

SPY'S REPORTS READ

Haywood Defense Tells of Work of Pinkertons.

NO RESTRICTIONS ON EVIDENCE

Court Said to Have Adopted Policy of Admitting Everything to Avoid Possibility of Complaint Against Its Ruling—Witnesses Testify as to Strike Conditions at Cripple Creek.

Noise, July 1.—By far the largest part of today was given in the Haywood trial to the reading of copies of reports made by Pinkerton detectives to the head of the Denver Pinkerton agency. They were all from men who were employed by the Pinkertons to mix with the Colorado miners, join their unions, if possible, and keep the main office informed of what the union was doing.

The defense has charged that the troubles in the Cripple Creek district were largely the result of a conspiracy between the Mine Owners' Association, but on cross-examination Morris Friedman, McParland's former secretary, who stole the reports from the Pinkerton office, admitted that as far as he knew the Mine Owners Association was never a client of the Pinkertons in the years 1902 to 1905. He further admitted that, excepting the reports he had given to the counsel for the defense, he knew of none that had any bearing on the Haywood case.

Conditions at Cripple Creek.

James Wallace, who was a lieutenant in the Colorado militia in the Cripple Creek strike days, testified of conditions there, as did other witnesses. The exact bearing of their evidence on the Haywood case is not clear. It went to prove what nearly everybody knew before, namely, that the officers sent to Cripple Creek to enforce the law occasionally broke it, and that from the governor of the State, commander of the militia, down to the humblest miner, there were few men who did not participate in the indignities of which the union miners have been complaining ever since; but what that has to do with the charge that Haywood and his fellow Federation leaders conspired to murder a number of their chief enemies, and actually did cause the death of ex-Gov. Steiensen, it is hard to see.

However, Judge Wood seems to have adopted the policy of letting in anything that the defense has the slightest wish to offer as evidence in order that, should the verdict go against them, there can be no shadow of complaint against the court's ruling.

MAY CHANGE TROLLEY PLAN.

Annapolis Council to Consider Interurban Franchise.

Special to The Washington Herald. Annapolis, Md., July 1.—At the request of President George T. Bishop, of the Washington, Baltimore, and Annapolis Electric Railway Company, the Annapolis city council to-morrow night will further consider the ordinance providing for street car franchises, passed two weeks ago. It is said that Mr. Bishop's company desires certain changes made in the ordinance. Vice President Shannahan will appear before the council to urge these changes.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C., July 1, 1907. Summer temperatures were quite normal during Monday, except in portions of the Lake region. In Texas the maximum temperatures ranged from 90 to 102 degrees, while over Eastern Arizona they reached as high as 114 degrees. There were showers Sunday night in South Dakota, Eastern Colorado, and from the Upper Mississippi Valley and Upper Lake region eastward into New England, and also on Monday in the Lake region, South Atlantic States, Arkansas, Eastern Colorado, and Western Washington; elsewhere the weather was fair.

There will be little change in the weather and temperature conditions during the next two days. Occasional local thunderstorms are possible in the South, but there will be no precipitation of much consequence.

The winds along the New England coast will be fresh westerly; on the Middle and South Atlantic coasts light and mostly westerly; on the Gulf coast light to fresh southerly; on the Lower lakes light to fresh west to northwest, becoming variable; and on the Upper lakes light to fresh northerly, becoming variable.

Steamers departing Tuesday for European ports will have light to fresh winds, with partly cloudy weather to the Grand Banks.

Local Temperature. Midnight, 62; 2 a. m., 60; 4 a. m., 59; 6 a. m., 57; 8 a. m., 56; 10 a. m., 55; 12 m., 54; 2 p. m., 53; 4 p. m., 52; 6 p. m., 51; 8 p. m., 50; 10 p. m., 49; Maximum, 81; minimum, 49. Relative humidity—8 a. m., 81; 2 p. m., 81; 8 p. m., 80. Rainfall (8 p. m. to 8 p. m.), 0. Hours of sunshine, 14.9. Per cent of possible sunshine, 80. Temperature same date last year—Maximum, 80; minimum, 72.

Condition of Water. Harpers Ferry, Va., July 1.—Shenandoah and Potomac rivers muddy.

Temperatures in Other Cities. Temperatures in other cities, together with amount of rainfall, for the twelve hours ending at 4 p. m. yesterday, are as follows:

CORTELYOU SLEEPS ON CUTTER.

"Silk-hatted Personage" at Show for West Virginia Day.

Special to The Washington Herald. Norfolk, Va., July 1.—A United States revenue cutter which a naval officer said is new and strange to his eyes, and flying a flag equally strange, but which he declared he believed to be the flag of the Secretary of the Treasury, came into Norfolk this evening, took aboard a personage who, according to his own story, sailed from New York to Norfolk.

It is practically certain that Secretary Cortelyou, who is due here on West Virginia Day, is aboard and has gone down to anchor for the night off the Jamestown Exposition grounds. The cutter is anchored alongside the Brazilian battleship Riachuelo, but no salute was fired, the Brazilians probably not knowing the Secretary's flag any better than the Americans did.

The West Virginia official party, including Gov. O. M. Dawson, former Gov. McCorkle, United States Senators Elkins and Scott, many State officials and ladies, and the West Virginia State troops, arrived to-day for the dedication of the Exposition grounds.

The Southern Shoe Wholesalers' convention met at the Chamberlain Hotel, Old Point Comfort, in annual convention today with several hundred leading shoe wholesalers from all parts of the South present.

RALEIGH LUCKETT IMPROVING

Well-known Clubman Will Undergo Operation To-day.

Sought to End Life in Garrick Club by Shooting—Marital Wrongs Are the Cause.

Raleigh F. Luckett, who lives at the De Soto, and who yesterday attempted suicide at the Garrick Club by shooting himself in the breast, has an even chance for recovery, according to the physicians at the Emergency Hospital.

It was announced last night that, although paralyzed on the left side from the waist down, and in an extremely serious condition, Mr. Luckett was resting comfortably, and it is thought that his condition will to-day permit of an operation. This was impossible yesterday on account of the low vitality of the patient, due to the loss of blood.

No statement has as yet been made by him as to his reason for the attempt to end his life.

Mr. Luckett is twenty-seven years old, and is the son of C. E. Luckett, manager of the P street branch of the Adams Express Company, of which the son, Raleigh, was an employe, and is the brother of Joseph Luckett, manager of the Columbia Theater.

Dependancy as a result of marital troubles is ascribed by Joseph Luckett as the reason for his brother's attempt at self-destruction.

About two months ago, it was stated, he separated from his wife formerly Miss Gertrude Harlow, of Alexandria, Va., and his two children, and it is believed that in brooding over his troubles his mind became unbalanced.

On Saturday Mr. Luckett went to Baltimore, returning yesterday by way of the Chesapeake Bay steamer. He entered the Garrick Club, 1247 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, with E. F. Brown and A. E. Bietzel apparently in the best of spirits. After chatting a few minutes with Manager E. S. Doughty, he entered the front room alone, and a few minutes later a shot was heard.

It was at first thought the noise had come from the street, but Mr. Brown entered the room and young Luckett was discovered seated in a chair near the reading table, a smoking revolver in his hand and a bullet hole through his right breast.

In reply to a question as to why he had shot himself, he gasped, "It's all over; send for Joe."

He was removed to the hospital within a few minutes without making a further statement, and on the Upper lakes light to fresh northerly, becoming variable.

It was at first thought he could not recover, but the news that he had a chance to get well brought hope to the members of his family and friends.

THE "FOURTH" AT JAMESTOWN.

How Independence Day Will Be Celebrated at the Exposition.

Hundreds of Washingtonians who have the Fourth away from employment and business will pass the day at the Jamestown Exposition, Norfolk and Washington boats give a delightful sail down to Norfolk and Jamestown.

The day service is particularly attractive to tourists and all who have never viewed the lower Potomac by day. The sailing hour is at 8 a. m. Through picturesque and historic shores of the river, commanding the attention of passengers until the Chesapeake, with its busy shipping, is entered, the steamer reaches the exposition pier before nightfall. For this day service the handsome steamers Jamestown and Newport News are employed, the regular liners sailing at 6:30 p. m. daily. Information and ticket money is secured at Seventh street wharf, and at 705 Fourteenth street. Present arrangements for the celebration of Independence Day at the fair are as follows:

10:30 to 12—Grand parade concessionaires from Waltham on Lee's parade. 11:30—Airship ascension by Capt. Eugene Godet. Peace assembly weather favorable. 11 to 1—Thomas Jefferson Memorial Association ceremonies in Convention Hall, where Mexican Band will play and Hon. Woodrow Wilson will address the meeting. Musical program will be rendered by 750 Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News school children.

12 noon—Cannon salute by army and navy. 1 to 5 p. m.—World's championship games by A. A. U. athletic grounds. 1 to 2:30—Organ recital in auditorium by H. D. Sleeper. 2 p. m.—Lecture on aerial navigation, by Israel Ludlow and Capt. Lovelace, in aeronautic building. 2:30 to 3:30—Musical concert in auditorium. 3:30 to 4:30—Massed band concert on reviewing stand. 4:30 to 6:30—Military drills by cadets and State National Guard, including steam train. 4:30 to 6—Exposition chorus of 500 voices in auditorium. 5 p. m.—Airship ascension by Eugene Godet. 5 p. m.—Lecture on aerial navigation, by Israel Ludlow and Capt. Lovelace, in aeronautic building. 7:15 to 8:30—Reproduction of the "Great Republic" by inmates of the State House, participated in by all the bands of the exposition grounds and military organizations, together with cannon salute, concluding with fireworks by H. J. Paine. 8:30 to 10:30—Song recital by Sydney Lloyd Wright, honorary director of music, in auditorium. 8:30 to 10:30—Cannon salute, "The Center Square" given by the dramatic company of the United States ship Ohio, in Convention Hall.

PLANS TO END ROWDYISM.

President of Virginia League Calls Meeting to Take Action.

Special to The Washington Herald. Richmond, Va., July 1.—Jake Wells, president of the Virginia Baseball League, has called a meeting of the franchise holders for to-morrow night in this city for the purpose of taking up the cases of several players who are alleged to have been guilty of playing rowdy ball. Win Clarke, manager-player of the Roanoke club, will be charged with assaulting Umpire Byron. Second Baseman Rubland, of the Norfolk club, will be tried for assaulting Umpire Staunton.

Wells says that the managers and players in the Virginia League might as well understand right now that rough playing will not be tolerated. Both Rubland and Clarke will probably be either fined or suspended.

Maj. Holmes Condemns Recoverers.

Special to The Washington Herald. Winchester, Va., July 1.—Maj. Holmes Conrad, who has been confined to his residence here several days as a result of falling into tangled barbed wire and rubbish, was able to be out to-day.

Sentenced for Disorder on Train.

Special to The Washington Herald. Hagerstown, Md., July 1.—Charged with riotous conduct on a Western Maryland passenger train, and alleged to have threatened the life of the conductor, Frank Smith was to-day given three months in the House of Correction; George Smith, two months in the House of Correction; and George Brown was fined $50 and costs.

ATTACK THE VERDICT

Virginia Papers Think That Judge and Jury Erred.

LOVING ESCAPES TOO EASILY

Press of Old Dominion Practically Unanimous in Condemning Ruling Out of Evidence Offered by Prosecution—Would Write the "Unwritten Law" on Statute Books.

Special to The Washington Herald. Richmond, Va., July 1.—The press of the State, almost with unanimity, condemns the action of the Halifax County jury for finding in favor of Judge William G. Loving, of Nelson County, who killed Theodore L. Estes for a real or fancied wrong to his young daughter Elizabeth, while the girl was out riding with Estes.

The papers of the Commonwealth are also bitter in their exhortation of Judge William R. Barksdale, who presided at the trial, for his decision ruling out the testimony offered by the Estes family tending to show that no assault had been committed and attaching to some extent the character of Miss Loving.

The Newport News Press says it is a shame to Virginia that a jury could be found within its limits which by a unanimous vote would free a man without even a mortal in the most cold-blooded and deliberate manner. The majority of the papers are again gravely discussing the advisability of incorporating into the statutes of Virginia the so-called "unwritten law," thereby specifying under precisely what circumstances a man shall be justified in taking the law into his own hands and taking a human life.

The Roanoke World says that if the "unwritten law" is to have so strong a place in Virginia jurisprudence, it is high time that the rights claimed under it are specifically defined. Nearly all of the papers indicate the belief that there has been a miscarriage of justice.

The Danville Register says if the jury had been allowed to view the evidence which was declared inadmissible by the court they would have seen the case in an entirely different light.

FAULTS IN PRIMARY COUNT.

Error Affecting 100 Votes Uncovered by Blair's Contest.

Special to The Washington Herald. Richmond, Va., July 1.—Significant discrepancies have been found in the official figures given out as the primary election results of Friday. These figures show that an error of 100 votes must have been made in the election for the senate, which is being contested by A. Beltr Blair, who was defeated by seven votes.

The Danville Register says if the jury had been allowed to view the evidence which was declared inadmissible by the court they would have seen the case in an entirely different light.

RICHMOND LOSES CLOSE GAME.

Lynchburg Earns Three of Its Runs and Carries Off Prize.

Special to The Washington Herald. Lynchburg, Va., July 1.—Lynchburg took first place in the race to-day by defeating Richmond in a well played and interesting game. Carter, the former Lynchburger, was hit for three earned runs, including a homer by Bentley, in the fifth, and he gave way to Salve. Stewart was hit on his pitching arm by a foul tip in the sixth, and he will be incapacitated for work for two weeks. The game abounded in brilliant work. Score:

CORONER ACCUSES STEP-SON.

Alleges that Wright Killed McDaniel at Tappahannock.

Special to The Washington Herald. Fredericksburg, Va., July 1.—Tappahannock and vicinity have been excited for the past three days over the murder of Thomas McDaniel, one of the most highly respected and influential farmers of that section.

The coroner's verdict, rendered to-day, was to the effect that McDaniel died of a gunshot wound inflicted by M. Brockenborough Wright, his step-son. Wright was arrested and arraigned before Magistrate R. G. Duke, who sent his case to the grand jury of the County Circuit Court, which met in August. Wright is confined in the jail at Tappahannock.

DIVORCED, WEDS NEXT DAY.

Man Who Wrote "Under the Old Apple Tree" Again a Benedick.

Special to The Washington Herald. Winchester, Va., July 1.—Divorced in Winchester, Egbert Van Alstyne, composer of "Under the Old Apple Tree" and other songs, was married Friday, in Kenosha, Wis., to Miss Mabel Carolyn Church, a dramatic reader.

His former wife, Miss Louise Henry, daughter of George R. Henry, of Winchester, is popular on the vaudeville stage, and secured her divorce here Thursday. She eloped with Van Alstyne July 21, 1905, from Chicago to Waukegan, Wis., after being divorced from her manager, a Mr. King. Van Alstyne owns a fine farm in this county.

NEWS OF ALEXANDRIA

Federal Court Opens, but Has Little to Do.

TO TRY ALLEN WILL CASE

New Officers Elected for the Trades Council—Electric Motor Jumps the Track—Mrs. Ramey's Funeral Occurs To-day—Strike of Negroes Stops Building Operations.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU, (Bell Telephone 113.) Alexandria, Va., July 1.—Judge Edmund Waddill to-day opened the summer term of the United States Court for the Eastern district of Virginia in this city. Owing to the small docket, it was decided that no jurors should be summoned. After disposing of a few minor criminal cases, court adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. It is said that no important cases will be tried at this term.

A nolle pro. was entered in the case of John Steff, charged with breaking open a mail box. The defendant had already served three months in jail. A capias was issued for the arrest of Ashby Williams, charged with securing a registered letter at Arlington by means of forgery, the defendant's bail having been declared forfeited. Other cases were called and continued until to-morrow. Judge L. L. Lewis, United States district attorney, appeared for the government.

Trial Ordered in Will Case.

In the Corporation Court to-day, Judge Barley presiding, a decree was entered in the case of Ella Lee and others against Margaret Clark and others, directing that the issue be tried to ascertain if the paper purporting to be the last will of Harrison Allen is his last will. Final decrees were entered in the cases of W. A. Smoot, trustee, against Ida V. Wise, and E. Steuart Smith against Catherine S. Smith. In the case of Mary Helen Elliott against Katherine Bauer a decree was signed referring the matter to Commissioner E. B. Taylor for report.

Motor of Electric Train Derailed.

The motor of a north-bound train on the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Electric Railway was derailed about 3 o'clock this afternoon on a long fill just this side of Mount Vernon. No one was injured, but the car came near turning over, and traffic was delayed about an hour. What caused the accident is not known.

Trades Council Elects Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Alexandria Trades Council, held this evening in the council hall on King street, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Robert F. Prettymann, president; Thomas A. Huffish, vice president; John T. Harrison, financial secretary and treasurer; John L. Proctor, recording secretary; Charles A. Howard, conductor, and Frank W. Deaton, local guard.

Illinois Bonds Submit for the President, but Plan to Overturn Obnoxious Law.

Special to The Washington Herald. Norfolk, Va., July 1.—No railroad ticket offices in Norfolk to-day sold 2-cent mileage passenger tickets, in compliance with the order of the State corporation commission, putting a 2-cent passenger rate in effect on and after July 1.

DEFY TWO-CENT-RATE ORDER

Virginia Railroads, However, May Give Passengers Rebate.

The Norfolk and Western, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern, and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads began, however, selling tickets with a receipt rebate thereon. If the 2-cent law is declared to be constitutional, the holders will, upon presentation of these rebate receipts, receive refunds.

The Norfolk and Southern Railway is not affected by the 2-cent-rate order.

Chicago, July 1.—The 2-cent fare went into effect on all railroads in Illinois to-day.

The General Passenger Association and the Western Passenger Association, which include nearly all lines in the State, announced that the rate provided by the law will be effective on all State traffic. Instead of rates now in effect, however, will be maintained under the Federal rate law until a new tariff has been prepared. It is said that the officials of the roads affected by the law have agreed to submit to the new rate for several months, and to carry the law into the courts, with a showing of deficit, should there be any, that will support a plea that the 2-cent rate is a loss to the roads.

Strike Ties Up Hill Memorial.

The construction of the George R. Hill Memorial Building, in connection with the M. E. Church South, was suspended to-day on account of the action of twelve negro hodcarriers employed on the building, who went on strike this morning. It is stated that other men will be employed and that the work will be resumed to-morrow.
