Sale of Lace Curtains at Clearance Prices.

WE offer what remains of our spring stock of Lace Curtains at specially reduced prices for clearance.

They are high-grade curtains, the styles and patterns quite as attractive as will be seen in the new fall stock. There is only a small quantity of each style (2 to 6 pairs), and we prefer to close them out. It is against the policy of our house to carry one season's goods over into another.

These curtains are in splendid condition, and those needing new curtains for fall will find this a most excellent opportunity to save at least a third.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Jamestown Ready to Entertain Prince Wilhelm.

IS GRANDSON OF KING OSCAR

Royal Visitor to Be Received by the Swedish Minister and Distinguished Countrymen—Persian Minister Goes to Oyster Bay to Carry New Shah's Greetings to President.

The Jamestown Exposition, which has been the attraction for so many notables, is to receive in the near future a scion of royalty in the person of His Royal Highness, Prince Wilhelm, second son of Crown Prince Gustave, and grandson of King Oscar of Sweden.

The young prince will arrive on the cruiser Frigida, August 19, and will remain there for three days, during which time, of course, every honor will be showered upon him.

The Duke of Abruzzi, of the royal family of Italy, is a cousin of the King; but, as the young prince who is now coming is a grandson of the King, he is, therefore, a little nearer a throne.

All honors paid to a royal prince will be accorded Prince Wilhelm by the Swedish Minister and the officers of the United States Navy. After a day spent in receiving calls, the prince will be entertained at dinner, the night of his arrival, by his country representatives, the Swedish Minister, Mr. Lagercrantz, at the Hotel Chamberlain.

Mr. Henning Fernstrom, Swedish vice consul, will be his host at dinner the following evening at the Virginia Club, at Norfolk. The arrangements for the next day and evening are yet to be made.

The Persian Minister, Morteza Khan, left Washington yesterday for New York, and to-day will go to Oyster Bay to see the President and to extend to him the greetings of the Shah of Persia. Afterward, the Minister will go to Mexico, to which country he is also accredited.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday at noon when Miss Anne Elizabeth Routh-zahn, daughter of Mrs. Joseph L. Routh-zahn, became the bride of Mr. Frederick C. Norwood, a prominent member of the bar of Frederick, Md., at which place the bride's family formerly lived. The wedding took place at the residence of Dr. W. W. Engster, brother-in-law of the bride, in the presence of the immediate family and a few intimate friends.

The bride's attendants were Miss Elizabeth Engster, as flower girl, and Miss Roddy, of Maryland, maid of honor. The bridegroom was attended by Dr. Thomas B. Johnson, of Frederick, Md. The bride wore a gown of white embroidered batiste made princess, with a wedding veil of tulle.

A wedding breakfast was served immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Norwood will sail for New York to-morrow for England, where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. William Alexander King, of 923 Cambridge place, Georgetown, announces the engagement of her daughter Mary Llewellyn to Mr. William J. McClure, of this city, the wedding to take place in the early fall.

Miss Lillian Elizabeth Callahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Callahan, and Mr. Rene Fraile were married Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock at St. Aloysius Church, by Rev. John B. Pitta. Neither the bride nor the bridegroom was attended, only a few very intimate friends witnessing the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Philadelphia and other Northern cities, Mr. and Mrs. Fraile will take up their residence in Washington.

Miss Lottie Frey, of this city, and Mr. John Lotterhead, of Wilkesbarre, were married Monday evening at the residence of the bride's mother, in L. street, by Rev. J. T. Huddle. Miss Gertrude Hevey, a cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor and only attendant, and Mr. Elwood Frey was the bridegroom's best man. After a wedding trip to Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Lotterhead will make their home at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Mrs. Ella Rechart, of Hagerstown, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George C. Rechart, at 3120 Dumbarton avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Darrow, of Bedford Park, New York City, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth C., to Mr. Lewis E. Darling, of Washington, D. C. The marriage will take place in New York, October 2.

Former Senator Henry Gassaway Davis, father of Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins and Mrs. Arthur Lee, has commissioned architects of this city to prepare plans for a Presbyterian church to be erected as a memorial to his wife at Gassaway, W. Va., the Davis country home. The church is to be of stone, and will cost several thousand dollars. The plan in view is of a semi-classical design, with plain and simple embellishment. Mrs. Elkins and Mrs. Lee are, with their father, personally supervising the plans, and work will be pushed with the greatest possible speed, that the building may be well under way before their return to Washington in the autumn. Senator Davis spends the summer, as do his daughters, on the family estate in West Virginia, where both Mrs. Elkins and Mrs. Lee have beautiful summer homes.

Gen. and Mrs. Anson Mills, who went in June to Bass Rocks, Gloucester, Mass., for the summer, have as their guests, Gen. and Mrs. Sternberg, of Washington.

SOPRANO SOLOIST.

Mrs. F. B. Atwater.

Music-lovers of Washington have found much to interest them in the concerts by Conway's Itasca Band at Luna Park. Classic compositions have formed the principal features of the programme, but in response to recalls, the band has a happy faculty of giving a series of popular songs of the day.

Mrs. F. B. Atwater, soprano soloist with the band, has won many friends during her engagement, and is always cordially received. The band will conclude its engagement on Saturday night.

FROM WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW

I once knew a man who had passed his eightieth birthday, yet who kept to his business of selling pianos, tuning them when he felt like it, and playing upon them with all the skill of his younger days. He had the complexion of a girl in her teens, and the step of an alert boy, and his wife, who was his junior by many years, declared that he owed it all to his habit of vigorously using a hair brush each morning when he left his bed.

One thing was sure—his blood coursed through his veins as if he were a young man, no suspicion of the sluggishness of old age, and no hint of his years save in the whiteness of his hair and beard. He died in full strength, after a short illness, and was spared all the ailments of accumulated years. I am afraid his medicine was too simple to make a general appeal, but it seems as if we all would be glad to hold at bay a perfid of life we dread.

A few weeks ago a woman retired from the business life which she took up in her youth. Presumably her resignation was a matter of regret because the occasion took the form of a celebration in which her employers had a part. It is a matter of note that her years of usefulness were spent in one business house, in whose tremendous growth she assisted. This woman is going to change her whole life at a period when it will affect her most. She will find herself growing old very rapidly unless she has an absorbing interest, for that is the history of men who have retired from business after they had amassed fortunes.

As years go by there is born a tendency to take life easily, to abandon stays and on dress parade, to wear easy slippers and loose gowns, and neglect the many little details of good grooming. So the figure loses its lines, the feet spread, and good looks vanish as the condition is accepted, if not liked overmuch. These are the infallible signs of age, my friends, and those who read them begin to believe that such women are not worth consideration.

I was examining the photographic display of a fashionable studio, recently, and came across an extremely fascinating likeness of a woman who is said by those who claim to know to be nearing the seventies. I reckon that rumor is pretty nearly right. In this case, for I heard the woman confess to a long business life, one that would carry her far into old age. She is one of the best formed women I have ever seen, with a neck and arms she desires to display with the prettiest of delicacy.

She dresses exquisitely, and takes up fads as they come out, keeping in touch with the world by yearly travel, attendance at plays and concerts, and participation in social events. It seems absurd to connect the idea of age with such a splendid creature, and I do not believe she will give in to anything less urgent than the last call. I heard her say that after forty every woman needed massage at the hands of an expert, and I took it as an indication of the methods she pursued. At all events, she comes pretty near discovering the fountain of perpetual youth. The average woman of sixty years talks and acts as if she was ready to renounce all the frivolities of life, and that is such a mistake. Men frivol much more than we ever dare to do, and keep their youth by it. A few mothers with large families keep young in the companionship of sons and daughters and their friends. The rest grow old because they think they must.

GEN. BURT FAVORED

Local A. and N. U. Delegates Start Their Campaign.

HOPE TO NAME COMMANDER

All Washington Garrison Working for Election of Indian Fighter to Head Order—Thirteenth Biennial Encampment Opens at Grand Army Hall To-day—25,000 Represented.

In the event that Gen. Andrew S. Burt, U. S. A., retired, is elected national commander of the Army and Navy Union, which begins its thirteenth biennial encampment at Grand Army Hall to-day, the movement has been launched by the local delegates to eventually have the national headquarters of the organization removed to Washington, where permanent offices will be established. Gen. Burt is commander of Gen. William F. Barry Garrison, of the District, and he has the support of all delegates from the other garrisons in this city.

The opening of national headquarters of the association has received considerable favorable support among the delegates in all parts of the country, and the claim is set forth that this will assist materially in electing Gen. Burt to the position at the head of the organization. Local headquarters of the District-delegates have been opened at the Regent Hotel. The commander and his staff also are quartered at the same hotel.

Browne Seeks Re-election.

J. Edwin Browne, of Baltimore, the national commander, has arrived and announced his candidacy for re-election. He has served one term. The New York delegates are also here, staying at the Metropolitan Hotel. Commander Browne, who formerly lived in Washington, is confident of victory, and claims the New York delegates, as well as many others from various parts of the country. The election of chief will take place Friday, and in addition to the business sessions of the union members, consists of several side trips for the amusement of the delegates as well as the women who have accompanied their husbands and brothers to Washington.

Flags in all parts of the city will be run up to-day in honor of the visiting members of the patriotic organization. The encampment will continue three days.

List of National Officers.

National officers of the union are as follows: J. Edwin Browne, national commander; Edward Strobel, senior vice commander; Edward V. Auger, junior vice commander; Sanders E. Adams, inspector general; John Schlumacher, adjutant general; J. D. Clute, judge advocate; Rev. John P. Cawthorpe, national chaplain; John P. Cawthorpe, national chaplain; Dr. Joseph H. Smith, and Mr. Farrell, national executive committee; D. C. Swinburne and William H. Capps, finance committee.

Among the arrivals yesterday to attend the encampment was Edward V. Auger, of Brooklyn, junior vice national commander. Other officers arrived last night, and when the meeting is called to order this morning it is expected that there will be 25,000 delegates in attendance. The Army and Navy Union has a membership of 25,000.

WILL MEET BUT ONCE A MONTH

Burnside Post and Relief Corps Meet During Hot Weather.

At the last regular meeting of Burnside Woman's Relief Corps, at G. A. R. Hall, it was decided by both the Burnside Post and the corps to have but one meeting a month during the hot weather, the next to occur on the second Wednesday of August.

The assistant national press correspondent, appointed by the national president, who is past department president of the District of Columbia, was a member of the corps, detailed the plans of the first public celebration of Flag Day in the District. Mrs. Mary M. North, now national press correspondent of the W. R. C., and who was chairman of a committee appointed by the department president for the years 1896-7, is a member of a committee consisting of Mrs. Mary S. Gist, then of the Burnside Corps, and a member of the Woman's National Press Association; and Mrs. Charlotte Kibbey, later, department president.

These women, with the co-operation and enthusiastic assistance of Maj. Anderson, the department commander, G. A. R., assisted by all the members of the W. R. C. council, made the exercises a grand success. This committee also introduced the flag salute into the schools, with the full co-operation of Superintendent Howell, and the same committee that presented a bill to the appropriation committee of Congress for $1,000, to be set apart for flags for the public schools.

A report was made to the corps of the success of the banquet held at Glen Echo. More than 190 guests were entertained by the corps, and all expenses were paid from the banquet fund.

HAZING STAMPED OUT.

Official Board of Visitors Reports on West Point Academy.

Hazing is forever stamped out of West Point, is the opinion expressed by the official board of visitors, in its report yesterday to the War Department on the inspection of the Military Academy. Inquiries of officers and cadets indicate that hazing is entirely a thing of the past.

The board recommends the consideration of the suggestion that the curriculum at the Academy be lengthened so that graduates will approach the general culture of graduates from the best American colleges. The board wants a new hotel at the post.

"The present West Point Hotel is, in brief," reads the report, "a disgrace to any post where such a public convenience is maintained."

JUDGE PARKER AT EXPOSITION.

He Will Address Veterans of the Blue and Gray This Morning.

Special to The Washington Herald. Norfolk, Va., July 15.—Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, was one of the distinguished visitors to the Jamestown Exposition to-day. He spent about two hours on the Exposition grounds under the guidance of Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Exposition. He will spend the entire day at the Exposition to-morrow. To-morrow evening he will be the guest of Mr. Tucker at dinner.

Judge Parker would not discuss the Exposition or politics to-day, but says he may have something to say about both to-morrow. Veterans of the blue and gray gathered at the Exposition to-day for their first annual reunion. Dr. K. M. Ferguson, of North Carolina, acting as chairman, and Henry E. Byrnes, of Connecticut, as secretary. Gen. Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, commander-in-chief, telegraphed that he would not be able to attend the first session of the reunion. Many new members were enrolled at to-day's meeting.
