Sale of Our "Special" $6.00 Trimmed Hats.

OUR millinery buyer and designers have just returned from a trip to New York, and to-morrow in this sale of our special $6.00 Trimmed Hats the very latest styles will be shown. The same care and individuality that go into our more expensive hats will be found in our special $6.00 hats. In no instance have style and quality been sacrificed. Every one of them comes up to our high standard of excellence.

The style range includes hats for all occasions—Street and Dress Hats, Toques for elderly women, and Lingerie Hats for misses and children. All of the styles are absolutely correct, and the very latest ideas in shapes and trimmings will be shown to-morrow.

White and Black Straw Sailors, $3.00.

Women's Smart Rough and Plain-Straw Band Sailors, correct width brims, will be on sale to-morrow. White in rough straw—black in both the rough and plain straw. The Sailor continues in the lead of popular street and outdoor hats, the preference being given to the black ones.

Millinery Salon—24th floor, Tenth st.

The "Pajamarite," A New Sleeping Suit.

SOMETHING entirely new in Men's Sleeping or Lounging Suits. To all appearances the Pajamarite is a two-piece pajama, but in reality it is a union garment, the top of the trousers being securely sewn to the coat on the under side. This construction does away with all binding at the waist by cord or trousers band and prevents the hitching up of the coat or sagging of the trousers. This garment is particularly desirable for lounging and is shown in chambray, gansook, check muslin, madras, and soisette.

Prices, $2.50 and upward.

Men's Store—Main floor, F st.

Reliable Corsets.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Lull in Events Since Departure of Naval Visitors.

ITALIAN OFFICERS COME NEXT

Baron des Planches Leaves for Jamestown To-day to Invite Duke of Abruzzi, Cousin of King of Italy, to Washington—Fencers' Club Give Exhibition This Afternoon.

Washington society is now feeling the reaction of the festivities of the week, and dinners and luncheons were indeed few.

All the rear admirals and ranking officers of the foreign ships at anchor at Hampton Roads left the Capital Thursday evening, the younger element remaining for the dance given by Baron Ambrosy and Baron Haymerle, of the Austro-Hungarian Embassy, which was one of the most recherche dances of the season. Now, however, even the young officers of the foreign fleet have gone, and things seem dull in consequence.

The Army of the Potomac is still here, however, but to-day all the visitors brought here by its convention and the unveiling of the McClellan statue, which were coincident, will have dispersed and scattered. Last night they gave their large annual banquet at Rauscher's, after having been received at the White House by the President in the afternoon.

The quiet in the social world, however, will be of short duration, for next week more foreign guests will probably be the Capital's guests. Baron Mayor des Planches, the Italian Ambassador, with Signor Montagna, counselor, and Lieut. Carlo Pieter, naval attaché of the embassy, will leave for Jamestown to-day to pay their respects to H. R. H. the Duke of Abruzzi, commander of the two Italian ships, the Varese and Etruria. Baron Mayor will extend to his distinguished countryman, who is a cousin of the King of Italy, an invitation to visit Washington this coming week. He will be a guest of the embassy, and will be quartered, with his suite, on the second floor of the handsome embassy in New Hampshire avenue, and the Ambassador will give a large evening reception for his highness, to meet whom will be invited the most select of the Capital's social set.

The Brazilian Ambassador, Mr. Nabuco, will also entertain in the near future. Rear Admiral Huet de Bacellar, the commanding officer of the three ships Brazil will send to the exposition, and which are expected to arrive in this vicinity the end of next week.

The French ships will probably be the last to arrive in Jamestown waters, as the Ambassador, M. Casimir, does not expect them until the first part of June. He has, therefore, postponed his departure to Europe until the middle of June, that he may be here to entertain his countrymen.

The naval attaché of the French Embassy and Mme. de Blampre and the Misses Oliver left yesterday afternoon to visit Senator Du Pont at his country home in Delaware.

Baroness Elizabeth Rosen, the young daughter of the Russian Ambassador, and Baroness Rosen, is ill at the embassy with an attack of influenza. Baroness Rosen hopes to introduce Baroness Elizabeth to the court of the czar next year, after which introduction she will be presented to Washington society, and take her place as the young lady of the embassy, the foreign etiquette being that she must first be presented in her own country and in the court of her sovereign.

The Duke de Cabaules and de Picquigny, who spent several weeks in this country, most of the time as the guest of Mrs. Thompson Shonts and her daughter, has sailed for home, and thus quieted, for a time, at least, the persistent rumors of his engagement to Miss Theodora Shonts.

Mrs. John E. Reyrburn, wife of the newly elected mayor of Philadelphia, who has been spending some days in the Quaker City, returned to her home here yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Reyrburn have loaned their yacht, the Gretchen, to the Washington alumni of the University of Pennsylvania for an excursion down the Potomac a week from Sunday. Mr. Reyrburn, who is a graduate of "Pennsy," will accompany the young men, and a gala time is expected.

Society is interested in an amateur dramatic entertainment to be given next Wednesday evening at Carnegie Institute Hall in honor of the Mexican Ambassador and Mrs. Corder. The three sons and daughter of Signor Jose Godoy, Mexican Minister to Cuba, will be assisted by their friends in the Latin-American legations and several young Washingtonians in presenting David Garrick and a one-act farce, entitled "El Novio de Dona Ines." The play of David Garrick is in three acts, and will be given in English. The farce will be played in Spanish. The performance will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

The Fencers' Club will give an exhibit this afternoon, when there will be a competition between some of the ladies of the club, at the Salle d'Armes of the club, at 1517 H street. These bouts used to be one of the interesting features of the season.

Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, who have been the guests of Senator and Mrs. Elkins, returned to New York last night.

Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Weller, of 405 Seward square, Capitol Hill, are enjoying a week at Atlantic City.

The pupils of the Immaculate Conception Academy entertained their parents and friends at an Irish May-day on Wednesday. The music hall was richly decorated with a wealth of spring blossoms while each of the participants appeared in white, making a charming picture. Every number of the programme elicited a sincere appreciation from the interested audience. The programme, consisting mainly of Irish airs, interspersed with duets, was an elaborate one, as follows:

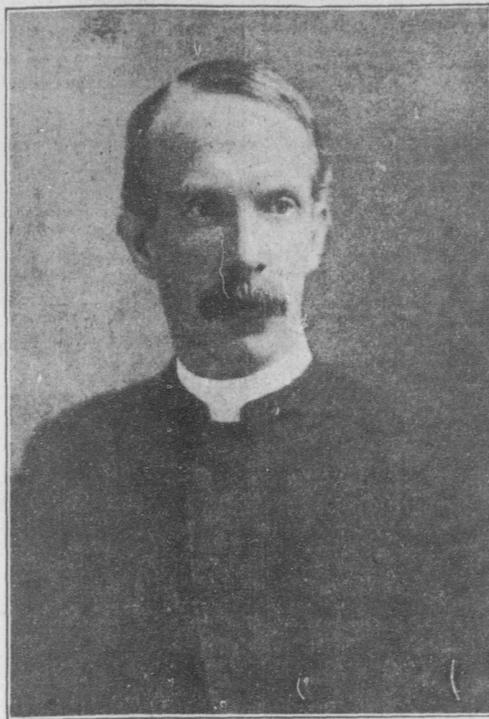

Duet, Misses A. Donovan, M. Blakeney, A. Minahan, M. McInerney, M. Cannon, H. Berens, F. Smithers, and M. Burke; "Wearing of the Green," Misses M. Lovelless, L. Helan, H. Donovan, H. Lovelless, P. Smithers, M. Saffell, H. Berens, and M. Preston; "Erin's Flag" (a recitation), Miss M. Dunn, Misses G. Stewart, K. Kellher, M. Studds, H. Lovelless, R. Lovelless, H. Berberich, B. Coblenz, M. Donovan, followed with a "Mazurka," and "Treading of the Past" was then read by Miss G. Lynch. "Come Back to Erin" was played by Misses E. O'Donnell, A. Donovan, R. Addison, and H. Berens. The mandolin club, consisting of Misses L. Sullivan, F. Jordan, A. Sullivan, R. Sullivan, M. Dunigan, M. Baker, J. Donovan, and A. Donovan, gave an Irish melody, "The Harp of Tara" was applauded, being played by Misses M. Mellinger, M. O'Donnell, M. Cannon, and M. Lynch, when playing "St. Patrick's Day." An original poem, "Mon's Victory," was read by Miss Marie Mellinger. "Kathleen Mavourneey" by Misses M. Dunn, M. McInerney, F. Smithers, and M. Burke, and "The Valley Lay Smiling Before Us," by Misses M. Slattery, G. Stewart, M. Mellinger, and P. Smithers, were greatly enjoyed. "A Tribute to Our Blessed Mother," by Miss L. Helan, during which Miss G. Collins, as America and Miss L. Fitzgerald, as Erin crowned the Queen of the May, closed a pleasant evening.

WASHINGTON PASTORS—XIV.

REV. PETER WILLIAMS JEFFRIES.

Rev. Peter Williams Jeffries, pastor of St. Paul M. E. Church South, is one of Washington's most enthusiastic churchmen, and is known for his energy and progressiveness. The congregation which he directs is one of the latest additions to the Methodist creed in this city, and although it has been organized but two years, 200 members have been enrolled. Mr. Jeffries was born in Liverpool, England, where most of his early life was spent. He was educated in the Liverpool College, receiving his theological training at Didsbury College, Manchester. After preaching in England for several years, he was asked to join the Baltimore Conference and promptly accepted the invitation, coming to this country in 1899 with his sister. His first charge was in Staunton, Va., where he was pastor until called to the Calvary Church in Baltimore. Here he remained until 1904, when he was appointed by Bishop Williams to organize a church in Bloomingdale. He came here in September of that year, and by May of 1905 had opened the church with a fair membership. The building in which worship is held at present will be used as a Sunday school house after the completion of the church, for which the ground has been purchased. Several church societies have been formed, including the Epworth League, and all are in a flourishing condition. The Central Union Mission has also felt the generosity of the congregation. The trustees of the church are A. L. Dietrich, chairman; T. J. Anderson, S. M. McNett, W. M. Ragsdale, C. F. Saur, Dr. Henry Knowles, and J. T. White. The stewards are A. S. Jones, chairman; J. M. Hoag, treasurer; J. S. Cannon, Dr. A. L. Howard, C. T. Keefer, E. F. Nelson, and R. S. Whaley.

Capital social life during the days when Count Cassini was Russian Ambassador here, for the Count took a great interest in the sport and in the club, while at their annual spring meetings his fascinating daughter, the Countess Marguerite, used to play hostess and gather round her some of the most attractive young women of the smart set to assist her entertain the club members and invited guests. The count has bestowed upon the club a Cassini prize, which is now given to the winners in a competition, and serves to keep green his memory in this interesting little club.

Mrs. Edward Simpson, wife of Lieut. Commander Simpson, with Miss Marion Leutz, daughter of the commandant of the navy yard, and Miss Louise Maxwell, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Barker, two of the most attractive girls in the navy circle, left town last evening for Norfolk, to attend to-night the dance to be given by the Navy League to the foreign officers at the Hotel Chamberlin. They will be the guests of Col. Robert N. Thompson on his houseboat while there. His daughter, Mrs. Stephen H. Pell, will be his hostess.

Mrs. G. E. Rogers, who, with her daughter, Miss Ethel Rogers, has spent most of the winter here, was joined this past week by Mr. Rogers, who has been traveling in California and the West Indies, and with him left for New York en route to their home in Greenfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swinyard, who have been spending some time at the Arlington on their way North from Palm Beach, left yesterday for New York. This summer they will spend at Gilbertville, N. Y., the family country seat, instead of going abroad, as usual. Mr. Swinyard, by the way, has crossed the ocean no less than fifty-six times.

PLAYS DIVORCE HABIT

Dr. Law Calls It "Crying Evil of Society."

SPEAKS TO LOCAL DIVINES

Leader of Church Federation Movement in England Urges Action on Part of American Ministers to Strike for Purer Politics—Tells of Results Obtained in England.

In an address before a number of Washington divines in the Williams room at the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon, Dr. Thomas Law, the leader and organizer of the church federation movement in England, warned Americans against the tendency to rottenness in politics as the one element which would inevitably destroy our government and lead to a repetition of history in regard to a great ancient republic. He further declared the divorce habit in America as one that was a blot on its career, and a custom the demoralizing influence of which can hardly be estimated. He also took a fling at the non-observance of the Sabbath in this country, pointing to the openness of our great cities, particularly Chicago, on this day.

Factor in English Elections.

Dr. Law came to America as the exponent of a great religious federation, composed of every denomination in Great Britain, with the exception of the Catholics and the Unitarians. The power of this federation, he claims, brought about the recent overthrow of the Conservative government and changed the political history of England by appealing to the spiritual and the good in the hearts of the English people. His mission to this country is to become familiar with its religious conditions, and to talk to its ministers, with a view to moving them to organize such a body in this country. He has addressed thousands of clergymen in his tour of three weeks through the Middle West, and says that he is greatly encouraged by the spirit that is manifest there.

In speaking of the work of his organization and its ends, Dr. Law said: "Our National Free Church Conference has councils in every city in England, Wales, New Zealand, South Africa, Australia, and in many in Canada. It is a most powerful agency for good, and has given evidence of its strength in the recent elections in England, when 200 members of parliament were elected who ran at our request. Many objections are made against us, the principal one being that we are attempting to pull down the Church of England, when in reality we have no desire to fight the church, but are eager against sin. We have no reason to expend our energy against one another, but against immorality, vice, and crime. But this I do say of the Anglican church, that it can never do its best work until it is freed from the control of the state.

"We never spend our time saying our prayers and allow the devil to make our laws, and that is the lesson that American ministers must learn. Do things. Pray for the light of guidance, then go out and see that your prayers are answered. Answer your own prayers. Make a stand against brotels, gambling houses and Sunday drinking places and rotten politics, and then go and stop them. I venture to say that there is not a city in your country which has not some unscrupulous man on its governing board whose own interests are foremost. Stand against divorce, for it is the crying evil of American society."

Dr. Law had luncheon with Ambassador Bryce yesterday who informed him that the Americans were a sober people compared to the English. He will meet President Roosevelt to-day and leave for Philadelphia to-night. Among those who took part in an informal discussion after the lecture were Dr. Greene, Dr. Radcliffe, Rev. Mr. Stevens, Dr. Butler, Rev. Mr. Crabtree, Dr. Bristol, Dr. Muir, and Dr. Copp.

Excursion to Marshall Hall. Planked shad dinner, including the celebrated Marshall Hall clam chowder, will again be the attraction at Marshall Hall to-morrow. The run will be made on the steamer Charles Macalester, and two trips, at 11 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., are scheduled. These dinners will be served every Sunday during the month of May. The regular excursion season opens Decoration Day, May 30.
