PAYS RESPECTS TO SMOOT

Salt Lake Pastor Scores Mormonism and Utah's Senator.

Mass Meeting at Metropolitan M. E. Church Under Auspices of Women's League.

Mormonism in general and Senator Reed Smoot in particular were roundly scored at a mass meeting in Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church last night, under the auspices of the National League of Women's Organizations.

Dr. William Paden, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Salt Lake City, who came to this city especially to tell what he knows about Mormonism, delivered a long and most scathing address, in which he attacked the apostles of the Mormon Church, polygamy, polygamous living, and the church itself.

After giving a history of Mormonism and the Smoot case, Dr. Paden, in speaking of the proposed acquiescence in polygamous living as proposed by Senator Knox and others, said:

"Now, this toleration of polygamous living means the toleration of polygamy, the toleration of adultery, with religious sanction.

"Senator Knox pleads with the Senate for the religious toleration of the polygamous living and the adulterous life of Joseph Smith and his cult. He pleads for the 'religious toleration' of polygamous living.

"Why, the average morality of decent men, as voiced in our laws, dare not tolerate such a crime against the State. Reed Smoot, apostle-prophet-secr-revelator of the Mormon Church, is in harmony with his constituency in Pennsylvania, in harmony with the moral and religious will of the people of the United States when he becomes the devil's advocate before the Senate of the United States and makes a plea for the religious toleration of polygamous living as he did?"

Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, legislative secretary of the National W. C. T. U., also spoke. Her address was very brief, but strong and contained an irresistible note of appeal.

TRIBUTES TO MR. HITT.

Special Session of the House of Representatives Yesterday.

The House met at noon yesterday to pay tribute to the memory of the late Representative R. R. Hitt, who, for nearly twenty-five years, represented in Congress the Ninth, afterward the Thirteenth, district of Illinois.

Mr. Cannon, contrary to his usual custom in memorial days, presided, and the number of the older members present, who had been associated with Hitt for many years.

Hitt was for a quarter of a century Hitt's colleague from Illinois. He was to take the four o'clock train for his deceased friend, and he was to bring for a week, with prayer by who repeated the first three verses of the First Psalm. The speakers were Representatives Lowden, Clark, of Missouri; Lacey, Foss, Payne, Dulzell, Boutell, Fuller, and Cousins, who succeeded Mr. Hitt as chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

HARRIMAN TO TAKE STAND.

Will Get No "Immunity Bath" at the Federal Inquiry.

Unless interfered with by persons "higher up," the Interstate Commerce Commission will place Edward H. Harriman on the stand as a witness on February 25, when it will resume at New York its inquiry into the operations of the railroad consolidation effected by Mr. Harriman and men associated with him.

There has been a persistent report in Washington for a week or so that the government, through the Department of Justice, has collected evidence tending to show that the Harriman lines constitute a combination in restraint of trade, and as such would be prosecuted under the terms of the Sherman anti-trust act.

It was stated that in order to avoid giving Mr. Harriman an "immunity bath," he would not be called to testify before the commission at New York on February 25.

It can be said upon the authority of two members of the commission, Chairman Martin A. Knapp and Franklin K. Lane, that no change has been made in the programme to have Mr. Harriman testify at the forthcoming hearing as to facts in his possession concerning the "conduct and management" of the railroad consolidation that bears his name.

ARRAIGNS PLUNDER FORTUNES

Prof. Jenks Denounces Wealth Obtained at Expense of People.

Does Not Approve of the Condemnation of Riches Themselves, but of Their Evil Influence.

The majority of the great fortunes of to-day are won in ways that are allied to gambling and plunder, rather than as the result of legitimate business enterprise, was the declaration of Jeremiah W. Jenks, professor of political economy and politics, in an address at the meeting for men at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon.

"The Social Teachings of Jesus" was the subject of Prof. Jenks' address, followed by a general discussion on the social conditions of to-day, in which the lecturer undertook to answer a number of questions relative to the social conditions of the present day and the accumulation by combination of capital, of gigantic fortunes.

In reply to the query, "Is not the intelligent denunciation of great wealth right and proper when we see that the normal result of wealth is great vice, though there are exceptions to this?" Prof. Jenks said:

"Great fortunes result more often in evil than in good, but I object to a general denunciation of wealth. I may say, however, that many of the immense fortunes of to-day are made by gambling in the stock markets and by plunder, for the manipulation of stocks by powerful syndicates or individuals for personal advantage and to the detriment of the many is nothing less than plunder."

"Denunciations of wealth, however, should be made in a broad way. The attack should rather be made against the influences that go with wealth rather than wealth itself. It is not because of his wealth that it is difficult for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven, but because of the temptation with which his riches surround him. Let the rich man become master of himself, and not allow wealth and its temptations to interfere with his Christian life."

"There are two principles to be considered in the social teachings of Jesus, first, the fundamental democratic principle that each must think and act for himself, for upon him alone rests the responsibility. The second is his service to others as interpreted in the Fatherhood of God, and the brotherhood of man. A question that confronts us daily is, 'Will our pleasures or desires bring harm to others?' If so, it is the duty of the Christian to practice the self-denial as taught by the example of the Saviour."

The usual club meetings and an auctophone concert in the lobby followed the address.

Will Give Entertainment.
The members of the Soldiers, Sailors and Marines' Club will give a vaudeville entertainment at its clubhouse, 317 C street, on Wednesday evening. A programme consisting of vocal and instrumental music has been arranged, and the following will contribute toward the evening's programme: Miss Ellen M. Linell, William Greenburg, Miss Catherine O'Brien, Miss M. A. Fox, and James F. Kelly, who will do the Houdini stunt. Ernest Thompson is to be in charge of a clean Christian life.

BRAZIL'S TARIFF FAVORS U. S.

Government Helps Fight Against Corporation Goods.

In a report to the bureau of manufacturers, George E. Anderson, the American Consul General at Rio Janeiro has furnished an outline of the new tariff law which was passed at a recent session of the Brazilian Congress. All the preferential rates of duty which have previously existed, he said, were continued. The law is important to the United States chiefly in the fact that it continues in effect until a new law is passed, all the preferential concessions in favor of certain products of the United States which were authorized in the last budget act of a year ago, and given effect by Presidential decree of June 20, 1906.

By the provisions of this year's budget act there is to be no break in the course of these preferentials. Under the provisions of the new act, 20 per cent preferential reduction is made in the customs duty charged upon many products from the United States.

One of the most interesting features of the act is a provision which allows free admission, for such period as may be judged necessary, of all products which may come into competition with goods manufactured in Brazil by "trusts," the act employing the English word.

GOLD COINS TO BE CHANGED

President Plans New Designs with the Aid of an Artist.

Believes Present Ones Are Inartistic, and He Proposes to Exercise His Prerogative Beautifying Them.

By order of the President, the designs of the gold coins of the United States will be changed some time during the coming year. The work of preparing new designs has been placed in the hands of a celebrated New York artist. President Roosevelt believes that the gold coins now in use are inartistic, and after discussing the matter with Treasury officials he took it up with the New Yorker in question. As a result, appropriate designs, artistic in effect and beautiful in workmanship, are about to be submitted for the approval of the President.

Under the law, the President has a good deal of authority in prescribing just what figures or emblems shall appear on specie. Congress has made certain limitations, however. The law provides that the designs on coins shall not be changed oftener than once in a period of twenty-five years, and that on each coin there shall appear an emblem of liberty, the year of the coinage, and the words "E Pluribus Unum." Beyond being bound by this general description, the President may do as he likes.

The present gold coins have been in use fifty years, and the President may, therefore, change their appearance if he so desires. He has had the matter in mind for some time, and will soon direct a commission of officials to pass upon the new designs that have been submitted to him. Nothing can be done with the silver coins now in circulation. The emblems that appear on them have been in use only a few years.

Hear Mrs. Kate Barrett.
A large congregation thronged the auditorium of the Central Union Mission to hear Mrs. Kate Barrett, superintendent of the National Florence Crittenton Missions, who made an eloquent appeal for a clean Christian life.
