JOHN L. ON THE GAME. Sullivan Utterly Disgusted with the Methods of Modern Pugilism. John L. Sullivan has just expressed himself on present-day pugilism in a manner typical of him. The big fellow seemed utterly disgusted with methods of modern pugilists with their retinue of managers, secretaries, valets, etc., and was severe when asked why boxing was apparently gone into decay in this country.

Boxing had a big swing in New York when the Horton law was in effect. Medocre men were getting $2,000 and more for twenty rounds in the metropolis, and championship fights at Coney Island pulled rich houses. Everybody was satisfied, but just when things were going along nicely the gang of cheaters got loose, and there were no longer any good boxing exponents.

KEENE STABLE'S DAY Millionaire Turfman Wins Three Races at Aqueduct. PHILANDER IS A GRADUATE Son of Ben Brush Leaves Maiden Class in Election Day Handicap. Zambesi and Vell Also Show Keene Silks in Front at Finish in Two Other Races—The Summaries.

New York, Nov. 6.—A holiday crowd of 29,000 turf enthusiasts attended the races at Aqueduct to-day. The track conditions were perfect, and with the success of three favorites and two second choices the form players quit well ahead of the game. It was a day of triumph for James R. Keene's horses, as three of them—Zambesi, Philander, and Vell—were victorious.

Philander, a son of Ben Brush—Pink Domino, who had fallen on many occasions to graduate from the maiden two-year-old class, won the Election Day Handicap at a mile and a furlong. He was liberally played across the boards at 8 to 1, and picking up ninety pounds, he conceded scale weight to everything in the race but Running Water, who gave him five pounds. It was at the head of the long stretch that Cross took Philander to the front, the youngster coming home, winning by five lengths. He made the fast time of 1:52.5. Miller got Running Water, 2 to 1 favorite, into the place two lengths before Angelo, backed from 15 down to 7. The latter had a half length ride from Shaw.

It was with a gallant rush that Zambesi, a son of Commando, backed down from 3 to 1 to 1 1/2 to 5, got up in time to win the Babylon Handicap for two-year-olds at six furlongs by a nostril. The summaries: First race—Six furlongs. Latona, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5; Jager, 2 to 1; second, Penion, third, Time, 1:25.5. Bay, Brent, Estor, Major, Mares, and Jago, all in.

Laurels Defeat Warwick. Special to The Herald: Laurel, Md., Nov. 6.—The Warwick High school team, of Washington, visited Laurel this afternoon, and were easily defeated by the Laurel High School team, by 33 to 0. The visitors were outwitted by the home team, although it was plainly shown they lacked the staying qualities that the home team possessed. The playing of Brown, Plair, and Timanus, for Laurel, was very good, while Cobill excelled for the visitors. The visitors improved in the second half by allowing the home team to make but one touchdown.

Grant Will Meet Eddie Barr. Sporting Editor The Herald: I understand that Eddie Barr, the Cincinnati middle-weight wrestler, desires to meet Joe Grant, the Washington water-weight, on the mat. If Barr means business, and can make 150 pounds, ringside, he may communicate with me at once, and we will make the necessary arrangements. C. J. WEISS, 418 Robert street, Baltimore, Md. Manager Joe Grant.

Form Charts Are Wrong. The Herald gives Josie Hampton third in the seventh race at Pimlico, November 5; farm charts place Arby Van third. Which is correct? A. H. B. The official placing was, No Trumper second, Widow's Mite second, Josie Hampton third. Form charts are wrong.

W. L. I. TEAM WINS. Commissioners Lost Hard and Good Basketball Game. Before the largest crowd that has witnessed a local basketball game this season, the Washington Light Infantry last night defeated the Commissioners by the score of 34 1/2 to 28.

MACDONALD NO PRO High School Athlete Vindicated by Committee. CHARGE COULD NOT BE PROVED Winchester Manager Declared He Paid Central Captain No Salary to Play Baseball Last Summer—Accused Said He Was Not Guilty. Permanent Arbitration Board.

Angus MacDonald, captain of the Central High School football team, was last evening vindicated of the charge of playing professional baseball last summer with the Winchester, Va., team. He will now resume his place on the eleven and a day will be set for the playing of the Central-Technical game, which was on the schedule for last Friday, but was postponed on account of the MacDonald case.

By direction of the board of education a committee, composed of Dr. Wallace Neff, chairman; E. Wagoner, and Assistant United States District Attorney Stuart McNamara, met at the Franklin School Building yesterday afternoon and heard the case.

Several days ago charges of professionalism were filed against MacDonald and the board of faculty athletic advisers disqualified the young athlete from participating in high school sports. MacDonald appealed to the board of education and President Oyster appointed the special committee to act in the case. Yesterday afternoon witnesses appeared for and against MacDonald, but no one could prove that he accepted money from the Winchester club for his services. Mr. Baker, manager of the club, in a sworn statement, declared that he paid MacDonald no salary, and MacDonald himself declared that he not only received no salary, but paid out of his pocket.

Player Not in A. A. U. Dr. William Grant, chairman of the registration committee of the South Atlantic Association of the A. A. U., was brought into the case. He said that the Winchester club was considered by him as a professional club, and that anyone who played on it should be declared a professional. Inasmuch as the Winchester club and MacDonald had no connection with the A. A. U., and therefore could not be taken in the case, Grant's testimony had no weight with the committee.

Permanent Arbitration Board. The board of education has decided that it would be for the best interest of high school athletics if a permanent board was appointed to look into all matters and questions that may arise under the rules established by the board of faculty athletic advisers, and adopted by the board of education, whether they be the present rules of the Inter-High School Athletic League or new rules that the advisors may adopt for the purpose of regulating the athletic affairs of the different schools.

MISHAPS MAR RACES Blunders at Pimlico Result in Day of Poor Sport. EURIPIDES FOULS ROLY POLY Winner Causes a Spill and Bradley's Away, a 20-to-1 Shot, Is Given the Race—Northville Bolts and Spoils Chances of Rathowen and Harry Baylor in the Steeplechase.

Special to The Washington Herald. Baltimore, Nov. 6.—There was a series of mishaps at Pimlico this afternoon, which marred the sport and made the racing unsatisfactory to the large crowd. In the third race, Euripides, the winner, was disqualified for fouling Roly Poly in the first turn, causing her to fall, and Bradley's Away, a 20 to 1 shot, was given the race. Right at the start in this event Euripides swerved, causing a bad jam and seriously interfering with the chances of several of the starters.

Greville, the favorite, and Sonoma Belle had no chance after the crowding at the start. The steeplechase, the Pimlico Autumn, was also a series of mishaps. Northville, the favorite, bolted at the jump, and Rathowen carried away Harry Baylor out at the water jump, when the two were running lapped, which let Pure Blood, who had a 20 to 1 chance, win the race. Right at the start in this event Euripides swerved, causing a bad jam and seriously interfering with the chances of several of the starters.

Only one actual favorite won. This was Chippewa in the last, who was best at all stages. The programme feature was the 10th, the Baltimore Club cup for gentlemen riders. It resulted in a victory for The Cricket, who won because of Mr. Nicholas' masterly handling. Dion Kerr made two trips out of Bulwark, and finished his ride, Mr. Page had the mount, take the lead and get so far away that he won easily. Rathowen and Harry Baylor both went back and took the jump, finishing second and third, respectively.

The stewards are investigating Houlihan's ride in the last race. Nutwood lost his rider in the stretch, while Ladspring was crowded into the fence, causing his rider, Hefferman, to sustain a slight injury. Several days ago charges of professionalism were filed against MacDonald and the board of faculty athletic advisers disqualified the young athlete from participating in high school sports. MacDonald appealed to the board of education and President Oyster appointed the special committee to act in the case. Yesterday afternoon witnesses appeared for and against MacDonald, but no one could prove that he accepted money from the Winchester club for his services. Mr. Baker, manager of the club, in a sworn statement, declared that he paid MacDonald no salary, and MacDonald himself declared that he not only received no salary, but paid out of his pocket.

Prize Fight Notes. Jack "Twin" Sullivan is on the trail of big game while arrangements are being made for his brother, and though he stops by the wayside occasionally to put the quietus on some local favorites, he continues to head steadily for Los Angeles, where the Jack O'Brien-Tommy Burns contest is to take place on Thanksgiving night, and where he will issue a challenge to the winner of that affair. Jack "Twin" has fought both men, and says he is on to their style.

Two light-weights are also out for matches, Dave Holly, the negro, and Clarence Forbes, Holly being a def. offering to meet any man of his class at the limit, 133 pounds, or to let Harry Lewis or Jack Blackburn weigh in at 135 pounds, and says if he doesn't come to a winner he doesn't want a penny. Forbes is looking about Chicago for a match, and has a backer who will bet any part of $5,000 that Forbes can whip any fighter in the country at 124 to 1 odds.

Joe Grim, who has a reputation of a capacity for more punishment than any other pug, and whose boast is that he has been knocked out but once, although he has been up against Gans, Fitzsimmons, and many others of like ilk, is going about seeking whom he may devour. At present he's on his way west to try to get a bout of six rounds with Jeffries, but he also desires to meet Gans again and to try conclusions with Tommy Burns or "any man in the world at 165 pounds for twenty rounds." Grim's last fight was with Joe Thomas in Philadelphia three months ago, and although the referee there was no decision, he says he would have had Thomas out in another round.

The highways of the country, judging from all reports, are full of pugilists looking for matches just as present, and if the wishes of these ring men are realized some stiff fights should put out for the winter months. To begin with, Tommy Ryan, of Michigan, has come out of his two years' sleep and announces that he will fight Joe Thomas, the water-weight, if one of the San Francisco fight clubs will offer a $10,000 purse. It is understood that Billy Roche, of the Colma Club, is eager to make the match; so the Michigan manager is bidding for the fight, and although the referee there was no decision, he says he would have had Thomas out in another round.

Victim Had Killed White Officer in Resisting Arrest. Wrightsville, Ga., Nov. 6.—Balliff J. L. Hightower on Sunday night sought to arrest a negro, William Newsome, seven miles from Wrightsville. A fight took place in the negro's house between him and Hightower. Hightower called for help, and the negro fired a shotgun at him, killing him instantly. Then Hightower fired upon the negro with a pistol, wounding him twice. The negro was then returned to the station.

Steam Explosion in Whitaker Iron Works Damages Plant. Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 6.—The big engine at the Whitaker Iron Works exploded to-day, tearing down a large portion of the mill buildings, and completely wrecking three mills of the tin department, so that they will have to be rebuilt. The big flywheel weighed many tons, and sections of it dropped about the city a thousand feet from where the explosion occurred. No one was injured.

Six Show Horses Die in Wreck. Troy, N. Y., Nov. 6.—A rear-end collision at Hoosic Junction, on the Boston and Albany Railroad, caused the death of six horses, which are owned by William H. Moore, of New York, and were bound for that city to be exhibited at the annual horse show at Madison Square Garden. The loss is $40,000. Hangs Himself to Bed Post. Camden, N. J., Nov. 6.—John W. Whitaker, a retired machinist, residing at 12 Elm street, this city, committed suicide at home to-day by hanging himself to a bed post. No reason for the deed is known. Whitaker recently moved here from Manayunk, Pa.

ROW ENDS CHURCH MEETING Shiloh Baptists Fail to Patch Up Their Differences. Anti-Taylor Faction Ousts Pastor and Board of Trustees—Ordered by Court.

Pandemonium reigned last night at the Shiloh Colored Baptist Church, Seventh and L streets northwest, when the new board of trustees authorized by the court to take over the books from the old trustees met to perform their duty. The lights were turned out and a general melee ensued, and then the police were called.

The case will again get into court on the alleged claim that the old board of directors is in contempt of court for failing to turn over the books to the new board as directed by the court. Instead of being settled, as it was believed the matter would be at last night's meeting, it is further than ever from an end, and attorneys representing the Taylor faction will ask for a rehearing of the case in the courts on its merits.

It was the adherents of former Pastor J. Anderson Taylor who received the knock-out blow at the meeting of the court-ordered trustees, which had been called by the newly elected deacons and trustees. The Taylor faction objected to what they call "high-handed proceedings," and refused to vote. The remainder of the congregation, not only ousted from office most of the latter's supporters, but voted them outside the membership of the church, and with them Attorney Thomas L. Jones, legal representative of the Taylor faction.

POLICE WIN IN RUSH. Students Do Not Create Much Disturbance on Streets. The usual rush between the students of George Washington and Georgetown law schools did not materialize last night, owing to the activity of the mounted policemen.

Only one disturbance was noticed, which occurred near Fourteenth street on Pennsylvania avenue. A number of George Washington students, backed by the cohorts from the Western High School, rushed a group of Georgetown medical and law students, who were nobly assisted by the forces of Technical High School. Although the melee lasted but a minute and closed without any decisive action, it lasted long enough to send two of the participants—George W. Brown and Victor Mendell, a Georgetown student in the Emergency Hospital for treatment.

WIFE SMOKES CIGARETTES. Husband Bases His Plea for a Divorce on This Ground. Cleveland, Nov. 6.—William Kasten gave cigarette smoking by his wife, Evelyn, as the grounds for his petition for divorce, filed in Common Pleas Court. He says also that she drank; that she spent the money given to her to buy groceries for cigarettes and intoxicants; and that she pawned her jewels and other personal belongings when money was desired. Once he says she set the bed afire with cigarettes and almost incinerated him; on other occasions when intoxicated, she turned on the gas and almost asphyxiated herself and him. Finally she deserted him, he declares.
