

TWO EMPLOYEES QUIT Board Accepts Resignation of Clerk and Operator.

MONTGOMERY REPORT ASKED

Capt. Oyster Wants Light on Armstrong Manual Training School Affairs—Dr. Chancellor Tells Board the Report Will Be an Unpleasant One—Fallings of Janitors.

Edwin Ballinger, clerk, and Randall Gardner, telephone operator, in the office of the secretary of the board of education in the Franklin Building, tendered their resignations to the board at yesterday's meeting.

Capt. Oyster, chairman of the committee on the investigation of the office force, said that he was not opposed to the acceptance of the resignations of these or any other men, and accordingly such action was taken.

There was a general discussion at yesterday's meeting of the buying of supplies for the cooking schools, and it was unanimously agreed that the District could save money by purchasing staple supplies by wholesale.

Report Will Be Unpleasant. The captain was readily convinced that he was mistaken in this, but insisted that the board have the facts as early as possible, so that they might be submitted to Attorney Stuart McNamara and action taken.

John C. Early, who was dismissed from his position as janitor of the Montgomery School several days ago, was given a slight raise in that building, was yesterday reappointed.

Must Be Sold at Auction. In view of this fact several of the officers requested that they be allowed to retain, or to purchase the old swords and mementos. A decision was asked, and it was held that they were the property of the District, and would have to be sold at public auction.
