

HONOR LINCOLN HERE

United States Historical Society Holds Meeting.

TRIBUTES TO HIS MEMORY

President Coleman Presides and Reads Extract from Gettysburg Speech—Senator Clapp Eulogizes Martyred President in an Eloquent Speech—Services in the Schools.

Abraham Lincoln, his life, his character, and his achievements, were the theme of addresses by prominent speakers before the United States Historical Society last night.

The occasion was decorated for the occasion with a large bust portrait of Lincoln on the pulpit. The pulpit was decorated with ferns and other greens, and a large American flag was draped across the front.

Quite a number of Spanish speaking persons in uniform were present. Harry A. Coleman, of the United States Historical Society, introduced the speakers. He said that through February was the month in the calendar, considered as the greatest month, considered by results, for within its twenty-eight days were born the two greatest figures in American history, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

All people concede that Lincoln should stand shoulder to shoulder with Washington in the world's temple of fame, while many claim that he should occupy the first place on the roll of honor.

Chinese of Washington Observe Annual Celebration.

Open House Held by the Celestials.

All Work at a Standstill for the Time Being.

With wondrous music, fascinating costumes and weird music, fascinating costumes and wondrous music, hospitality galore, as is usual, open house and the distribution of all sorts of candied fruits, the celebration of the Chinese New Year was begun yesterday in a manner never excelled.

No bells welcomed the new year yesterday, but when the two hands on the clock pointed directly upward the yellow flags with their black dragons fluttered out above the street from the different stores along Pennsylvania avenue.

The celebration was continued in all its glory until midnight. For six days longer open house will prevail among the Chinese.

At each home, every store and every Chinese restaurant, the tables are covered with all sorts of delicacies, together with wine and a bowl of burning sandalwood dust.

When midnight came last night gambling was resumed in Chinatown—New Year's Day had passed.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

OLD MAMMY CELIA DEAD.

Belonged to the Type of the Antebellum Days.

Old Mammy Celia is dead. From her daughter's home, at 173 E street northwest, all that was mortal of her was laid to rest Monday afternoon.

In the records of her race, mammy was Mrs. Celia Honesty, the late Uncle George Honesty's wife, but in American annals she was simply mammy and she belongs to the old regime of antebellum days.

Once a slave always a slave seems to have been a sort of unconscious principle with her, for after the war, as before it, she would have no existence apart from those to whom she originally belonged.

This was the family of Mrs. Jane Jackson, who lives near Great Falls. On the marriage of Mrs. Jackson's daughter to Judge H. W. Thomas, of Fairfax Court House, Celia, then a fourteen-year-old girl, was presented to the bride.

After the wedding with this mistress during the entire course of Mrs. Thomas' life, caring for the children of the latter with the devotion characteristic of the colored women of her day.

During the war, after she had gained her freedom, she went with Judge Thomas' family to Richmond and stayed with them there until their return later in the same year.

Since Mrs. Thomas' death, Mammy Celia had earned her earthly support in the families of Mr. Thomas' daughter in Virginia, and of her niece, Mrs. Walter Hellen, of 1336 I street, Washington.

In either of those families, since increasing years rendered her unavailable as a servant, she had been always a guest in the home of Mrs. Hellen.

Quite a number of Spanish speaking persons in uniform were present. Harry A. Coleman, of the United States Historical Society, introduced the speakers.

Through February was the month in the calendar, considered as the greatest month, considered by results, for within its twenty-eight days were born the two greatest figures in American history.

All people concede that Lincoln should stand shoulder to shoulder with Washington in the world's temple of fame, while many claim that he should occupy the first place on the roll of honor.

Chinese of Washington Observe Annual Celebration.

Open House Held by the Celestials.

All Work at a Standstill for the Time Being.

With wondrous music, fascinating costumes and weird music, fascinating costumes and wondrous music, hospitality galore, as is usual, open house and the distribution of all sorts of candied fruits.

The celebration was continued in all its glory until midnight. For six days longer open house will prevail among the Chinese.

At each home, every store and every Chinese restaurant, the tables are covered with all sorts of delicacies, together with wine and a bowl of burning sandalwood dust.

When midnight came last night gambling was resumed in Chinatown—New Year's Day had passed.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

The exercises closed with the singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," by the audience.

At the opening of the session of the House of Representatives yesterday Rev. Dr. Coulter, the blind chaplain, paid a tribute to the memory of Lincoln in the form of an invocation. It was as follows:

We thank Thee, Our Father in Heaven, that our republic holds in grateful memory all who have contributed to its life and perpetuity, especially that host of illustrious men who have breathed their spirits into its institutions.

CONTINUE GAS FIGHT

Petworth Citizens Renew the Agitation for Lower Rates.

IMMEDIATE ACTION URGENT

Complaint Made at Meeting of the Association That Its Representatives Were Not Given Opportunity to Speak at the Hearing Before the House Committee.

The agitation for cheaper gas was continued by the Petworth Citizens' Association at its regular monthly meeting, held at the residence of the president, William F. Gude, 3006 New Hampshire avenue, last evening.

After the attorney for the Washington Gas Company had ended his long discussion, he said, "there was but little time left for anybody else to have a word to say. Those who advocated the present price of gas, without giving any reason, were allowed to speak at length upon the subject, and we, who are opposed, were not given a chance to talk."

He added that the House District Committee will give the citizens another hearing to be held in the committee rooms to-day at 10 a. m., at which hearing one hour will be devoted to the question of gas and one to the car lines.

Opposed to Delay. The members were strongly opposed to letting this session of Congress pass without some action being taken in regard to the gas company.

Mr. Oyster, chairman of the committee which went before the House District Committee for the purpose of stating the grievances of the citizens of Petworth regarding gas, said among other things in his report that the advocates of the Madden bill were not given a chance to be heard.

After the attorney for the Washington Gas Company had ended his long discussion, he said, "there was but little time left for anybody else to have a word to say. Those who advocated the present price of gas, without giving any reason, were allowed to speak at length upon the subject, and we, who are opposed, were not given a chance to talk."

He added that the House District Committee will give the citizens another hearing to be held in the committee rooms to-day at 10 a. m., at which hearing one hour will be devoted to the question of gas and one to the car lines.

Opposed to Delay. The members were strongly opposed to letting this session of Congress pass without some action being taken in regard to the gas company.

Mr. Oyster, chairman of the committee which went before the House District Committee for the purpose of stating the grievances of the citizens of Petworth regarding gas, said among other things in his report that the advocates of the Madden bill were not given a chance to be heard.

After the attorney for the Washington Gas Company had ended his long discussion, he said, "there was but little time left for anybody else to have a word to say. Those who advocated the present price of gas, without giving any reason, were allowed to speak at length upon the subject, and we, who are opposed, were not given a chance to talk."

He added that the House District Committee will give the citizens another hearing to be held in the committee rooms to-day at 10 a. m., at which hearing one hour will be devoted to the question of gas and one to the car lines.

Opposed to Delay. The members were strongly opposed to letting this session of Congress pass without some action being taken in regard to the gas company.

Mr. Oyster, chairman of the committee which went before the House District Committee for the purpose of stating the grievances of the citizens of Petworth regarding gas, said among other things in his report that the advocates of the Madden bill were not given a chance to be heard.

After the attorney for the Washington Gas Company had ended his long discussion, he said, "there was but little time left for anybody else to have a word to say. Those who advocated the present price of gas, without giving any reason, were allowed to speak at length upon the subject, and we, who are opposed, were not given a chance to talk."

He added that the House District Committee will give the citizens another hearing to be held in the committee rooms to-day at 10 a. m., at which hearing one hour will be devoted to the question of gas and one to the car lines.

Opposed to Delay. The members were strongly opposed to letting this session of Congress pass without some action being taken in regard to the gas company.

Mr. Oyster, chairman of the committee which went before the House District Committee for the purpose of stating the grievances of the citizens of Petworth regarding gas, said among other things in his report that the advocates of the Madden bill were not given a chance to be heard.

After the attorney for the Washington Gas Company had ended his long discussion, he said, "there was but little time left for anybody else to have a word to say. Those who advocated the present price of gas, without giving any reason, were allowed to speak at length upon the subject, and we, who are opposed, were not given a chance to talk."

He added that the House District Committee will give the citizens another hearing to be held in the committee rooms to-day at 10 a. m., at which hearing one hour will be devoted to the question of gas and one to the car lines.

Opposed to Delay. The members were strongly opposed to letting this session of Congress pass without some action being taken in regard to the gas company.

Mr. Oyster, chairman of the committee which went before the House District Committee for the purpose of stating the grievances of the citizens of Petworth regarding gas, said among other things in his report that the advocates of the Madden bill were not given a chance to be heard.

After the attorney for the Washington Gas Company had ended his long discussion, he said, "there was but little time left for anybody else to have a word to say. Those who advocated the present price of gas, without giving any reason, were allowed to speak at length upon the subject, and we, who are opposed, were not given a chance to talk."

He added that the House District Committee will give the citizens another hearing to be held in the committee rooms to-day at 10 a. m., at which hearing one hour will be devoted to the question of gas and one to the car lines.

Opposed to Delay. The members were strongly opposed to letting this session of Congress pass without some action being taken in regard to the gas company.

Mr. Oyster, chairman of the committee which went before the House District Committee for the purpose of stating the grievances of the citizens of Petworth regarding gas, said among other things in his report that the advocates of the Madden bill were not given a chance to be heard.

After the attorney for the Washington Gas Company had ended his long discussion, he said, "there was but little time left for anybody else to have a word to say. Those who advocated the present price of gas, without giving any reason, were allowed to speak at length upon the subject, and we, who are opposed, were not given a chance to talk."

He added that the House District Committee will give the citizens another hearing to be held in the committee rooms to-day at 10 a. m., at which hearing one hour will be devoted to the question of gas and one to the car lines.

Opposed to Delay. The members were strongly opposed to letting this session of Congress pass without some action being taken in regard to the gas company.

Mr. Oyster, chairman of the committee which went before the House District Committee for the purpose of stating the grievances of the citizens of Petworth regarding gas, said among other things in his report that the advocates of the Madden bill were not given a chance to be heard.

1st Prize This Magnificent $450 Hallet & Davis Piano

TO BE GIVEN AWAY

RULES.

Contestants are required to make a list of different cities or towns (either or both) of population of 5,000 or over within the United States, not including Alaska or our Insular possessions, using for letters to make names of the cities or towns any of the letters in the reading matter within the heavy black bordered square in the center.

Example: Take any city or town of 5,000 or over—Boston for example. In the square find a "b," and cross it out; then find an "o," and cross it out; then an "n," and cross it out; then another "o," and then an "s." This gives you the name Boston.

Contestants are not allowed to send any letters to the judges, as this would be unfair to others.

THE PRIZES.

1st Prize—A magnificent $450 Hallet and Davis Piano will be given to the person whose list contains the greatest number of cities or towns in compliance with the rules and conditions.

2d Prize—An credit certificate good for $25 on the purchase of any new Piano in the Metropolitan area.

The remainder of the appropriation will be awarded to the next highest list in accordance with the number of cities or towns in compliance with the rules and conditions.

Mr. Oyster stated that while at the House committee meeting he had been informed by a member that he (the member) had found it his experience that the many citizens' associations in and about Washington did nothing but send in resolutions, which the District Committee could not stop to consider.

"If," said Mr. Oyster, "the citizens of the District are to be tied hand and foot by having no hand in their own affairs, as they are now, they have at least the right to expect that the House and Senate committees will read and consider their resolutions. If Congress does not wish to act as the common council for the District, let us have a hand in managing our own car lines and gas companies, and we will not bother anybody with resolutions or petitions."

Mail Service Unsatisfactory. Postmaster Barnes was severely scored by the members for his lack of proper attention, as they claimed, to the Petworth mail service.

It was said that every committee that had met since he had received no satisfaction, and it was suggested that the Postmaster General be appealed to.

Other measures discussed were the installation of more street lights and an increase in the police force around Petworth, both of which will be referred to the proper authorities.

J. A. Langley was elected a member of the association.

The Gas Company's Bonds. Eding the Washington Herald, who has been in the "bonds of indebtedness" of the Washington Gaslight Company? I know nothing of my own knowledge, but have heard some things which arouse my curiosity to know the bottom facts.

Can you enlighten me on the subject of the "bonds of indebtedness" of the Washington Gaslight Company? I know nothing of my own knowledge, but have heard some things which arouse my curiosity to know the bottom facts.

Under its charter, I am informed, this company cannot water its stock. Are these bonds (if such exist) a device and a subterfuge to conceal from the public enormous dividends?

WILLIAM MACON COLEMAN.

MISS WOLVERTON ELECTED.

Made a Member of the Teachers' Advisory Council.

Miss Frances Wolverson has been elected a member of the Teachers' Advisory Council. Miss Wolverson is a member of the corps of physical culture teachers representing the special departments.

The following resolution was passed by the council: "Eight grade principals are invited to hold a mass meeting on Friday, February 15, 1907, at 3:30 p. m., at the Central High School, to suggest names from their number as members of the Teachers' Advisory Council. The present A. M. primary teachers are also invited to hold a similar meeting at the Central High School on Monday, February 18, to suggest seven names."

GOVERNMENT WINS SUITS.

Delaware and Hudson Company Concedes Judgment in Open Court.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has just received a telegram from its attorney that the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company yesterday, at Albany, N. Y., confessed judgment in open court in the suits instituted against it by the United States for thirty-three violations of the Federal safety-appliance law.

These suits were instituted by the Department of Justice, and were vigorously prosecuted by direction of Attorney General Bonaparte.

Lenten Services at St. Patrick's.

Ash Wednesday, beginning Lent, masses will be distributed after all the masses at St. Patrick's, at 3:15 in the afternoon, and after the evening service. The order of week-day masses at St. Patrick's Church will be as follows: 6, 7, 8:15, and 9 o'clock. At the 9 o'clock mass, there will be given a short meditation on the passion of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Dr. Stafford will give a course of sermons at the 11 o'clock mass, on the socialism and religion. Father McGuire, on Sunday evenings, after the vesper service, will explain the mass. Father Smyth, at the sodality meetings on Wednesday evenings, will preach on the beatitudes.

Father Carroll, Friday evenings, after the 11 o'clock mass, will give a course of sermons at the stations of the cross, on hope; stations of the cross will be made every Friday afternoon at 3:15, and every Friday evening at 7:30. Benediction will follow both services. The full tenabre service will be rendered during holy week by the students of Holy Cross College. Sermons for Holy Thursday and Good Friday will be announced later.

The Washington Herald has but one name in the Washington Herald every morning in the week—Sunday included. Telephone, Main 3309.

Christian Xander's 19 Standards of AMERICAN WHISKIES.

They're of untrifled quality and have stood the test of purity long before a pure-fod law was thought of. QUALITY 909 7th St. Phone HOUSE. No branch houses.

$20,000.00 GEOGRAPHICAL CONTEST ABSOLUTELY FREE

T. P. Culley offers a magnificent $450 Hallet and Davis Piano as First Prize, and nearly $20,000 in prize certificates in this great contest.

THE REASON.

I, T. P. Culley, make this most remarkable offer to advertise quickly and forcibly by the name "Hallet and Davis Piano." I have just been appointed sole representative of these instruments in connection with the "Kimball" line that we now handle, and I want every one to know more about the name "Hallet and Davis Piano," and what it stands for.

THE CONTEST IS AS FOLLOWS: Below in the heavy black border is the reading matter from which the letters are to be taken in forming the names of cities and towns.

CONDITIONS. Contest is free and open to all. The person sending in the list containing the greatest number of cities or towns, in compliance with the rules and conditions, wins first prize.

Arrange your list neatly, and write on one side of paper only. Arrange your list by States. Give total number of letters used from square.

Each contestant must fill out coupon completely, and fill out outside of list. Also write full name and home address on first page of list. All lists must be in by March 4, 1907. No list will be considered after that date.

Not more than one prize certificate will be allowed on the purchase of same piano. The time of the certificate is limited.

This contest shall be determined solely by the conditions named in this advertisement, and the decision of the judges is final. Every contestant hereby agrees to abide by the decision of the judges. We reserve the right to reject any list where evidence of fraud or duplication is shown.

In event of a tie, and only in this event, the lists which are tied, and only those, will be judged for first prize as follows: The first prize will be given to the list using the greatest number of letters from the square. If the tie still continues, the first prize will be given the list containing the greatest total population. Should the tie still continue, prizes of equal value will be given to each.

THE JUDGES. All lists properly submitted will be referred to three disinterested judges, who will award all of the prizes.

When that name appears on the fallboard of your piano, it means you have the most perfect instrument that skilled artisans can produce or devise; the finest facilities and abundant cash capital can manufacture. It means that you have an instrument representing the results of over three generations of men devoting their best energies to the building of a perfect piano.

Here you have your choice of many makes; here you have the advantage of the one-priced T. P. Culley plan, a plan that positively saves you money. Our small-payment plan makes it easy to own a good piano.

COUPON.

Read this coupon carefully, and write plainly. Pin this on the outside of your list, as no list will be accepted unless coupon is attached.

I submit herewith my list containing _____ towns and cities, subject to all the terms and conditions of the contest, and I hereby agree to abide by the decision of the Judges.

Have you a piano? Answer yes or no. Signed _____ Street _____ City _____

This contest closes March 4, 1907, and no other list received after that date will be considered. Mail or bring your list to this office, addressed to T. P. Culley, 523 Eleventh St. N. W. Start now and send your list in as soon as complete.

T. P. CULLEY, REPRESENTING

HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS CONWAY PIANOS CAMBRIDGE PIANOS 523 11th St. N. W.

KIMBALL PIANOS HEINZE PIANOS 523 11th St. N. W. Washington, D. C.

POTOMAC OPEN TO NAVIGATION.

Fireboat Keeps Wide Channel Open Through Ice in River.

Chief W. T. Bell, of the fire department, is not apprehensive of conditions that may arise because of the presence of ice in the Potomac River.

"By keeping the channel open," he said yesterday, "and forcing the ice down the river on the ebb tide, I am of the opinion that such troublesome conditions as have arisen in former years from the presence of ice may be avoided."

Chief Bell yesterday recommended that the sum of $400 be allotted to the fire department for the appropriation for breaking ice in the Potomac for the purpose of reimbursing the department for fuel consumed by the fireboat in breaking ice and clearing the channel.

FINDS MANY CHANGES.

Richard Nixon Revisiting Washington After Interval of Many Years.

Enjoying a visit to Washington after an absence of fifteen years is Richard Nixon, of Portland, Ore., who for eight years represented the New Orleans Times-Democrat here. Visiting the press gallery, he finds there have been many changes in the interval of his absence.

His last Congress was the Fifty-first, when Thomas B. Reed was Speaker and Benjamin Harrison President. Of the correspondents now remaining in the press gallery who were connected with it in the Fifty-first Congress but twenty-five remain. They are: Charles S. Albert, David S. Barry, John Boye, Arthur W. Dunn, Harry E. Eliand, Richard L. Fearns, Louis Garthe, John A. Gross, Charles A. Hamilton, James S. Henry, Frank Howard, Charles P. Hunt, A. Maurice Low, N. O. Messenger, C. W. Metzger, John P. Miller, Richard Oulahan, Clifford Rose, W. R. Shaw, John S. Shriver, Maurice Spain, O. O. Stanley, Alfred J. Storer, Julius A. Truendell, and Robert H. Watkins. J. Adam Beale, now a member of the House from Minnesota, was then correspondent of the Duluth Herald.

Mr. Nixon studied law while a correspondent married a daughter of Senator Dolph, and went to practice law with him at Portland, Ore. He has been able to retire, and is enjoying life as a farmer, raising a variety of other things—animal and vegetable—that go to make the ideal farm home.

The Washington Herald has but one name in the Washington Herald every morning in the week—Sunday included. Telephone, Main 3309.

Christian Xander's 19 Standards of AMERICAN WHISKIES.

They're of untrifled quality and have stood the test of purity long before a pure-fod law was thought of. QUALITY 909 7th St. Phone HOUSE. No branch houses.

DR. GRENFEIL TELLS OF WORK.

Describes Efforts to Improve Condition of Labrador Fishermen.

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, in a lecture on Labrador, before the National Geographic Society, at the First Congregational Church last night, described the country, the people, and the work to which he is devoting his life.

In Dr. Grenfell are combined the services of a missionary, surgeon, master-mariner, magistrate, manager of a string of co-operative stores, and lecturer, his present tour being made for the purpose of securing co-operation in his philanthropic work among the deep-sea fishermen of Labrador.

Several volunteers have joined Dr. Grenfell's staff—a woman in charge of the orphanage, an electrical engineer in charge of the general mechanical work, a teacher for night and school and library work, while one of the hospitals was kept open all summer by a volunteer doctor from Harvard University and volunteer nurses from England. It was announced last night that any funds that may be contributed to aid Dr. Grenfell in his work will be received by Charles J. Bell, president of the American Security and Trust Company, as a representative of the Grenfell Association of New York.

BULLDOG IN DISPUTE.