FRANCE TO PAY INDEMNITY.

Will Close Case of Lieut. England, Killed in China.

The French government, it was learned yesterday, will pay an indemnity to the family of Lieut. Clarence England, U. S. N., who was killed last August by shots fired from a French war ship at target practice...

The wishes of the family of the officer have been ascertained, and France will close the incident.

FAIR SKIES FOR PRESIDENT. No Trace of Storm in Path of Louisiana on Way to Panama.

President Roosevelt, who is on his way to Panama aboard the battle ship Louisiana, was supposed to be starting through the Windward Passage last night. According to reports received at the Weather Bureau, he is having the best possible weather conditions.

The winds in that vicinity are light, and the sea consequently smooth. There is no trace of a storm anywhere in the path which he will travel, and he is expected to reach Colon on schedule time.

No message from the President reached the White House yesterday.

BARGAINS IN CITIZENSHIP. Iowa Lecturer Tells of Good and Evil of Immigration—Royal Arcanum Initiates.

In a lecture on "The Trail of the Immigrant," Prof. Steiner, of Grinnell College, of Iowa, declared last night that the new arrival from Europe is met on the dock by enterprising political workers and offered citizenship papers at a special rate of $10 cash. Being mistaken himself for an immigrant, the speaker stated that this offer had been made to him in person.

Prof. Steiner said that there was nothing to fear from immigration so long as those who come are of a kind that could be made into good and useful citizens. Speaking of the children of the immigrant, he said that it is with these that we must labor to solve the problem before us.

The horrors of the steerage passage were dwelt upon at length. Prof. Steiner strongly favors our present immigration laws, and expressed his pleasure at the way they are being enforced.

Prof. Steiner spoke before the Washington Congregational Club of the First Congregational Church.

ROYAL ARCANUM INITIATION. Fifteen candidates were initiated into the Oriental Council of the Royal Arcanum, at Pythian Hall last evening.

The Grand Regent, L. B. Beards, and his committee of officers, who are making their annual visit, several hundred members took part in the entertainment. The Oriental Council is the oldest and largest of the Royal Arcanum of this city.

John O. Biddis, a past officer of the Grand Council, delivered an address on fraternal insurance. At the conclusion of Mr. Biddis' talk, the entertainment committee provided a literary and musical programme, which was followed by refreshments. The next official visitation of the Grand Council will be to Capitol Hill, November 22.

PLAN LECTURES ON NEW HAMPSHIRE. At the regular monthly meeting of the New Hampshire Association, held last night at 522 Sixth street, announcement was made that the officers of the association have arranged for a series of papers by prominent citizens of the State of New Hampshire to be read during the coming season.

These articles will be devoted to descriptions of New Hampshire's physical, political, and social sides, each paper being preserved as authentic contribution to the history of the State.

MANNORCHOR OPENS SEASON. With a varied programme of vocal and instrumental music, two numbers presented by the dramatic section, and a ball terminating the festivities, the Germania Mannorchor opened its first season of frolic at the National Rifle Armory last night.

The musical programme was under the direction of Emil Christian, the dirigent of the Germania Mannorchor.

The comic operetta "Das Hindernis," lyrics and music by Emil Christian, was presented by Ludwig Delcher, Mrs. Sophie Escher-Lehnhardt, Mrs. Bosenberger-Weber, and Fred L. Aue.

CHURCH FAIR OPENS. A fair, planned to last during the present week, was opened yesterday in the Masonic Temple, under the auspices of the Pro-Cathedral Church.

A lunch was served between 12 and 2 o'clock. There are booths of many kinds, in which articles, suitable for holiday gifts, are offered for sale by the women in charge.

One especially attractive booth, known as the Guatemala booth, is in charge of Mrs. R. A. Anderson. Guatemala coffee is here for sale, and the booth is decorated throughout in the colors of that nation, and draped in bright colored blankets, made by Guatemala Indians.

The object of the fair is to raise money for a heating apparatus to be installed in the Pro-Cathedral Church. A different entertainment programme is offered each evening.

ATHLETIC CLUB INCORPORATES. Papers were filed yesterday by J. Harvey, Roul F. Le Mat and Fred A. Wolff, for the incorporation of the Colorado Athletic Club, a social organization.

Constable Kills Three Negroes. Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 12.—While resisting arrest three negroes were shot and killed to-night by Constable Bumpoff, who was compelled to draw his gun in self-defense. The shooting was the result of a drunken brawl, which the officer tried to stop.

Yellow Fever in Cuba. Havana, Nov. 12.—There are at present ten known cases of yellow fever in Cuba. Seven of them are in Havana, two at Cruces, and one at Santa Clara.
