriff to take the jurymen tomorrow morning to the marshes in West Lynn where the body of Marsh was found. The trial will be resumed upon their return to this city, probably about noon.
Dorr appeared in good health. From the prisoner's testimony, which he proceeded intently and frequently conferred with his counsel.

FEDERAL CONTROL ADVOCATES BEATEN

Connecticut River Dam Bill Amended and Passed by the Senate.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The proposal to give the federal government the right to "impose a reasonable annual charge" upon water powers was defeated in the senate today by a vote of 53 to 29. In the final vote on the issue as raised in the Connecticut river dam bill the amendment of Senator Bankhead was adopted, striking out of the bill the federal tax planned which had been advocated by the conservation forces of the senate.
Another section of the bill which would have required the government to pay the power company the full cost of reproducing its power plant in case it should be refused a renewal of the government lease, also was stricken from the bill by a vote of 55 to 27, Senator Cummins leading the fight against it.
In its present form, the dam bill simply permits the Connecticut River company to reconstruct a dam near Windsor locks under the usual terms by which the government protects its rights of navigation. As passed, it contained an amendment incorporated by Senator Borah making hydro-electric companies common carriers and subject to the interstate commerce laws and an amendment by Senator Jones providing for the cancellation of the government's right to lease to the power company if it ever becomes part of any water power combination or monopoly.
"I do not believe that such a position is good law or good business or good politics, and I venture the prediction that in spite of this apparent result, the day when these valuable water powers will be given away for nothing is over."
This was the declaration of Secretary of War Stimson when advised of the action of the senate in striking out of the bill the provision for a federal tax which he strongly advocated. The company which is to construct the dam, Secretary Stimson asserted, was "quite ready" to pay the proposed federal tax.

SALT LAKE GREEK WRITES OF THE WAR

E. G. Skliris Says Utah's Contingent Will Soon Be on Firing Line.
E. G. Skliris, one of the Salt Lake Greeks who returned to their native country to enlist for war against the Turks, has arrived in Athens under date of January 28. He states that the Utah Greeks are about to leave for the front. His letter is as follows:
I arrived in Athens three days ago, after a very pleasant voyage. I found, as you know, that my native country was still at war with the Turks. We had hoped that Turkey would accept the terms of peace in London, but it looks as if the war will continue and that we shall see rivers of blood.
The general sentiment in Greece is not warlike. The Greeks were not eager to begin the war and they are anxious to see it end, but at the same time they are determined, wholly disregarding death, to fight the war as long as it must be fought to a finish.
Now that the first impressions have given place to a better understanding of the situation by foreigners, the whole world sees the great part that Greece has played in the victories of the Balkan states. It is due to Crown Prince Constantine, he of the iron hand and great intellect, who has been named the Greek Napoleon, that the soldiers, following his gallant example, have determined to fight the war themselves adult that without the bravery and diplomacy of the Greeks the Turks would even now be victorious.
I have already enlisted in the army and I hope that we shall go soon to the battlefields. Then, if I do not die, I shall send you my impressions from the firing line. If I survive I will consider it as my greatest happiness to return to America, of which I am so fond. Deeply in my heart, Greece and America stand alike. Yours sincerely,
E. G. SKLIRIS.

ENVER BEY STABBED BY TURK SOLDIERS

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Turkish soldiers early today attempted to assassinate and succeeded in badly wounding Enver Bey, the Young Turk leader.
A news agency dispatch by wireless from Constantinople says that Enver Bey was stabbed severely several times, but gives no further details.
Enver last week made a disastrous effort to pierce the flanks of the Bulgarian army on the shores of the sea of Marmora with a forlorn hope of Ottoman troops, who were beaten back with terrible losses.
He was one of the leaders in the recent revolt of the "Young Turks," which led to a renewal of the war between Turkey and the Balkan states. Several threats against his life had been made among the disaffected soldiers, who were aroused by the assassination of Nazim Pasha, their beloved commander in chief.
Enver was a prominent military leader in the war in Tripoli and was called by European experts "the best soldier in the Turkish army."

HOLDING COMPANY LEAVES NEW JERSEY

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.—The first move of the New Jersey corporation to avoid the drastic provisions of the seven anti-trust laws fathered by Governor Wilson was declared today when the American Railways company, owner of the street railway and other plants in various parts of the country, with headquarters in this city, took out a Delaware charter. The company was chartered at Trenton in 1899 for $25,000,000 and the capital remains at that figure under the Delaware charter.
A director of the company stated that the move is merely a precautionary one, that as soon as it is found that business cannot be transacted under the restrictive clauses of the New Jersey legislation, the charter will be surrendered in that state.
The American Railways company is essentially a holding company, it having acquired the stock in a number of street railway companies throughout the country, which it operates.
